School Committee Recommends High School On South Side Of City

Important Meeting Held—Civil Service Commission Refuses to Certify Appointment

The Newton School Committee discussed several important matters at its meeting on Monday night. Elliott B. Church, chairman of the joint committee of aldermen and school committee which considers new school buildings, reported to the meeting that the joint committee recommends that the land acquired by the city a couple of years ago near Clark and Centre streets, Newton Highlands, as the site for a junior high school for the South Side, be used instead as the site for a high school for that part of the city and that two other sites be acquired in Wards 5 and 6 for junior high schools.

The committee, with Grosvenor Calkins, member from Ward 7, dissenting, voted to allow the use of the auditorium at the high school on the evening of May 12 for a debate between Boston College and Holy Cross College under the auspices of Newton Council, Knights of Columbus. The hall was so used on a Sunday evening last year and Mr. Calkins then also opposed the permit on the ground that he is against the use of school buildings on Sundays. Mr. Church, taking an opposite view, expressed the belief that school buildings should be used much more by the public and he hopes that they will be available for public use whenever desired on Sundays.

The committee voted to close the schools on the last Friday in October to permit Newton teachers to attend the Middlesex County convention in the Boston Garden. Mr. Calkins voted in the negative, believing that the teachers should hold their convention on a Saturday. The teachers contend they cannot hire a large auditorium in Boston on a Saturday.

In reply to a request from Mrs. Joseph A. Otis of Auburndale for the use of the high school for the convention next year of the Massachusetts Federation of Women's Clubs, the committee voted to inform Mrs. Otis that this building can be used only on days when the school is not in session.

A tangle which confronts the School Committee is the refusal of the Civil Service Commission to certify the appointment of William Gilderson as supervisor of engineers in the Newton schools. This is a new position created last year and carries a salary of $3000. Strange to say, despite the fact that Newton is a city of nearly 60,000 population, a city whose schools have been lauded for years as among the best in the state, no person residing within its limits, no graduate of Newton's schools, could be discovered by the School Department qualified to be given this position. Neither were any of the first three men certified by the Civil Service Commission for this position deemed suitable to fill the job. So, Mr. Gilderson, who ranked fourth on the list, and who was a resident of Malden, was appointed temporarily to the position. He moved to Auburndale and the local school authorities expected that he would be qualified for permanent appointment.

It appears that the man heading the certified list was so placed because he was a service-man in the late war. It is claimed that he has not sufficient knowledge of ventilation to properly fill the position. It was stated that Arthur Swanson of Newtonville, who ranks third on the list, is considered best qualified of those eligible, but the committee voted to ask the Civil Service Commission to certify him.

Dr. Wunsch To Preach At Lenten Service

Here at Third Union Service of Newtonville Churches

Dr. William S. Wunsch, one of the foremost preachers in the New Jerusalem Church, will be the preacher at the third of the Sunday evening Lenten services in Newtonville. Dr. Wunsch will address the united churches of Newtonville this Sunday evening at the Methodist Church. He is known as an eminent student of the Bible "not in the critical way alone, but in the heart way." The attendance at these Lenten services in Newtonville has been record-breaking, both at the time when Dr. J. P. Hugot spoke, and last Sunday night, when Dr. William L. Stidger of Boston, was the preacher. Arrangements have been made to have Dr. Stidger return for another Lenten service on March 10.

The response to these services is indicative of the appeal made by the excellence of the men on the program. Following Dr. Wunsch, Dr. Stidger will speak again on March 10; Dr. Nehemiah Boynton is the preacher for March 17; Rev. P. M. Minneck of Malden will close the series on March 24. At this last service, the Young People of all the churches in Newtonville will be special guests. The Congregational, Methodist, New Jerusalem, and Universalist churches are the institutions co-operating in this Community Lenten Program.

CHURCHES OF NEWTON TO UNITE IN SUNDAY VESPER SERVICES

The third of a series of six Sunday Lenten Vesper Services under the auspices of four of the Protestant churches of Newton will be held in the Immanuel Baptist Church at 5:00 o'clock Sunday afternoon. Rev. Chester A. Drummond of the Channing Church of Newton will be the preacher.

New Chapter Of D. R. Is Organized Here

Named in Honor of Nathan Fuller Of Revolutionary Fame

One Tuesday afternoon, Feb. 26, at the home of Mrs. G. Raymond Lehrer, 9 Vincent street, West Newton, twenty-two young women met to form a new chapter, Daughters of the Revolution. The following officers of the State Society were present. Mrs. Adalbert Fernald, State Regent; Miss Grace Gay, Vice Regent; Mrs. Walter Whitney, recording secretary, and Mrs. Edson Gould, treasurer. It was voted to name the chapter in honor of Nathan Fuller, a Newton man who distinguished himself in many ways during the Revolutionary war. He was a direct descendant of John Fuller who settled here in 1644. The officers elected were Regent, Mrs. Francis Fuller; Vice Regent, Miss Edith both Jack; Recording Secretary, Mrs. Walter MacAdams; Corresponding Secretary, Mrs. Henry Cross; Treasurer, Miss Barbara Estabrook. A committee was appointed on By-Laws. The March meeting will be held at the home of Miss Estabrook on Beechcroft road, Newton. At the close of the business session piano selections were rendered by Miss Jack who has a beautiful touch and plays with much expression. A social hour followed and tea was served in the dining room where Mrs. Philip Horn and Mrs. Richard Brown poured. Miss Jack, Miss Estabrook and Mrs. Lehrer served. This chapter will be represented on the board of the State Society by Mrs. Dorothy Fernald Lehrer who has been a member at large for two years and was elected Councilor at the annual meeting held at the Hotel Vendome, Boston, on Feb. twenty-eighth.

Stationery Business Left To Employees

Will of Late Samuel Hobbs Filed in Middlesex Court

Samuel Hobbs of Temple street, West Newton, who died on February 18, according to the provisions of his will, probated this week in the Middlesex Court at East Cambridge, generously bequeathed the business of Hobbs & Warren, of which he was the owner, to the employees of that concern in appreciation of their faithfulness. The will states that the business shall be left in the form of a trust, 75 per cent. of the profits therefrom shall be distributed among the employees in such proportions as they may decide, 25 per cent. of the profits shall go to the widow and son of the deceased. In the event that the employees cannot agree on the distribution of the profits, Mr. Hobbs' widow and son, who are the executrix and executor of the estate, will decide as to the division. At the end of five years, the employees may, if they so care, take over the entire business by paying to Mr. Hobbs' heirs one-quarter of the appraised value of the business. Real estate owned by Mr. Hobbs was bequeathed to his widow, Mrs. Lina Hobbs, and his son, Stafford B. Hobbs. His estate was estimated to be worth about a half-million dollars.

Samuel Hobbs was born in Lowell and moved to Charlestown when a small child. Because of the death of his father he had to leave school at an early age and when 17 years old he entered the employ of H. F. Lawrence, a Boston stationer. At the end of 10 years he succeeded Mr. Lawrence as proprietor of the business. In 1891 Mr. Hobbs brought the business of Cutter, Tower Company, in 1897 he purchased still another old established stationery business, the M. R. Warren Company, and in 1907 he acquired the Keyes Stationery business.

In 1911 over 100 employees and business associates of Mr. Hobbs celebrated with him the 30th anniversary of his proprietorship of the business and presented him with a loving cup. So much did Mr. Hobbs value this token of esteem that he directed that following the cremation of his remains at Mount Auburn, his ashes should be placed in the cup and buried in the family lot.

NEW BRIDGE AT OAK HILL

The selectmen of Needham and the Public Works Committee of the Newton Board of Aldermen held a joint meeting at Needham on Tuesday evening to discuss the need of a new bridge over the Charles River at Nahant street, Oak Hill. The old Kenrick bridge at this place has been declared unsafe.

Auburndale Residents Request Re-Zoning Of Land In That Section

Public Hearing Held Last Friday Before Aldermanic Committee on These and Other Petitions

The Claims and Rules Committee of the Newton Board of Aldermen made a tour of Auburndale and then journeyed to Newton Centre and Chestnut Hill last Sunday afternoon to look at the districts which should be re-zoned, according to petitions that have been presented to the aldermen.

On the evening of February 21 a public hearing was held at City Hall on these petitions. Many Auburndale residents were present. The first petition to be heard on that evening was from Chief Randlett of the Fire Department who asks that the two properties at the corner of Centre and Willow streets, Newton Centre, be changed from a business zone to a private residence zone. The land on which these two houses are located is apart from the business section of Newton Centre and adjoins the new fire alarm headquarters building. Chief Randlett told the aldermen that to allow business blocks or gas, oil stations on this land would endanger the fire alarm headquarters and also detract from the attractiveness of the surrounding territory which is practically all owned by the city and largely parklike in appearance.

Louis Volpe, who owns and occupies one of the houses protested against the change. He told of having endured the proximity of the city stable next to his residence for many years and predicted that the growth of Newton Centre in the near future will necessitate the need of more stores. He suggested that if the city enables the erection of a small garage he will not oppose the change.

Ex-Alderman Albert L. Lincoln appeared to advocate the petition of James A. Lowell and others for the changing of land formerly owned by the Boston Ice Company from manufacturing to residence zone. This petition was entered last year but no definite action was taken on it by the 1928 Board and it was again presented. Mr. Lincoln explained that the land which abuts Hammond Pond is near the proposed Metropolitan Boulevard and the Hammond Park reservation. It is located near some of the most attractive estates in Chestnut Hill and should not be allowed to be developed as a business or manufacturing section.

Ex-Congressman Joseph O'Connell, appearing for William Barry, opposed the petition inasmuch as it includes a parcel of 10,000 square feet of land which Mr. Barry wants left in the business zone so it can be used for a gasoline filling station. Barry brought the property from the Boston Ice Company several months ago and then sold all of it to the petitioners except the 10,000 feet in question.

The petition of Edgar Butz and others ask that all that part of Auburndale beginning at the junction of Greenough and Auburn streets, running along these streets and thence to the Boston & Albany railroad at Riverside, be changed from general and private residence zones to single residence zones. A few small business zones would also be changed. A number of residents in the areas included in this petition pleaded for the change as a protection against the building of more two-family houses in the sections affected.

Harold Williams of Brookline appearing for the Aspinwall Real Estate Trust objected to the property bounded by Auburn, Grove and Central streets being included. He explained that his company owns an old dwelling there which is to be replaced with an attractive two family house. F. W. McAleer wants Arapahoe road to remain in a private residence zone as (Continued on Page 4)

THE WEEK IN NEWTON SPORTS

BROOKLINE WINS ANDOVER MEET

Brookline High's well-balanced track team won the fifth annual Andover interscholastic meet at Andover last Saturday afternoon scoring twenty-one points. Newton High, the favorite of many track supporters, was second with 16. Other schools finished as follows: Lawrence 14 1/2, Brockton 14, Lynn Classical 13 1/2, Lowell 12 1/2, Medford 11 1/2, Somerville 10 1/2, Salem 2, Brighton 2, Concord 1 1/2, Dorchester and David Prouty school of Spencer 1 each. Two records were broken and two others equalled. One of the big surprises of the meet was the failure of Medford to give Brookline and Newton a race for top honors.

Dana Smith and Harry Fink, Brookline stars, gave the Wealthy Towners a big boost in the point total. Smith won the 600 in record breaking time for which effort three extra points were awarded. Fink added another five points to Brookline's total by winning the shot put as expected. Coach Hines' team scored 13 other points by placing Locasio third in the broad jump, Capt. Badaracco fourth in the 300-yard run and the fastest time in the relay.

Newton placed Bob Ewing second in the dash, Captain Dick Reynolds second in the 600, Charles Hall fourth in the 1000, Carl Pescosolido third in the shotput, Irving Finn second in the broad jump and second fastest relay time.

James Doherty, Brookton star and state champion 300-yard runner, swelled his team's total by three points for setting a new record in his favorite event.

Ewing the dash favorite was defeated by inches in the final by John Hayes of Somerville who was the hero of the meet with a first in the hurdle race as well, making him the only double winner the meet produced. In both events he equaled the record. In the dash final there were some who believed that Carl Pescosolido of Newton was third but the judges awarded the place to Satchell of Brighton and gave fourth to Morin of David Prouty. Ewing led most of the way but Hayes caught him and finished to nose out the orange and black star.

It took four qualifying heats in the 300-yard run to narrow the field down to the greatest array of 300-yarders that has toed the mark in any schoolboy meet of recent years. Ewing, who won his heat in 35s for a new record, was on the pole with James Doherty of Brookton next to him. John Mullen of Newton who had placed second to Doherty in the first heat did not qualify for the finals as times were taken for the second round.

The final was a thriller with Doherty taking the first bank ahead of Ewing. The latter had expended too much energy in the dash and could not hold the pace. Doherty won and Ewing was just a mile slower than Dineen of Lawrence and Fuller of Brookton. The final was a thriller with Doherty taking the first bank ahead of Ewing. The latter had expended too much energy in the dash and could not hold the pace. Doherty won and Ewing was just a mile slower than Dineen of Lawrence and Fuller of Brookton.

The 600 was run against time in heats. The class of the field was in the third heat. Captain Reynolds took the lead but Dineen of Lawrence had increased his lead to 10 yards and set a new record. Reynolds fought off Bowdren's attempt to pass him and the latter weakened to allow Linehan of Lawrence to pull into third place.

The 1000-yard run was staged in the same manner. Capt. Cuneo of Medford won the first heat and made the best time of any as was expected. The second heat was a corker. Pearson of Lowell raced up from third to win the heat passing a Beverly and Brookline runner. Signore of Newton made a gallant attempt to win second place but he in turn was passed by Charles Hall. Hall's bid gave him fourth best time.

Irving Finn of Newton, who won the broad jump in all his duals, had a slight winter, was under the handicap of jumping from the floor and not from a board. This cost the Newton lad first place by the small margin of an inch. Pescosolido's best heave of 41 feet 1 1/2 inches in the shot put placed him third, passing a Beverly and Brookline runner. Signore of Newton made a gallant attempt to win second place but he in turn was passed by Charles Hall. Hall's bid gave him fourth best time.

In the second period Brown put Newton into the lead with a spectacular play. He secured the rubber at centre ice about two and a half minutes after play had been resumed and set sail for the cage. He nearly lost the puck in a scrimmage but swung over to the boards. This forced him to go behind the net, circle it, and with a neatly placed shot he caught Warren Kinney, Melrose goalie, unaware for the first score. Three minutes later Herbert Keough tied the score. Taking the disc at the blue line and evading the Newton defence he took a shot which Captain Dan Harrington missed with his glove in an attempt to stop the puck in its flight.

The second Melrose goal came in the third period. The referee called an offside play and had Keough of Melrose and Fletcher of Newton face off directly opposite the right side of the cage. Keough passed out to Jack Harris, whose play was an inspiration to the Melrose sextet, and the latter placed a well-directed shot which got by Harrington. Newton sent five men up the ice in an attempt to knot the score again but in vain.

SPORT NOTES

University Club Wins

The University club hockey team defeated the B. A. A. sextet at the Garden last Thursday night 9 to 5. Of the local players taking part Bill Blaney was the star with two of the University club's goals. Clark Hodder scored one for the club team while "Bub" Eaton caged one for the Unicorn.

N. H. S. BATTERY MEN START NEXT WEEK

With the winter sports teams having completed or approaching the end of their schedules, thoughts of the Newton high school athletes are turning to baseball. John L. Sullivan, varsity coach, has issued the call for battery candidates to report in the old gymnasium Wednesday afternoon when he will get a line on what material he will have in an effort to retain the diamond championship won in 1928. The hockey team has concluded its schedule and turned in their suits. This afternoon the track team holds a light workout in preparation for tomorrow's state meet, which ends its season, while the basketball team winds up Tuesday afternoon.

Last year's championship outfit was pretty well riddled by graduation but there are several letter men available who should provide a nucleus for a good team. Foremost of these is Captain "Allie" Fletcher whose playing at second base last spring was one of the highlights of Newton's season. He and Frank Spain, stellar shortstop, who was among the graduates, gave Newton the best keystone pair it has had for many years. Whether or not Fletcher will move over to shortstop or to first base is a question as yet undecided. Fletcher filled in at centre ice in Spain's old position on the hockey team very nicely and may be able to do so on the diamond if his arm is strong enough to make the hard throw to first. Coach Sullivan wants a yet another player to fill in at shortstop. Fletcher can play first base any time if needed.

Newton will have a veteran battery which will take a great deal off the Newton mentor's mind. Bill Reilly, 1928 leading twirler, will be trying for his third letter of the year having been a member of both the football and hockey teams. Reilly will be available until the 20th of May when he reaches the age limit with his 20th birthday. Phil Andres, captain-elect of the 1929 football team, will be on the receiving end of Reilly's slants. He is a smart catcher and his playing last year was a big factor in bringing the championship to the Garden city outfit. This should be his best year and opposing pitchers will not attempt to slip one over the middle of the plate when he is at the bat. Arthur Wilson may be brought in from the outfield to take the place of Captain Spencer deMille, lengthy first baseman who graduated last June. Wilson has had some experience at the initial sack as well as being the bat. Last year he batted left field in fine style and wielded a timely bat. Johnny Mullen is the fifth letterman who is still in school and will probably hold down one of the out field positions. Both Wilson and Mullen will be given the opportunity to see what they can do at third.

These five letter men are all that is left of the 1928 squad. Everett Schenck, captain of the 1928 football team, who was used in several games last year, is now attending Bridgton Academy while Langdon Powers, outfielder, is at Deerfield Academy. "Doc" Timmins a member of the freshman nine last year who was expected to hold down a regular infield berth this year has moved to Brookline. The loss of these three players has made a big hole in the orange and black prospects. The graduates of the 1928 team included Captain deMille, Frank Spain, Bob Swett, Edgar Warren, Bob Sutcliffe, Creighton Gatchell, Don Wilson, Roland Coombs, Leslie Church and Bob Bennett.

Newton's baseball schedule has not yet been completed and it is in a rather indefinite state. Where to play will be one of Coach Sullivan's biggest problems. The field used in former years is out of the question as the grading done last fall during the football season extends into left field. The grading there this spring will be soft and the sod will not be strong enough to permit of using it at all. Prior to the grading done in left field the new diamond at the corner of Lowell avenue and Hull street was laid out and the grass seeded, but if spring is late in coming it will be a question of whether or not the team can play its games there. It may be that local fans will not see the Newton team in action at home this spring unless Victory field in Nonantum or some other good playground diamond is utilized for the purpose. While Coach Sullivan is working with the candidates indoors the athletic authorities at the school will be trying to straighten things out to find a field to practice and play on before the season opens about the middle of April.

There is one thing certain, however, and that is that no such ridiculous ruling such as the one that caused much comment last spring and which came within an ace of robbing Newton of the championship will be faced this year. It will be remembered that the Newton team had run up a string of a dozen consecutive victories and was in the lead for the Suburban league title. The first defeat was in a tenning game at Everett which gave the latter team an outside chance of tying Newton for the honors should they win their two remaining games while Newton lost to Somerville, its one remaining opponent. It so happened that two days previous to the Newton-Somerville game the latter team held its graduation exercises. A ruling was made by the state association authorities that no senior having taken his diploma could represent his school in athletics thereafter, which almost disrupted Coach Dickerman's team. Feeling that a victory over a senior-less Somerville team to clinch the league title would be hollow Coach Sullivan refused to let his seniors dress for the game and sent a flock of

REAL BATTLE FOR STATE TRACK TITLE

A real battle is looming up for the title of State indoor track champions tomorrow at the 11th annual meet at the East Armory, Boston. The two teams rated as the foremost contenders for the title are Newton and Brookline, Medford, Brockton, Lawrence and the Boston schools are figured to place well up in the point standing. Athletes from these schools and individual performers from some of the other schools entered may cut into the points expected to be won by the title contenders.

In the dash Bob Ewing of Newton is given a chance to break the record of 5 4/5 seconds made by Eddie McGrath of Brookline in 1926 and equalled last year by Frank White of Medford. The distance is 50-yards. Last week at the Andover meet John Hayes of Somerville nosed out Ewing in the finals but as Somerville is rated as a Class B school he will not oppose the Newton flash. Captain Dick Reynolds will run in the 45-yard hurdles and not in the 600 as the athletes are limited to but one track and one field event each. Dana Smith of Brookline is expected to win the 600 in record time and if Reynolds can come through over the barriers where he has no chance in the 600 it may prove the factor that will swing the meet to Newton.

Johnny Mullen or Nate Pearson will be Coach Enoch's entry in the 300. Last year Pearson pulled out a fourth place after starting on the outside row and getting thrown off his stride at the first bank.

Dick Gibbs or possibly Kilburn Adams will be the orange and black entry in Captain Reynolds' old event, the 600 but with the field including such runners as Smith of Brookline and Linehan of Lawrence Newton does not expect to score. Charles Hall has been coming along fast in the 1000 recently and unless Fred Burton is in perfect condition following a recent illness the former will toe the mark. Medford with Captain Cuneo entered is given five points in the event.

The Newton relay team of Mullen, Adams, Pearson and Reynolds should make one of the three fastest times of the day. At Andover last week Brookline high was the only quartet to make better time than Newton.

In the field events Harry Fink of Brookline is conceded first place in the shotput with Carl Pescosolido of Newton and Bill Knightly of Lawrence fighting it out for second. If either slips Melvin Stevens of Brookton is likely to slip in ahead. Newton does not expect to score in the high jump with Brookline, Lawrence and Lynn Classical having at least two men each capable of outjumping Mike Fine of Newton. The broad jump should be won by Irving Finn of Newton who has won all his duals this year and placed second at Andover last week. Finn was handicapped by jumping from the floor but the use of a board from which to jump in tomorrow's meet should pull him through.

Newton can count on about fourteen points in the dash, broad jump and relay race and if sufficient points can be picked up in the hurdles, shotput and possibly in one or more of the other three track events, the 300, 600 or 1000, the title will belong to the Garden City outfit. Brookline is quite certain of fifteen points in the 600, shotput and relay and needs points in the high jump, dash and 300 to come through. Medford and Brockton are good for ten or twelve points each unless upsets occur.

Mahoney Calls Out Huskies

Captain Neil Mahoney, of the Northeastern University nine, who is a former Newton Upper Falls and Newton high athlete, called out the battery candidates for the Huskies ball team this week. Rufus Bond, former Everett high and Harvard star and well-known in Newton as a former playground assistant director, is expected to take up the coaching reins again. He is at present directing the Northeastern basketball team. Leo Crowley, one of last year's best pitchers, did not return to school this year. Capt. Mahoney has made an enviable record as a catcher at Northeastern having played all but a few innings of the many games played the past few years.

Whitmore Scores Twice

Boston University defeated Tech Thursday night at the Garden in a 3 to 1 hockey game between the two teams. Holmes Whitmore scored two of the Terrier's goals on passes from a teammate. Both counters came in the first period after Tech had taken a 2 to 1 lead.

substitutes into the lineup in their places. Newton lost the game 8 to 9. That same afternoon, however, Cambridge Latin was exposing Newton's cause by subduing Coach Glidea and his Everett team's pennant aspirations 4 to 2, thus assuring Newton of the title. This winter at one of the Suburban league meetings the rule was passed that any Senior taking his diploma may represent his team until the end of that sport season, which is as it should be.

NEWTON PLACES TWO ON ALL-TEAM

Following the deciding games in the interscholastic hockey league championship race comes the annual selection of the all-league team by the coaches of the league teams under the direction and through the columns of the Boston Transcript. The coaches, as usual, refrained from naming their own players thus making it possible for a player to get seven votes as a maximum. Newton, Melrose, Cambridge Latin and Rindge, each place two men on the squad of eight which finds ties for the left wing and left defence positions. Only one player is chosen unanimously.

The graduation of Frank Spain from Newton high last June gave Fred Harlow of the Cantabs his chance to pole seven votes for the centre ice position. Coach Leander Macdonald of Cambridge named James Brown of Newton as his selection. Kenneth White of Cambridge polled two votes to give him a tie for the left defence position with Captain Edward Keating of Melrose. Here again the Cantab mentor named a Newton player, Reilly, for White's position.

The two orange and black players chosen were Joe Gilligan at right defence and Captain Dan Harrington in the nets. Gilligan was almost a unanimous choice but lost out by one vote which curiously was that given to Reilly by Coach Macdonald.

Harrington polled five votes against three for Tim Ready of Cambridge Latin. The latter was far more spectacular in the recent series at the Arena but Harrington came out the low-goal man of the nets which gave him the place.

Clarence Westberg of Rindge was another player who missed a unanimous selection by one vote. He was given the right wing berth although he played centre ice for the Cambridge school. Harlow's famous poke check was too valuable an asset to shift him to a wing it seems. The other position, that at left wing, was another tie between Captain Dickson of Rindge and Jack Harris of Melrose.

Graphic Outlines of History
By BURT M. RICHConvention Hall,

It was in this Convention Hall in Chicago that Lincoln was nominated for the presidency by the Republican party. The Democratic candidate was Stephen A. Douglas, Lincoln's rival in the famous debates. Lincoln won the election, and was inaugurated March 4, 1861.

A ceremony under our skilled direction is charming for its very simplicity, and reverent respect.

Y. W. C. A.

The Blue Triangle Club had a delightful party at the home of Mrs. W. Marshall Dobler last Monday night. A shower was given there for Miss Elsa Haase who has recently announced her engagement. Mrs. Dobler was assisted as hostess by Miss Helen Nagel.

The club is anticipating an evening at the home of Mrs. Hubert Carter on next Monday night. Mrs. Carter and her mother, Mrs. Adams, have not only generously offered to give us a travel talk at that time, but have opened to us their home. All members of the club will surely be anxious to join us at supper at the rooms at 6:30, and to go from there to Mrs. Carter's home.

The swimming group continues to meet Wednesday evenings from 7:00 to 8:30. This is particularly for the benefit of girls who have appointments before eight o'clock in the evening. There is opportunity for the girls to enroll in the group if they are interested.

The dancing class for younger children is going on despite the fact that the recent storms have caused some interruption. These will be held Thursdays from three to four for girls 3-10 years old, and boys 3-7.

Newton and Watertown will be represented at the High School Girl Reserve Conference in New Bedford, Mass., over the week-end of March 8th by a large number of delegates from the local High School Girl Reserve Club. The girls are to be held at the attractive Y. W. C. A. Building in New Bedford, and the delegates are to be entertained in the homes of High School Girl Reserves of that city and Fairhaven.

In order to make enough money to pay some of the travelling expenses to New Bedford the club is holding a food sale this Saturday, March 2nd, in the store next to the Community Theatre, which opens at 11 o'clock. The patronage of the public is invited.

GIRL SCOUTS

The Court of Awards met at Headquarters on Wednesday, February 27th, at 10:00 A. M. One of the matters discussed and voted upon was the advisability of entering Newton Girl Scouts in the Flag Contest now going on throughout the country. All girls between the ages of 14 and 18 are eligible for this contest, and we hope that many of our senior girls will be interested to compete.

Friday, March 1st, the second course in Red Cross Life Saving and Swimming will begin at St. Agnes Pool, Walnut Park, Newton. There will be a class in Life Saving at 3, and one in swimming at 4. Miss Louise Lovejoy and Miss Ruth Fennessey, Red Cross Life Saving Examiners, will be the instructors.

Tickets are already on sale for the Girl Scout movie to be given March 16, at the Newton Community theatre. The picture is Buster Keaton in "The Camera Man"; there will also be an "Our Gang" comedy, an Aesop Fable, and Pathe News; and if any added attraction is needed here is a big one—the Newton Bugle and Drums will play.

Thursday, March 7th, a Craft Club will begin at Headquarters, open to girls from the Senior troops. Miss Catherine Rand will be the instructor, and block printing will be the craft studied.

At the meeting of Troop 25, held Tuesday, February 26, five girls were invested as Second Class Scouts by Miss Freeman. They were Wilma Hooper, Jean Cowin, Amelia Thompson, Rejane Harvey, and Dorothy Brackett.

Mrs. Warren has returned to the office after a trip to Porto Rico and will begin the First Class work in the Leaders' Training Course, Wednesday, February 27th.

Troop 14 is planning a banquet for Friday, March 8th; this is to be really a belated Troop Birthday Party, which has been postponed since Mrs. Warren's return, for how could a troop have its Birthday party without its captain?

BOY SCOUTS

The meeting of Troop 4 was held on Thursday evening in the hall of St. Mary's Church. Owing to the weather a large number of the boys were absent. An informal meeting was arranged by Scout Master Everett Galloway. The boys arranged an advancement program, and also planned out several hikes among which one will be on March 9th at the Charlestown Navy Yard. The boys concluded the evening with a slight collation.

Friday afternoon the boys under the guidance of the Scout Master enjoyed a ski hike. Saturday morning the boys were in a very interesting May Making contest. Sunday morning the boys made a splendid appearance at the special morning services held at St. Mary's Church. The boys attended the 10:45 services with the Scout Master, all were in full Scout uniforms with their respective standards.

Norman Payne and Harold Ham led for Newton with eight points each. Tomasello of Everett was the high scorer of the game with ten points scored on five goals from the floor. The Everett second team nosed out the Newton seconds in a preliminary game, 27 to 26.

SPORT NOTES

Church With B. U. Squad
Leslie Church former relief pitcher on the Newton high baseball team is trying out for a place on the Boston University pitching staff.

Wilson Fourth in Nationals
Ed Wilson of Newtonville, a member of the B. A. A. track team, won fourth place in the mile walk at the National A. A. U. championship track and field meet in Madison Square Garden, New York, last Saturday night. Harry Hinkel retained his title in 8 m. 40 2/5 seconds which time is not fast.

Dartmouth Grads Win
The Melrose Greyhounds defeated the Dartmouth varsity hockey team last Saturday on the Hanover rink, 4 to 2. The Melrose team was composed largely of former Dartmouth men among whom were the captains of the sextet since 1924 with the exception of Myles Lane, last year's leader, who has since joined the professional ranks. Ted Learnard of Newton was in the net for the grads and curiously enough it was two Newton high graduates who scored for the Green. In the first period Heath, Dartmouth left wing, shot and the puck hit Learnard in the face. Henry Johnson, Jr., of Waban who was playing right wing as substitute for Dick Rogers, a West Newton youth, came in fast to take the rebound and cage the first tally. Harold Andres, sub-left defence player, scored in the last period on a solo dash the length of the rink, spinning the puck past Learnard before he could smother it.

Newtonians at Fight
Among those taking the "Eddie Mack Special" Saturday for Miami to witness the Sharkey-Stribling fight, Wednesday night were N. M. Applayard of Newton Centre and C. B. Morgan of Chestnut Hill.

Bryant Stars Again
Dartmouth's swimming team overwhelmed Columbia Saturday night 48 to 14, taking every first place. Capt. Bryant of Dartmouth, a West Newton youth, was the individual star with firsts in the 50 and 100-yard freestyle events. The ten points he won placed him in the lead in the league race for individual scoring honors. Bryant also swam at anchor on the winning relay.

Esson Best for Bowdoin Frosh
The Exeter academy swimming team was too much for the Bowdoin freshmen mermen last Saturday in a meet in the Exeter tank which the Granite State team won 55 to 7. The only race in which Bowdoin threatened was in the 50-yard freestyle when Jimmy Esson, former Newton athlete, tied Parker of Bowdoin for second place. Esson also won third place in the 100-yard event to make him high scorer for the Maine yearlings.

Immanuel Takes Lead
By defeating Needham Congregational Church team last week Thursday night in the Church basketball league games at the Newton Y. M. C. A., the Immanuel Associates of the Newton Baptist Church took the lead in the second round of the league series. The score was 30 to 11 and it was the Associates fourth straight victory with no defeats. McCassey was high scorer of the game with seven goals from the floor for a total of 14 points.

Kollmyer Score for Seniors
The Exeter seniors won the faculty shield in the annual interclass track meet at Exeter on the holiday scoring 44 points to 23 1/2 for the Lower Middlers and 26 1/2 for the Upper Middlers. Hamilton Kollmyer, former Newton high track athlete, won second place in the 70-yard dash and 85-yard low hurdles, and ran a good second leg on the winning senior relay team.

Scores Ten of Fifteen Points
Syracuse University swimming team swam the Dartmouth mermen last week Thursday 45 to 15. Dartmouth took only two first places, Bryant taking both the 50 and 100-yard freestyle events.

Scott Elected Captain
Dave Scott, former Newton high star athlete, has been elected a captain of the Brown freshmen hockey team. He was halfback on the freshman football team last fall and has been prominent in the junior tennis tournaments in the east the past few years. The election was held last week after which the hockey sextet dropped a 3 to 2 game to Hope High of Providence. Scott scored the tying goal in the third period but in an overtime session the schoolboys dissolved the tie to win the game.

This year he has played a regular defence position on the Polar Bears sextet, but in his three seasons has played at other positions. He was a halfback on the football eleven last fall.

Harvard Frosh Make It Eight

The Harvard freshman hockey team hung up its eighth consecutive victory of the season on the holiday by winning from St. Paul's school of Concord, N. H., 3 to 0. It took the Crimson but four minutes to cage its first tally by Wood, Harvard star centre, on a pass from Frank Stubbs, Jr., ex-Newton high star.

"Y" Juniors Lose

The Newton Y junior swimming team was defeated by Worcester Y 13 to 13. The feature bout was in the heavyweight class in which Edmonds of Lynn pinned Chapin of Newton to the mat in one minute four and a half seconds. Santillo of Newton won the 118-lb. class by default. Bazarian of Newton got a decision over Vortorian in the 126-lb. class. Francis Cassidy of Newton also got the decision over M. Vortorian in the 135-lb. class. Henry Vachon added three more points to Newton's total in the 145-lb. class by getting the decision over Parly. Lynn scored all its points in the three heaviest classes. Fay of Lynn got the decision over Joe Vachon at 160-lbs. while Stewart threw Nelson of Newton in a minute and a half in the 175-lb. bout and Edmonds tossed Chapin.

Newton Wrestlers Win

The Newton Y wrestling team defeated Lynn Y Wednesday night 14 to 13. The feature bout was in the heavyweight class in which Edmonds of Lynn pinned Chapin of Newton to the mat in one minute four and a half seconds. Santillo of Newton won the 118-lb. class by default. Bazarian of Newton got a decision over Vortorian in the 126-lb. class. Francis Cassidy of Newton also got the decision over M. Vortorian in the 135-lb. class. Henry Vachon added three more points to Newton's total in the 145-lb. class by getting the decision over Parly. Lynn scored all its points in the three heaviest classes. Fay of Lynn got the decision over Joe Vachon at 160-lbs. while Stewart threw Nelson of Newton in a minute and a half in the 175-lb. bout and Edmonds tossed Chapin.

Hunnewell Wins Close Match

Wednesday night's Newton League bowling match at Boston pins between Hunnewell and Commercial on the local club's alleys was one of the closest of the season. Commercial Club had taken two points from Hunnewell at bottle pins by crashing 280 pins for a total. Hunnewell came back in great style to grab all four at Bostons. With two strings won by Hunnewell the visitors tried valiantly to take the other point. With two boxes to go Commercial had leading by six pins. Ned Green, Hunnewell anchor man, came through on his last box and evened the string with a six pin spare. On the roll-off Charlie Delong started with a spare but still the margin was not safe. Dan White also came through with a spare and just to show Commercial they had no chance got a strike on the spare and another spare on the strike for a total of 40 in two boxes. At Bottle pins Tracy's 219, Dexter's 217 and Dennison's 201 on the third string brought the local club one point. Midwestern won both its matches from Mangus, shutting the latter out without a point. Waban and Newton split even with the former scoring the majority of points in bottle pins and Newton allowing their opponents but one point at Boston pins. Bloomfield's 152 on his second string saved Waban a shutout.

Makes Merry at Brae-Burn

Brae-Burn Country Club's delayed winter carnival was staged on Washington's birthday under ideal conditions following the heavy snowfall of the day before. From early morning until well into the night members and guests enjoyed the skating rink, toboggan slides and ski-jump. Some spectacular events were staged on the latter which was a use for the first time. John Holmer was the chief performer with a leap of 101 feet followed by 97 feet by Earley Knutzin. B. Johnson was third with a 98 foot jump.

Holmer also won the Brae-Burn cup for the best standing jump of 51 feet. In the afternoon fancy figure skating events occupied the attention of many. Miss Dorothy Weld and Richard Haggood, recently crowned national junior champions, won the waltz competition while Miss Suzanne Davis and Roger Turner were the best in the 10-step.

In a two-mile ski-race C. H. Parker was the winner in 13 minutes one minute ahead of John Holmer. Frank Nilson was third about four minutes behind the winner. Several minor skating and skiing events were held for the boys and girls.

Local Harvard Battery in Making
Harvard's baseball season started this week with the initial practice for battery candidates in the new Briggs cage on Soldiers Field. With Howard Whitmore, former Newton high pitching star, as the only letterman available for mound duty and Tommy Gilligan, well-known Newton athlete, one of the outstanding candidates for the regular catching berth it is possible that the Harvard first string battery will have a local tinge. Gilligan will have considerable competition, however, as there are seven other catchers of promising ability.

McIntyre Gets Two Thirds
Donald McIntyre, former Newton high athlete now at Tabor Academy, scored two third places in the track meet between Tabor Academy and Noble & Greenough school last Friday. The Dedham school won 38 to 27. McIntyre's points were scored in the 40-yard dash and 300-yard run.

EDITORIAL

Mayor Childs has made an admirable appointment in the selection of Mr. Alfred E. Alvord as an assessor of the city. Mr. Alvord is a veteran real estate broker, a long resident of the city and well acquainted in real estate values. He will render real service in the office of assessor.

In establishing a school for police officers district attorney Robert T. Bushnell has done what had ought to have been done years ago. It is usually the obvious thing that is most frequently overlooked.

Prize Hunting Story

Offered for Record

The world's record for tall stories is held by the records of our national parks, according to the authors of the book about the parks, "Oh, Ranger!" Their prize creation as quoted in "Oh, Ranger!" is as follows:

"A ranger doing patrol duty on the boundary line, having run out of supplies and being in immediate danger of starving, grabbed his trusty old gun for which only one shell remained, and, going beyond the park line, maneuvered around carefully, hunting diligently so as to be sure to get the best results with the one shot. Finally he came upon a brace of quail perched in a cluster of brush close enough together for both to be bagged at one shot. Carefully raising the gun, he fired. Imagine his great joy when on running to the spot to pick up his quail he found that he had killed six more, which were on the other side of the bush and which he had not seen. Hearing a great commotion out in a small lake near by, he saw a big buck deer that had become frightened at the sound of his shot and had run into the lake and bogged down in the mud. Dropping the quail, he hurried out into the lake and cut the buck's throat. In carrying the deer out, he sank down into the mud himself up over his boot tops. Upon reaching the shore, he sat down and pulled the boots off to pour out the water and found in them a dozen nice fish. Placing the quail, fish and deer together so that they could be more easily carried, he was struggling to get the load on his shoulders. This put a great strain on his suspender buttons, and one of these flew off with such force that it killed a rabbit a hundred yards in the rear."

UNDER THE GILDED DOME

It is now agreed that the session of the General Court for 1929 is "about half over." Committee hearings have been numerous of late but there is a decided falling-off and another week should see a great many matters cleared up. The members of committees have been paying strict attention to business and it must be said that this has been one of the most industrious sessions as far as prompt committee reports are concerned.

City Solicitor Bartlett and others from Newton, Wellesley and more distant stations on the Boston and Albany railroad appeared before the Legislative Committee on Railroads in opposition to the bill for a union passenger station in the Back Bay, Boston.

The bill to require the vaccination of pupils attending private schools was enacted this week. The measure has been before the Legislature year after year and has previously been killed in the Senate. Its passage without debate was one of the interesting events of the week.

Representatives Baker, Luitwieler and Thompson voted on rollcall against substituting for an adverse committee report a bill for the establishment of a State reserve fund for the employing of citizens on public works in times of business depression. Substitution was refused, 121 to 90.

It is not expected that this session will see any amendments to the Sunday law. An effort to have basketball games included in the list of sports permitted on the Lord's Day has not proved successful.

Further holidays are certainly not to be voted for by this year's General Court and an attempt to have the matter of holidays investigated with the purpose of readjusting them has failed to find indorsement thus far.

There was an effort made in the House to have the law regarding drunken drivers amended so that a police officer might arrest a person for driving while under the influence of liquor. At present the charge of drunkenness is made the basis of the arrest and then a court complaint of drunken driving is issued. The Committee on Legal Affairs reported against the bill on the ground that there is sufficient law at present. By a rising vote of 108 to 53 substitution was refused.

A vigorous attempt in the Senate to put through the bill for the nomination of the minor State offices by conventions of political parties was defeated through the efforts of Senator Hollis. The bill provided that the major political parties should hold conventions for the purpose of nominating candidates for Secretary of State, Treasurer and Receiver General, State Auditor and Attorney General. The Committee on Election Laws of which Senator Hollis is chairman reported against the measure. When it came up in the Senate this week the question was on accepting the adverse report. Senator Henry L. Kincaide of Quincy moved to substitute the original bill for the report of the committee. He said that it would give life to the political parties, especially their State committees.

Senator Hollis took the stand that the people did not want the change and Senator Kincaide replied that the special commission on election matters, which sat last Summer and Fall, had recommended the change because of the "hundreds of letters" it had received urging the adoption of the convention system for the four minor State offices. Senator Donald Nicholson of Wareham was in favor of substitution. He said, "We have had an Auditor for 15 years. I think, and we'll have him forever if we don't change the law." Substitution was favored by Senator James Moran of Mansfield.

Again Senator Hollis urged that the report be accepted. He felt that substitution would be a backward step. "Politicians are making a final gasp to take away from the people their right to nominate candidates" and he, Senator William S. Conroy of Fall River opposed substitution and said it would be a "slap" at the people. Senator Cornelius F. Haley of Rowley also opposed substitution. Supporting substitution Senator Dagobert Somerville declared that the conventions had nominated fine candidates.

The Senate refused, 20 to 11, to substitute and thereupon accepted the committee's adverse report.

Worker Meant Well, but He Spoiled Show

When the women of a Glendale church prepared for their annual dramatics a miniature log cabin was one of the stage properties necessary, says the Los Angeles Times. An influential member obtained the loan of a load of rough slabs with which to build the cabin, and they were delivered and placed in a neat pile just outside the church.

Husbands and men friends had agreed to gather prior to the presentation to construct the scenery. When the first of the group arrived he was astonished to hear a power saw in action, and after greetings were exchanged the volunteer worker explained:

"I was passing and saw this pile of wood, and, being a church man myself, I thought it would help the church out if I saved it up with my power outfit."

Her Days of Rest

A suburban woman has a colored day worker whose accomplishment of washing and ironing all in one day is a constant cause of boasting to the envious neighbors. One day she commiserated her marvel on the exigencies of fortune that drove her, the mother of 12 children, out to working by the day. To her surprise, the piteous one repudiated the pity.

"Hard on me, ma'am? Not a bit of it. Why, the days I go out are the only chances at all that I get to rest myself."—New York Sun

WANT AUBURNDALE RE-ZONED

he desires to erect 14 two-family houses in that section.

Clifford Frost of Hillside avenue, West Newton, representing Joseph Homer, made a long plea for the rezoning of the business zone of a parcel of property on Charles street near the boathouse. He argued that rezoning should be done for the good of the city as a whole and not to benefit a certain few. He contended that the zoning of Newton had been carefully done and should not be changed except for sound reasons. Harry Hanson, president of the Middlesex & Boston street railway, objected to property owned by that company from being included in the changes. John Ryan of Boston protested against the rezoning of a narrow strip of land owned by Lillian Morris of Commonwealth avenue and Woodbine street. This property is partly occupied by a filling station and garage and the balance is long and narrow in shape.

Will Eddy of Woodbine street made an indignant protest against being frequently compelled to appear at City Hall to protect his property against depreciation by speculative building. Others who protested were Miss Edna Moyer and Charles W. Blood.

NEW NIGHT DEPOSITORY

How to protect cash after banking hours has always been a problem for the local merchant. The Newton Trust Company has recently installed at its Newton Corner office the unique night depository considered the last word in this type of accommodation. For the past two years many progressive banks have installed this new system. Mr. Halliday of the Newton Trust Company has been carefully examining various types here and in New York finally choosing a depository arrangement carrying the highest insurance rating.

Briefly this arrangement consists of a bronze door hinged on the right hand side of the opening through the rotating cylinder, and it swings back through the opening in this rotating cylinder. The mechanism of the door of this door is connected with a bolt which shoots up in front of the locking bolt preventing the cylinder from rotating. As long as this inner door is open the locking bolt cannot be thrown into a locked position and the key cannot be removed.

When a person wishes to make a deposit, he unlocks the outer door in the usual way and then he has to push in on this second door, placing his deposit bag in the rotating cylinder. He must, therefore, open the outer door a second time, reach into the rotating cylinder and close this second door. Now when he has closed the outer door of the safe the key can be removed. It couldn't possibly be closed if a bag were stuck in it, because this door is the full size of the front opening of the rotating cylinder, and when it swings open it almost makes a clean sweep of the hole through the cylinder.

The bronze door hinged on the rotating cylinder, has on the front of it, the word "push," and on the edge of the door on the hinged side, the word "pull." This word "pull" shows when the secondary door is open. These two words are etched in the bronze door.

One fact worth mentioning is that the Newton Trust Company is covered for $100,000 by its Blanket Bond.

MARK REES KIMBALL

Mr. Mark Rees Kimball of 212 Chestnut street, West Newton, died at the Newton Hospital on Wednesday evening, in his fifty-sixth year.

Mr. Kimball was born in Chicago, July 15, 1873. He was a graduate of Amherst, class of 1895, and a member of the Chi Psi fraternity. He studied at Harvard Law School during 1895 and 1896. During the war he was chairman of the War Work Committee of the Hyde Park, Chicago, Y. M. C. A., and later gave up his business to enter an artillery officers' training school.

He is survived by his widow, Jessie Bingham Kimball, and three daughters, Mrs. Daniel Tyler, Jr., of Brookline, Mrs. Paul V. Robinson of East Liverpool, Ohio, and Mrs. Frank Connell, Jr., of West Newton.

Funeral services will be conducted this afternoon from his late residence.

Found Few Boyhood Joys

James Gibbons Huneker, the American author, music and dramatic critic enjoyed the present even to the exclusion of boyhood memories. "Happy days?" he questioned of them in his "Steeplejack." "Not a bit of it. I hated them then and I look back to them with a sense of relief that they are over and done with. Often I wished that my childhood could be abolished. I envied my elders; envied their freedom from constructive criticism, from bullying, from dogging, and a hundred other cruel impediments between my wishes and their fulfillment." Huneker added, "I was like other boys of my age and enjoyed myself out of school, but study killed the joy of being."—Detroit News

ABOUT TOWN

By Edw. H. Powers

The management of the sportorium at the Boston & Maine station in Boston display enough common sense to drop the "Madison Square" part of the designation. Now let the management find some more appropriate name than "Garden." Just where the garden effect comes in is difficult to understand.

Our friend James P. Gallagher, attorney at law, Master in Chancery and Trustee of the Newton Free Library refers to this "feature" of the Graphic as the "dyspeptic column."

We have been asked to comment on several matters. The first thing we have been requested to complain about is the churlishness displayed by some of the conductors on Boston Elevated cars who shut doors in the faces of persons about to board said cars and then give the starting signal, causing the victims of their nastiness to wait for a number of minutes until another car comes along. Most of the Elevated conductors are courteous to the people who pay their wages. The few who are otherwise unfortunately cause much public sympathy to be alienated from all employees of the Elevated.

The second complaint received is about the fact that Cheese Cake Brook has not received a thorough cleaning for many years and during the hot weather smells in spots like Limburger. The party making this complaint hopes that inasmuch as the city is so solicitous about South Siders that it is going to drain Cold Spring Swamp (as a health measure * * *) some action will be taken during the coming year to remove some of the debris from Cheese Cake Brook.

The third complaint received concerns some kindly soul who takes a morning paper from the entrance of the Crovden Apartments on Centre street, leaves 2 cents in payment therefor, and allows the lady for whom the paper was left to walk down the street and purchase another paper.

If your clothes have been ruined, to say nothing about your temper, by some inconsiderate automobile operator who drives by rapidly, splashing slush on you and your clothing, console yourself with the knowledge that you can report such a driver to the Registrar of Motor Vehicles and you can also start a damage suit.

Colonel William J. Donovan is wiser—and sadder.

According to the Boston papers our fellow-townsmen Henry I. Harriman, who during the short time he has been a trustee of the Boston Elevated has infused considerable "umph" into that important transportation company, appeared at the State House the other day to appeal for a revision of the law pertaining to the size of motor vehicles. Mr. Harriman wants the Elevated to be allowed to operate busses longer than the 28 feet which is now the maximum. Of course, if such a privilege should be granted to the Elevated it would mean that other busses and trucks operated on public ways could be longer considerably than 28 feet.

Mr. Harriman has driven automobiles for quite some time. He must have been singularly fortunate in driving along highways not to have had experiences such as most motorists have endured. Most of us who drive have been forced to jam on the brakes of the car we operate, or operated, to avoid being sideswiped by some bus which whizzed by and cut in sharply. Many of us have been forced off the road on the Newburyport turnpike or the Worcester road by some speeding interurban bus which breezed along doing 50 to 60 miles and hogged the thoroughfare.

The same day that proponents of longer busses pleaded their case other persons argued for a change in the law which will allow bigger and much heavier trucks to be operated on the public highways. Huge trucks with six wheels. Practically all autoists will agree that instead of permitting larger and longer busses and trucks on public highways, measures should be taken to get these menaces off the streets. The highways were never intended for huge freight vans or for big busses rushing along at faster than express train speeds. The railroad companies with whom these big freight and passenger vehicles compete are forced to own and maintain their private rights of way. Eventually separate highways will have to be constructed for the busses and big trucks which engage in interurban and interstate business. And the individuals operating such busses and trucks will have to pay the cost of building and maintaining these highways. Until this is done the limit on the size and load capacities of busses and trucks should not be increased.

Tom Hefflin is coming to Brockton on March 17 to deliver a lecture. Why not give Tom an invitation to attend the Evacuation Day exercises at South Boston on that day?

The Street Department did excellent work in clearing the streets of snow following last week's heavy storm. But, the sidewalks were not sanded so promptly. Quite a number of persons still use shank's mare, even persons who own automobiles.

The assertion, made recently by a postal official, that letter-carriers and other postal employees in the Newtons have been making false statements regarding delays in the delivery of mail matter in this city since the centralization system was put into effect at Newton Centre, might be taken more seriously but for the fact that many Newton residents are too well acquainted with local postal employees to readily believe them to be prevaricators. Residents of Newton know whether, or not, their letters and papers have not been delivered so promptly as before the new system went into operation. Will they, too, be accused of prevaricating?

REAL ESTATE

John T. Burns & Sons report that they have sold for Harry A. Johnson his new brick home located at 11 Merrill road in the Chestnut Hill district of Newton. With the house, which was recently completed by Mr. Johnson and contains ten rooms and three baths, there is a two car garage and 10,000 sq. ft. of land, and the total value of the property is $40,000. Edward F. Golden purchases for a home and will occupy the premises.

Burns and Sons have sold for E. A. Allen Company a lot of land on Chamberlin road in the Farlow Hill district of Newton to F. V. Tyrell. The lot contains 11,000 sq. ft. and is valued at $5,000.

Mrs. Mary F. Jackson has also sold through the Burns office lot No. 11 on Huntington road, containing 9,000 sq. ft., which is valued at $4,000, to F. V. Tyrell.

The Lydia Partridge Whiting Chapter, D. A. R., held a Colonial Afternoon on Feb. 26 at the Workshop of the Woman's Club, Newton Highlands, when "A Little Shovel Pagan" was given before a large gathering of members and friends of the Chapter. The characters were as follows: Mrs. H. A. Sherman, the Indian maiden in her blanket who sang "The Waters of the Minnetonka"; Mrs. Merrill, the baby's mother, who sang a Lullaby to her baby wrapped in a woolly white Mrs. C. E. Beane, dressed for an old-fashioned girl, dainty in silk and lace who danced the stately minuet with her partner, Mrs. C. W. Dillaway in knee breeches and powdered wig; Mrs. C. E. Beane, dressed for an old-fashioned sleighing party; Mrs. G. B. Fletcher, the Spanish senorita with high comb and castanets; Mrs. W. Kent, the rymy maiden with her tamborine; Mrs. J. K. Hemphill, the mid-Victorian lady with bustle and frills accompanied by her small daughter in replica, Miss Mary Tudbury; Miss E. M. McCann in her Paisley shawl and ancient calash; Mrs. R. A. Cody and Mrs. S. J. Smith the colored mamies in a specialty dance; Miss Betty Cudworth, the Chinese lady with her parasol; Miss Fannie Hall wearing the shawl of antiquity and carrying a water urn; Miss Dorothy Shute, the modern flapper who danced the Charleston; Mrs. L. P. Everett, the immigrant just arrived with boxes and bundles followed by four young immigrants: Italian, Miss Harriet Gray; Russian, Miss Mary Pattee; Swedish, Miss Claudia Bassett; Philippine, Mrs. Ward S. Beckwith. To complete the picture, Mrs. W. J. Bicknell, as the Goddess of Liberty, ascended the stage with her lighted torch upheld in benediction, while the whole group sang "America the Beautiful."

The stage was draped with many varied and beautiful shawls loaned by members of the Chapter. The affair was coached by the Regent, Miss Marion Dorr assisted by Mr. A. A. Cole, Mrs. C. D. Miller, president, at the piano during the performance playing appropriate selections for each entrance and accompanying the singing.

The hostesses who served refreshments during the social hour were Mrs. C. O. Bassett, Mrs. W. M. Brown, Mrs. W. K. Crosby, Mrs. C. W. Dillaway, Mrs. S. H. Severance.

At the business meeting the Chapter made contributions to the following: Maryville College, Hillside School, International College at Springfield, Hindman School, Lineage Book, State Scholarship Fund, Mrs. Seaver, for awards in her classes for foreign born mothers and Mrs. Peabody's gift, making Mass. a potential donor for the second time.

TO STAGE SHAKESPEARE PLAY

Hard upon the triumphant production of "The Rivals" by The Philadel Rice Players comes the announcement that this popular company is staging Shakespeare's famous comedy "The Taming of the Shrew" at the Newton Community Theatre, next Wednesday afternoon and evening March 6th. So insistent has been the demand from Rice Players patrons for a Shakespearean production that this definite step has been taken and the long awaited event is in immediate rehearsal.

After careful consideration of Shakespearean tragedies and comedies, "The Taming of the Shrew" was selected as that piece best suited to the demands of Rice Players audiences. The play abounds in comedy which has retained all its subtlety and humor through the years. It is replete with lines and passages which have become as famous as those in any of the master's plays. That it will be as popular as any production the local company has ever staged seems a certainty.

A novel and attractive feature of "The Taming of the Shrew" will be the discarding of the time-honored costumes of other days in favor of modern costume. Last winter Basil Sydney produced the play in modern costume in New York and it excited such a furore that its run set a new record for a Shakespearean production in the metropolis. This innovation will be put into effect by the Rice Players for the first time in New England and it is expected that large groups of people will take advantage of the opportunity of seeing a play of Shakespeare in the garb of our own day.

GEORGE WASHINGTON PARTY

The Youths and Maidens of the Young People's Department of the Congregational Church in Auburndale held a Jolly George Washington's Party last Wednesday evening.

Miss Marjorie Birrell read a story which was enacted in shadow pictures. Doris and Mrs. Elliott furnished the music with Roger DeWitt as saxophone soloist. Robert Van Pattensteiger and John Davis sang "Sonny Boy" in Italian. A short play, written by James Uford, in which Doris Elliott, Helen Derman, Bartlett Nichols, and Richard Williams were the characters, was presented. Refreshments and a social hour concluded a most enjoyable evening.

"Jocko" Something of a Freak of Nature

A putty nose and a tail a yard long are among the attractions possessed by a monkey newly placed in the famous London zoo. It comes from the African Gold coast. These monkeys have weak circulations in their tails. For the blood has to be pumped so far by the heart. A touch of cold weather, and the tail wilts like a dahlia in a frost. After stormy blasts in the bay of Biscay the average length of the decoration when the creature reaches this country is from six inches to a foot. Even if the tail is still all there, it has been blighted and fades away in the zoo.

Many putty-nosed monkeys eat their cold-stored tails. They are quite given to this habit until the zoo uses a certain red ointment, which spoils the flavor.

The new putty-nose was brought to England in wonderful condition by the donor, a Mr. Woodward, who is a laboratory expert at the Medical Research Institute at Sekond, where the yellow fever scourge is tackled.—London Times.

Indian Decoration Day

An annual Decoration Day, in both name and deed, is observed by lower Yukon river Indians. Fifteen families of Indians from Nulato and other villages met at Koyukuk, Alaska, to fulfill a queer custom, that of erecting houses over the graves of those who died the past year.

The shelters of the old graves were given a fresh coat of highly colored paint. Many of the unique mausoleums are constructed with skill and care, have windows, floors and rugs. Other articles such as were used by the departed ones. Food and drink are renewed each year during the potlatch following Decoration day.

Every western Alaskan Indian tribe has some different method of protecting the spirits of departed ones.

Whales Are "Brainy"

The largest brain in the world, according to speakers at a congress of natural science, recently held in England, is possessed by the whale.

Prof. W. Weygandt argued against a prevalent belief that the largest brain claim is shared by whales, elephants and man. He stated that the whale alone justified the claim, the largest whale ever caught having a brain weighing 7,000 grams.

The human brain, he added, seldom exceeds an average weight of 1,250 to 1,400 grams in the male and 1,140 to 1,340 in the female.

Home

The word "home" is indeed like unto an alabaster box of ointment, very precious, whose fragrance fills the life. Into it has been gathered our most sacred memories, our tenderest associations, our brightest hopes. It matters little whether the home of one's childhood has been a cottage on the hillside or a house in some city street—round it is woven a romance of interest that grows with the years; to it, from distant places alike of work and thought travels back the heart with wistful regret.—Exchange.

Drake's Drum

There is a legend in Devon, that in times of danger to England a booming sound is heard, as of the playing of a gigantic drum. This has been called Drake's drum. It being popularly supposed that the famous admiral is thus endeavoring to awaken the people to the realization of danger. There is no actual drum, of course. After the World war broke out there were many who declared that they had heard this "drum" on the night of the 4th of August, 1914.

Modern Superstitions

School children in London still wear charms against various evils according to a recent survey. Blue beads are worn to ward off colds. Forty per cent of the youngsters are addicted to wearing amulets of various sorts.

A SEVERE TEST

"I never had such a tough time in my life. First I got angina pectoris, followed by arterio sclerosis."

"Just as I was recovering from these I got tuberculosis, double pneumonia and phthisis. Then they gave me hypodermics."

"Appendicitis was followed by a tonsillotomy."

"What, you, the daredevil of the films?"

A Victim of Nerves

Mrs. Owens—I am a victim of nerves.

Mrs. Oke—You are?

Mrs. Owens—Yes. I need a new spring outfit, and when I asked credit of the dressmaker and milliner they had the nerve to refuse.

A Rule of the Business

The Customer—It's wonderful the way you can read that funny writing on those prescriptions.

The Drug Clerk—Some of it is hard to make out. Then we always pick something harmless and expensive.

Daughter of Eve

Mother—What's this I see on your report card, Bessie? You've been talking again during school hours.

Six-Year-Old—Yes, mother, that's the way with us women. We can't be any different, it seems.

FROM GREENLAND

Eskimo Sheik—Maybe I'll drop in for a while tonight.

Eskimo Flapper—Do—how long can you stay?

E. S.—Oh, for a month or so, I guess.

Cackle

The hen who cackles will display an egg, for time well spent; while men bring talk from day to day. That isn't worth a cent.

A Poor Substitute

Mrs. A.—Why did the cook you had with you so long leave?

Mrs. B.—She was in love with the ice man, and, not knowing it, we installed an electric refrigerator.

Good Riddance

He—if I'd known you were so extravagant I'd never have married you.

She—My dear man, if I wasn't, father would never have let you.—Sydney Bulletin.

Angling

George—I saw Mr. Fish today.

Grace—Did he give you any message for me?

George—Yes, he asked me to tell you to drop him a line.

Then Lost His Head

Cholly (dramatically)—Miss Ethel, I have lost my heart!

She (fixing him with a steel-gray look)—Why don't you advertise?

It's All the Same

Mrs. Reichlegh—You don't give me as handsome presents as you used to.

Reichlegh—No, but I pay for those you give yourself.

F. A. DAY JUNIOR HIGH

Refreshed after a week of vacation and playtime, we came back to school on Monday of this week eager to carry on the work of the year. We sincerely hope that the colds which have played such havoc with our attendance records have become extinct.

For entertainment this week we have been exceptionally fortunate. On Tuesday morning the first band of the Levi Warren Junior High School gave us an extremely fine showing of their work under the leadership of Mr. Spaulding. About fifty students assisted in creating the harmonies that filled the hall.

Mr. Spaulding is very eager to organize a band of similar size in our school and, if we can judge by the enthusiasm shown by the students here, he will have little difficulty in launching such an enterprise. The latter half of the program proved quite as interesting in an entirely different way. Dr. Hartwell of the American Red Cross showed in some very simple first aid treatments and methods of bandaging. His talk and demonstrations were greatly appreciated.

At assembly this week we were most fortunate in hearing Mrs. A. A. Shurtliff and her bell-ringers from 62 Mt. Vernon St., Boston. Such perfect co-operation resulting in such exquisite melody is always a marvel to an audience. After playing several well-known songs, a peal was rung by Mrs. Shurtliff and two of her assistants. The bells used were made special for Mrs. Shurtliff in London about a year ago.

Another surprise awaited us when Miss Zabelle Sakisian was announced as soloist. Miss Sakisian sang two Italian songs and a third in English. Her personality as well as her delicately modulated voice charmed the audience. As a student of voice at the Hubbard School in Boston, she shows much promise.

We are glad to welcome Winifred Walden back in the seventh grade. Winifred has been ill since November with rheumatic fever.

In the Auditorium on Wednesday afternoon the Newtonville Women's Club met to hear a lecture on "Interests of the Future" by Mr. R. E. Chambers, Vice President of the National Shawmut Bank of Boston.

LASELL SEMINARY

The annual Senior Class Prom will be held on Saturday evening, March 2, at Longwood Towers in Brookline.

On Sunday evening the Vesper service will be in charge of the Lasell Missionary Society. It will be a Camp Fire service and be addressed by Mrs. W. R. Oliver, a Home Missionary. Mrs. Oliver's subject will be "Migrants."

Barbarous Penalty

After the Norman conquest of England mutilation as a form of punishment appears to have been substituted for other forms, such as hanging, decapitation, burning and pushing from rocks.

Metals in History

Copper is one of the six metals mentioned in the Old Testament. The Bible refers to Tubal-cain, "an instructor of every artificer in brass and iron." Brass is a copper alloy.—Detroit News.

A Question

Be sure you are right then go ahead. But how does one know whether he is right until he has gone ahead?—Miami Herald.

AMERICAN LEGION AUXILIARY

American Legion Auxiliary, Newton Post No. 48 held a food sale at 325 Washington street, Newton, on Wednesday afternoon, Feb. 27 from 1:30 to 5 o'clock, in charge of the Ways and Means Committee, of which Mrs. Grace McPhee is chairman.

The Home Whists which are held the 1st Thursday afternoon of each month for all the members and their friends, are meeting with much favor. March 7 the Home Whist will be held with Mrs. Thomas H. Burns, 75 Waban Park, Newton, at 2 o'clock.

On March 11 at 1:30 p. m. at 12 Austin street, Newtonville, will be held the meeting of the executive board and chairmen of all standing committees.

The regular meeting at Elks Hall, Newton, Wednesday, March 20, will be called to order at 7 o'clock, to be followed at 8 o'clock by a whist party in charge of the Unit Activities Group, of which Mrs. George F. Twombly is chairman. Funds to raise for a gift of furnishings for the Day Room at Bedford Hospital which the units of Middlesex County are supplying. The public is cordially invited to this whist party. The initiation of new members will be postponed until the April 17th meeting.

Mrs. George W. Knowlton, the state music chairman, has asked each county to prepare to enter the music contest at New Bedford convention in June. Our double quartette is making fine progress under the direction of Mrs. R. John Henderson and at each of our unit meetings have added much to our pleasure. February 20th the program was given by a double trio, "Song at Sunrise" by Manney, "Bells of Shandon" and a solo "The Auld Plaid Shawl" Haynes, by Mrs. Henderson.

Mrs. Corabelle G. Francis, president of the auxiliary, will leave March 2nd to spend a week in visiting her son Mr. Russell Dean Francis who is at the Walter Reed Hospital, Washington, D. C.

High Reverence Given

India's Holy Milkmen

A certain tribe of southern India, the Todas, regard their purveyors of milk as holy men. The chief of these is the Holy Milkman, who has an official residence, the Sacred Dairy, which he is not allowed to leave during his term of office. The Holy Milkman, moreover, is usually a bachelor; if he married before being appointed to his high office, he must leave his wife and devote himself entirely to observing the stringent rites of the Sacred Dairy.

No ordinary person may touch him, for to do so would defile his exalted office and he would be compelled to resign. Another restriction is that Holy Milkmen must not be spoken to except on Mondays and Thursdays. On other days, any message must be shouted from a considerable distance.

The dairy temples are usually built in conical form, and the milkman-priest must always sleep in the cow-house, a draughty structure with a small fireplace. There is no door to the dairy, and a Holy Milkman is allowed to wear only one coarse robe. When he is eating, his hand must not touch his lips, and to prevent this the milkman throws his food into his mouth. When drinking, he must hold the vessel aloft and pour the liquid down his throat as from a tap.

Passing Observation

An optimist is a man who thinks the little trunk on the back of the car will hold all his wife will want to take on their trip.—Cincinnati Enquirer.

Y. M. C. A.

The bowling team of the Newton Y. M. C. A. lost the contest with Quincy last Saturday night.

Rev. Ray Anderson Eusden, Minister of Eliot Church, was the speaker last week at the Fellowship Club. The subject of his talk was, "The Art of Fine Living." Next week on March 4th, Dr. Franklin P. Lowry will be the speaker.

The regular monthly meeting of the Board of Directors will be held on Tuesday, March 5th, at the Newton Y. M. C. A. building.

A new locker room for business men will be ready for use on Monday, March 4th. Sixty-four full length lockers have been installed which C. V. Moore, Chairman of the Physical Department Committee hopes will take care of the new members coming in to play squash racquets. Between the lockers will be laid woven leather matting. The room has been painted a light color so it will be most attractive.

Boys' Division Notes

The outstanding event of the vacation week program was the Boys' Division Supper on Friday evening, Feb. 22nd. Over seventy-five boys turned out to hear Johnny Daley of the U. S. Olympic Boxing Team tell about his trip to Holland last year. Movies were also enjoyed and the Y. M. C. A. Boys' Day program was outlined.

The sixteenth of March will be Y. M. C. A. Boys' Day, a day on which the boys are privileged to help their "Y" in a drive for $500.00 to increase the program of the boys' department. Friends of the boys will receive information about the drive and it is hoped that the boys will find encouragement from those who realize what the "Y" is doing for these youthful canvassers.

The Old Torch Club has been re-organized as a Friday night Forum and they meet each Friday at supper to discuss problems of youth. They have some prominent men talk to them each week. Last week Liscomb Bruce of the Newton Scouts spoke and this week a member of the Newton Board of Health has a message for them. The boys in this Club are all in the first and second year in High School. Visitors are welcome.

American Possessions

The area of Alaska, Hawaii, the Philippines, Porto Rico, the Canal zone, Virginia Islands, Guam, American Samoa, Wake and Midway Islands is equal to that of seven American states as follows: Washington, Oregon, California, Nevada, Idaho, Utah and Arizona.

Not Quite Plain Enough

A fellow scribbler tells us that one recent evening while waiting for a car somewhere in the wilds of Beachview, a mammy who looked as though she had just stepped off the side of a buckwheat flour box came up to him and inquired:

"Pardon me, sah—but does you all have da time?"

"Why, yes," he replied, and extracted his gold flier from his hip—that is, his vest pocket—he held up the face of the watch, which indicated that it was a quarter of nine.

For a moment she studied the watch in silence and he said nothing. But as he was about to return the chronometer to his pocket, she observed:

"Mistah, would you mind speakin a lil bit louder. It's somewhat hard 'hearin'."—Pittsburgh Post-Gazette.

Masterpieces of Pen and Brush Forgotten

A pine tree brings forth many seeds but among the millions that it scatters over the mountainside perhaps but one may survive—treasured, say, by a squirrel, stored underground, springing to life when the uncertainties of existence deprive the squirrel of need for food.

Charles Wesley, it is said, wrote 6,000 hymns, but from this 6,000 probably but one has assurance of immortality—"Jesus Lover of My Soul." Wordsworth was prodigious in sonnets but of the thousands he drafted he published but a few more than 450 and of these less than half a dozen have taken root in popular memory. La Farge burned many of his drawings, left between 50,000 and 60,000, and some critics say he will be fortunate if one of them be remembered a few hundred years from now. Raphael painted scores of madonnas, doubtless sketched hundreds that he never painted, and the world really treasures two—the "Sistine Madonna" and "Madonna della Sedia." The "Sistine" it might be remarked, was not thought much of at the time of its painting, a critic then dismissing it with four lines of comment.—Detroit News.

Legal Knots Untied by Chinese Solomon

In a village near Peking, China, four tradesmen clubbed together to buy cotton. To protect it from rats they procured a cat, and agreed that each of them owned one of the animal's legs.

Soon afterwards the cat hurt one of its paws, and the owner of that particular leg bound it up with a rag soaked in oil. But the cat went too near the fire, the bandage ignited, and the terrified animal rushed amongst the bales of cotton, which flared up and were destroyed.

The three owners of the uninjured legs sued their partner for loss and damages. The judge ruled thus: "Since the cat was unable to use the injured leg, the cotton was set on fire by the action of the three un-injured legs on which the cat ran among the bales of cotton. Consequently these three legs were guilty and their owners must pay damages and costs."

Turkish Trade Unions
The oldest trade unions in the world are in Constantinople. Here every worker, no matter what his calling, belongs to a guild. These guilds are very powerful, having been in existence for many centuries and possessing special privileges granted to them for services rendered to the state in times of crisis. To this day in Constantinople, no shoemaker of the guild of shoemakers may be punished except by special officers appointed by members of his own guild; the favor having been conferred upon the fraternity by one of the sultans of the Sixth century. The guilds regulate wages, length of working day, and even control the "pitches" of the vendors.

Good Job
A young lawyer had a foreign client in police court. It looked rather black for the foreigner, and the lawyer fairly outdid himself in trying to convince the magistrate that his client was innocent.

The lawyer dwelt on the other's ignorance of American customs, his straightforward story, and enough other details to extend the talk fully 15 minutes. His client was acquitted.

In congratulating the freed man the lawyer held out his hand in an absent, though rather suggestive manner. The client grasped it warmly.

"Dot was a fine noise you make," he said. "Thanks. Gooby."

Metals Found in Scotland
The precious metals exist in several Scottish counties. The ancient Celts made their wonderful brooches, and other trinkets of native gold, probably gathered from the beds of streams. In the sixteenth century the metal was extensively mined in Lanarkshire. Penant describes a nugget weighing one and a half ounces which was discovered on Crawford Muir. Some years ago, a local writer, Doctor Watson, collected a fair amount of gold in small grains from the Wanlockhead district.

Popular Scottish Stone
One of the stones that has never waned in popularity is the Cairngorm. This splendid stone is a variety of rock crystal found in the Cairngorm mountains in Inverness-shire, Scotland, and also in the Grampians. In color it ranges from light orange to deep brown. The Cairngorm is made into various articles of jewelry, which find a ready sale, especially amongst tourists visiting Scotland. From time immemorial it has been used to decorate the dirks and brooches worn with Highland dress.

Teacher's Helper
A kindergarten teacher, who was obliged to leave the room for a few moments, returned just in time to see one mischievous little chap sneaking up the aisle toward the front of the room.

"What are you doing, James?" the teacher asked.

James hesitated a moment; then he replied hopefully:

POLICE NEWS

Mrs. Giuseppina DeSantis of 13 Cottage court, Newton, was fined $100 in the Newton court on Wednesday for maintaining a liquor nuisance. At the trial of the woman in the Newton court last week Patrolman Kelly testified he had seen men leaving the woman's house intoxicated and carrying bottles of liquor. The attorney for the defence contended that it was impossible for the policeman to tell from where he had been spotting the house, whether the men came from Mrs. DeSantis' tenement or from the tenement underneath her's. To determine this point, Judge Bacon on Wednesday went to the scene to decide whether or not Kelly could see whether the intoxicated men came from the upper or lower tenement of the building. The woman appealed and was released in $300 bonds.

Tuesday night as a young woman resident of Newton Centre reached the corner of Commonwealth avenue and Morton street in that section she was approached by two young men who snatched her handbag, jumped into a nearby automobile and escaped. The handbag contained a small sum of money.

Arthur Cook of Dorchester, who has been building houses in this city was fined $300 in the Newton court on Tuesday on six counts of failure to pay wages to men who worked for him. He appealed. Cook claimed that he did not hire the men but the court ruled that each of the other person had done the hiring the men were in Cook's employ.

YE OLDE CLOTHES PARTIE

About 90 members of the congregation of the Newtonville Methodist Episcopal Church attended an "Old Clothes Party" Tuesday evening under the auspices of the Ladies' Bible Class in the assembly hall of the church.

If the old saying that "Clothes Make the Man," is true, the company was made up of brides and grooms, cadets, Puritan maids, Colonial dames and gentlemen, ladies of Civil War days, and grandmothers in Paisley shawls and quaint little bonnets.

One guest wore a white brocade silk dress which was first worn by a Chelsea high school senior at a reception given her class over thirty years ago by Eugene F. Endicott, then mayor of that city. Another Chelsea gown was the wedding dress of the daughter of a lawyer well known in Greater Boston during the first half of the last century. The gown is the treasured possession of a member of this church. A charming evening gown of white satin, with long train, came from Dumay, Godot, de Mawro, Paris.

A dignified college professor in a trim cadet suit and a successful business man in overalls purchased on Washington street in Boston, "where you hot the hat," presented a pleasing contrast.

A large number of the men were conspicuous in their up to date clothes. Like Adam they said that it was the fault of their wives, who had given away all of their old clothes. One man, however, shuddered at the thought of borrowing a hat, dress and coat. He came in late looking tired and hungry but the hearty reception which he received and the food given him, soon revived his spirits. Another man who had no old clothes disguised his features in a manner suggesting that the Volstead Act is not wholly successful.

"Ye Olde Time Singing Bee" was conducted by Rev. David Evans of Nahant. Mr. Evans, who is a senior in Boston University School of Theology, proved himself a talented entertainer. The class was a game for any stunt which he imposed upon it and amusing situations arose. After the singing of scales and a number of rounds, in a lively manner, several old melodies were sung among them being "Flow Gently Sweet Afton," "Old Black Joe," "Smiles," "Darby and Joan," "School Days," and "Annie Laurie."

The refreshment committee served sandwiches and coffee, pot corn balls, apples and candy.

THE NEWTON GRAPHIC, FRIDAY, MARCH 1, 1929

SECOND SECTION

Two Large Audiences Attend Christian Science Lectures In Christian Science Church

Church Edifice in Newtonville Is Completely Filled on Monday and Tuesday Evenings To Hear Miss Margaret Murney Glenn, C. S. B.

The attractive Christian Science Church edifice, corner of Walnut and Otis streets, Newtonville, was completely filled on Monday and Tuesday evenings of this week in response to the notice of the above lecture. The lecturer was introduced Monday evening by Mr. Francis W. Davis, First Reader of the church and Tuesday evening by Mrs. Eva Stickney Johnson, the Second Reader. Mrs. Johnson in her introduction said:

I am glad to welcome you here this evening.

In the Book of Proverbs we read, "Whoso trusteth in the Lord, happy is he." I think it is fair to assume that most of us here would like to be better, healthier, and happier because the need for regeneration, healing and happiness is universal. Humanity, the world over, is "constantly homesick for heaven." (Misc. 177-29)

We are all students in the school of Experience and we have come here tonight to receive instruction in the study of divine law as understood in Christian Science.

Christian Science, in its re-establishment of the teachings of Jesus, gives one an abiding sense of the presence of God. It awakens in the student of Christian Science a desire to so study the Scriptures that each day he may more clearly understand God's way, which is the way of peace.

Christian Science churches are largely made up of unnumbered thousands who have turned to this religion when all else had failed and have found what Christ Jesus offered mankind in his day; namely, joy and health. Their hearts have been warmed into a love for God and man.

The greatness of the change which Christian Science brings, only those can tell who have experienced its workings. Since a small church in Boston, Massachusetts, who will address us on the subject, "God's Government of Man as Revealed by Christian Science."

It is now my pleasure to present to you the lecturer, Miss Margaret Murney Glenn, of Boston.

Miss Glenn spoke as follows:

Perfect government is the ideal of every righteous nation. This ideal is being accomplished through a clearer understanding of the fact that God's law is the law of universal love. The result of this understanding is that nations express through their laws much more consideration for people of all conditions and for both sexes. The world's governments are for the most part run for and by the few, as was formerly the case. The necessity and rightness of self-government for individuals and nations has become the generally accepted standard.

Probably everyone in this audience believes he more or less governs himself. That he controls his own thinking, but everyone who believes this would also admit that there have been times in his experience when fear, or sickness, or lack, or unhappiness has seemed to govern him. Did you want to be afraid, sick, limited, or unhappy? And if you did not want to be that way, you honestly say that it was your desire, your thinking governing you? If your thinking was not governing you were you then self-governed? The Discoverer and Founder of Christian Science, Mary Baker Eddy, writes in "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" (p. 106): "God has endowed man with inalienable rights, among which are self-government, reason, and conscience. Man is properly self-governed only when he is guided rightly and governed by his Maker, divine Truth and Love." It is sometimes said by those who do not understand Christian Science and its revelation of man's glorious self-government, that Christian Science practitioners do the thinking for their patients. This is absolutely contrary to fact. The only reason a patient goes to a practitioner is because of lack of true self-government, for he is suffering from the decision that he is governed by things he does not want to have govern him, such as false appetites, fear, disease, or lack. What the patient wants is a realization of true self-government, of God's government of man, and he desires to be released from the government of himself and conditions which are claiming to overthrow God's, good's, government of his consciousness, thus making him sick, sinful, or sorrowful. The practitioner simply understands the truth that man is governed by Life, Truth, and Love, that he is the son of God, and that, as Jesus said, "The Son can do nothing of himself, but what he seeth the Father do: for what things soever the Father doeth, these also doeth the Son likewise." This truth changes nothing real, but it shows the patient that he is governed by good instead of evil, by love instead of lack, by harmony instead of disease. In other words, it shows the patient that he is really self-governed when he is governed by God. The healing of the patient is evidence that evil and discordant thoughts or beliefs are not natural to man and that when he seems to be governed by them he is not self-governed.

GOD'S REFLECTION

In her book "Miscellaneous Writings" (p. 258) Mrs. Eddy writes as follows: "In the spiritual Genesis of creation, all law was vested in the Lawgiver, who was a law to Himself. In divine Science, God is One and All; and governing Himself, He governs the universe." If God governs Himself and His ideas, as He must do, man, who is the image and likeness of God, images forth, reflects, or expresses this divine self-government. In order to perceive man's proper self-government as the manifestation of God's government of Himself, we have to understand a little of Mrs. Eddy's meaning when she speaks of man as the reflection of God.

When we want to know anything accurately about ourselves with regard to our appearance, size, coloring, or expression, we use a mirror, a good mirror. To know anything about man as God's exact likeness we need to have a perfect mirror which shows man's spiritual nature, his infinite stature, his unlimited intelligence, his immortality. In the case of a person before a mirror, we do not see another person in the mirror, nor do we call that which we see a person, but a reflection. When we want to know the truth about mathematics, about the earth, the stars, the elements, the consistency of things, we look into the laws governing them and thus we understand their nature, activity, usefulness, and place, for these laws show us these things as they are. In other words, these laws reflect the true nature of these things much better than a material mirror or picture would.

To illustrate, anyone looking at the stars would simply think of them as bright and shining lights of small dimensions. But if he were to study astronomy, or the laws which reveal the actual position, substance, movement, and size of the stars, these laws would be a better mirror, would convey a truer likeness than that which the material eyes see. So the laws of God serve to convey God's nature, His presence, His substance, His relationship to His creation, His omnipotence, omniscience, and omniscience. In fact, His law, or divine Science, serves as a mirror to reflect, or reveal Him. To illustrate, anyone looking at the stars would simply think of them as bright and shining lights of small dimensions. But if he were to study astronomy, or the laws which reveal the actual position, substance, movement, and size of the stars, these laws would be a better mirror, would convey a truer likeness than that which the material eyes see. So the laws of God serve to convey God's nature, His presence, His substance, His relationship to His creation, His omnipotence, omniscience, and omniscience. In fact, His law, or divine Science, serves as a mirror to reflect, or reveal Him.

In the mirror which is God's law, or His Science, we see divine Love manifested as loving, pure, tender qualities; we see divine Mind reflected in intelligence and ideas; we see divine Principle expressed as law, justice, changelessness; we see Spirit as the only substance, infinity, and omnipresence; we see Soul mirrored as spiritual senses which are perfect, enduring, immutable; we see Life revealed as eternality, immortality, unchanging, and this reflection of our God, these loving, living, changeless, substantial, hearing, seeing, knowing, and intelligent ideas constitute man, James tells us that when we look in a material mirror we forget what sort of a man we are. In other words, we forget that man is spiritual, the reflection of God, or a material mirror does not reveal man's spiritual, real nature.

"But," James continues, "whoso looketh into the perfect law of liberty (into God's law, or Science, the true and perfect mirror), . . . this man shall be blessed in his deed." Until we look into this mirror of divine law or Truth, we have no idea as to what man is. When we do look into the Science of man's being, our whole concept of ourselves is changed, and we are blessed in our deeds, as James says, and healing follows. This is really the way healings in Christian Science are accomplished. If someone seems to be burdened with some so-called hereditary sickness or sin, this is simply a result of looking into the wrong mirror; in other words, looking into the so-called laws of the mortal, or carnal mind. The perfect mirror, or "the perfect law of liberty," shows that man is the child of our Father, God, and His loving Word is saying to us, "Son, thou art ever with me, and all that I have is thine." All that He, God, Life, Truth, and Love, has is ours, and this is our true heritage. Spiritual life certainly has neither sin nor sickness, for these seeming conditions would destroy Life, and it would be a kingdom divided against itself. Life is healthy, harmonious, sinless, pure, and man is ever one with Life. All that Life has belongs to man and is his heritage.

Truth has no errors to impart or reflect. It has no record of past weaknesses, defects, or faults in the character, for Truth is the Intelligence of God knowing only good. This intelligence is ever ours, and we are ever with it. We cannot dwell with false records of man, for a false record is no record. If someone were to write a false account of an exploration we would consider it unworthy to be called a record, and we would eliminate it from our consciousness as history, or event. There are many false records of explorations into our pasts which should be treated with like dismissal. Do not pore over or give credence to the false record of explorations into your own or anyone else's past. Sin must be forsaken, not dwell upon as a pleasure or as pain, for either of these extremes holds to us as though it were a reality, therefore a creation of God, good, which is, of course, impossible. The Bible states, "God requireth that which is just." Then man's past record belongs to Him. It does not belong to sin, disease, death, failure, regrets. Look long into the mirror of the perfect law of liberty and you will see man as the eternal reflection of God, good.

If you look into a convex mirror and see yourself all distorted and out of shape, you do not think that you have to do something to yourself in order to return to your normal appearance. No, you only have to look into a mirror that reflects things as they are. Looking into the false, distorted records of an unhappy, sinful, sick, dishonest past is like looking into a convex mirror, which is not a reflection, but a deflection of our being. If you have been looking for many years, even since birth, into the convex mirror of material beliefs, and it defects you as a deformed, sinful, sick mortal, it need take no time for you to turn from this deflection to the true reflection of God, of perfect Life, of harmonious, healthy, spiritual Life. You will then see your true and only being as the harmonious, healthy, upright, pure reflection of God. God's record is the only record of man, and this record is good and true. Divine Love is saying to us all, "Son, thou art ever with me, and all that I have is thine." Then the false record, which proclaim to us that we have spent our past with hatred, neglect, unhappiness, lack, fear, unpleasant family history, or dread disease, are untrue and therefore unreal. The true mirror, Christian Science, is showing you that you have ever been with your Father, Love, and that you have always had His encouragement, Love's understanding and tender support, for all that Love has is thine. When you see yourself in the mirror of God's law as His reflection, the false image in the distorted mirror of the so-called laws of health, heredity, environment, sin, and disease will disappear from your consciousness and therefore from your body.

Look "into the perfect law of liberty," for it will show you man, free to obey God, free to express perfection, free to be loving, free to manifest health, free to have abundant supply, free to be infinitely intelligent. If this is not true and this law, then man is not free to sin, suffer, be stupid, be happy, ungrateful, hateful, morbid, limited, or depraved. These things are bondage, not freedom, and the only law is the law of liberty, which is Christian Science.

GOD'S LAW

Restrictive laws are still needed today because we, as individuals, are not practicing true self-government. We are not proving sufficiently the truth that God governs man, to be able to do away with restrictive legislation. Take, for example, a matter as simple as traffic laws. The only reason they are essential is that mortals let haste, fear, and selfishness govern them instead of being self-governed by God, divine Love. When we prove that God is governing man we are not in other people's way, we are not in the wrong place, nor is our way obstructed by others. Under God's perfect government each creation of God is in its right place. Mrs. Eddy says in the Christian Science text-book (p. 70), "The divine Mind maintains all identities, from a blade of grass to a star, as distinct and eternal." Under God's government there can be no accidents, for all things are maintained distinct and eternal. This statement is based on law which you can prove governs you, for law is universal, ever operative, ever present, and available. But of course it needs to be made use of, just as the laws of mathematics have to be applied in order to be proved.

The only reason we need the Eighteenth Amendment to the Constitution of the United States is because some mortals are still unacquainted with the fact revealed by Christian Science that man is self-governed when he is governed by God, good, and these mortals are being helped by this restrictive law to regain their self-government, the government of good, of purity, love, honesty, and integrity. Instead of being permitted to continue the victims of intoxication, lust, license, indulgence, weakness, and selfishness. This Eighteenth Amendment is a nation's highest concept of temperance and it has the omnipotence of God, good, to sustain and protect it.

In "Miscellaneous Writings" (p. 259) Mrs. Eddy says: "Whatever appears to be law, but partakes more of the nature of God is not law, but is what Jesus declared it, 'a liar, and the father of it.' God is the law of Life, not of death; of health, not of sickness; of good, not of evil." Mortals have tried to ascribe to God's law the physical phenomena which they perceive around them, and the result has been to make God responsible for earthquakes, storms, accidents, disease, and death. These things have nothing to do with God's will or law, for they do not partake of the nature of God. Jesus came to fulfill God's law, and when he applied the divine law to storms, sin, disease, and death, these were destroyed. Had they been the result of God's law, even Jesus could not have destroyed them. God's laws express Love's nature and there is no other nature, for divine Love is the only Creator. In the Bible record of Elijah's experience after he fled from the wrath of Jezebel, it is written, "The Lord was not in the wind; . . . the Lord was not in the earthquake; . . . The Lord was not in the fire; but He was expressed by the 'still small voice.' What voice? Intelligence, love, truth, good, harmony to us in the stillest, quietest way possible? It is thought, of course. It is through thoughts or ideas that God conveys His nature, His love, His strength, His intelligence to us. God's thoughts are law, and are therefore scientific. So the still, small voice, which is really scientific, correct thoughts or thinking. The only way we are going to gain an understanding to-day of God and His saving laws of health, of good, and of life is through the 'still small voice' of scientific thinking which Elijah heard after he had rejected the temptation to believe that God was manifested through the materiality expressed in the wind, the earthquake, and the fire.

There is no one who has not at some time or other heard this still, small voice of God's law, of right thought. Have you ever been dishonest, unloving, or unjust and had the thought come to you that this was wrong, and that you really wanted to be loving, honest? Just? If you have, this was a thought of God, good, the still, small voice of Truth, saying to your consciousness, "I AM." In other words, good exists as part of your thinking and you want it. If you listen to this thought of good, God, you will find it is law to you and you will manifest this good thought in a good deed. Have you ever been tempted to believe that life was not worth living and then had some thought of love or hope relieve your bitterness and despair? This thought was the "still small voice" of divine Life speaking to your consciousness, saying: "I AM. Harmonious, loving conditions exist and are your life." If you listen to this still, small voice and cherish it, you will find it is a law of Life to you which will destroy the desire to die by giving you a sense of Life that is good, God. Have you ever been unhappy about yourself or others and then had your whole mood change because some thought of joy has entered your consciousness? This was the "still small voice" of Love saying to you: "I AM. I Love, exist as the Principle of your being, as the cause and source of your natural thinking." If you accept these thoughts as yours, you will find them a law of annihilation to the unhappy mood which has claimed to govern you. Life, Truth, and Love are always saying to man's consciousness, "I AM," and through Christian Science we are enabled to recognize that God is the only Being, the only I AM. This truth shows that suggestions of fear, hatred, unhappiness, and disease have no being, and therefore cannot say to our consciousness, "I AM." The great I AM, the only Life, Truth, and Love, governs man through law, and that law is manifested as scientific, spiritual thought.

GOD'S LAW HEALS

Christian Scientists are not wonder workers in the sense that they do inexplicable things. Every healing accomplished by a Christian Science treatment can be explained because it is the result of God's law understood. To an observer who does not understand this law and who sees nothing material being done for the patient, the healing appears so mysterious, but no more unaccountable than some of the things which are accomplished with the use of electricity must seem to those who know nothing about electricity. Many years ago I was in the Philippine Islands and we had in our home Filipino boys as servants. When these boys first came into the house and were shown how to turn on the electric lights their surprise and wonder were unbounded, and they would sometimes run across the room after they had pressed the button to try to reach the lamp in time to see what took place to produce the light. They never were able to discover what it was and finally they would accept the facts without explanation. To them a wonder had happened. To us a so-called physical law had been made use of. When a Christian Science practitioner states that man is well and healthy, although the physical senses may testify him to an opposite condition, some who are ignorant of the law which the practitioner is using believe that the Scientist is trying to make man well by saying and thinking constantly that he is well, and that thus mesmerism is being used. Really the practitioner is recognizing, understanding, and making use of God's law which has already created man as God's image and likeness, perfect, harmonious, happy, free, pure, and loving. Just as with the electric light, we do not actually make the light, but we make use of the so-called physical law which has certain effects, so the practitioner does not make man well and harmonious for God has already done that; but he perceives this fact as immutable law that cannot be controverted or gainsaid, and with this law he destroys the ignorance, fear, darkness which seem to be engulfing the patient.

The only way one can make use of even human laws is by thinking. It is not the thinking which makes the laws true, but it is only through thinking that we can utilize law, and thereby recognize it as part of our experience. So it is not the thinking which makes health real and true, but it is through thinking that we recognize and utilize God's law of health as part of the real man's experience. Accidents, disease, deformities, war, and crime are not law, and the only way these things can be eradicated from our experience is through law. The great trouble has been that instead of turning away from the human mind which has produced these effects, mortals have turned to the so-called knowledge, invention, and laws to be saved from the effects which these very things have produced. Take, for instance, the most useful element which this human mind has learned to utilize, namely, electricity. Is it not also the most destructive and dangerous thing as well? This but illustrates the contradictory nature of the beliefs of the mind, and shows us that escape from bondage cannot be expected from the so-called mind or source which is producing this bondage.

Jesus, who was the greatest of all healers and teachers, did not give names to diseases, nor did he recommend the study of disease, but he did tell us that all law would be fulfilled, and he fulfilled God's law in his own life and experience by proving sin, disease, and death to be violations of law, therefore illegitimate, powerless, without government, victim, or governed. Who is the better mathematician, one who studies all the mistakes which have ever been made in mathematics, all the violations of mathematical laws, or he who studies the fundamental truths of mathematics which correct all mistakes? Who is the better physician, he who studies the law of health, or he who studies the divine Principle of all health which corrects and destroys any and all diseases?

In the first chapter of Genesis, which states the truth about the creation of God, there is no mention made of suffering, nor is the name of any disease given. A disease which God did not create and which, therefore, is not a creation, because God is the one and only Creator, has no name. For "In calling them all by name," in other words, each creation is known to the Mind creating it as an individual name or nature manifesting God. Disease, then, has no more law, no more power because the human mind has attached a name to it, for it is in reality nameless, unknown to God.

CHRIST JESUS

There is a name, however, which offers us salvation from disease and all the other disorders to which mortals are subject. This name is that nature which reveals to us the character, activity, and presence of God. This name, or nature, is the Christ, Truth. Christian Science makes a distinction between the Christ and Jesus, but it never separates Jesus from the Christ. In the text-book of Christian Science (p. 482) Mrs. Eddy writes: "Jesus was the highest human concept of the perfect man. He was inseparable from Christ, the Messiah—the divine idea of God outside the flesh. This enabled Jesus to demonstrate his control over matter."

An illustration may help us to see this point. An artist may paint a most beautiful landscape, in a way that will convey to us its beauty, harmony, quiet, and joy. The painting is indissolubly connected with the particular place it represents, but the picture is never the scene itself, and although through the artist's recorded vision of the beauties of his subject we may see things there that we have never seen before—things which enlarge our sense of its beauty—nevertheless we have to look upon the scene for ourselves in order to form our own concept of it. The life and career of the man Jesus was the most glorious, noble, loving, intelligent, and powerful human depiction ever known of Christ, the ideal man of God's creation, who has dominion over the whole earth and who is Godlike in every detail of his being. Jesus' human presence, the revelation of the Christ, was no more the Christ, or spiritual man, than the painting is its subject. Just as the artist's presentation of a scene enlarges our concept of its beauty, so Jesus' marvelous love, life, and works broaden our vision of the true man's ability, love, power, and character as the reflection of omnipotent God, good. Jesus, the human being who depicted in his life and work the nature of the Christ, or ideal man, is beloved of all Christian Scientists. He gave us an illustration of the nature of man made in God's image and likeness and he proved this man to be the only man, his real, true selfhood, and our real, true selfhood, for we, too, are sons of God.

SALVATION THROUGH UNDERSTANDING

Most of the difficulties encountered by mortals are due to ignorance—ignorance of the truth, of God's law. Suppose you seem to be sick. This sickness is the result of either fear or sin. In either case it is the result of ignorance, for fear is the ignorance of the ever-presence of God, good, divine Love, and sin is ignorance of man's holy nature as God's image and likeness, in other words, it is moral ignorance. Does it seem strange that fear is ignorance? Consider for a moment the effects produced by fear. In our school days it was due to fear that we did not express all we knew at examination time. The effect appeared to be ignorance of the subject. In public work how often, due to fear, one sings, or plays, or speaks with less ability than he really possesses. The effect appears as ignorance of the thing one is attempting to do. Ignorance and fear can never be overcome by psychology or will-power, for these assume that ignorance and fear are real and powerful, and simply attempt to suppress them. Love and intelligence destroy them. The only way to destroy ignorance is through enlightenment, through a knowledge of facts—an understanding of spiritual facts. In many of the cases which Jesus healed he said to the healed one, "Thy faith has made thee whole." He did not say your wonderful constitution, or the fact that you eat a certain kind of food, or that you take a lot of exercise, and keep in good condition have made you whole, but your faith, a purely mental quality. Jesus did not even say that his own faith, purity, and love had healed the patient, but that the patient's faith in God had made the sufferer whole. Why? Because it had enlightened the patient as to his true spiritual nature, and this enlightenment had dispelled ignorance and fear and their results, sickness. When he healed Mary Magdalene he told her that she was forgiven for she loved much, and he added, "Thy faith hath saved thee; go in peace." Thus Jesus treated both sin and disease as mental. Even when his disciples were claiming that a certain man's blindness was due to the supposed physical law of heredity Jesus refused to admit it, and he healed the case to the glory of God, by knowing and proving the power of Mind over its creation, man. This faith which makes us whole, pure, harmonious, is described by Paul in his letter to the Hebrews where he says, "Through faith we understand that the worlds were framed by the word of God," and, "Faith is . . . the evidence of things not seen." It is through faith that we understand even the so-called natural sciences. When we work out a mathematical problem we have faith that the fundamental truths and mathematical principles will solve the problem if properly applied. When we learn to run an automobile we have faith that if certain things are done the car will run. Through this faith we ultimately gain an understanding. Mrs. Eddy says (Science and Health, p. 23), "Faith, advanced to spiritual understanding, is the evidence gained from Spirit which rebukes sin of every kind and establishes the claims of God."

PRAYER

James tells us that "the prayer of faith shall save the sick." One of the definitions of the verb "to pray," given by Webster is "to effect, accomplish, by praying." This is true of prayer as revealed by Christian Science. It accomplishes—it has evidence—the evidence of things not seen. It has evidence of man as the healthy, harmonious, loving, righteous creature that "Faith is the evidence of things not seen." Just as in court much false testimony has at times to be eliminated before the evidence can be obtained which is necessary to the administration of justice, so in the trials of our faith in God as ever-present and omnipotent good, we have to destroy the false testimony of the material senses which declares that man is a material, sick, weak, and sinful creature before we can prove to be true the evidence of the spiritual senses revealed by Science.

Faith is the evidence of things not seen by the material senses, and in order to see spiritual thoughts we have to be able to look right through the testimony of the material senses. A little Christian Scientist who had cut his finger very badly said to his father, who was binding it up to keep it clean, "Daddy, don't see what you are looking at." This is what we do in our prayers in Christian Science, we do not see what we are looking at, but we see right through it with the light of understanding. Does this seem strange to some of you? It should not do so, when for so many years natural scientists have been able with the X-ray to turn enough material light on to matter to make it disappear, thus permitting us to see right through it. Christian Science, on the other hand, which is the revelation of God, enlightens to such an extent that it destroys the darkness of material, ignorant, hateful, diseased thinking, which is all there is to matter.

MARY BAKER EDDY

Through faith we reach the understanding of which Paul speaks, namely, that the universe is made by the word, or law of God. Through an understanding of the law of God we perceive the nature of the universe as a wholly spiritual creation, or revelation. This law of God has always existed, but in order to make it useful and effective for us someone had to discover it, understand it, and make it understandable to us. The one to do this was Mary Baker Eddy, an intelligent, loving, spiritually-minded New England woman. Like all those who have benefited humanity by discoveries, Mrs. Eddy spent many years in research work and experimentation in the line of healing. She studied and practiced homeopathy and looked into magnetic cures, so called. In her autobiography, "Retrospection and Introspection," she says: "I wandered through the dim mazes of materia medica, till I was weary of 'scientific guessing' as it has been well called. I sought knowledge from different schools—allopathy, homeopathy, hydropathy, electricity, and from various humbugs—but without the receiving satisfaction." Then she adds, "Neither ancient nor modern philosophy could clear the clouds or give me one distinct statement of the spiritual Science of Mind-healing. Human reason was not equal to it" (Retrospection and Introspection, pp. 33, 34).

Accompanying her medical experiments was her research along spiritual and mental lines. Although she had been an invalid for years she was not seeking relief for herself alone, but she was desirous of finding a way whereby humanity could be released from its bondage to sin, sorrow, and suffering. She made her discovery of this Science of Mind-healing through her own healing from an accident which the doctors had pronounced fatal. Through this healing which was accomplished by spiritual means alone, she was led to turn away absolutely from material means and rely wholly on God. She was now on unexplored ground. She could no longer follow the dictates of human opinions, for she was going contrary to them. She had no one to tell her what to do next, nor to support her in the steps which she deemed the right ones for giving to humanity this truth which she had discovered and tested on herself. She did, however, have one who had exemplified, who had proved the laws she was discovering, and what a comfort this must have been to her. This Exemplar was Jesus. She realized that she had discovered the laws of which he made use. She studied and studied her Bible, and found that her discovery coincided with its revelations and prophecies, and with the commands of Jesus. She had discovered the law of divine Love, and in order to understand and practice this law she had to give up all that the human mind called dear and satisfying. This she did, and the way she did it was glorious. There was no magnifying of all that she suffered in the way of opposition, envy, hatred, and ill-will, but she lifted up this cross and loved more—wore the crown of love and rejoicing. The Science she discovered, taught and lived shows us how to do the same thing. As a result of her own experience she has said to us in her book, "The First Church of Christ, Scientist, and Missionary" (1893), "Rejoice and be exceedingly glad, for so doth the divine Love redeem your body from disease; your being from sensuality; your soul from sense; your life from death." This wonderful discovery, Christian Science, enables us to rejoice in the fact that our names are written in heaven; in other words, that man's nature is ever in harmony.

Mrs. Eddy proved that tenderness always accompanies the lightness of Spirit. Her deeds as a healer, a teacher, a leader, as the founder of a great church, as the author of the most helpful books, with the exception of the Bible, that humanity possesses to-day, were indeed mighty, but her spirit was tender, gentle, loving. Because she discovered law, she pre-empted it in a tender, loving way, and understood it, prove it, and be blessed by it. This textbook is called "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," and may be obtained at libraries or at the Christian Science Reading Rooms.

Many years ago a small boy went out to see his former nurse, who had been called to serve in Mrs. Eddy's home. While there Mrs. Eddy had him come and see her. In his hand this child held an empty box which he placed in Mrs. Eddy's lap. While she talked with him she had the box filled with cherries and returned it to him before he left. In after years this child, now grown to young manhood, has often thought of this experience, and he has said, "Wasn't that like Mrs. Eddy, to fill my empty box with fruit?" What Mrs. Eddy did for that young boy she has done for all seekers of Truth. Most of us have brought our empty lives to the Science which she discovered and founded, and its sweet revelations have filled our consciousness with health, supply, strength, love, and joy.

THE MOTHER CHURCH

Mrs. Eddy gave further proof that the Science which she had discovered was the law of Love when she founded her Church and gave to it a form of government, which, in its wisdom and scope, could only have been revealed by divine Love, the Father, Mother of man and the universe. Mrs. Eddy saw that her Church could not be dependent on a person for its life and activity and that the only way to keep this Science unadulterated was to take it out of the hands of mortals and put it into the hands of God. While the By-laws in the Manual of this Church permit of absolute freedom to the individual who manifests true self-government, or God's control, they offer no opportunity to the self-seeker, the ambitious person desiring to establish a personal following, nor to the charlatan claiming to practice this Science. The result is that such as these leave the wisdom, love, and protection offered by The Mother Church and try to overthrow the law of Love which this Church embodies. There are no persons in the head of this Church, but there is of necessity a group of persons to administer the laws of The Mother Church Manual. There are no personal pastors. Mrs. Eddy has chosen as the pastors of this Church the Bible and the text-book of Christian Science. These pastors fulfill the prophecy in Jeremiah 3:15, which reads, "I will give you pastors according to mine heart, which shall feed you with knowledge and understanding."

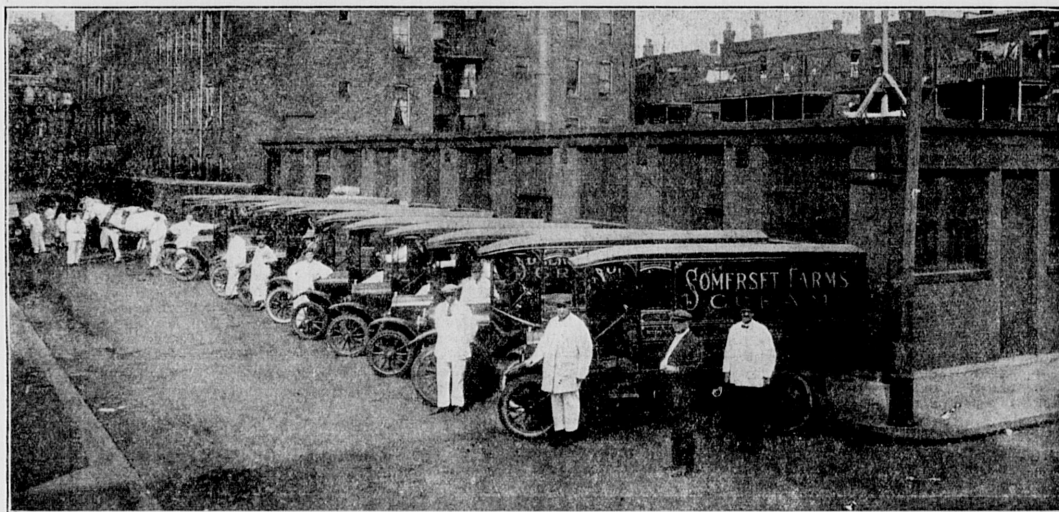

Solomon in his wisdom said, "My son, keep thy father's commandment, and forsake not the law of thy mother: for the commandment is a lamp; and the law is light." The Mother Church expresses the law of our Father-Mother God, which is indeed a light to us. Even as a human (Continued on Page 15)

COMING EVENTS*Shakespeare Club

Mrs. Bernard Early, of Newton Lower Falls, formerly president of the Shakespeare Club of Newton Highlands, has charge of the Quiz which is the program for their next meeting, on Saturday, March 2nd. This Quiz will be on Acts I and II of Part II of "Henry IV." Mrs. H. E. Durgin opens her home at 214 Safford street, Wollaston, for the meeting, which begins at 2:15 p. m.

Christian Era Study Club

Mrs. Arthur W. Desoe, of 15 Ware road, will be hostess on the afternoon of March 4th, for the Christian Era Study Club. There will be a short business hour beginning at 3 o'clock, the president, Miss Ella B. Smith, in charge. Two papers will follow; the first on Scotland's beloved poet, "Robert Burns" will be given by Miss Marion Shepard. "Lord Byron" is the topic for the second, and his life, and selections from his works, will be given by the hostess, Mrs. Desoe.

Newton Mothers' Club

A joint meeting of the Newton Mothers' Club with the Mothers' Council will be held at the home of Mrs. Thomas Gorham, 425 Chestnut street, Waban, on Monday, March 4th, at 3 o'clock. A musical program will be presented by Gertrude Ehardt, soprano, and Nicholas Stoninsky, pianist. Hostesses for the afternoon are Mrs. Whorf, Mrs. Walsh, Mrs. Whitmore, Mrs. Cooper, Mrs. Gorham, and Mrs. Merchant.

Waban Woman's Club

Two features that are always appealing to audiences are planned for March events for the Waban Woman's Club—a Fashion Show, and a Play.

Monday afternoon, March 4th, will be devoted to the Filene Fashion Show. In the morning, from 10 to 12 o'clock, there will be two "Personality Clinics" of an hour each. The "Color Clinic" offers the individual an opportunity to find the most becoming colors for hats and gowns, and the "Hair Clinic" will show styles of hair-dressing best suited to various types of features. This is quite an innovation and ought to arouse much interest. Mrs. Thomas W. Pelham is in charge of the fascinating affair and has chosen a representative group of Waban women to display the costumes at the afternoon meeting.

On Monday and Tuesday evenings, March 11th and 12th, at 8:15, at the Neighborhood Club the Dramatic Committee, of which Mrs. Reuben M. Ellis is chairman, presents the three-act comedy "You and I" by Philip Barry. The play is being directed by Mr. George N. Roberts, of Waban, who has produced many plays with great success. Mrs. Warren C. Russell is stage manager. The members of the cast are: Mrs. Hector Holmes, Mrs. Benjamin Stephenson, Mrs. Frederick Williams, Mr. George R. Walker, Mr. Carl N. Gove, Mr. Morris L. Brown, and Mr. Doane Arnold. They have had much experience in amateur work especially Mrs. Stephenson, formerly Miss Dorothy Webber, of Brookline, who was one of the leading members of the Brookline Amateurs. The proceeds will be given to the Library Fund and it is hoped that a large sum will be realized.

The second of the interesting Book Reviews given under the leadership of Mrs. Ruth W. Fuller will be held in Union Church Vestry, on Friday, March 8th, at 10 o'clock. The books to be considered for the first three of the series—March 1, 8, and 15—are "John Brown's Body," by Stephen Benet; "Leonardo the Florentine," and "The Brownings." Tickets for the Course of six lectures may be obtained at $1.50 from members of the Literature Committee, of which Mrs. Dana M. Dutch is chairman.

Newton Upper Falls Woman's Club

A musicale will be the program for the Newton Upper Falls Woman's Club on the evening of Monday, the 4th, following the business meeting at 7:30 o'clock, in Emerson School Building. The Hayden Trio will furnish a delightful series of organ, chimes, vibraphone, mandola, cello, and piano. Miss Eleanor Hayden who is said to be the only organ chime soloist in the country, Miss Colby, cellist, and Miss Ford, pianist, are the group members.

Auburndale Review Club

Mrs. Herbert Longfellow, of 35 Grove street, will be hostess on Tuesday morning, March 5th, to the Review Club. The Club business, which was omitted at the previous meeting in order to give more time to the film, "The Bridge of Life," will be taken up at 10 o'clock by the president, Mrs. Charles Valentine. At 10:30, the program of the morning will start, the papers being four in number. "The Characteristics of Abraham Lincoln," which was postponed from the January 22nd meeting, will be given by Mrs. Amos R. Wells. Following will be "The Days of Garfield," by Mrs. George Knapp, and "Jazz and Minnet," by Mrs. Charles H. Kattelle, and "Grove Cleveland," by Mrs. Samuel H. Dike.

Newtonville Woman's Club

The Drama Committee is presenting three one-act plays at the next regular meeting of the Newtonville Woman's Club. "At the Sign of the Cleft Heart," a fantasy by Theodosia Garrison, with the characters taken by Eleanor Bolster and Sylvia Parks; "Joint Owners in Spain," by Alice Brown, with Bertha M. Durkee, Sara S. Clark, Helen B. Lapham, and Marion D. Bassett taking the parts; and "Jazz and Minnet," by Ruth Grotloff, with Estelle G. Marsh, Helen E. Hodgdon, Hazel N. Sholey, Elizabeth Hartshorne, and Helen Southworth taking the parts.

The Committee were able to obtain the High School Auditorium, so the performances will be given on the evening of March 5th, at 8:15 p. m. Club members may bring guests as at any Club meeting—an announcement that will be most pleasing.

Music will be furnished by The Andrews Trio, a group of Newton young people, under the leadership of Miss Judith Andrews.

Woman's Club of Newton Highlands

John Herman Randall will be the speaker at the next meeting of the Woman's Club of Newton Highlands. His subject is to be "Can We Abandon Our Prejudices?" The meeting will be held in the Congregational Parish House, on Tuesday afternoon, the 5th, at 2:30 o'clock.

Announcement comes from the Newton Federation that the course of lectures on "Understanding the Every-day Child," recently sponsored by three Committees of this Club, Public Health, American Home and Education, and the Newton Federation of Women's Clubs—held at the High School, will be followed by a special lecture by Dr. Marguerite Lichtenhaeuser on "Preventive Medicine and Its Relation to the Psychology of Right Living," on Thursday, March 7th, at 2:30 p. m. in the lecture hall of the Newton High School, Classical building. The lecture is free to the public.

Dr. Lichtenhaeuser is a practicing physician and surgeon of Wellesley Hills and Boston, and a lecturer on health subjects, and presents her subject from the point of view of prevention. She leaves her audiences not with a sense of fear, but with confidence to face the facts, and to recognize symptoms before they become serious. This lecture should be of great interest to the women of Newton seeking information along these lines.

Social Science Club

The Social Science Club will hold the monthly business meeting at Hummell Club, on Wednesday, March 6th, at 10 o'clock. Mrs. I. S. Dillingham, Jr., and Mrs. F. P. Scofield will be the hostesses.

Walker, will be held at Hotel Vendome, Boston, on Thursday, March 7th, at 10 a. m., with the intriguing—and valuable—subject, "Spring House-cleaning" to be discussed. Ninety brave Clubwomen braved a heavy rainstorm to attend the fifth Conference, held on February 7th, which certainly attests the interest in what they are gaining by way of ideas and information for Club work and management.

Newton Centre Junior Woman's Club

The Newton Centre Junior Woman's Club will hold its next meeting on Wednesday, March 6th. An interesting speaker will be provided by the Entertainment Committee, Miss Jane Wilbur, chairman, and Miss Helen Deering will have charge of the refreshments.

The Newton Circle and other affiliated Circles will be interested to learn that Charles Brandon Booth, New England Regional Director of Big Brother and Big Sister Federation, Inc., will be one of the speakers at the Annual Mass Meeting of the Florence Crittenton Circles, on Wednesday, March 6th, at 12:30 o'clock in Salle Moderne, Hotel Statler. Mr. Booth, son of General Ballington Booth and Mrs. Maud Ballington Booth, has been twenty-three years on the lecture platform, addressing, among other groups, a million Senior High School students in this country. Mr. Booth inherits his interest in social work. He was for ten years general secretary of the Prison Work Department of the Volunteers of America.

Mr. Booth will introduce as the second speaker at the Mass Meeting, Miss Elizabeth E. Mertz, National technical adviser of Big Brother and Big Sister Federation. Her topic will be "The Girl of Today and Her Protection." Miss Mertz is a graduate of Columbia University and of New York School of Social Service, has been connected with the State Charities Organization of New York, and during the World War was with the American Red Cross.

Rev. Carl M. Gates, former chairman of the Educational Department of the Florence Crittenton League, will preside at the luncheon. Mrs. Everett O. Fisk, of Brookline, the new chairman of the Educational Department of the League will make her first appearance as a Department leader at this Mass Meeting.

Miss Jane T. Klockstein, Violinist, with Miss Pauline Hume, Accompanist, both of the Wiltman Conservatory, Malden; the Winchester Trio, whose members are Mrs. Isabelle N. Winship, Soprano; Mrs. Gertrude Nickerson Barnes, Mezzo-soprano; Mrs. Alice M. Abbott, Contralto, with Mrs. Nancy D. Alexander, Accompanist and president of the Winchester Circle of the League, will furnish a musical program.

Members of the Speakers' Bureau of the League will be special guests at the luncheon.

POLICE NEWS

Charles Smith of Plain street, Cohasset was arrested Sunday night by Patrolmen O'Donnell and Lyons charged with driving while under the influence of liquor.

Ralph Rogers of Higgins street, Auburndale, was arrested after midnight Saturday night by Serg. Moan and Patrolman Doherty after neighbors had called the police. According to the police Rogers' wife awoke to find that her spouse had been binding her hands and feet with wire and was attempting to stuff a gag into her mouth. Her screams aroused the neighbors. In court Monday Rogers was charged with drunkenness, disturbing the peace and assault and battery. His wife did not appear to testify against him. His case was continued until March 1.

Paul Clavio of 150 Chapel street, Nonantum, arrested recently by the Newton police on complaint of the Philadelphia police who want him for non-support of his family, was released in the Newton court last Thursday when the Philadelphia police failed to appear to extradite him. Monday the officers from the Pennsylvania city showed up with the necessary papers so Clavio was rearrested and taken to Philadelphia to face trial.

Patrolman John Roche was retired on a pension Sunday after having served 28 years on the Newton police force, most of that time as driver of the patrol wagon. The vacancy caused by his retirement was filled by the appointment of Reserve Patrolman Henry J. Marron, of Webster street, West Newton.

Bernard Buckley of 36 Wedgewood road, West Newton, age 16, was arrested Friday by Serg. Vedeccio and Patrolman Halloran and turned over to the Boston police. He is charged with breaking and entering and larceny.

POLICE NEWS

Domenic DeVito of 303 Parker street, Newton Centre, was sentenced to 30 days in jail in the Newton court on Saturday. He was in court recently charged with the larceny of a shot-gun. DeVito had borrowed the gun from a friend and then pawned it in Boston. He was given opportunity to make restitution for the gun and when he failed to do so the jail sentence resulted.

Traffic Officer Taffe had two men in court Saturday charged with failing to stop when he signalled them to do so. Donald McMullen of Edenfield street, Watertown, was fined $10 for this offence. James Hymers of 63 Institution avenue, Newton Centre, claimed he did not see Taffe's signal, so his case was placed on file. He was fined $5 for not having his automobile registration in his possession.

Eric Kolman of Prince street, Brookline, arrested in Newton Centre by Patrolman McCormick on Sunday night for drunkenness, told the police that he had been robbed of $30 by three men. He came to Newton Centre Sunday evening to see a man about selling his car and there met three strangers who gave him several drips, took him on a ride about the district and separated him from $30. His new "friends" stopped the car in the Charlemont district and when a resident of that section objected to the noise they were making, said resident was given a walloping. Kolman's case was continued until March 4 and the police are endeavoring to find the three who robbed him and assaulted the Charlemont man.

One of the reasons why the "Chevrolet Six" is achieving tremendous popularity is its remarkably smooth operation. Although the new six cylinder motor develops 32% more power with corresponding higher speed and faster acceleration, although it delivers better than 20 miles to the gallon of gasoline—its outstanding feature of performance is a degree of smoothness at all speeds never before achieved in any low-priced automobile.

The CHEVROLET is sold in Newton by the STUART CHEVROLET COMPANY at 431 Washington street, near Hovey street. The salesrooms of this organization contain the latest models of CHEVROLET with beautiful Fisher bodies. Arrange for a demonstration which will be gladly given when convenient for you.

LOWER AUTO THEFT RATES

While the attention of many people has been attracted to the question of compulsory automobile insurance in this State through the recent hearings at the State House slight attention has been given to the fact that fire and theft rates have been voluntarily lowered by the insurance companies. The National Automobile Underwriters' Conference recently announced revisions in such insurance schedules effective on Feb. 18th last in both the eastern and southern conferences. Western rates have not yet been determined.

The rate revision applies mainly to passenger automobiles and the changes are mainly in theft rates in the eastern states. Over all the reduction is slightly more than one-third for theft and about 15% for fire on private passenger cars in the east with a 25% flat reduction in fire insurance rates on commercial automobiles. Some cities have been transferred to lower territorial classifications with a resultant further reduction.

The reduction was found warranted for several reasons among which are the facts that the underwriting has been closer, police co-operation has been better, resulting in increased recoveries and the percentage of cars reported stolen to the cars insured has shown a marked decrease.

ABOUT TOWN

By Edw. H. Powers

A news despatch tells of miniature bars being operated on the huge airplanes which travel between England and Europe. This is quite interesting. Fancy passengers in big airplanes buying booze while on them and then dropping the empty bottles over the side, or out through the window. How would you like to have an empty pint bottle drop onto your cranium after falling through the air a few thousands of feet or more?

Now that one cigarette company is spending millions in an endeavor to induce young ladies (and ladies not so young) to "Smoke rather than reach for a sweet," why don't manufacturers of other types of nicotine weed products attempt to pervert the ladies by advertising that old slogan, "Chew tobacco, chew tobacco, chew, chew, chew?"

Jack Dempsey, according to the ballyhoo, has dodged a bullet. Jack's fame would have been more glorious had this happened 11 years ago—in France.

President Coolidge is keeping up his reputation for practicing economy in the closing days of his administration. Witness his use of four army trucks to convey his personal belongings from Washington to Northampton. This may be a Presidential prerogative, but if Mayor Childs made use of a City of Newton truck to cart off his private property from one place to another we have an idea he might be criticized.

Since Gene Tunney got married the newspapers have contained less "gossip" about him. Let's hope the same result will follow in the case of Lindbergh.

Dr. Hartzell of the American Red Cross spoke briefly on Red Cross work and emphasized the necessity and importance of training in First Aid and Accident Prevention.

Les Woodman who has served as secretary for two years presented his resignation which was compelled by pressure of business. The resignation was accepted with regret.

Ralph M. Patterson, Chairman of the Attendance Committee, was unanimously elected Secretary to fill the vacancy.

ENJOYABLE DINNER PARTY

Last Monday about sixty members of the Highland Glee Club enjoyed a sumptuous dinner at the Charles River Country Club. Several former members were present. Under the direction of President George Wight the Club passed an unusually pleasant social evening, with several informal talks, followed by a regular rehearsal in preparation for the concert to be given at the High School Auditorium in Newtonville on March 19th. The evening ended with a flash light picture of the entire group.

When Should One Telephone "Collect?"

Station-to-station calls may now be placed "collect" where the rate is 25 cents or more. It's a saving of about 20% over previous rates for "collect" service. Because of this saving we look for, and are ready for, a greater volume of "collect" calls.

Two considerations, however, should hold this increase within bounds.

The "collect" call is useful chiefly to the business house which is called regularly by its customers or its travelling men. Many such houses accepted these calls at the old rates.

Further, the time it takes our operator to secure acceptance at the called telephone must make "collect" calls somewhat slower than calls prepaid. It is for you to strike the balance between convenience and speed.

We want you to have full understanding of all the ins and outs of this "collect" service. It has its field. We want you to use it whenever it serves your ends.

Yet we are confident that the great volume of telephone toll traffic will move in the future as it moves now—on the basis of calls by number, charged at point of origin, commanding the unbeatable combination of "fastest service at lowest rates."

and Telegraph Company

ONE THING AND ANOTHER

By L. D. G. BENTLEY

Some people seem happiest when they have something to give them cause for complaint. It really is a strange state of mind—enjoyment of that which is a source of mental distress. I scarcely know how to explain it. One apt term given it is "melancholy pleasure."

You can easily find the individual who goes out of his way to enumerate the deficiencies of his fellow beings. If you are in the newspaper business he will say to you, "Now, what the newspapers ought to do is this" and proceed to point out the shortcomings of the press and then suggest a number of matters that should receive immediate editorial attention.

If the conversation turns to National affairs he will say, "Now, what Hoover ought to do is this" and a program is thereupon laid out for the President-elect along lines which the voluntary adviser believes most imperative. There is never a time when the city government or the police or some branch of the city service cannot find instruction or tips—albeit looking to a correction of the "terrible" conditions of the present.

I think I have found the top-notch of all. The other day a man came to me with a complaint about the "clerk." By that I mean the motion pictures with sound accompaniment. I must confess that I haven't followed this latest device with closest attention but I have a good idea, or think I have.

"There is one thing about the talking motion pictures that I don't like," said this man, "and that is the attitude of the audience."

"In what way?" I asked. "They must like them or there would not be so many sound pictures."

"They're all right, but there is this that I don't like," came the reply. "Suppose that something is said or done that evokes applause. The picture doesn't stop like actors on the stage when they wait for the applause or laughter to cease. No, the picture goes right ahead and whatever is said while the people are applauding or laughing is lost. The reel keeps going right along and we probably miss something pretty good. I wish it could be arranged so that this trouble would not occur."

The man was upset—I was about to say unimpressed. Naturally, I found my sympathies aroused and yet I was helpless. All I could do was to wring his hand and tell him I hoped for better things at an early date.

Newton people who failed to attend the reception given by Governor and Mrs. Frank G. Allen at the State House on Washington's Birthday missed an opportunity to view a scene which would have filled them with pride. I refer to the appearance of the Girl Scouts from this city which proved a distinctive feature of the occasion. People, who, like myself, have attended a number of these affairs agreed that it was one of the most pleasing sights of this reception and not often equalled in previous years.

Prompted solely by patriotic motives, of course, the Girl Scouts from Newton turned out in large numbers. Accompanying them was the Newton Corps of drummers and buglers. I don't suppose that Newton people who are familiar with the Girl Scouts and their activities will be the least surprised to learn what an admirable showing the scouts made. But I am sure they will learn with satisfaction that it impressed onlookers who were not the least hesitant in showering compliments.

The bugle and drum corps was stationed at one side of the Hall of Flags and played while their companions marched through. Several of those who were watching the day's proceedings spoke enthusiastically of the music. They praised the marching and general appearance of the entire outfit. It was a great day for the Newton folks who viewed the scene, particularly when they heard people from other parts of the State say, "You've got to hand it to the Newton Girl Scouts."

And still they come! A reader of this column, whose name I have, writes:

"Today I received another letter with the flap wide open, evidently as a result of exposure to the moisture, and this brings me to act and write you what I have had in mind to do for over six months, namely:

"Will you not be good enough to use your influence through your weekly article on 'One Thing and Another' in the Newton Graphic to help correct the deplorable situation as now exists in the handling of at least certain parts of the mail at the Newton depot."

If you will kindly go to the depot some rainy or snowy morning you will find a number of mail bags and packages lying on the platform between the depot and the baggage house, soaking wet. You should arrive at 6:55 a. m. and wait there until 7 a. m. when you will observe an open truck arriving, the driver picking up the bags, etc., throw them on the truck and speed off at a sharp turn until he lands somewhere in the yard of the new postoffice.

"Why does not the driver come to the depot simultaneously with the train and why isn't there an opening made in the fence back of the new postoffice through which the mail could be placed instead of trucking it for perhaps 400 or 500 feet?"

"Cannot the new postmaster take this matter up? I doubt if the Boston & Albany is in any way responsible for the mail after it has been deposited at the station."

The fact that Newton Centre residents have publicly expressed regard for Rev. Dr. Edward M. Noyes, who is to become pastor emeritus of the First (Congregational) church after his retirement from the pulpit next October, is more than a piece of news to me. If I may be permitted a personal reference I should like to say that I can well understand the affection in which he is held. When first I engaged in newspaper work—one of those ambitious and busy cub reporters if you please—I had the pleasure of calling upon Dr. Noyes.

If you can picture the eagerness of a beginner to make good you will understand how deeply he appreciates the friendly interest of the people with whom he has to deal. I found Dr. Noyes helpful, considerate and never too busy to receive a call from me. No that he had any desire for publicity—such persons do not make a hit with newspapermen—but he wanted to do whatever he could consistently to make my work easier. We would talk over things and, of course, I would ask questions. His patience and kindly interest never wavered and I have never forgotten them.

The word "wisecracker" has been added to the vocabulary of slang. It means, as I understand it, one of those individuals who says something that is not always kindly or sympathetic but is sure to produce a laugh from the crowd. I think the old-time phrase was "smart Alec."

No one objects to "wisecracking" when it is not at the expense of an innocent party, but when it is intended to hurt somebody's feelings, I question whether it is in good taste. It is so easy to be witty when you are certain there will be no "come-back." Jibes at those who cannot retaliate are often indulged in. We all of us are tempted and some of us fail to restrain ourselves.

I heard a well known man addressing a deliberate assembly and in the course of his discourse he said a number of sharp things. The crowd laughed, for the comments were really amusing. The speaker seemed encouraged to go further and he became really "sassy."

"He's in good form today," I remarked.

"Let me tell you something," said the man to whom I had made the observation. He, by the way, is a splendid public speaker himself and anything he might say I knew would be interesting.

"This making fun of people isn't so good after all," he continued. "When I was younger I used to say things that made by audiences laugh. I thought I was getting away with a whole lot. The fact was I was merely being 'cute.' Some of the things cost me my friends who would have been very helpful to me in my profession. At this age I look back with regret at my wisecracking and wish I had held my tongue."

Of course my friend was only expressing that which thoughtful people know full well to be the truth. Philosopher, poet, teachers and others have been trying for centuries to make us see it, but you know what the well known human race is.

It will be a great pity if something is not done at this year's session of the Legislature to improve the transportation service in Metropolitan Boston. I have no grounds for assuming that the General Court of 1929 will fail to act. Nevertheless there are whisperings that nothing is to be done this year. Failure to provide relief for such traffic muddles as Governor Square would be lamentable.

The situation has become extremely serious to regular patrons of the Elevated in this city. The other day, a resident said, "When we came to Newton fourteen years ago we could be reasonably sure of getting out from Boston to Newton in 40 minutes at the peak of the evening rush hours. Now we are compelled to allow an hour at least."

The most vital matter to Newton is the Governor Square problem. The strange part of it is that everybody in the Legislature and elsewhere agrees that "something should be done." But they can't seem to decide amicably on what that "something" should be. Boston thinks that the other municipalities should bear some of the cost and the municipalities retort, "This is Boston's trouble let it be settled and paid for by Boston."

Between these two points of view, held by members of the General Court, the poor riding public is getting the bumps coming and going. Well, let us be hopeful since we are at the mercy of the Legislature, which has been known on occasions to have a heart for the dear people.

The Mather Class

"Reasonable Religion, from Micah to Fostick" was the subject of Prof. Kirtley F. Mather's address last Sunday morning to the Mather Class at its regular weekly meeting at the Newton Centre Woman's Club House.

This was the third of a series of talks connecting the problems of the prophets of the pre-Christian age with those of our own time.

Amos described the God of law and Hosea dwelt on the God of love. Now we come to the subject of reasonable religion as expounded by Micah, the third of those minor prophets, who flourished in the 8th and 7th centuries B. C.

Micah was a boy when Hosea was in middle life, just as Hosea was a boy when Amos was in middle life. Each made a notable advance over his predecessor.

Hosea was a country boy, a shepherd taken from behind the flock.

Micah, on the contrary, was a city boy from a large place northeast of Jerusalem, at the crossroads of the highways of commerce, transportation, and trade. He lived in the latter part of the 8th century B. C. He was right where he became thoroughly well acquainted with the philosophy of his time and with the currents of thought which were steadily moving westward from the East. He could almost see the battle line where Sargon defeated and destroyed Sennacherib, the northern king of Assyria, with his writing with the fall of Samaria and continued for fifteen or twenty years. It was a century before Assyria came further South and destroyed Jerusalem.

Micah was caught in the currents of thought significant of his time. He saw the advance of the war lords. He knew the presence of iniquity in his own land and the absence of real religion.

He had to combat two phases of religious expression which are common to all times and places:

1. Formal ritual, codes, rites, creeds, and ceremonies.
2. Excessive enthusiasm and ecstasy.

These two represent opposite extremes. The cold formalism of ritual provides a mere shell or shadow of religion. The opposite of this is where enthusiasm lets the feelings go without intellectual guidance. Primitive people tend to let their sensual ecstasies give full, unrestrained play to their passions and use the name of religion as an excuse.

Micah recognized both difficulties. The priests were satisfied with the forms and husks of religion. The poorer people among the populace found their religious expression in sensual ways.

Micah took a forward step ahead of Amos and Hosea and declared that Jehovah was more than justice and love. Each step in this development of religious thought was in a logical sequence, and each step was prerequisite to the result. Micah reached the highest point in the Old Testament. He turned the inquiry to the conduct which human beings should display. What is religion? What is the relation of a God of law and love to us? Few modern people have advanced as far as Micah.

Micah presents his subject as a debate between Jehovah and the people. He appeals to the intellect. He makes a plea for a rational relationship. In this debate the prophet takes the part of the presiding officer. The judges are the mountains—not the geographical mountains, however. They are used to symbolize nature. Throughout history, way down to Fostick, nature has been called on as a witness between God and man.

Hosea says that religion is knowledge and conduct, a rational intercourse and a loving duty. The reasonableness of religion was a new thought in his day.

In this debate of Micah's, Jehovah speaks first. As a reference is made to the care of Jehovah for His people in bringing them out of Egypt and looking out for them ever since. The point of it all was to show that past history had proved Jehovah to be a loving God. This struck the people with peculiar force, for they had just been recoiling from the knowledge that Samaria had been demolished by a foreign foe. They knew that they themselves were in grave danger of destruction. Amos had already impressed them with the hopelessness of their future. Jehovah proclaims that He is a righteous God and has been loving and kind.

Next the people speak. They can recall the favorable force of circumstances which have co-operated to increase the total of human welfare. Their opportunities are greater than in the past. The great problem is how to come in contact with the powers and forces that rule the universe, how to find God.

Then the debate is closed with a passage that reaches the high point of the Old Testament. Micah 6:8. "He hath shewed thee, O man, what is good; and what doth the Lord require of thee, but to do justly, and to love mercy, and to walk humbly with thy God?"

The Lord is seeking a reasonable religion, character, and the increasing expression of personality. He is not seeking argument, creed, doctrine, rites, ritual, or sacrifice offering. Micah's definition of religion is sometimes forgotten in these modern times.

We must get a feeling of unity in our sense of relation to the universe. As an individual, each one of us belongs in this sort of a world. A feeling of kinship with nature is necessary for a satisfactory religion. This involves a sense of relationship of the individual to the world at large which does not make him hopelessly helpless, without responsibility, a mere cog in a mechanism.

We feel that there is a Power, vague but real, quite mysterious but none the less true. We are groping. We have not yet caught what it is, and we cannot comprehend it. We should "walk humbly" with a sense of our relationship to eternal reality, as partially revealed in history behind us and in personality round about us, and is not easy to "do justly, and to love

NEWTON WOMEN IN PLAY

Five Newton women were of an "All Star Cast" of six characters of a comedy presented as the program for the New England Women's Club in the Crystal Ballroom of the Hotel Kenmore, Back Bay, on Monday afternoon, February 25th. The Work Committee, of which Mrs. William H. Mitchell is chairman, was in charge of the afternoon, and presented a two-act comedy especially written for the occasion by Miss Emma Downing Coolidge and Mrs. Mitchell. Miss Coolidge also coached the play. "Some Special Board Meetings of the Woman's Community Club of Any-Old-Town" (and a footnote on the program declared "and they're some special, believe the Board!") had as characters Mrs. X, Executive Ability (Pres.), played by Mrs. Franklin E. Smith; Mrs. Nicholas Van de Loo (Vice-Pres.), played by Mrs. Frank A. Day; Mrs. Recorder Scribe (Sec'y.), played by Miss Kate W. Fox; Mrs. Ever Troublesome (Dir.), played by Miss M. B. Strong of Commonwealth avenue, Boston, the only member not of Newton; Mrs. Tight Wad Moneybags, played by Mrs. William H. Mitchell; and Judge Portia Knowitall, played by Miss Emma D. Coolidge. The scene of action was the Club Rooms, and the time "Any Time They Get That Way."

The play was received with much appreciation by an unusually large audience of members and guests, the largest number present at any meeting this season. Situations and dialogue were most amusing to Clubwomen who have served on Executive Boards or Committees. Mrs. Mitchell, Mrs. Tight Wad Moneybags, dressed elaborately in quaint attire of long ago, about to attend a Governor's reception, was in marked contrast to the severe cap and gown of the Judge (Miss Coolidge) and the costumes of the members of the Board. All were excellent in their parts.

Between scenes Miss Edna Mitchell, charming in period dress of pink, and poke bonnet of blue, gave character dances, with William H. Mitchell, 2nd, at the piano, and her contribution to the afternoon was greatly enjoyed.

NORUMBEGA DISTRICT SUNDAY SCHOOL ASSOCIATION

The Young People's Inter-church Council will hold its March monthly meeting on March 2, at the Newton Centre Baptist Church. The young people of the inter-church council will have charge of the opening worship service, also of the social and refreshments after the business meeting. An address will be given by Margaret Eggleston Owen, on "The Challenge of Lent." Mrs. Owen will use lantern slides to illustrate her talk. The Church School Library campaign, under the auspices of the Y. P. Council is attracting attention. In answer to the request that additional books be added to the list already suggested, interesting books on missions and on Palestine and Bible backgrounds are always good.

The "Why" of such an effort to gather books for reading during Lent and during the whole year, may be best expressed by using some quotations. Emerson once said, "Many times the reading of a book has made the future of a man." This might be illustrated by referring to David Livingstone, who, under the auspices of the Y. P. Council is attracting attention. In answer to the request that additional books be added to the list already suggested, interesting books on missions and on Palestine and Bible backgrounds are always good.

TO ATTEND INAUGURATION

Four women, Mrs. Wilhelmina Cross of West Newton, Mrs. C. G. Francis of Newton, Mrs. L. B. Pierce of Newtonville and Mrs. Charles F. Jenks of Newton Lower Falls, will be in the party of 86 members of the Women's Republican Club of Massachusetts, who will leave Boston for Washington, D. C., on Saturday morning, March 2, for Washington, D. C., for the inauguration of Herbert Hoover.

A very full program has been planned for the entertainment of the party by Mrs. George W. Perkins, secretary of the club, who is in charge of arrangements for the trip. Of course a great deal of time will be devoted to sightseeing in Washington and many social events have also been planned for the enjoyment of the party. They are to meet Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Hoover at the White House and they will have tea with Mrs. Lutz Anderson at her home. On inauguration day, March 4, the party will see the Inaugural Parade from the Hotel Washington and will also attend a luncheon in the hotel. On Tuesday, March 5, Mrs. Edith Nourse Rogers will entertain the group. Other functions are being planned also for those in the party from the club, so the days will be amply filled to the time of departure for Boston on Thursday evening, March 7.

Prof. Mather made a special point of man's ability to express himself in his works apart from his body, as in sculpture, painting, and books.

Conduct and knowledge are needed. The best intentions are not enough to achieve justice. Knowledge is needed to fill the mind with happiness and thrill the soul. It is the basis of wisdom, which includes both faith and knowledge. Faith includes what is not known and cannot be intellectually proved.

On March 27 the Mather Class will present "Saint Claudia" in the auditorium of the Newton Centre Baptist Church. This was the prize drama of the Drama League of America for 1924. The entire community is cordially invited.

The next Sunday Evening Round Table will be held April 7. No Round Table will be held in March because of the Community Sunday Evening Union Services being held. GEORGE DEXTER FROST.

WOMEN'S CLUBS

Smythe Jones, a college girl, by Adeline Smith; and Gladys, a dancer, played by Ruth Allen Weston; are shipwrecked and cast on a South Sea Island. This island is inhabited solely by women who are banished there as living sacrifices to the god they worship. In their search for food they meet Nahiah, an English girl, played by Nelora Doney, who has lived on the island all her life, and is about to be sacrificed when the American women are rescued, and they take her home with them. This group also includes Mrs. Arthur Gates, Mrs. Ray Smith, and Mrs.
Carter Willson. The vocal solos by Mrs. Mague, Mrs. Eugene Smith, Mrs.
Charles Briggs, and Mrs. Edwin Doney were well applauded, as also was the solo dancing by Mrs. Weston.

The group of native women included Mrs. William Jarvis, chairman of the Chorus, Mrs. Hamilton Gaw, Mrs.
Oscar Reed, Mrs. Walter Amesbury,
Mrs. Henry Bourne, Mrs. George
Campbell, and Mrs. Warren Thorpe.
Very picturesque were the costumes of this group, the grass cloth skirts having been brought from Hawaii by Mrs. Arthur C. Farley, and their gar-lands of flowers were a riot of color.
Mr. Gerald Frazee, Director for the Chorus, accompanied them on the piano. He was assisted in his coaching of the opera by the Club's Drama chairman, Mrs. Edwin Prell-witz.

West Newton Community Service Club

The February meeting of the Community Service Club of West Newton was held in the Parish House of Second Church, on Wednesday, the 20th of February. Miss Marguerite Ammann, pleased the audience with dramatic readings, given in her well-known artistic style. With other selections she gave two short plays by James M. Barrie, "Rosalind," and "The Twelve Pound Look."

Mrs. A. Shirley Ladd reported the meeting of the Education Committee of the Massachusetts State Federation, held at Hotel Bellevue. Mrs. Sidney B. Thomas and Mrs. George P. Hatch reported on the two sessions of the Legislative Day of the Newton Federation.

Letters were read in acknowledgment of gifts of money to the Newton Central Council, Newton Music School and the Newton Library for the Story Hour. Refreshments were served as attractively as usual, by Mrs. Gordon Phelps' Committee.

West Newton Junior Women's Educational Club

Current Events was the topic of the evening at the last meeting of the West Newton Junior Women's Educational Club. The girls met at the home of Dorothy Sharp, 69 Highland avenue, Newtonville. After the business meeting, Priscilla Hartwell, chairman of the Entertainment Committee, explained the idea of presenting current events to the Club. Each member of the Committee brought in a clipping on something of importance. Questions from the other girls were answered on each subject. The idea was well received, because it brought all into more intimate contact with the important affairs of the moment.

Newton Upper Falls Woman's Club

Any member of a Club that has listened to a "Book Talk" by Mrs. Thomas J. Walker, of Whitinsville, knows what a treat the Newton Upper Falls Woman's Club had for the meeting on Monday evening, February 25th, at the Club Rooms. In her breezy, entertaining way she gave her hearers just enough information about the books mentioned to whet their appetites for reading them, if they had not already done so. The sidelights on the authors were very illuminating and interesting, showing a keen insight into the personalities the author of a book puts in his or her work. The books Mrs. Walker discussed are sure to be bought or called for at the library, as her discussion is sure to create a desire to find out if the books appeal to each reader as it did to the speaker. Of course most readers get the keen enjoyment and information or instruction from the books they read, and do not delve into the manner or style of writing, or the plots, as a lecturer on Book Reviews is bound to do, so that they can give their hearers a true presentation of the book.

Monday Club

The Monday Club of Newton Highlands met on Monday afternoon, the 25th, with Mrs. J. H. McCready, 87 Hillside road, instead of with Mrs. C. D. Miller as scheduled. Mrs. L. H. Marshall addressed the Club informally and most delightfully on "American Poets and Poetry," reading several short poems, and bits from longer ones in illustration of her points, especially from the works of Edwin A. Robinson, who was the poet especially named as the one for study for this program.

Last In Series Of Banking Lectures Given Women Depositors Of Trust Co.

"Trusts, Living and Testamentary" Subject of Old Colony Trust Company Official at Newton Centre

That the interest of the women depositors in the Newton Trust Company four lectures was very real was shown by their continued attendance and the number of intelligent questions they asked every speaker. That they appreciate the generosity of the bank officials in providing these four meetings was very evident.

Mrs. Irving O. Palmer presided at the lecture, held at the Newton Centre Woman's Club last Monday morning, and announced that the officials had installed two radios to make possible the hearing of the inaugural proceedings and that they had provided a buffet lunch which would be served at 12 o'clock to all the women who could remain. She then introduced Mr. F. Winchester Denio, vice president of the Old Colony Trust Company, who spoke on the subject "Trusts, Living and Testamentary."

Mr. Denio explained that the work of the trust department of a bank is to manage property and settle estates. It sells nothing but service. The Newton Trust Company has pledged $3,150,000 as a guarantee of the faithful discharge of its duties as trustee. No Massachusetts bank which has been authorized by the Bank Commissioner to act as executor or trustee has ever failed.

The trust department does not buy bonks from its own bank nor does the Newton Trust Company buy from the Old Colony since their union. The speaker made clear the distinction between executor and administrator—the former being a person named in a will to settle an estate—the latter being a person who has been appointed to do so when no executor has been named in the will.

Both executors and administrators are engaged to wind up an estate. The duty of a trustee is to continue an estate. A testamentary trust is one provided for in a will. A living trust is a contract between an individual and his trustee to continue an estate. An executor is entitled to 2½% of the principal. A trustee gets 6% of the annual income (whether living or testamentary) at the conclusion of the trust he is entitled to an additional 1%. Banks acting as trustees do not do legal work but always employ the lawyer who was employed to draw up the will. Banks do not make much money from their trusteeship. The Old Colony clears only about 1%.

Mr. Denio approved of insurance trusts as being much more flexible than the ordinary insurance policy. He said in closing that the Newton Trust Company is in a better position than ever before to settle estates since the statistical department of the Old Colony is now available for its use.

A large proportion of the women present partook of the delicious lunch served at noon and lingered to listen to the Washington inaugural proceedings.

AUTOMOBILE BURNED

Box 63 was pulled at 1:20 a. m. yesterday for a fire which badly damaged an automobile owned by Thomas Mullen of 18 Quint avenue, Allston. The machine, a Ford truck, was in a garage at 1643 Centre street. The fire, which was discovered by Patrolman Smith, was supposed to have been caused by a short circuit.

Mayor Childs Submits 1929 Budget To Aldermen---Increase Of $228,000

Recommendations Total $4,448,036.54 Which Is But Slightly Below That Asked By Department Heads

Mayor Childs' budget recommendations for the ensuing year were presented to the Board of Aldermen last Monday night. The recommendations submitted by the department heads totalled $4,448,036.54 and the Mayor's recommendations totalled practically the same amount—$4,448,036.54. The table below shows the expenditures for 1927 and 1928, last year's appropriations and the recommendations in this year's budget.

The recommendations under "General Department" call for an increase of about $10,000 over the expenditures of this department last year. Dr. C. A. Boutelle who is City Veterinarian and Inspector of Animals asks for an increase in salary in this latter position from $300 to $600. Dr. Boutelle has had many additional inspections of dogs during the past couple of years. Many more persons have been bitten in Newton and adjoining places than in former years and there had been a considerable increase in rabies. Greater Boston is much more thickly settled than in former years and the large increase in the dog population is made up mostly of canines of large size and aggressive dispositions. Such dogs, confined in restricted areas, naturally are apt to become peevish or run amuck. The principal increase in this department is occasioned by Retirement Board Pensions. Last year the expenditures for this purpose were $9,300. This year $18,557 is asked for. In the Executive Department the Mayor asks that his secretary's salary be increased from $1600 to $1750. Other recommendations in this department show no increase over last year.

The recommendations of Comptroller of Accounts Daniel White show a decrease of about $7000 over last year's expenditures because of smaller amounts required for city employees' pensions. Mr. White asks for no increase in his own salary. Neither does he ask for more money for clerical hire in his office.

Aldermen Hold Regular Meeting—New School In Newtonville Named "Cabot School"

At the meeting of the Aldermen on Monday night a hearing was ordered on March 18 on the petition of the Kenmore Realty Corporation for an automobile sales and service station, with a garage of 50 car capacity and three 1000 gal. gasoline tanks with pumps (to be located inside the building) at 714-724 Beacon street, Newton Centre.

CANTABS START LATE TO WIN 43-20

Newton High ended its basketball season Tuesday afternoon, entertaining the strong Cambridge Latin high school team. The game was even during the first half with Newton leading 13 to 12 when the whistle blew. During the second half, however, the Cantabs got started and nothing would stop them with the result that they piled up a commanding lead to win 43 to 20. Ham and Captain Payne were high scorers for Newton with five points each, followed by McCarthy with four points. Clancy and Browning of the Cantabs were the stars of the contest with Clancy scoring 14 points and his teammate 10.

The Cantabs seconds defeated Newton seconds in a preliminary game, 35 to 10. The Newton five annexed its third victory of the season last Friday by defeating the Belmont high team in a return game on the latter's floor. Although the orange and black quintet did not win but three of its sixteen games it made some of its chief rivals play their best to gain the verdict. Against Everett, Cambridge Latin and Rindge the local outfit could play nearly even for three quarters of the game but the opponents always had a fast finish that left the Newton five behind.

Basketball was renewed as a major sport at Newton a year ago this winter and while the 1928 team hung up more victories than this year's outfit the sport is slowly on its way back. A year or two more and Newton should be right up with the best of the high school teams in this part of the state.

NEWTON QUARTET SETS RELAY RECORD

Two of the highlights in the State indoor high school championship track and field meet last Saturday afternoon were provided by Newton athletes. The relay team consisting of Bob Ewing, Captain Dick Reynolds, Pearson and Kilburn Adams, running in that order, set a new record of 2 minutes, 54 3/5 seconds, breaking the old record of the Boston Latin School of 1926 by more than two seconds. In the final heat of the dash Bob Ewing, the winner, was edited with a 57.0 second performance. Inasmuch as tenth-second timing is not recognized he will not be credited with a new record but equalled that of Eddie McGrath of Brookline set in 1926 and equalled last year by Frank White of Medford. It is said that three of the five watches showed a clear 5 3/5 seconds and that the other two were under 5 4/5 but not quite 5 3/5. If this was the case it would seem that the Newton sprinter should have been given the 5 3/5 time.

Brockton High, scoring in six of the nine events, for a total of 23 1/2 points won the meet which provided standing broad jump, 100 yard dash, Newton high, who were expected to battle to the finish for the state title, finished second and third with 18 1/2 and 17 1/2 points respectively. Lowell tallied 15 points, Lynn Classical 11 1/2, Medford 8 1/2 and six other schools the remaining points.

Newton's chances were hopelessly dashed in the very first event, the standing broad jump, when Irving Finn failed to place. The Newton boy was counted on for a first or second place but his first and best jump of 9 feet 5 inches was not enough. Two years ago Finn tore a ligament in his leg and while it had not been bothering him much since it let go last Friday while he was going upstairs. By the time of the meet the injured member was considerably swollen. Lo-casio of Brookline was the winner of the event and his victory sent his team off to a flying start. Harry Fink of Brookline gave Coach Hines' team another five points by winning the shot put as expected. Carl Pescosolido, Newton's hope, came through with a second place with a heave of 45 feet 3 3/4 inches, just two inches behind Fink's best toss. Dana Smith, Brookline's star 600-yard runner, was forced to extend himself in the high jump to stay in the competition and it is quite possible that this fact was responsible for his failure to do better in the run later in the afternoon. Smith managed to clear 5 feet 6 inches to tie Allan Ross of Brockton for first place while a teammate, Peter Richeson, finished in the fourth. There was some talk of disqualifying Doherty for his action in pushing McManus but investigation showed that the Brockton runner was within his rights as McManus tried to cut in on him coming off the bank. With Brockton taking first and second places the Shoe City team was out in front in the point total.

Between the 300 trials and finals three other events were run off, the dash, relays and hurdles. In the dash five trial heats and two semi-finals had narrowed the field down to six of the finest sprinters in schoolboy ranks, Ewing and Pescosolido of Newton, Badger of Lynn Classical, Joe Dineen of Lawrence, John Badaracco of Brookline and Joe Paterno of Brockton. Badger equalled the record in his trial heat while Dineen was pushed by Pescosolido in the second semi-final in the same time, 5 4/5. Ewing had won his trial heat easily and did not extend himself in the first semi-final being content with second to Badger of Lynn. But in the final Ewing was off to a pretty start and was never headed. Badger was second with Pescosolido nosing out Dineen for third place by an eyelash. Seven points for Newton in the event put the orange and black well up in the point standing.

The relay races were the next event. Lynn Classical won the first heat over Lowell and Boston Trade school. As points were awarded on times it looked as though Boston English was pretty near first when the team won the second heat over Lawrence in 2 minutes 56 4/5 seconds, equalling the record. In the third race Newton was against Brockton and Lynn English. Bob Ewing was Newton's leadoff man and snatching the lead at the first bank he handed over a comfortable lead to Captain Dick Reynolds. Reynolds increased the lead as did both Pearson and Adams so that the Newton quartet won its race by fully thirty yards with Brockton second. Brookline won the fourth race over Medford and Dorchester but its time of 2 min. 59 3/5 seconds was good only for fifth place while Brockton was slightly faster for fourth best time.

With Captain Reynolds in the hurdles the Newton supporters were hoping for more points but it was run immediately following the relays. The Newton leader failed to qualify for the finals after taking second in his trial heat. Carter of Newton got into the semi-finals by placing third in his trial heat. Brockton hurdlers placed second and fourth in the event to send them ahead of Newton and right on the heels of Brookline.

Then came the 300-yard final with Brockton's plunge into the lead while Mullen's third place and two points

SPORT NOTES

Dartmouth Awards Letters
Hockey letters have been awarded at Dartmouth to members of the varsity and among those to receive them were three of the four local youths on the squad. Dick Rogers of West Newton, star wing, is the only senior and only regular of this quartet. Harold Andres, sub defense player who played part time as a wing, and Dick Fisher, sub-centre, the latter a Waban youth, were also given letters. Henry L. Johnson, Jr., is the other Waban youth on the Green squad. Dartmouth will be hard hit when graduation comes along as most of its forward line strength and its goals will be lost to the 1929 sextet. Both regular defence players will be back which will make it hard for either Andres or Johnson to break in as regulars until their senior years, both being sophomores at present.

Hoyt Elected Captain
Franklin K. Hoyt of West Newton has been elected captain of the Williams College hockey team for next year. Hoyt played first string wing during the season just ended and with four goals was the fourth highest scorer on the Purple squad. He is fast and plays a dependable all-around game. He is prominent in other activities at the Berkshire college.

placed the orange and black within a point of their deepest sport rivals, Brookline. But the 600 yard runners were being called and Brookline was figured to win the event.

The event was run in two heats against time with Smith entered in the first heat. Dick Gibbs was Newton's entry in the first heat. Smith was in hard luck, drawing a position in the second row while McLennan of Mechanics Arts, another leading 600-yarder, was in the front. McLennan took the lead from the start and was never headed while Smith got caught in the scramble at the first bank and could not get by. McLennan was timed in 1 minute 21 seconds, only a fifth of a second shy of the record. The times of the other runners were not taken through some misunderstanding on the part of the officials. The second heat was the best as far as competition was concerned. Charles Hall, one of Newton's 1000-yard runners, was entered in the shorter distance as each school was permitted but two entries in each of the running events. Hall and Andrews of Medford gave the spectators a thrill by a close finish which saw Hall come within inches of overhauling Andrews on the final straightaway. The winner's time in the first heat was the best and McLennan was given first place. The judges put Costello of Lynn Classical second, Andrews third and awarded Smith and Hall a tie for fourth place.

With the 1000 yard to be run Brockton was leading Brookline by five points and Newton by six points and with Brookline having but one entry and Newton two in the 1000 there was little chance of overtaking the Shoe City outfit. Signore was the orange and black runner in the first heat in which he placed third. Fred Burton was in the second heat and finished fourth but neither Signore's or Burton's time was fast enough to figure in the point scoring. Captain Kenneth Cuneo of Medford, who was undefeated until last Saturday when Pearson of Lowell defeated him in the second heat, had been sick with the flu earlier in the week and was not in the condition he has been all season.

Yale Fresh Stop Harvard

The Yale freshman hockey team upset the undefeated Harvard yearling sextet last Saturday at the Boston Garden in a close 1 to 0 contest. ### Graphic Outlines of History

By BURT M. RICH

Signing the Declaration of Independence

Jefferson's draft of the Declaration of Independence was adopted and signed on July 4, 1776. In 1924 both the original of the Declaration of Independence and Constitution of the United States were placed in the Congressional Library at Washington—permanently preserved from the ravages of time, and at the same time accessible to the public.

Because of the strain of the moment, the efficient manner in which we personally supervise all details affords a welcome relief indeed.

Cup Presented in Memory of Warren W. Marston, Jr.

At the regular weekly meeting of Troop 11, Boy Scouts, held on Washington's Birthday at Elliot Church, Dr. and Mrs. Warren W. Marston of Church street gave a cup to the Troop in memory of their son, Warren W. Marston, Jr., to be awarded each year to the Scout obtaining the highest number of points.

Mr. George R. Grant of the Troop Committee presented the cup and in the course of his tribute said:

"Warren Marston's life seems much too short, and so it was if measured in years, but it was a complete life, a wholesome life, a successful life. He has left with us no bitter thoughts and no regrets."

"No greater tribute can be paid to a boy than to say of him that he lived up to the Scout oath and law. Warren Marston did this, endeavoring to help others, and to keep himself physically strong, mentally awake and morally straight. He was a splendid boy and it is our joy and privilege tonight to be able to say that he was one of us and cherish with his parents that wealth of happy memories to fill the void left when he went."

Mr. Grant repeated the poem by James Whitcomb Riley "Just Away" and concluded by saying that the cup in his hands symbolized the life of him who is just away.

Scout Lawrence Jump received the memorial cup for the Troop and in a few well-chosen words expressed the idea that it would constitute an incentive for better work in scouting. The Nobscot Reservation of Norumbega Council continues to increase in popularity. Snow and stormy weather do not hinder Scouts from taking their day and overnight hikes to the Reservation. There are now five bird-feeding stations and four suet-boxes there and the Ranger has to fill them up with bread, grain and grit every other day at least.

EDITORIAL

The inaugural address of President Hoover containing a message of hope to those of us who believe in prohibition and desire to see the 18th amendment enforced. We have long believed that the only sure plan to secure a reasonable enforcement of the law was to make it a social crime to serve liquor in any form, and if the rumor that President Hoover will erase from his social list all persons who violate the law, is correct, a long step will be taken towards the elimination of the bootlegger and all his kin. Let us hope that all good citizens will rally around the President in this matter.

While it is to be expected that the Legislature would refuse to endorse the convention method of nominating the minor state officials, we are sorry that Senator Hollis was the leader in the opposition. The workings of the primary law insofar as it affects the nomination for comparatively unknown offices is a libel on democracy.

Mr. Coolidge returns to Massachusetts with the most cordial approval of the entire country, and history will undoubtedly give him a high place in the long line of distinguished presidents.

DOG ORDERED RESTRAINED

On complaint of Miss Bertha Allen, superintendent of the Newton Hospital, the police have ordered John Lowery of 27 Kenney place, Lower Falls, to restrain his dog. The animal has been annoying patients and nurses at the hospital by intruding on the grounds and barking.

Varying Size of Berge

The size of icebergs varies. They may be 100 or more feet high with crests or mounds from 200 to 300 feet above the base, which may be hundreds of yards in length. In the Kennedy channel, Greely followed an iceberg which was estimated to be 15 miles long, over 100 feet high and of unknown breadth. A huge iceberg sighted by the bark Ellet Julius in 1884 towered about 1,700 feet above the sea. Only about one-eighth of one-ninth of the mass lies above the water.

UNDER THE GILDED DOME

An unsuccessful attempt was made in the House to repeal the so-called prisoners' pay act of last year. It will be remembered that the passage of that legislation in 1928 was attended by much excitement as friends of the measure were faced with considerable opposition. The bill was finally enacted. It provides that small gratuities shall be paid inmates of correctional institutions. When the Legislature met this year a bill was filed providing for the repeal of the act. The Committee on Public Institutions, after a public hearing, voted to grant leave to withdraw. When the committee report came into the House for acceptance an effort was made to have the bill substituted for the adverse committee report. It was unsuccessful, however, and substitution was refused by a rollcall vote of 97 to 69. Representative Baker and Thompson voted against repeal and Representative Luitwieler voted for it. Mr. Luitwieler, in the course of the debate, said he voted for the act last year but is now in favor of repeal. He contended that the small amount of money a prisoner may take out of prison when he is discharged is no deterrent to future crimes by that prisoner.

Newton's Representatives voted on rollcall against an order providing that the Massachusetts House of Representatives urge upon Congress the immediate repeal of the National Origins clause of the Federal Immigration act of 1924. The order was passed, however, 86 to 77.

The House showed its determination not to pass any pension bills this session. When a Brookline Representative sought to have substituted for an adverse committee one of these pension bills the House refused to substitute, but only because Speaker Saltonstall voted, which is an uncommon thing for the presiding officer to do. The vote stood when 87 in favor of substitution and 86 against when the Speaker ordered his name called and voting against. Thus the vote became a tie which was equivalent to rejection. The bill would have increased pensions of firemen and policemen heretofore retired under the non-contributory pension laws. Messrs. Baker, Luitwieler and Thompson voted against substitution.

Two petitions of Henry W. Jarvis, formerly of this city, have been granted leave to withdraw by the Committee on Legal Affairs and the committee's reports sustained by both branches. One sought to have jury trials authorized in connection with the commitment of persons alleged to be insane and the other would have the right to habeas corpus for insane persons.

Sinclair Weeks was this week appointed by Governor Allen as one of the managers of the Massachusetts Eye and Ear Infirmary.

It will interest Newton residents to learn that the Committee on Railroads has voted "leave to withdraw" on the bill for the establishment of a union passenger station on Dartmouth street, Boston, to take the place of the present stations now maintained by the Boston & Albany and the New Haven railroads. It is exceedingly likely that both branches of the General Court will vote to accept the report which means that the project is killed for this year at least.

A possible solution of the main problem which is now confronting Metropolitan Boston is offered by Representative Luitwieler. Mr. Luitwieler, who has studied the matter for a long time, feels that Massachusetts might adopt and adapt the present New York authority law for the purpose of better co-ordinating the terminal, transportation and other facilities of commerce in, about and through the port of Boston. He has a bill, the main features of which are the following:

1. A district is created covering what is generally known as the Metropolitan district; in area about 410 square miles.

2. A corporation is created to be known as the Metropolitan Transportation district and "port authority," but to be called for brevity "port authority" and also because "port authority" bonds are known in all of the great financial centres of the world where they find a ready market under that name.

3. The bill provides for five commissioners who are to serve without pay, who are the board of directors or advisors of the corporation.

4. The charter of the corporation gives the commissioners wide powers, except of course that of taxation, nor can they pledge the credit of the Commonwealth or any political subdivision nor take the property of either, nor interfere with the revenue or bonded indebtedness of either.

5. The organization cannot function until it has submitted to the Legislature and received approval of a "comprehensive plan" showing how it intends to proceed and what it proposes to do. For the purpose of arriving at such a plan the commissioners will confer with the governing and civil bodies of the various towns, railroads and steamship executives, and in fact will all officials in authority in all the bodies and organizations in the district.

MIDDLESEX COURT M. C. O. F.

Next Tuesday evening, March 12, Middlesex Court will hold a Green Whist and Bridge Party in Elks Hall, Newton. Special attention has been given to novices for this occasion and a number of beautiful ones have been donated. Miss May M. Mulligan is chairman of the committee in charge and she is being assisted by Eleanor G. Mulcahy, Mary E. Blake, Mary Buckley, Kathleen Conroy, Marion Good, Louise Herlihy, Mary Kinchla, Peggy McLean, Lillian Shea, Mrs. D. Sullivan, Thomas F. Bryson, James McDonald and Thomas F. Fitzgerald.

AUTO HITS FIRE BOX

1929 BUDGET

Treasurer Newhall asks for an increase from $5000 to $6000 in his salary but Mayor Childs does not recommend it. Mr. Newhall asks for substantial increases for clerks and temporary clerks and the Mayor practically coincides with these recommendations. Interest on temporary loans show an increase from $47,409.64 last year to $70,000 this year. Last year the interest on the funded debt was $197,230.58; this year it will be $215,407.47. Serial bonds paid last year totalled $330,782.05. This year $351,423.59 will be required for this purpose.

The Assessing Department's comparatively small increase in expenses over last year are accounted for by the need of an additional permanent clerk, more temporary clerks, a new automobile and needed office equipment. The Chairman of the Assessors asks for no increase in salary for his position or that of his associate assessors.

The Law Department shows a decided decrease in the amount asked for as compared with last year due to the fact that there are no damages to be paid for land taken for school purposes as was the case last year. City Solicitor Bartlett asks for no increase in his salary, which is $5000.

Last year the City Clerk's department cost $41,860.27. This year the Mayor's recommendations call for a decrease of $4000 in the cost of this department. City Clerk asks that his salary be increased from $4150 to $4300 and the Mayor agrees with him. The Mayor also approves the salary increases of $100 each recommended by Mr. Grant for his clerks. The principal savings in this department is occasioned by the fact that there is no national election this year.

City Messenger Lucian Davis asks that his salary be increased from $1900 to $2400 and Mayor Childs makes the same recommendation.

In the Engineering Department, City Engineer Morse asks for an increase in salary from $4400 to $4600 and Mayor Childs recommends this increase. Mr. Morse also asks increases for his assistant engineers which total about $2500. Other increases in this department are caused by the creation of two much needed employees, a stenographer and a permanent clerk to look up titles on properties.

In the Public Buildings Department Commissioner Chadwick asks for no increase in his $4600 salary. He asks for $2900 more for another inspector's salary. He recommends $50 increases for each of the three clerks in his department. Mayor Childs increased this recommendation to $100 increase for each of the clerks. For more insurance on city buildings $7000 is asked as compared with $5477.86 last year.

In the Police Department Chief Burke asks for no salary increase but the Mayor recommends that the Chief's salary be increased from $2900 to $4000. The Mayor also recommends increases of $100 in the salaries of the rest of the rank and file of the department. The present salaries are—Captains $2850, Lieutenants $2600, Sergeants $2400, Patrolmen $2100, Mechanic $2350. Chief Burke asks for 10 additional patrolmen. The Mayor also asks a $100 increase in the matron's salary.

In the Fire Department Chief Randlett asks that his salary be increased from $3900 to $4100. It was increased last year from $3600 to $3900. The Mayor recommends an increase of $100 for the Chief. Chief Randlett asks an increase of $100 in the $2550 salary now received by Assistant Chief Booldby. He recommends no increases for the Captains, Lieutenants, privates and members of the Wire Department but the Mayor asks the aldermen to grant $100 to these officers and men of the Fire and Wire Departments. Chief Randlett asks for four additional firemen and the Mayor agrees with him. For a new piece of apparatus $7000 is asked.

Sealer of Weights and Measures Prior asks that his salary be increased from $2400 to $3300. Mayor Childs asks that Mr. Prior receive a $300 salary increase.

In the Health Department Chairman Curtis recommends that his own salary be increased from $2500 to $3600. Inspector House's salary from $1525 to $1750, the salary of the clerk of the department from $1750 to $2000, and the agent's salary to be $2000. The amounts of the salaries as specified by Dr. Curtis total $10,350. The Mayor's recommendation, according to the budget is that $9250 be appropriated for the four salaries. But, the Mayor does not specify, according to the budget how this amount is to be divided. Either Dr. Curtis would get little increase, or his subordinates would get slight increases, or none, according to the Mayor's recommendation. It would seem that the Mayor is sort of passing the buck to Dr. Curtis as to whether he will increase his own, or his subordinates' salaries.

In the Public Welfare Department, the new name given to the erstwhile Charity Department, Miss Fitzgerald, the head of this department asks that her salary be increased from $2500 to $2700, and the Mayor concurs. He also agrees with Miss Fitzgerald in asking $100 increases for the salaries of the two clerks in this department. Other increases in this department are $750 for city infirmaries expenses, $200 for care of sick poor, $2000 for mother's aid, $3500 for outside aid.

The City Physician's Department asks for the same amount as last year—$9077. The Library Department budget shows but a small increase over last year's expenditures. Librarian Julius Lucht asks for no increase in his $1000 salary. He asks for $100 more for assistants and pages.

The School Department asks for $1,198,237.94 as compared with $1,134,687.47 expended last year. Most of the increase is accounted for by the item of salaries which total $1,053,737.94 as compared with $988,620.54 expended last year. These figures do not include the Vocational School for which $62,828.79 is asked as compared with $65,632.07 expended last year.

The Playground Department budget calls for $107,595.50 as contrasted with $91,123.44 expended last year. Director Hermann asks that his salary be increased from $3000 to $3500 and the Mayor agrees with him. Increases of $100 each are asked for the two clerks in the department. About $2000 more is asked to pay playground supervisors, and about $3000 more than last year for maintenance of playgrounds. For new equipment $3875 is asked, for replacement of old equipment $6389 and for construction work $15,100.

Last year the Street Department including the Forestry Division cost the city $1,015,016.63. This year the Mayor recommends that $1,197,158.72 be appropriated for this department. Commissioner Stuart asks for no increase in his salary of $5000. He recommends that the salaries of the division foremen be increased from $2650 to $2800 and the Mayor concurs. Like increases of $100 are also recommended in the salaries of the sewer division foremen. Increases averaging $100 each are recommended for the clerks in this department.

Last year $185,000 was appropriated for the maintenance of streets; this year the Mayor recommends $250,000. In 1928 about $22,000 was expended for traffic signs including portable beacons. This year $30,000 is recommended by the Mayor. For maintenance of sidewalks $30,000 is recommended as compared with $20,500 appropriated last year. For maintenance of property owned by the department $20,500 is recommended as compared with $12,000 appropriated in 1928. For the collection of ashes $80,000 is asked as against $75,500 expended last year.

For the removal of snow and ice $50,000 is asked. Last year $36,000 was appropriated and $30,624.49 expended for this purpose. For resurfacing streets $125,000 is recommended as compared with $100,000 appropriated last year. For street lighting $127,650 is recommended as compared with $112,000 appropriated last year. In 1928 $23,300.30 was spent for new equipment. This year $43,000 is asked by the Mayor. Commissioner Stuart's figures for this item were $50,288.50. Other large items in the Street Department budget are—$25,500 for maintenance of sewers, $22,000 for maintenance of tools, $53,000 for care of stables.

In the Forestry Division an increase of $150 is asked in the salary of Supt. Murphy. For the suppression of moths $20,000 is recommended as against $18,800 appropriated last year. Other large items in this division's budget include $25,000 for care of grounds, $20,000 for care of trees, $11,000 for construction of grounds.

In the Water Department Commissioner Whitney asks for no increase in his $3650 salary. He recommends increases averaging $100 for his clerks. The only appreciable increase in the budget for this department is $10,000 for the cost of work on conduits, lands and the reservoir. This is offset by a decrease from $22,500 appropriated last year for new services and meters to $10,000 recommended this year.

"A DUTCH DETECTIVE"

A full house enjoyed the rollicking comedy, "A Dutch Detective," when it was presented by members of Marshall S. Rice Chapter Epworth League in Parish Hall on Wednesday evening. The scenes of the play took place in the railroad station of Splinterville. The plot centers about a town constable and his love affairs, the trials of an eloping couple with papa chasing them, a Dutch detective and his Katrina and then the attempt at capturing two escaped lunatics. The play ends with four happy couples starting to "Niagary Falls" on honeymoons while the two lunatics remain at large.

The characters in the order of their appearance were Jabo Grabb, the police force of Splinterville, Frederick Newcomb; Ambrosia McCarty, queen of the lunch room, Edna Roberts; Otto Schmultz, a correspondence school detective, William Wildman; Miss Araminta Soundrops, who loses her Jabo, Elizabeth Wildman; Augustus Coe, a newly wed, Calf Alexander; Gladys Howler-Coo, his bride, the Major's daughter, Mary Jowett; Plunk Jarleck, escaped from the asylum, Kenneth Newcomb; Nortensy Smatters, the other lunatic, Elizabeth Meara; Katrina Kraut, from Hamilton City by the Schuts of Ohio; Margaret Hartshorn; Major Hamilton Howler, on the war path, Everett Morse. The parts were played exceptionally well, while the costumes and the scene added much to making the hilarious show a perfect success. Mrs. Noyes Meara should be complimented for her excellent coaching.

ABOUT TOWN

By Edw. H. Powers

Have you noticed the condition of the streets following the recent thaw? They certainly show the ravages wrought during the winter months by the heavy single cross-chains used on automobile truck tires. Just how many years the cities and towns in Massachusetts will continue to allow their highways to be ruined by these chains used on truck tires is a question. It would seem that some legislation ought to be enacted to prohibit the destruction of highways from this cause. Some other method to prevent trucks from skidding, and to allow them to obtain proper traction on snow covered streets can and should be devised.

Employees of the street department have been busy repairing the damaged streets in this city with hot tar patches. These patches are quite effective now, but wait until the hot days come next summer. Then how that tar will ooze. It is about time that a start is made in constructing modern concrete highways in Newton. It is estimated that a mile of concrete roadway, 22 feet wide, can be built for about $50,000. Newton should appropriate in the budget this year enough money to provide for four miles of such concrete highways. Similar amounts should be appropriated in succeeding years until this city's principal streets shall have surfaces adapted for modern traffic conditions.

F. A. DAY JUNIOR HIGH

The F. A. Day faculty still has several vacancies due to the prevailing epidemic. Both Mr. Carr and his secretary, Miss Mildred Coleman are ill at the present time. Mrs. Sandwall has just returned after a siege of grippe and Mr. Adams is confined to his home in Dorchester.

In the absence of their athletic director the boys have been fortunate in having as their leader at various times Mr. Frank Simmons of Newton High School, Mr. F. E. Wilson, director of physical education of Newton, and Mr. Read of the F. A. Day faculty. Mr. Read has coached the basketball teams and on March 5th he took both teams to Lexington where they defeated Lexington Junior High in two games, scoring 13-6 in the first game and 25-20 in the second. During the latter part of the week Mr. E. W. Blue of the Vocational High School took charge of the boys' gymnasium classes.

A very interesting assembly opened this week with two musical selections, first a piano solo by Robert Hayden, Grade VII and second, a cello solo by Ruth Andrews Grade VIII. There followed a moving picture entitled, "The Laying of the Fastest Cable in the World" which gave a vivid description in pictures of the ship "Cyrus Field" which laid the first section of the great cable on this side of the Atlantic, and connected it to the bleak coast of Newfoundland. It was a fascinating picture to all lovers of sea adventures.

"The Covered Wagon" will be shown at this school next Tuesday afternoon, March 12. Even though this picture was made about five years ago it deals with a story over which time has no influence. It is as interesting to boys and girls today as it was when first produced.

Going to school on inauguration day, for pupils of F. A. Day Junior High proved to be quite a pleasure. At eleven-thirty we were all called from our books to the assembly hall to listen to the broadcast from Washington. After listening to President Hoover's address, we returned to our classes, but not without a feeling of pride in our school, a school that offers to us such great advantages.

BIGELOW JUNIOR HIGH SCHOOL

Monday, the pupils of the Bigelow Junior High School were agreeably surprised and delighted to assemble in the hall to listen to the broadcast of the Presidential inauguration program. The lunch period was set aside for twenty minutes, and at twelve o'clock, studies and recitations were postponed for the period. The exercises were very realistic, coming to us over the air, through the excellent Atwater Kent radio, courteously loaned to the school by Moore and Moore, for the occasion. All the pupils were in the hall, and listened with close attention.

The program for assembly on Tuesday, March 5, was in charge of Miss Eden's group of sixth grade children. A very interesting and complete entertainment was given by the group, with every one participating. The subject was, "February, the Month of Birthdays," and short talks and dramatizations were given by the children, who showed much originality. The birthdays of such men as Lincoln, Washington, Dickens, King, fellow, and Lindbergh were fittingly commemorated. Bruce Cummings was in charge of the program and made the announcements. At the close of these exercises by Grade VI, a clarinet solo was given by Richard Boyer, a pupil in grade eight.

Notwithstanding the very poor attendance on account of sickness, the Bigelow Junior High was third on the list, the percent of attendance for January being exceeded only by the Bowen and the Emerson. We hope the good attendance record of the Bigelow thus far may continue during the remainder of the year.

LEVI F. WARREN

On March 4 the entire school listened to Hoover's inauguration. One loud speaker in the Assembly Hall was turned on. After the inauguration Mr. Scarborough gave the student body their choice of either having a study period or listening until 2:15. Most went to their rooms for a study period, but some remained to listen.

Thursday, Feb. 28, marked the time of the next to last moving picture to be given this year. The picture shown was "Circus Rookies," also an "Our Gang" comedy. As the next one is the last one it is hoped that there will be large attendance. The student body listened to a talk on Safety and First Aid given by Dr. Hartsell of the American Red Cross at the assembly on Feb. 27. He was very interesting and demonstrated many bandages that can be made with a triangular bandage.

The boys' basketball team played two games with Watertown, the scores being Watertown 50, Warren 15, first game; Watertown 32, Warren 6, second game. The game with St. Charles came out as follows: St. Charles 20, Warren 11. The first game had better luck, their score was 18-10. The High School Freshmen being Warren 25, Freshmen 8, first game; Warren 12, Freshmen 3, second game.

There has been one "Transmitter" issued this year, which was very successful, and many copies were sold. The second issue is expected out tomorrow, and it is hoped that it will meet with great approval.

PIERCE SCHOOL

Through the courtesy of a local radio concern the children and teachers at the Pierce School had the pleasure of hearing the inaugural services last Monday over a radio that had been installed in the school.

Special Lights

CASE-HARDENED

"Viper!" she hissed. "Scoundrel! Wretch! Blackguard! Fool!"
Smiling sweetly, he continued to glance over his paper.
"Villain!" she resumed, her eyes flashing vivid fire. "Robber-r-r!"
"Yes, yes," he said. "Go on!"
Then a thought suddenly occurred to her, and she sank hopelessly into a chair at the uselessness of it all. He had been a baseball umpire.—Pathfinder.

Try It Out, Ladies

Wife—I made a terrible hit at the club this afternoon.
Hubby—Make a speech?
Wife—No, but I wore my dress that I just had cleaned and the odor of gasoline was so prevalent that everybody thought we had a car. We'll have to get one now, dear.

Jinks—Well, when she comes into a room the temperature usually drops 15 or 20 degrees.

Has the Appetite

Harold—And has she a soul for the higher things in life?
Scotty—No; but she has an appetite for the higher things in life—take her out to dinner some time.

C. L. S. C. of Newton Highlands

On Monday afternoon, March 11th, members of the C. L. S. C. of Newton Highlands start on a journey to continue through the first week in May to a far country—India. Turning their attention from "Biography" which has been the very worthwhile subject of study for the first part of their Club season, the C. L. S. C. now starts upon a most interesting flight to a land of romance and mystery, so making their year one of excellent balance and variety. In the words of Walt Whitman, which they quote, "Passage to more than India! Are they wings plumed indeed for such far flights?"

The Club prefaces its discussions with a study of "India's Heritage," this background being in charge of Mrs. Sanford E. Thompson for explanation.

Mrs. Isaac Goddard, of 154 Lincoln street, is hostess for the afternoon, with the meeting opening at 2:30 o'clock, and with the president, Mrs. Andrew B. Wright, presiding.

RECENT EVENTS*Auburndale Woman's Club

Mrs. Harry A. Burnham, former chairman of the Division of Home Making in the Department of the American Home, of the General Federation, gave a most interesting talk entitled "Where's Mother?" at the meeting of the Auburndale Woman's Club, on Thursday, February 28th. The meeting, which was in charge of the American Home Committee of the Club, of which Mrs. Hector R. Gai is chairman, was made even more enjoyable by three members of the All-Newton Music School. Miss Frances Jennings played the piano, Miss Anna Kovitz, the violin, and Miss Theresa Caruso, a graduate of the school, and a teacher there, accompanied Miss Kovitz, and also rendered a delightful piano solo.

Newton Community Club

In the Underwood School Hall on Thursday afternoon, February 28th, the regular meeting of the Newton Community Club was held. Mrs. Harry W. Flitts, the president, presided. The program of the afternoon was in the hands of the Music Committee, of which Mrs. James A. Moyer is chairman. The Chamber Trio, consisting of Paul Chukasky, Violin; Jacobus Langendoen, Cello; and Nicholas Slonimsky, Piano, gave a most delightful concert. Their program covered a wide range from Mozart to the present day, and was most pleasing throughout. Their ensemble was beautiful, showing sympathy and understanding of one another. In their solos Mr. Langendoen and Mr. Chukasky played with great warmth and depth of tone, as well as brilliancy of technique. Mr. Slonimsky is that rare combination—a most sympathetic accompanist and excellent soloist. The audience would have been glad to hear more of him in the latter capacity.

Newton Mothers' Club

On Monday, March 4th, a very delightful recital was enjoyed by the Newton Mothers' Club, jointly with the Mothers' Council of West Newton, at the home of Mrs. Thomas Gorham. Mrs. Gorham was assisted in receiving by the presidents of the two Clubs, Mrs. Warner Taylor and Mrs. Carl Pickhardt. The Artists were Gertrude Ehrhart, Soprano, and Nicholas Slonimsky, Pianist. Miss Ehrhart sang groups of French, Italian, German and English songs and Mr. Slonimsky played several of his own compositions.

After the recital tea was served, Mrs. Irving Fisher and Mrs. Quincy Wales presiding at the tea table.

Shakespeare Club

The Shakespeare Club of Newton Highlands visited Wollaston on March 2nd, at the home of one of the charter members, Mrs. H. E. Durgin, and, under the direction of Mrs. Alice M. Early, took up the history of Henry IV. (Part II) Acts I, II, in his conflict with the powerful House of Northumberland.

Especially considered was given to the characters of Prince Hal and his boon-companion Falstaff, in their pursuit of a gay life, which, in these acts, is suddenly broken off as they depart for the war. Prince Hal to redeem himself from his frivolous past conduct, Falstaff to further the exhibition of his mendacious yet immortal wit.

Christian Era Study Club

Mrs. Arthur Desoe, of Ware road, was hostess on the afternoon of March 4th, to the Christian Era Study Club, and the Inaugural broadcast was tuned out for awhile, one on the "National Poet of Scotland, Robert Burns," and one on "Lord Byron," taking precedence. Miss Ella Smith, the president of the Club, read the paper on the first topic, and her selections from Burns' poems were much enjoyed. The hostess, Mrs. Desoe, based Lord Byron, and her paper was based on the novel "The Glorious Apollo," which presents the poet in a much different light than many other critics. Although the works of both of these geniuses were appreciated to some extent in their own time, it is now that the full measure of their worth is being felt.

Auburndale Review Club

Mrs. Herbert W. Longfellow was hostess on Tuesday morning, March 5th, to the Auburndale Review Club. At 10 o'clock there was a business meeting, Mrs. Charles Valentine, the president, in the chair. A full report of the Midwinter Meeting of the State Federation, held recently at the Statler, was given by Mrs. N. L. Grant.

Two changes in the By-Laws relative to the Waiting List were presented by a former president, Mrs. Richard O. Walter, and they were adopted. The Program Committee for next year was announced. Mrs. Robert Abram, Chairman, and Miss Florence Brennan and Mrs. W. H. Medlicott. They will start working at once on a program of "International Relations" to be presented at the Annual Meeting in April.

Plans are also under way for a Bridge and Food Sale to be held at the home of Mrs. W. J. Spaulding on the 9th of April, for Club philanthropy. It is hoped that these activities will be well patronized by many who are not members, as well as those who are. Further details will appear from time to time. The program of the morning was in charge of Mrs. George Knapp, who first introduced Mrs. Wickliffe Spaulding, who sang very pleasantly three ballads. Mrs. Knapp's paper on "Garfield" followed, the president whose four months of active service were fraught with much good. Mrs. Charles Kattelle's paper covered "Arthur's Administration" at which time the Edmands' Law dealing with Polygamy, went into effect. The third paper had been written by Mrs. S. H. (Continued on Page 14)

THOMAS WESTON

Always Actively Identified With Newton's Welfare and Prosperity

In selecting Thomas Weston as the first president of the new Newton National Bank, the sponsors of Newton's newest financial institution have fittingly recognized the outstanding legal and business acumen of one of Newton's best known citizens.

The busy life that Mr. Weston has led and the recognition he has earned is quickly gleaned from this short survey of his many positions of trust and confidence.

Thomas Weston was born on Franklin street, Newton, August 12, 1875. He went through the Newton public schools and graduated from Harvard College in 1895 at the age of nineteen. He taught school for one year in the Middlesex Boys School in Billerica, then went to the Harvard Law School from which he graduated in 1899 and at once started the practice of law in Boston with his father under the name of Weston & Weston. Served in the Newton Board of Aldermen from 1904 to 1909 being Vice President for one year and President of the Board in 1908 and 1909. A member of the Newton School Committee in 1908 and 1909; a member of the Massachusetts Legislature from 1915 to 1918 and of the Massachusetts Senate in 1919 and 1920. Appointed Associate Judge of the Newton District Court by Governor Cox in 1921. Practices law in Boston with offices at 84 State Street. One of the trustees of the West Newton Savings Bank and a member of the Investment Company A of the 11th regiment of the State Guard during the World War and served as policeman in the Boston police strike for six and one-half weeks. A Congregationalist and a member of the Second Church of Newton in West Newton, of which he is Moderator. Married in 1909 to Elizabeth Loring, daughter of S. D. Loring of Newton Centre. Lives at 56 Valentine street, West Newton. Has three children all of whom are in the Newton Public Schools.

Newton Welcomes Its Newest Financial Institution--the Newton National Bank

Public Invited to Inspect New Banking Quarters—The Last Word in Bank Design, Safety and Convenience

"One of the best barometers of the economic and business conditions of any city," says a nationally known business executive, "is the number of soundly managed banks necessary to properly take care of the needs of that city's financial and business growth."

Newton is growing fast. As the unusual attractiveness of the "Garden City" constantly attracts hundreds and hundreds of new families to establish homes within its borders, just so, are an increasing number of merchants and firms necessary to provide Newton's growing population with an increasing supply of the necessities and comforts of life, and to provide stores and places of business within convenient reach.

Recognizing the need for a new national bank—protected by ample capital, surplus and a United States Government Charter, a group of Newton's most representative business men, residing in Newton's various community centers, has created the Newton National Bank, located at 384 Centre street at Newton Corner.

These business executives are all forward-looking men, men who are actively identified with Newton's welfare and prosperity. A look at the names of the officers and directors of the newly created Newton National Bank at Newton Corner gives ample indication of the soundness of the institution and the prestige that it is bound to win for itself in the city.

Judge Thomas Weston, president of the bank, needs no introduction to the people of Newton. The vice presidents are George W. Sweet, president of the Studebaker Sales Co. of Boston and William C. Sills, president and treasurer of the W. C. Sills Corporation. The cashier is James B. Melcher, widely known not only in Newton but in all parts of the State for his ability and energy and his unflinching interest in everyone having business, large or small, with banks.

The directors include men in many lines of business, men who have made successes of themselves by hard, faithful work. They are: James R. Bancroft, of Waban, president American Institute of Finance; William Ellison, of Newton, treasurer Proctor Ellison Co. (leather) and trustee; Albert P. Everts, of Newtonville, Paine, Webber & Co., Bankers; William F. Garcelon, of Newton, attorney and trustee; George P. Hatch, of West Newton, treasurer B. S. Hatch Co. (coal); William A. Kneeland, of Boston, attorney; Charles R. Lynde, of Newtonville, importer china and glass; Grosvenor D. Marcy, of Newton Highlands, president Sampson-Murdock Directory Co.; Vincent P. Roberts, of Newton Centre, vice-president Roberts & Co. (wool); Fred S. Sawyer, of West Newton, treasurer Thing's Shoe Stores, Inc.; William C. Sills, of Newton, president and treasurer W. C. Sills Corporation; Douglas Sloane, of Newtonville, investment counsel, Phillips & Zoller George W. Sweet, of Chestnut Hill, president Studebaker Sales Co. of Boston; Henry A. Wentworth, of Auburndale, mining engineer; Thomas Weston, of West Newton, attorney and trustee; Dr.

JAMES B. MELCHER

Cashier of Newton National Bank

James B. Melcher, the cashier of the Newton National Bank, was born and brought up in Newton Centre. He was educated in the Newton schools and graduated from Amherst College in 1909. Following his graduation he entered the employ of the Newton Trust Company which he served for thirteen years. He was in charge of the Newton Centre office when he gave up his banking career for the time being, purchasing a chicken farm, on Cape Cod. Nearly three years ago when the First National Bank of Medford was organized he returned to banking, accepting the position as cashier. He remained with the Medford bank until last fall when he resigned to take up his present position.

Metropolitan Life Insurance Company

EVERY business day in 1928, the 26 million policyholders of the Metropolitan Life Insurance Company, who are its sole owners, added a million dollars to the great reserve fund needed for their protection against the hazards of life and business—present and future.

Happily, more and more persons have a new understanding of what life insurance promises, what it can do and what it does do. They are learning that it does many different things equally well.

While the original purpose—to take care of the breadwinner's dependents in event of untimely death—has never been lost sight of, today life insurance is largely and directly concerned with the business of living.

The Young Men's Club of The Centenary M. E. Church, Auburndale, will present that highly talented group of young artists from Boston University known as the Yinger Singers, at the Methodist Church, Central street, March 14 at 8 p. m. This sextette, whose home is in Michigan, came east to Boston to complete their education, and are financing their college careers by giving entertainments three and four nights a week. Music critics everywhere comment upon the exceptional harmony and tone-color of the Yinger Singers. Every one is an accomplished singer, capable of sterling solo work as well as ensemble. Thus they have one of the finest collections of versatile talent to be found anywhere in this country. Their program consists of classical numbers, gypsy songs in costumes, folk songs, and negro spirituals, interspersed with humorous and entertaining readings.

Y. W. C. A.

We, the members of the Blue Triangle Club, wish to extend to Mrs. Hubert Carter of Otis street, Newtonville, our thanks, in appreciation of the pleasant evening spent at her lovely home last Monday, where we enjoyed a travel talk by Mrs. Carter.

The club is still finding time for its art work, even though these seem to be busy days for its members.

Next Monday evening, March eleventh, Miss Ruth Chapin, Secretary of the Newton Welfare Bureau will tell us of the splendid work carried on by that organization.

The women's gymnasium class, which meets on Tuesday morning, will continue only through the month of March, and it is hoped that the class will meet 100% for these few remaining lessons.

The swimming group will welcome into their numbers anyone wishing to enjoy a single dip in the St. Agnes pool, as their class will terminate very shortly.

The children's dancing class, which meets on Thursday from three to four o'clock, is for girls from three to ten years of age and boys from three to seven years of age. This class is proving very successful, and if you have any inquiries, regarding it, please call Newton North 3447, where you may also receive information, pertaining to any of the other above mentioned groups.

The children's gymnasium class, which also meets Thursday afternoon, is entirely separate from the dancing class.

The High School Girl Reserve Club will be represented at a week-end conference in New Bedford, Mass., by the following delegates: Bernice Leacy, Isobel Sowle, Chloris Horsman, Ethel Arsenault, Myrtle Phillips, Mildred Newell, Christine Dargan, Nina Acheson, Helen Harrington, Muriel Burnham, and Miss Daisy Porter, Club Adviser.

The delegates will be entertained at the homes of the New Bedford Girl Reserves. Visits to the mills and factories of New Bedford, sight-seeing trips to the Whaling Museum and the Forts in Fair Haven, as well as a banquet on Saturday evening which makes up the program for the week-end. Among the prominent speakers who will address the girls are Miss Elizabeth Nutting of Boston University, Mrs. Julia R. Howe of the Hood Rubber Company, and Miss Grace S. Stull, National Girl Reserve Secretary from New York City.

WEST NEWTON COMMUNITY CENTRE

At the February meeting of the Board of Directors of the West Newton Community Centre on Tuesday, March 5th the following Finance Committee was appointed: Mrs. Austin H. Decatur, chairman; Mrs. George P. Hatch, Miss Margaret Dowse, Mrs. Fred Sawyer, Mrs. Wm. F. Chase, Mrs. Carl Pichardt.

The spring rummage sale will be held on Thursday, March 21st beginning at nine o'clock. A pre-sale will be held on Wednesday afternoon for the members of the clubs only. Mrs. Irving J. Fisher is in charge.

Arrangements were completed for the luncheon on March 15th at which the Centre will entertain the Newton Central Council and social agencies in the community room of the West Newton Memorial Library. Mrs. A. Shirley Ladd heads the committee who will provide the luncheon.

In place of her usual report Miss Gertrude MacCallum, Director of Activities, had ready the first edition of the Centre newspaper which is to appear the first of every month and be distributed free of charge to all the members of clubs and classes.

The club reporters had done their work well, and Mrs. Wm. B. Baker who is assisting in the publication promises us a real name for the news sheet when the prize contest for a suitable name is over.

OLD COLONY TRUST COMPANY PURCHASES SAXONY MILLS

The Old Colony Trust Company of Boston has purchased the Saxony Worsted Mills of Newton, part of the United States Worsted Corp., at foreclosure sale, for $245,000. This amount is substantially less than the amount of the mortgage, $365,000, so the corporation will realize nothing from the sale. The Old Colony Trust Company was the mortgagee in the case.

GIRL SCOUTS

In 1922, Newton Scouts had their first movie at which they raised the money to name a bed in the Children's Hospital in Boston. This will be the eighth year that this bed has been named by the Scouts and, on March 16th, the Annual Movie will be held, at 10:00 a. m. at the Newton Community Theatre. There will be Pathe News, an "Our Gang" Comedy, an Aesop Fable, and Buster Keaton in "The Camera Man," and the Newton Bugle and Drum Corps will play. Mrs. Walton S. Redfield of West Newton, and Mrs. Ralph Emery of Newton Highlands, are directing the plans for this event, and the finest movie ever is anticipated. Tickets may be purchased from Girl Scouts.

The Waban Troop Committee met March 5th, at the home of Mrs. Stephen; troop committee members, captains, and old friends of Scouting in Waban were invited to the meeting to meet Mrs. Angier, G. Waban, Commissioner of the Newton Girl Scouts. Delicious refreshments were served.

About 30 girls attended the first meeting of the Life Saving and Swimming Course at St. Agnes Pool, and their enthusiasm promises to do much in the way of earning pins and emblems.

At the Leaders' Course Wednesday evening, March 6th, Mrs. Warren initiated all those present into the mysteries of First Class Judging; soap carving was also a feature of the evening.

A Craft Club, under the direction of Miss Catherine Scand, began work in block printing at Headquarters, Thursday, March 7th, at 2:30.

Troop 25 is making baby jackets and booties for the Needlework Guild, in connection with its Community Service work.

At the last meeting of Troop 23, two Tenderfoot Scouts and two Second Class Scouts were invested with the assistance of Captain Warren, Field Captain.

On March 20th, a delightful entertainment is offered to all music lovers; a Candle-Light Concert will be given by an "18th Century Orchestra," under the direction of Raffaele Martino, and with Zoe Musgraves as Soprano. Through the generosity of Mr. Martino, 20% of the ticket sales will be given to the Girl Scouts of Newton Upper Falls, and will be used toward financing a trip which the girls of Troop 17, the Senior troop, are planning to take this spring, to Washington.

JANSE CAPTURES BULL

Edward Janse of 336 Dudley street, Oak Hill, on last Saturday captured the bull which escaped from his barn yard on February 19. The animal had been brought from Brighton to the Janse farm and made a getaway while being unloaded from a truck. For nearly two weeks the bull evaded capture, wandering in the woods and swamps near Oak Hill. Last Saturday Janse drove his herd of cattle into the swamp near Brookline and LaGrange streets at the West Roxbury line. His strategy was rewarded when the bull approached and was captured after a struggle. The animal was in poor condition from lack of food and exposure to the cold weather of the past two weeks.

D. R.

The next meeting of the Sarah Hull Chapter of the Daughters of the Revolution will be held next Wednesday evening at the home of Mrs. Warren Gregory at 377 Walnut street, Newtonville. It is to be the "Guest Night" of the Chapter and the speaker will be the Rev. Herbert S. Johnson on the subject "Is Radicalism A Real Present Day Threat." Clair Higgins, Harvard '23, is in charge of the music which will be rendered by Cynthia Hady, soloist, and Nina Spaulding, violinist, in a costume program.

NEWTON CENTRE GARDEN CLUB

The March meeting of the Newton Centre Garden Club will be held at the Newton Centre Library, Monday, March 11, at 10:30 a. m. The principle feature will be a lecture by Mrs. George U. Crocker, "The Isle of Guernsey."

WOMAN'S ASSOCIATION OF CENTRAL CHURCH

The Woman's Association was favored on Wednesday in having as luncheon speaker Mrs. Edward B. Wilder of Dorchester, who introduced herself as "just the mother of a missionary." Mrs. Wilder is a cousin of Dr. D. E. Baker. She found a number of friends in her audience as Central church owes to Dorchester some of its most valued workers.

As head of the Albert Victor hospital in Madura, India, Dr. Edward Wilder is one of the outstanding medical missionaries of the American Board. From boyhood he had cherished plans to make this his life work and he felt deep gratitude to his mother because she placed no obstacles in his path. Besides being head of this fine hospital, Dr. Wilder is secretary of the medical association of India, he trains a choir, preaches, and holds clinics in villages. Announced by the town crier and the town crier, all who suffer from stomach ache, head ache and other ills are called to come. The "Charity Doctor is here." The first fee is equivalent to four cents, and the later ones two cents. Both wrists are extended, as the people regard feeling the pulse the one clue to the discovery of the malady. Leprosy is treated with the preventive and curative methods.

Looking at the attractive bungalow in which Dr. and Mrs. Wilder and their two children live, one would fancy that all was fair in that delightful spot. But there is another side to the picture as it does not reveal the ants, snakes, meddlesome monkeys, the lack of running water, and other domestic trials. Nevertheless Dr. and Mrs. Wilder find the life most rewarding with its opportunities to help and heal. Mrs. Wilder has talents and is publisher of "The Christian Friend," a magazine in the Tamil language. This little periodical has the privilege of using stories from "The Youth's Companion."

While speaking Mrs. Wilder wore a garland of spun gold, the gift of an Indian rajah to her son. Photographs added to the interest, and Mrs. E. A. Rust and Mrs. A. H. Decatur found the scenes familiar, as they had visited the home of Dr. Wilder and were acquainted with the work of the Albert Victor hospital.

In the absence of Mrs. George W. Auryansen and Mrs. William E. Strong, Mrs. Robert E. Chambers presided. Mrs. Robert Whitehill was chairman of the luncheon and Mrs. Harold B. Sherman of the serving committee. Mrs. G. E. Fisher directed the sewing and Mrs. A. E. Vose the surgical dressings.

"HELLO BILL" AT NEWTON COMMUNITY

Here is the first farce to be offered by the Rice Players during the current season. It is a rousing and very human play about real people, conceived and developed by the hand of a skilled playwright. For genuine and heart comedy, full of hilarious situations and side splitting merriment, "Hello Bill" should prove the laugh hit of the season.

Mr. Goodhue has built his plot around a case of mistaken or rather usurped identity. Imagine a man who poses as a United States army officer called to the front in order to escape his newly acquired wife and serve a jail sentence to which he has been condemned. Imagine the hilarious meeting of the two gentlemen in question under the same roof a few weeks later, add to that two other farcical love affairs and you get some idea of the mirthful character of the play. The author has so handled the possibilities of the story as to involve his characters in what seems an inextricable mess only to straighten them all out before the final curtain. "Hello Bill" rivals the most famous American farces for genuine entertainment purposes. There are fine roles for every member of the company and the piece bids fair to be one of the hits of the season.

LESS BUILDING IN NEWTON

For the first time in several years an appreciable falling off was evidenced last month in building activities in Newton. During the month 80 permits were issued for new buildings and alterations with an estimated valuation of $552,400. This is $200,000 less than the valuation of the buildings for which permits were granted in February of last year. For single dwellings 41 permits were granted, for two-family dwellings 4 permits, for garages 17, miscellaneous buildings 2, alterations 16.

K. OF C. ENTERTAINMENT

Newton Council, Knights of Columbus held its annual "Railroad Night" on Tuesday evening at Elks Hall, Newton. A large gathering of members and friends were present to enjoy a long programme given by the following entertainers: Pullman Porter's Band; Thomas C. O'Brien, songs and stories; Fred McNeil, comedian; Percy Hubbard, dances; Laconte and Vencigo, musical selections; Joe and Mary Sullivan, dances; Duncan and Reilly, songs and parodies; Maxwell and Barrett, comedy sketch. A collection was served. The committee in charge of the affair included John Dunton, John FitzPatrick and Daniel Quinlan.

NEWTON JEFFERSON CLUB

The next meeting of those interested in forming a Jefferson Club in Newton will be held at Bay State Hall, Centre street, Newton Corner, on Thursday night, March 14 at 8 p. m. At this meeting returns will be made for the tickets being sold for the Musical Comedy and Dance which the club is holding Monday evening, March 18, at the Newton Centre Women's Club building. ## ABOUT TOWN

By Edw. H. Powers

Major Harold Daniels dropped into the office last Saturday to inform us that he approved of all the items in this column last week except the crack we took at President Coolidge about using army trucks to transport his personal property from Washington to Northampton. "Hal" asserted that "Cal" as commander in chief of the army was perfectly justified in using the trucks and that some of his predecessors, including Woodrow Wilson had done the same thing.

One thing is certain. Having been honored as Governor of Massachusetts setts and President of the United States, Mr. Coolidge continues to wear the same size hat. He and his wife were not ashamed to return to the little tenement in the two-family house at Northampton after having resided for six years in the White House with its magnificence. It is quite probable that Mr. and Mrs. Coolidge will have to obtain a larger residence to provide sufficient room for the many valued possessions they have acquired.

But, the democracy evidenced by them in returning to their humble abode will do much towards further enhancing their fame. The fact that Mr. and Mrs. Coolidge will continue to dwell, for the present at least, in a two-family house must be somewhat disconcerting to those persons who assert that people living in two-family houses are inferior socially.

Some years ago when Mr. Coolidge was Lieutenant Governor he came to this city one evening to address an organization at West Newton. Then, escorted by his confidant and friend, Thomas W. White, he visited the Elks at Newton where he was introduced to a number of members by Mayor Childs. One member, who had been in his younger years a pronounced "sorrel-top," congratulated Mr. Coolidge, as another of that type, on his political success. In recent years the "red-heads" have come into their own. Twenty-five and more years ago it was a distinct social and financial disadvantage to be a "red-head."

Persons so thatched were subjected to insults and scorn. They were linked with white horses. A peculiar whistle was directed at them. Red haired girls dyed their tresses to darker hues or bleached them to a peroxide yellow. Anyone who predicted in those days that red hair would become so fashionable as to make henna tinting popular, would have been adjudged drunk or dippy.

President Coolidge is quoted as saying that the outstanding feature of his regime is "I minded my own business." No one can accuse Calvin of resorting to "blarney" or "boloney."

Several years ago the city went to considerable expense converting the lawn on the south side of Washington street opposite Thornton street at Newton into a parking space. This parking space was supposed to be for the benefit of motorists having business at Newton Corner. For the past year or more complaints have been made that the parking space is used as an all-day garage by persons who work in Boston. These persons park their cars early each morning, take the trains to Boston and leave their automobiles parked until they come out again from Boston in the evening. The result is that persons who want to use the parking space while they do business at Newton Corner find no room for their cars. It is being urged that restrictions be placed on this area so that it will not be hogged by those who commute to Boston.

KIWANIS CLUB

The March business meeting of the Newton Kiwanis Club was held at the Auburndale Club on March 5th. President Walter A. Whalin presiding. A male quartet comprising Horace Walton, Archie Bellinger, Bob Bell and Ed Powers made its musical debut and was enthusiastically received.

John A. Janse and William F. Hahn were welcomed as new members of the club, the charge to the new members being delivered by Charles A. Mahoney.

Reports of the various Club Committees were presented and filed. Frank Perkins of the Inter-Club Relations Committee gave notice of the schedule of inter-club visitations.

The meeting of March twelfth will take the form of a complimentary luncheon to the wives and lady friends of members. A special luncheon will be served and an unusual entertainment will be presented.

FIREMEN GET FIRST AID CERTIFICATES

Realizing the importance of a knowledge of First Aid for firemen the Newton Chapter, American Red Cross has just given a course in this subject to Newton firemen. Through the arrangement of Chief Randlett twenty one men received the instruction, and some of these, with further instruction which is to be furnished them through the Boy Scouts, can then teach the whole Newton force. Dr. Hartzell, of Washington, gave the course, complimented the men on the ability and interest shown. The men who will receive the certificates are not all from one station, but were chosen from various stations throughout the city.

Consider Now the Added Convenience

New evening rates for out-of-town telephone calls by number do more than save you money. They add convenience and efficiency to your service.

Formerly day rates applied until 8:30 P. M.
Evening rates now begin at 7:00 P. M. and continue until 8:30 P. M.

This hour-and-a-half in the early evening means much at both ends of your telephone line. It's a leisure hour.

In most households the evening meal is over, the evening's engagements still ahead. It's a convenient time to make social telephone calls. And you're likely to find the people you call at home.

Evening rates are substantially lower than day rates; but there are two things to remember. They apply only to station-to-station calls, best made by number. And they do not apply at short distances where the day rate is 35 cents or less.

Even at full day rates we have always had a considerable volume of out-of-town calls during the early evening. We are prepared to handle efficiently the increased business sure to come as the economy and convenience of this new evening service become better known.

ONE THING AND ANOTHER

By L. D. G. BENTLEY

Once upon a time somebody wrote, "Practice makes perfect." I guess he was right. Assuming that he was, I am convinced that there is something in which I shall never be perfect, largely from lack of practice. I refer to the art of eating while standing up. By that I mean disposing of salads, rolls, ice cream and cake at a reception where there is no opportunity to sit down or if there is where no table is available.

The most trying experience is that of being compelled to hold a plate of salad with a roll on the side and make sure that if you let go one hand for the purpose of forking some of the food into your mouth that you won't lose both the plate load and the forkful. It seems to be that only one skilled in the science of jugglery may be reasonably sure of going through the ordeal without having one's nerves completely upset.

The procedure is something like this. Announcement is made that refreshments are served. The fact is that you are expected to serve yourself and, if a man, to see that the ladies are supplied. I flatter myself that I have become fairly proficient in dishing into salads, hooking off sliced meat and dipping into escalloped oysters. I can even scoop up a banana fritter with one hand without sweeping it and its companions from the platter. Having done these things it is no trouble at all to pick up the napkin, fork, etc. and walk over and hand them to a lady, with a gracious smile. Every time I do so I want to say to the fair creature, "I wish you luck," but I am chivalrous and to her sweet "Thank you" I answer, "Don't mention it."

But I know that she is going to suffer just like myself. We both have a yearning for the food, but we have got to make every effort to balance the plate, talk to the person alongside and get a mouthful when we can. Take a roomful of guests and what happens? Just as you gather up a forkful of salad somebody backs into you with, "O, I beg your pardon." But the nice load of salad you have balanced on your fork is not in your mouth. If you are agile you have placed it back on the plate. If not, it has fallen to the floor smearing the front of your clothes on the way down.

Suppose you manage to eat a plateful, in spite of the constant fear that somebody is going to inadvertently force the fork into the roof of your mouth by jostling your elbow. Suppose, I say, you have got that far. Then you must be ready to take up a cup of coffee and juggle that, too. The first half of the feed is the hardest. Spooning up the ice cream isn't nearly so difficult. The spoon is not so dangerous an implement as the fork and ice cream isn't as solid as salad, fritters, etc.

As I have observed I never expect to become expert in this line. Furthermore, I don't believe that if I were to attend a reception six nights a week I should feel any more secure at a stand-up collation. In my case it simply is impossible.

It's a privilege to start the day with some experience, no matter how trifling, that offers an optimistic view of life. In other words if there is something that you see that provides a "kick" you are all the better for it. It sort of sets one up and sends a tingle of satisfaction all over. It need not necessarily be a stroke of good fortune for that selfishness. No, it's the unselfish outlook that is best.

My morning thrill comes of watching the Boy Scouts directing traffic. I happen to live near a busy corner where each school day one of these chaps is stationed regularly. I have no idea what the traffic experts think of the scheme or the drivers of cars have to say. They may applaud, they may criticize or they may merely sit pretty. I am entitled to my opinion as a free born American citizen and that's what I intend to express.

I'll admit that I don't stand and gawk at these youngsters but keep about my business, catching a glimpse of their doings as I pass and thinking of their alertness and unflinching qualities. If some wise man tells me that I am all wrong I shall not believe him. In fact I'm ready to argue that the idea is 100 per cent O. K.

Only the other morning, when there was abundant slush on the highway I saw how one Boy Scout and his signal aided the traffic and I was convinced that it must have been helpful. I saw them. I saw the boy who had painted "Stop" signal and heard him blow his whistle. The truck that was approaching halted promptly. The boy had seen an electric car coming round the other corner. Had he failed to stop the automobile there might have been a bump and there might not. I am sure that the automobile would have had to put the brakes on and make an abrupt stop with the chances of skidding through the slush and possibly crashing against the trolley. When the youthful traffic director saw that the trolley had stopped to take on passengers he gave the auto driver the signal to come on. It was first class business, showing that the boy understood his job, knew that traffic should not be needlessly delayed but kept moving. The boy himself was "on the job" every minute. I admired him for it and I take this opportunity to extend him my congratulations and all the Boy Scouts and those who teach and help them. Incidentally, I don't see why automobile drivers shouldn't be grateful and among the strongest supporters of the Boy Scouts.

Nowadays we hear considerable about compulsory automobile liability insurance and proposed changes in the present system. Many ideas are advanced, with force and eloquence, all tending to upset the arrangement that has been in existence only a year and two months or so. I do not contend that the plan under which the State is now operating is perfection or anything approaching that, but I must say that it is entitled to a larger trial than it has had.

No sooner had we established compulsory insurance of automobiles than bills and petitions were filed with the Legislature seeking to change this or that feature of the law. In fact, I can almost say that before the system went into effect proposed legislation was submitted that would alter some of the main features. It only shows that some people want to experiment with an experiment (if you know what I mean).

I maintain that the whole thing is still in an experimental stage, that it hasn't had a fair show and that whatever its faults they should be studied and observed before any tinkering with the law is sanctioned by the General Court. That, however, is not the view of a number of people. Just because the rates were thought too stiff all sorts of proposals were made. Not that I am anxious to have high rates, or low rates or anything in between. A State fund is one of the cures set before the Legislature at the present time. For all I know it may be exactly what is needed. On the other hand it may be far from that. Whether it is or not, this is no time for Massachusetts to start such a thing. History in other States shows that State funds in various forms of insurance have not worked so well.

However, I am not pleading for either side in this matter. I do believe that the original idea seemed sound enough to warrant the operation of a compulsory system. Why not let it go on at least for the present year and see what happens? In my modest opinion we can gain nothing by switching from one experiment to another year after year at the whole thing will become chaotic and we won't know where we are at.

Judging from what readers of this column have to tell us there is a feeling of resentment against the person who drives his automobile through mud or slush or merely plain water and splashes it all over the pedestrian. I dare say that there are many indifferent drivers who are inconsiderate and care not what happens as long as they are protected or unmolested. Sometimes it isn't the driver's fault. I say this as an onlooker, solely. There are times when a driver gets a signal from a traffic officer to "go ahead" and when he obeys he sends his car through whatever assortment of snow, mud and water there may be. How can he help splashing pedestrians under such circumstances?

Now it is not for me to defend the mud-splashing motorists. They have, in times past, handed me as raw a deal as anybody. But there are occasions when they must drive through mud, slush and water and either because the crosswalks have not been cleaned as they should have been or at the behest of a cop. To me the worst offender is the driver who starts to drive his car into his garage then decides to stop on the sidewalk while he gets out and does a few things either in the garage or the house or both. He leaves his car blocking the entire sidewalk which means that pedestrians must get out in the street at the risk of stepping into snow or whatever it may be. That driver has no excuse and I won't lift a hand to save him from the angry multitude.

"Why don't we have modern street signs in Newton?" asks H. G. L. You know," he continues, "that in New York you can find what might be called double street signs at each corner. We look at the sign and we see what thoroughfare we are on and also the name of the cross street. In Newton, and Boston, too, we find the name of the cross street but not the main thoroughfare. It must be assumed that a person wouldn't venture out without ascertaining on which street he was walking and that he has seen people stop and ask, 'What street is this?' and he perfectly serious and blameless in their ignorance.

"We have nice-looking street signs in Newton but they don't tell enough. Might we not have at corners these double signs which would enlighten the stranger and still be in harmony with the general neat appearance of our streets?"

A MILLION DOLLARS

Everyday a business man—in big business or small—makes plans to protect and develop his business, so that his income may increase. But too few consider what has happened to their families when that income stops for not many can accumulate a million dollars. Life insurance provides the way—insurance in a sound company, under a liberal policy. You will be interested in the advertisement of the Metropolitan Life Insurance Company appearing elsewhere in this paper. It points out the many ways by which insurance serves both home and business, and will perhaps bring to your mind some new ideas for yourself. The local office of the Metropolitan Life is glad to advise you. Mr. Edward A. Robertson is the manager of the Newton office which is located at 313 Washington street, Newton, in the new Washington building.

The Mather Class

Prof. Kirtley F. Mather discussed religious skepticism from the time of Habakkuk to Harry Elmer Barnes, at the regular weekly meeting of the Mather Class last Sunday morning at the Newton Centre Woman's Club House.

This was the fourth lecture of the series, which has been relating the problems and perplexities of ancient Judea to our modern times. We have had Amos, Hosea, and Micah. Prof. Mather used Smith's translation. We know little about Habakkuk. The name means to care or embrace. Some commentators think it pertains to the fact that Habakkuk embraced God in connection with his religious prophecy. He lived in the 7th century B. C., and was a contemporary of Jeremiah. He came after Amos, Hosea, and Micah, but not much after Micah, that is, only a generation. Habakkuk was the first of the Hebrew skeptics. He expected and anticipated the development of human thought. He took the law of Amos, the love of Hosea, and the reasonableness of the religion of Micah and expressed them in turns that could be readily understood. He brought dogmatic tradition and ritualistic endeavor down to the plane of everyday thought.

He looked at life and found bitter experiences. Part of the nation had been destroyed. The two tribes that were left were in imminent danger of being slaughtered. The leaders were sinful. Their lives were not only sinful but were also unsatisfactory to themselves. Experience did not justify optimistic conclusions. Habakkuk doubted Jehovah's love for His people as well as His wish to bring them out of their misfortune. He had called on Jehovah and Jehovah had apparently not heard him. Accepting the idea that Jehovah was righteous, Habakkuk applies the practical, empirical test, how does it work? He was the forerunner of the great dramatist who wrote Job.

No matter how often Jehovah is told that things are wrong, he sends no help and does not appear to make any immediate response. In the past Jehovah had taken care of Israel, but in Habakkuk's time the sinful seemed to be prosperous and the righteous to fail. Man appeared to be like any other animal or like a mere cog in a machine. It was a picture of gloom.

But Habakkuk wanted to get the facts before he committed himself. He said he took his stand on the watch tower. That was more than an evidence of a desire to make merely a scientific inquiry. It demonstrated his moral temper. He wanted to see what answer he could get back from his plea. He relied on experience from the outside to a certain extent, but he also looked to the inner experience for help. He stood on the rampart of his own faith, which was founded on the facts of history. He did not drift indolently with the crowd. He took the responsibility of breasting the current. A real skeptic implies earnestness, simplicity, and sincerity. He recognized a duty toward truth, a responsibility to a definite obligation. He knew that men who drift never discover anything. He also recognized the value of patience, which taught him not to expect an immediate and final answer. Jehovah told Habakkuk to write his vision on tablets, that he may run that readeth it.

The point was made that the right course will live by his faithfulness. This was the answer to the challenge of experience. Habakkuk was a man of the greatest faith. The inner voice came to him. He knew that righteousness would win, even though he had no objective proof and it ran counter to experience. He felt that right would triumph and that righteousness was more powerful than everything else. Experience may be against the idea. Observations may deny it. The feeling may be irrational, but you cannot shake it out of mankind that righteous ideas, if not righteous people, are sure to triumph. We never can get a final answer to all our questions as to what is righteous. We continue to grow as long as we are troubled anew by new perplexities. In Habakkuk's case, though everything went against him, and even through bitter experiences, sorrow and suffering, his faith was unshaken. This word for faithfulness is an interesting one in the Hebrew. The same word is used for steadiness and steadfastness. It was used when Aaron supported Moses in battle. It also means faithful discharge of the duties of public office and obligations between individuals. It means fidelity between man and wife, truth between all people, and honesty in all walks of life.

We all have much potential ability, much of which remains dormant because we fail to cultivate it. By cultivation the greatest faithfulness can be developed, in order to speed the coming triumph of righteousness. Habakkuk condemns the self-centered selfishness and self sufficiency of the enemies of Israel in their motives and deeds. He makes another point, and this is the high point of his prophecy. Doomed are those whose own strength is their God. We have today a tendency in some quarters to reduce religion to humanism in the attempt of man to give himself the fullest opportunity for self expression. He who is dependent on his own strength alone cannot lift himself very far. The great victories come to those who attempt to be more than themselves, who try to accomplish what has never been done before. They may have ideals, dreams, and pictures of things far beyond what they can see, but they succeed when they use all the forces available for them to use. The world is filled with mysterious forces, few of which are known to us. We can rely on our own strength only to a certain extent. He who makes that one his sole reliance is doomed in the long run.

There are two groups of thinkers: 1. Those who try to escape from nature. 2. Those who embrace nature. Habakkuk observed what was going on within nature.

Some try to escape from nature by withdrawing into the realm of pure reason.

Others confine themselves to inner experiences. They are the mystics who commune with God through their innermost soul.

Still others deny the existence of inner experiences and recognize only the outer ones. They are the mechanists.

A fourth group believes in religious ecstasy and lives in a world of dreams which they know is not real. We should embrace nature, as Habakkuk did. There are matter, energy, space, and time, and there are also intangibles like beauty, truth, and love. These are non-temporal and non-spatial realities with very real values. We can, even in adversity, live with tranquil serenity of mind. We can face problems as they come. We can feel the rightness of the universe. This idea is justified because it works.

The program for the next few Sundays is as follows:

March 10—"Gethsemane, the Greatest Sorrow in Human History"; March 17, Judge Fred Field is expected to speak; March 24, Prof. Mather will talk on "Calvary, the Greatest Faith in Human History"; March 31, "Bethany, the Greatest Triumph in Human History."

withdrawing into the realm of pure reason.

Others confine themselves to inner experiences. They are the mystics who commune with God through their innermost soul.

Still others deny the existence of inner experiences and recognize only the outer ones. They are the mechanists.

A fourth group believes in religious ecstasy and lives in a world of dreams which they know is not real.

We should embrace nature, as Habakkuk did. There are matter, energy, space, and time, and there are also intangibles like beauty, truth, and love. These are non-temporal and non-spatial realities with very real values. We can, even in adversity, live with tranquil serenity of mind. We can face problems as they come. We can feel the rightness of the universe. This idea is justified because it works.

The class gives the drama, St. Claudius, March 27, at the Baptist Church. Everybody is welcome.

The program for the next few Sundays is as follows:

March 10—"Gethsemane, the Greatest Sorrow in Human History"; March 17, Judge Fred Field is expected to speak; March 24, Prof. Mather will talk on "Calvary, the Greatest Faith in Human History"; March 31, "Bethany, the Greatest Triumph in Human History."

ORR-MYERS

Horace W. Orr of Newtonville and Miss Claire L. Myers of Boston and Bangor, Maine, were married in New York City on February 14 and sailed for Bermuda that day. Rev. A. M. Ellis, D.D., of the Central Congregational Church of Newtonville officiated.

Mrs. Orr is a graduate nurse and during the World War served long and efficiently in that capacity in France where she had previously traveled and studied. She comes of an old Quaker family of Philadelphia where she has recently been studying floriculture in the School of Horticulture for Women at Ambler. Mr. Orr is well and favorably known to a host of friends throughout the Newtons. Mr. and Mrs. Orr will be at home to their friends at 258 Mill street on Tuesdays in April.

DRESSED LIKE PRIEST, ARRESTED

Albert J. Leary of 131 I street, South Boston, was arrested Monday afternoon at Newton Highlands by Patrolman Forrestall on the charge of obtaining money under false pretences. Leary had been canvassing homes at Newton Highlands soliciting money which he claimed was to be devoted to charitable purposes. He was garbed in clerical attire, including a Roman collar, such as priests wear. In the Newton court Tuesday he was sentenced to 30 days in jail and then the sentence was suspended.

GAS KILLS WOMAN

Mrs. Elizabeth Clarkson of 780 Boylston street, Newton Highlands, was asphyxiated Monday afternoon by gas which had been escaping in the collar of the house. Mrs. Clarkson, who was 70 years of age was found unconscious by her daughter, Mrs. John Silveira who summoned Dr. George Baxter. The latter, upon arriving at the house called the fire department. Dr. Baxter and the firemen worked over Mrs. Clarkson for some time, using both the prone method of resuscitation and a pulmotor. She was then taken to the Newton Hospital in the police ambulance and was pronounced dead upon arrival at the hospital.

the State Federation. The platform was a place of beauty, with gorgeous flowers; the balcony, even stairs, were thronged.

In the words of the president, Mrs. Azel A. Packard: "A legislative meeting of over 1,500 women is as significant an occasion for the U. S. as the inauguration of air-line mail to Panama or the manufacture of news print from cornstalks. As citizens we count so heavily in the political world that our legislative meeting is not only fitting but essential. There is no limit any longer to the field of women's activities or to the scope of her direct or indirect influence. Time was when there was a line fixed as the equator across which women did not go, in working for any cause, whether a cure for a mosquito pest or a cure for war." Whereupon she went on to compare women's discovery of the absurdity of that imaginary line with the quick-witted definition of the small boy who stated that the equator was an imaginary line, and when asked by the teacher if one could hang clothes on the line, he retorted, "Yes, sir, imaginary clothes!" Generations have imaginary objections to women's participation in important work, but now they know that no imaginary lines can confine them," she continued.

Greetings from the Commonwealth were brought by Governor Allen, at whose entry to the hall the assemblage arose. His remarks, in effect, were that women are looking at both sides of the question today, and use no snap judgment in discussion of problems.

He urged greater interest in social conditions, for the welfare of unfortunate "brothers and sisters," especially mentioning increased hospital accommodations which he urged in his inaugural address, declaring that there is more to government than the business side.

Welcome was also extended by Charles F. Rowley, chairman of the board of Selectmen of Brookline, who was courageous enough to admit that he voted against suffrage 10 years ago, but had lived long enough to realize his mistake. He congratulated the Federation on its many accomplishments and paid a graceful tribute to women in politics.

Mrs. E. Wilson Lincoln, hostess president of the Woman's Club of Brookline, in her address of welcome, told of the formation of their Club and of its growth in Town service until it had become a fundamental force recognized, and called attention to the founding of Brookline as a town 223 years ago, with 75 years before that as a part of the settlement of Boston, and the pride of still maintaining a town government, with an area of 4,500 acres, and a population of 45,000, a residential community rich in historic interest, modern charm and prosperity.

The Legislative program was introduced by Mrs. Fred L. Pigeon, chairman. Hon. Leverett Saltonstall, Speaker of the House of Representatives, amused the audience by telling of his small son's response when asked how he liked his father's speaking. "I don't like it," he answered, "because it takes mother too long to write his speeches." Speaking on the "Sacred Right of Free Petition," Mr. Saltonstall said that "Our Commonwealth prides herself on being governed under one of the oldest written constitutions in the world, one of the most important of its unique provisions being the sacred right of free petition for every citizen. The Legislature is often criticised because of its annual and lengthy sessions, and because it is constantly making unnecessary changes in the law, and to a certain extent this criticism is just, but the Legislature meets annually largely to allow every citizen to use his right of petition, and if this is properly exercised, the session will not be long."

Grace Morrison Poole spoke on the Helen A. Whittier Fund, recalling the purpose of this memorial.

On the bill for zoning of the State Highways, Mr. Edward T. Hartman, State Consultant on Planning, spoke eloquently on the natural beauty of this State, and the improvement by way of highways, both of which are being ruined by the encroachment of the automobile age which is making New England "an automobile slum," due to filling stations, pumps, garages, hot dog stands, placards, and billboards. In matter of practical money value, as appeal to tourists, he stated that this indifference to natural resources was destroying an asset to New England of $500,000,000 a year. Possibly this practical side of the question may sink into the intelligence of those who fail to appreciate a higher grade of worth. The objection to the bill, made by Vernon Mason, a lawyer of Boston, included the hoary argument of encroachment of State upon Town rights, in this instance of zoning. Mr. Hartman has already spiked his adversary's guns as to the coming of zoning by the Towns, by stating that opponents to the bill declare that if it passes, Towns will zone these areas as unrestricted districts, which is no threat at all, as they are already unrestricted.

Dr. George H. Bigelow, Commissioner of Public Health, presented the necessity of pasteurizing or certifying all milk by dealers handling over 200 quarts, basing his argument on the epidemic of septic sore throat last Summer, which sickened 1,000 persons in a town of 4,000, killing 43 of that number. Tuberculosis in cows killed over 100 persons last year. In this State, and outbreaks of septic fever and of typhoid were traced to raw milk. He declared that at the present rate of legislation it would take 40 years to protect the State. In opposition to the bill, George F. E. Story, Agricultural agent of Worcester County, stated that dairymen were rapidly cleaning up their herds, getting rid of danger at much less expense than if the State supervised, and in less time, and pleaded for time to be given for farmers to meet conditions. Speaking of pasteurization, he termed this not a panacea, but at best dependent upon the ability and equipment of the operator. He declared that the action of the Boston Board of Health calling for pasteurization of milk from certified dairies had driven from the Boston market quantities of high grade milk the purity of which had never been questioned. At the present time there are 63 towns and cities, having about 59 per cent. of the population under satisfactory conditions. The value of milk to children is far greater than possible danger of infection, authorities declare, he ended, and he pledged the women that the industry is working to solve its problems rapidly.

Mr. Francis Bardwell, State Inspector of Infirmarys, believes that "no family is complete unless the children have a grandmother or grandfather to look up to and care for. It should be a part of the modern child's education. And then he criticized modern youth most severely in saying that the present generation pushed old people to one side. His appeal for the House bill Licensing Boarding Homes for Aged People—a bill that doubtless was the direct outgrowth of the tragedy at Dedham of the home of the aged—caused the delegates of the meeting to endorse the principle of this bill, which was put to a vote.

The meeting also endorsed the Resolution for a Special Unpaid Commission to Study Children's Laws, after Mrs. Wenona Osborne Pinkham, executive secretary of the Massachusetts Civic League had presented this. She presented the lack of adequate investigation of the child and adoptive parents for adoptive cases, and compared statistics of one Juvenile Court in Massachusetts (Boston) with 26 in Arkansas, 58 in California, 21 in Georgia, 59 in Kansas, and 10 in Ohio. Massachusetts has about five courts which deal with children as regards family matters, just as all States have.

Legislation for the Reuniting of Separated Families of Aliens—the much discussed and heated basis for arguments on the immigration question—was presented by Mrs. Ethel Bird, Field secretary of the Department of Immigration and Foreign Communities of the National Board of Y. W. C. A. She presented the usual argument from the sentimental viewpoint of the individual hardship and tragedy, claiming that relief from quota clauses such as that of Mrs. Malcom Nichols, take lifetime in bringing together families. Mrs. Anna C. M. Tillinghast, U. S. Commissioner of Immigration for New England, at the Port of Boston, an able speaker, and clear thinker, presented her arguments against breaking down of American foundations with a logic and eloquence that was most convincing.

Viewing the hardships of Pilgrim fathers, of Revolutionary heroes, of the Civil War and of the World War, with eternal separation of families, with death to the best blood of the land, with broken lives in Veterans' Hospitals, all in the high service of country, she made clear how insignificant was the separation in individual cases which the quota exception clauses fail to cover, and which separation was voluntarily assumed by the immigrant coming to this country.

Mrs. E. Wilson Lincoln was full. Having come voluntarily—for economic advantage—he asks that the law of this land be set aside that his wife, children, parents, and others, may join him. Mrs. Tillinghast believes that if he is unwilling to abide by the provisions of our government he should purchase a steamship ticket and return to his family, thereby retaining it. She believes that those other people of this country who are opposed to restriction of immigration, are looking upon America as an asylum for the oppressed and depressed of the world, and think that nothing should interfere with individual self-betterment, an attitude that fails to realize that duty to America orders that we preserve the very life and spirit of the American people in protecting all things essentially American. She traced the cause and clauses of the immigration restrictive law, and indicated the many methods already provided for relief of situations.

In 1921 there were 6,000,000—chiefly American stock—unemployed walking our streets. At that very moment 30,000,000 people of war-wrecked Europe were seeking admission—to swell this tragic throng; hence the restrictive law of 1921. Should this be amended as now desired it would mean that 2,000,000 such relatives of aliens here would be permitted to enter! Even as it is they are coming faster than we can assimilate them, and teach them the ideals of our land. She ended by asking these pertinent questions: "Is the Government of America worthy of perpetuation? Shall the ideals and institutions which have made America a leader among nations of the world be preserved for posterity? If your answer is in the affirmative, then you must look beyond the hardship of the individual, and vote down, and work against, this amendment, and all other measures which would weaken or endanger our restricted immigration laws."

The meeting passed a resolve reaffirming its former stand on the enforcement of the 18th Amendment.

The afternoon held many interesting reports on Federation matters. Mrs. Thomas G. Rees, director of the Fourth District, gave a greeting that was delightful in appeal and idealism—perhaps some day it can be put in this Column. There were charming personal touches—speeches from past presidents, Mrs. Henry Collidge Mulligan, Mrs. Herbert Gurney, and two guests that won all hearts, Mrs. Cotton, a past president of the North Carolina State Federation of Women's Clubs, and Mrs. Malcolm Nichols, the Mayor's wife. But since this Mid-Winter meeting is essentially one legislative the morning session is the one most vital for report, here, and it has been done as fully as space permits. Report of the New England Council, by Mrs. Carl L. Schrader, of the Cause and Cure for War Conference, by Mrs. Charles E. French; of the General Federation Board Meeting, by Mrs. Arthur Devens Potter, all well-done, held information already familiar to the majority of Club-women, who follow events of this Club-world.

The delegates voted to send a telegram of congratulation to President Coolidge and of greeting to Mrs. Coolidge, welcoming her on her return to Massachusetts.

Representative Elliot Wadsworth, formerly secretary of the United States Treasury, speaking on "The Trend of Government" gave a comprehensive birdseye view of the risk of government ownership in certain industries, while pointing out the many enterprises for health and progress of citizens, reaching into huge sums, that are waiting attention, legitimately.

"The most difficult problem at the State House today is to determine how far Government management, control or ownership should go," he said. "There is a constant pressure to reach out. The purchase of the Boston Elevated, of all the docks in the Boston Harbor, to create a State Accident Insurance Fund, are a few of the larger plans. Their importance to the community is urged as a reason for making them Government Department. Where shall we draw the line? The general rule in Massachusetts has been that business which private enterprise can handle should be left in private hands under proper regulation. Even with such a policy, modern civilization has forced upon Government more and more responsibilities so varied as to be almost bewildering. "Here are some of the jobs which need to be done by the State, city or Metropolitan District. It is not a complete list, only a few obvious things clearly beyond the scope of private enterprise, and for Government action only.

A traffic tunnel to East Boston costing with approaches $15,000,000. Over passages at congested points, street widenings, a complete system of traffic lights, more traffic policemen, all in the interest of public safety and comfort. A new court house costing $4,000,000 to $5,000,000. Relief from the excessive congestion in our courts which is working hardship on all classes. A ten-year program of school construction in Boston to remove thousands of children from old portable buildings; replace out of date structures and keep pace with the growing demand at a cost estimated as high as $60,000,000. Immediate action in our institutions for the care of the feeble minded, already costing $11,000,000 a year, and yet with an active waiting list of 2129, many of whom are children, who might by early training become self-supporting. Carrying out plans already approved to provide additional water for Metropolitan Boston at a cost of perhaps $65,000,000. Enlargement of North and South Metropolitan sewers already over-charged. More and better developed playgrounds. More land for parks and breathing spaces. Looking into the future, no better investment can be made than land for such purposes. The development of public health nursing, school clinics, health centers on a liberal basis to keep pace with modern scientific methods.

This list is a very strong argument against branching out into new and strange tasks. There are many who are enough to keep executives and law makers busy, to call for plenty of Government borrowing and provide ample demands on the taxpayers' pockets. Every job listed above is beyond a doubt in the field of Government. This cannot be said of insurance or docks or the Elevated. To show the difference, compare the relative value of a water supply for all the people with the service rendered by the Elevated. Water is a community necessity for public health, industry and fire protection. The use of insurance or credit and general taxation is fully justified to bring every citizen an ample supply of pure water. Service provided by the Elevated is on a very different basis. The amount of service must be regulated by income not by community welfare.

Competition is keen with railroads, taxi cabs, private autos, all paying taxes. Many citizens may be quite willing to have fewer street cars rather than more. In the discussion as to purchase of the Elevated little is said of the financial risks. Large figures have no terrors but we may well hesitate to take a flyer in the street railway business and borrow $10,000,000 to raise the necessary money. This is more than double the present debt of Massachusetts and exceeds the debt of the City of Boston by $20,000,000. All the property in the District is responsible for this debt. The taxpayers would be responsible for operating deficits. As transportation methods are changing and riding on street cars everywhere decreasing, deficits would be no surprise. Massachusetts has never hesitated to take community action when needed, but has been steadfast against Government ownership and has held to the principle that private initiative can accomplish more in the business field than a Government Bureau. By following these two fundamental policies, we can draw the line where Government activity should end.

The play is coached by Miss Louise Wetherbee and the cast is as follows: Isabel White '30; Dora Cummings '29; Francis Ober '29; Marshall Glazier '29; Barbara Nichols '29; Donald H. Briggs '30; Charles E. Smith '29; Silvia E. Parks '29; Emmons D. Brown '30; Jeannette E. Manning '29; Evan R. Collins '29; Richard K. Hapgood '30; Edward G. Smith '29; George E. Rath '29; Norman E. Harris '29. The parts of officers, soldiers, citizens, etc., will be taken by Warren T. Berry '29; Evelyn C. Hoag '29; John M. Hitchcock '29; Jean MacDonald '29; Betty Pratt '29; Barbara Thrall '29; Margaret M. Warren '29; Elsie K. Woodward '29; Harry S. Colony '30; Barbara Randlett '29; Arthur F. Chamberlain '29; Eleanor Bolster '30; Hannah Bond '30; Catherine L. Thompson '30.

The cover design to be used on the programs was designed by Gertrude M. Pearsall '29.

"This is the most ambitious undertaking the Drama Club has yet staged," said Daniel F. Koughn, faculty business manager of the production, "and has met with much enthusiasm through the entire school." The play is laid in America just at the outbreak of the Revolutionary War. After the death of Mr. Dudgeon the family gathers, vultures, for the reading of his will. The entire estate, however, is left to the family blacksheep, Richard Dudgeon, whose adventures furnish an entertaining and dramatic evening.

Royal Dadmun To Sing At Glee Club Concert

Makes Third Appearance With Highland Glee Club

Royal Dadmun who makes his third appearance with the Highland Glee Club of Newton on March 19th at the Newton High School Auditorium, Newtonville, has for years been a favorite in Boston, having had as many as seven appearances in one season here. He has been favored with most unusual press comments from leading Boston papers as well as newspapers all over the country.

Royal Dadmun is an American. The handling of his beautiful voice, his artistry and successful career, his plod the theory conclusively that one must first go to Europe in order to gain recognition in this country.

A native of Williamstown, Massachusetts, Mr. Dadmun when a very young man came to New York from his home in the Berkshires to see if the larger city would put its stamp of approval on what was thought to be an outstanding talent. If it were considered unusual, he would stay.

Before very long, Joseph Stransky of the New York Philharmonic and Emil Oberhofer of the Minneapolis Symphony Orchestra heard him and took him on a tour. Since then, besides his many coast to coast concert engagements, he has sung with the leading Orchestras and Oratorio Societies of the country. Among them are the Boston Symphony Orchestra, the Philadelphia Symphony Orchestra, the New York Philharmonic Orchestra, the Minneapolis Symphony Orchestra, the Mendelssohn Choir of Toronto and the New York Oratorio Society.

Mr. Dadmun has a baritone voice of unusual richness, mellowness and range. That, combined with his poetic appreciation and natural musical sensibility puts him on the list as one of our great American artists.

Thomas To Lecture On Arabia And Palestine

Only American Witness to Christian Conquest of Holy Land

Lowell Thomas lectures at the Elliot Church next Tuesday evening on "With Lawrence in Arabia and Palestine." Thomas himself has had a varied career of highly colored adventure. Up to the age of twenty-five he had been a newspaper man, in the west; had dug gold in Alaska; had received the A.B. and M.A. degrees and was seeking his Ph.D. degree at Princeton when the World War broke out. Lord Northcliffe stated that Thomas saw more of the war than any other man. He went from Flanders to the Argonne and the Alps, from the Pyrenees to Egypt, then to Arabia and Palestine.

As long as there is history Field Marshall Viscount Allenby will be known as the Christian conqueror of the Holy Land, having driven the flaming Crescent of the Turk from Palestine forever. Lowell Thomas was the only American observer to witness the success of this campaign.

Colonel Lawrence and his Arabic campaign in which he raised an army of 200,000 Bedouins in the desert to fight for England are still of prominent significance. Colonel Lawrence is a familiar figure in current events today as his activities recently in India have brought him attention from Parliament. From the obscurity of being a college professor Colonel Lawrence went to Arabia where he was the one man responsible for building up among the wild desert tribes loyalty to England. For this work he was made a Colonel, after which he promptly disappeared, only to be discovered some time later as "Private Shaw of the Air Force." He was dragged from hiding by newspaper publicity, and since has been in India, being mentioned as responsible for stirring up a counter-revolution in the interest of the Government's efforts to break up an Indian uprising. When parliamentary wrangling ordered his recall, he suddenly stepped up to one of the members, to say, "I'm Lawrence." No one knows where Lawrence will be next. His movements are the knowledge of the British Government and his own.

Lowell Thomas is the man who knew Lawrence and Allenby intimately in relation to their campaigns. His films are official and are offered as a permanent record of history in the making.

Local Kiwanis Club Has Annual Irish Night

Members Enjoy Entertainment At Auburndale Club

The Newton Kiwanis Club held its annual Irish meeting on March 12th, at the Auburndale Club and the members entertained the ladies as guests at luncheon. President Walter Whalin presided, Bill Skelton officiated as song leader and Miss Marion Diviney was at the piano. An excellent program of vocal and instrumental Irish music was presented with Mrs. Will White as soloist. By courtesy of Clyde G. Holmes of the Community Theatre, moving pictures of German U boat activities during the World War were presented. Bill Skelton in behalf of the Club presented President Whalin with a beautiful floral tribute and President Walter feelingly responded.

The next meeting of the Club will be held on March 19th and will be dedicated to the surviving past presidents, one of whom will preside.

Efforts are being made to procure the attendance of a substantial delegation from the Newton Club to the annual convention of Kiwanis International which will be held in Milwaukee, Wis., June 23 to 27. It is expected that over 6000 delegates and visitors from the 1766 Kiwanis Clubs in the United States and Canada will be in attendance. The convention office has already been opened in Milwaukee and registration of delegates and visitors and the assignment of hotel accommodations are already under way.

Hon. Frank O. Lowden, ex-governor of Illinois and Hon. William Renick Riddell, Justice of the Supreme Court of Ontario are two internationally known men who will address the convention. Mr. Lowden who was a possible presidential candidate last year will speak on agriculture. Justice Riddell is assigned the topic of citizenship.

Rotarians Addressed By Harry Burroughs

Founder of Newsboys' Foundation Is Guest Speaker

The guest speaker at the regular Monday noon meeting of the Newton Rotary Club at the Woodland Golf Club was Mr. Harry E. Burroughs, who gave a fine address on the Newsboys' Foundation. Mr. Burroughs started as a newsboy the day he landed in this country and sold papers in Boston for several years, day in and day out. During his spare moments he took up the study of law and on Nov. 1, 1921, handed his customers his business card, having successfully passed the bar examinations, and said that he would appreciate their business. He opened his law office that afternoon. His success as an attorney enabled him to establish the Foundation last fall. The purpose of the work is to promote the welfare of the newsboys, many of whom are under handicaps unknown to the public. Each boy pays 10 cents a week and out. Classes in singing, orchestra, band, harmonica, painting, sculpturing, literary art, and handicraft classes where five trades are being taught. Each boy applying for membership fills out a questionnaire from which the trustees learn of his earnings, dependents, and ambitions. If he is interested in some one particular art or trade his ability is tried out along those lines. The entire membership is divided into wards, along professional or vocational lines, and the boys are taught to govern themselves in much the same manner as a city government is properly conducted.

Attempts are being made by the Convention Committee to secure other speakers such as Dr. S. Parkes Cadman, Dr. Henry Emerson Fosdick, and John D. Rockefeller, Jr.

Volunteers Tell Of Service Experiences

Central Council and Women's Clubs In Joint Meeting

An "experience meeting" on volunteer service was held at the headquarters of the Newton Y. W. C. A. on Friday, March 8. Luncheon was served by the American Home Committee of the Newton Federation of Women's Clubs, of which Mrs. LeRoy P. Guion is chairman.

The meeting was called by Mrs. J. Porter Russell, President of the Newton Federation of Women's Clubs, and was held under the joint auspices of the Federation and the Newton Central Council. Mrs. E. Payson Upham, Chairman of the Civics and Community Service Committees of the Newton Federation, presided. She said that the meeting was one at which volunteers would tell their "own stories," with the hope of encouraging other volunteers to follow in their footsteps.

Mrs. F. A. Day, Jr., was the first volunteer to tell her experiences as a friend to the girls of the Supper Club at the Stearns School Centre. She said that her friendship with these girls had been a source of real pleasure and interest to her, and that she hoped they had enjoyed it as much as she had. Snoper, she said, was really the excuse for a merry time and a friendly interchange of ideas.

The next experience told was that of Miss Dorothy Simpson, who for some years has done work for our family welfare society, the Welfare Bureau. Her work began by taking children to the hospital in her car. One boy who hadn't grown for eight years was her especial care. Under treatment he has grown 2 inches since last spring, and is a different boy at school and at home. Miss

Manufacturing Plant Moves To Nonantum

Raytheon Company To Occupy The Former Saxony Mills

The Raytheon Manufacturing Company, manufacturers of radio tubes, and one of the largest concerns of its kind in the world is to move its plant to the large four story mill building on Chapel street, Nonantum, formerly occupied by the Saxony Worsted Company. This company has been located for the past four years at Cambridgeport and because of its rapidly increasing business requires a larger plant. It employs about 700 persons, 80% of whom are girls and women.

The Raytheon Company produces about 15,000 radio tubes a day and the work being of a clean nature it is anticipated that little difficulty will be met in obtaining an ample supply of employees from Newton and surrounding places. The plant at Cambridge will be continued in operation for quite some time so that the output of the concern will not be affected. An employment manager is at the Nonantum factory hiring girls who will be instructed in the various branches of the industry. The office force of the company will come to Nonantum about June 1.

The officials of the Raytheon Company are—L. K. Marshall of Cambridge, President; Fred Williams, of Cambridge, Vice-President and Sales Manager; D. T. Schultz, of Brookline, Treasurer and General Manager; J. E. Spencer, of Beaumont avenue, Newtonville, Manager of Equipment.

Simpson said that "noblesse oblige" should be the motto of those who have advantages, and that volunteer work was the surest road to being an

There is one sure way to get it. Save systematically. Our Plan I is designed to accomplish just such a purpose. Monthly Savings Shares are said to have a "matured value" of $200 each. A payment is made of $10 per month until the amount paid in plus dividends added by the bank and compounded quarterly for approximately 140 months matures the shares. $10 per month grows to $2000. Similarly $5 per month grows to $1000; $25 to $5000; $40 to $8000. Other amounts grow in the same proportion.

THE WEEK IN NEWTON SPORTS

EXPECT STRONG TWIRLING STAFF

For the past ten days Coach John L. Sullivan has been looking over the battery candidates for the Newton high school baseball team from which he hopes to develop a strong pitching staff. Infield candidates reported yesterday and are getting the feel of the ball and loosening up their throwing arms by tossing the ball around in the old gymnasium building.

Bill Reilly, ace of the pitching staff last year, did not join the other battery candidates until recently having been instructed by Coach Sullivan to take a rest from athletics for a short while. Since school opened and the football candidates were called out the West Newton lad has been under the pressure of practice, turning to hockey shortly after the close of the gridiron season. Reilly becomes over age on May 21st but until that time will endeavor to twirl as effectively as he did last year in interscholastic competition.

Among the foremost candidates for other positions on the pitching staff are Pillion, Kraber, and Olsen. The first named was an outstanding player on the intermediate varsity last year and played in the outfield when not taking his turn in the box. Behind the bat the prospects are not quite as bright as there does not seem to be any outstanding under study to Phil Andres. Andres was one of the main cogs of the 1928 champion team and his bat was responsible for many rallies which sent the opposition to the orange and black down to defeat. A few days of good mild weather to drive the frost out of the ground and dry the surface water up and Coach Sullivan hopes to get his team out of doors.

Yale Wins Deciding Game

Yale's crack hockey team won its first series with Harvard since 1925 Wednesday night by defeating the Crimson, 3 to 2, in a close hard-fought game which necessitated three 10-minute overtime periods to determine the winner. Harvard, the underdog because of its weakened condition by injury to its star centre and the loss of its two best goalies through scholastic difficulties, gave the Bulldogs many an anxious moment. Harvard opened the scoring but a short while later Yale scored two goals to take the lead. Bert Bigelow, Harvard's defense player who had made the opening tally, tied the count with another unassisted goal, which sent the game into overtime. Nelson, Yale substitute, finally took a pass out from behind the Harvard goal and drove it past Newell, Harvard goal tender who had played brilliantly all evening, to put the Blue in the winners' rank at Charles Davidson's high point. The high point scorer for Newton with a first in the 40-yard freestyle and a third in the 100-yard freestyle events. Brown of Newton was second in the dive and third in the breaststroke for four points. Newton's other point was scored by Neville with a third in the backstroke.

Cronin Goes to Baltimore

The Boston Braves have sent Bill Cronin, West Newton youth, to the Baltimore Orioles under an optional agreement. Another season in the minors should prove of more value to the ex-Newton high catcher than a season in the bullpen with the Tribe. The Orioles have sent many stars up to the big leagues in years past, including the Master Mind, John McGraw. Cronin has joined his new teammates at Atlanta, Georgia, and should clinch the regular catching berth.

Y Juniors Lose

The Boston Boys Club senior swimming team defeated the Newton Y seniors last Saturday night, 39 to 11, in the winners' tank at Charles Davidson's high point. The high point scorer for Newton with a first in the 40-yard freestyle and a third in the 100-yard freestyle events. Brown of Newton was second in the dive and third in the breaststroke for four points. Newton's other point was scored by Neville with a third in the backstroke.

Newton Tigers on Short End

The Newton Y juniors basketball team defeated the Newton Tigers, 26 to 10 at the Newton Y Saturday night. Captain Earle of the Y five was high scorer with 16 points. Benson with six and McKinney with four points completed the scoring.

Still Undeafed

Bill Locke of Newtonville, an outstanding member of the Bowdoin College swimming team, has been undeafed in his favorite event the breaststroke. Although he has lost his first year of competitive swimming Locke has done extremely well in Bowdoin's dual meets.

Win Two Games

The Newton high school first and second varsity girls' basketball teams won victories over the Wellesley high school teams last week Friday. The first varsity lineup included Ruth Chase, Emily Dunleavy, Fanny Farmer, Louise Horvath, Elizabeth Locke and Katherine Locke. The second varsity was composed of Betty Farnum, Adelaide Fogg, Barbara Goodrich, Lena Jocelyn, Marjorie Priam, Katherine Martin, Harriet Watts and Natalie Welch.

Cambridge Swamps Newton

The Cambridge Y basketball team swamped the Newton Y five in the semi-finals of the Y. M. C. A. basketball championship tournament, 76 to 16 last Saturday night at the Everett Y court. Lynn defeated Quincy in the other semi-final to gain the right to oppose Cambridge tomorrow for the title. In the Newton-Cambridge game P. Lynch and Neale were high scorers with 33 and 22 points respectively. Cunningham led for Newton with eight points.

Davidson Stars With 15 Points

Edgar Davidson's swimming enabled the Newton Y swimming team to win its dual meet with the Providence Y mermen in the Newton tank last Friday evening, 29 to 25. Davidson, a former Newton high swimmer, captured three first places for 15 points. He took the 20-yard freestyle after a great battle with Burgess of Providence. In the 100-yard freestyle and 20-yard backstroke events Davidson defeated Ferrara of Providence by close margins. The relay race which opened the meet was bitterly fought with Newton leading until the final lap when Burgess of Providence touched in the finish at the same time as the Newton anchor man.

Other Newton swimmers to score were McNamara second in the dive and third in the breaststroke, Adams third in the 100, Patterson third in the 20-yard freestyle, Briggs tied for third in the dive and Walker tied for third in the backstroke. The relay team was composed of Patterson, Walker, Briggs and Harmon.

Country Day Wins

The Country Day school track team defeated the championship Browne & Nichols team last week Friday on the latter track, 32 1/2 to 30 1/2. The outcome of the meet was not determined until the final event, the 1000-yard run, which was won by Martin Brown with his captain and teammate James Cobb second. The Cambridge team was without its individual star, Fred Klauer, who a week previous had won the private school championship for Browne and Nichols by scoring 14 1/2 points. The summary:

Forty-yard dash—Won by Green (C); second, Baldwin (B); third, Butler (B). Time—1 4/5 sec.

Forty-five-yard low hurdles—Won by C. Campbell (B); second, Plummer (B); third, Warren (B). Time—6 sec.

Three hundred-yard run—Won by Green (C); second, Capt. Plummer (B); third, Brown (C). Time—38 4/5 sec.

Six hundred-yard run—Won by Capt. Cobb (C); second, Reynolds (B); third, Davis (B). Time—1 m. 24 1/5 sec.

One thousand-yard run—Won by Brown (C); second, Cobb (C); third, Page (B). Time—2 min. 40 sec.

Twelve-pound shot—Won by McGowen (B); second, Bancroft (B); third, Makas (B). Distance—42 ft. 8 1/2 in.

Running high jump—Tie for first between LaBoucher and Green of Country Day; third, tie between Plummer (B), Tarlton (B), White (C), and Cobb (C). Height—5 ft.

Class C Squash Raquets

Final matches in Class C of the Massachusetts Squash Raquets Team series were played last Saturday. Newton Centre defeated Harvard 4 to 1 and finished in seventh place followed by Country Day with 3 to 2 margin over Waltham. The Newton Club scored a slam at the Harvard Medico's expense and ended up in tenth place. The championship was won by Harvard 32 by a one point margin over the Harvard Club.

ELECT SCHIPPER HOCKEY CAPTAIN

Fred Schipper, substitute right wing, was elected to the captaincy of the 1930 Newton high hockey team at a meeting of the letter men on Wednesday afternoon at which the official team picture was taken. Coach Dr. Martin may have his troubles developing a sextet next year that will be up to the standard of recent Newton teams. Every single one of the six regulars will graduate in June as will some of the substitutes who earned their letters this year. James Brown, Alexander Fletcher, Bill Reilly, Joe Gilligan, Dick Gardner, and Captain Daniel Harrington wore the orange and black on the ice for the last time in the recent championship series in the Arena. Howard Wilkie and John Nichols, substitutes, were the other players in addition to captain-elect Schipper, who has two more years at Newton and the others named to win letters. They are both seniors making Schipper the only letterman available next year. Phil Andres, sub-defence will be back as will Scully, sub-forward, who with Schipper will form a nucleus for Coach Dr. Martin to work with. There were some like-looking prospects on the junior varsity team of this year who will get their varsity chance next winter.

Elect McCarthy Court Leader

The basketball team will be weakened by graduation along with the hockey team. John McCarthy, forward on this year's quintet, is the only regular to return next year. Captain Norman Payne, Harold Ham, Merritt Schwartz, and Kingsland, the other first string men, will graduate as will Harris, Widener, and Lawrence, substitutes awarded letters.

Virginia Rice Beaten

Virginia Rice of Newton Centre, who is in Europe where she has been playing in several tennis tournaments, was eliminated from the Monte Carlo tourney recently by Cilly Aussem, the young German star, 6-1, 6-0. Fraulein Aussem was beaten in the next round by Miss Eileen Bennett of England, 6-3, 6-4.

Brophy Elected Captain

Lawrence "Pat" Brophy was elected captain of the newly organized Newton Town Club's football team at a recent meeting of thirty-five candidates. Brophy was an all scholastic player while at Newton high and he also played at Brown University.

Y. M. C. A.

Dr. Cecil W. Clark's talk on "Diseases of the Chest," brought out a larger number than usual at the meeting of the Fellowship Club on last Monday evening. The main part of his talk was on tuberculosis. He showed a film from the State Department of Health illustrating the modern treatment of the disease. Don Hyde very kindly placed at the disposal of the Association his moving picture machine. The speaker next week will be Dr. A. E. King whose subject will be, "The Stomach."

Last Saturday the Newton bowling team met defeat at Lynn in a candle pin match, three points to one. Mr. H. W. Bascom, General Secretary of the Newton Y. M. C. A. was re-elected Chairman of the Port Work Committee at a meeting held at the City Club last Friday.

Mr. Clyde G. Hess has just returned from the National Camp Directors' Conference at Atlantic City. Members are taking a great deal of interest in emblems offered for bringing in new members. The following gentlemen have received emblems for bringing in two or more: W. A. Davidson, Edward Fahey, Theodore Olson, John Dardas, Clayton Hoyt, Joseph Barnicle, Elmer Fernald, Leo Melanson, Elmer Nelson, and Wm. F. Coye.

These emblems were presented by Walter S. Bruton at the gymnasium class last Friday evening.

NEWTON WRESTLERS TAKE 2-STATE TITLE

Newton wrestlers won the annual two-state wrestling championship by taking four out of six matches from the pick of Massachusetts and Rhode Island grapplers in the Cambridge Y. M. C. A. last night. Boston won the other two, while North Adams, Fall River, Providence, Lynn and Cambridge failed to produce a finalist. The Newton victors were: Joseph Santillo in the 115 pound class; Joseph Arcaris, 126 pound class; Frank Cassidy, 135 pound class, and Henry Vachon, 147 pound class.

Dr. Fred E. Simm, the coach of the Newton Y. M. C. A. team, is largely responsible for the fine showing of the Newton wrestlers.

UNDER THE GILDED DOME

Public hearings by legislative committees are comparatively few these days. This does not mean that there are no more hearings to be held, but many of the most important matters have been heard and few remain to be considered at open meetings. Executive sessions are now in order and every day reports are filed in batches. Under the rules, with an extension voted last week, the committees have until March 27 to report on all matters before them. This does not include the Ways and Means Committees of the two branches which have plenty before them.

If one was hazard a guess as to the probable length of the present session one would have to take so many things into consideration that a prophecy would be somewhat rash. Conservative members feel that the General Court will be on the job until well into May. The situation at this time is about as it was a year ago at the same period. It will be remembered that last year was one of the longest sessions in history and that it was well into July before prorogation was made. However, there is little likelihood of a long session this year, for there is marked evidence of co-operation between the Legislature and the Governor's office. This would indicate a comparatively small number of vetoes, if any at all. Governor Allen has been a member of both the House and Senate and understands procedure and the problems confronting the committees and the House and Senate. He is not disposed to assume the role of a dictator but will advise and suggest if his advice and suggestions are sought. Under these conditions the General Court of 1929 should be one of the ablest and most effective in a long period.

The annual attempt to bring about the abolishment of capital punishment proved unsuccessful. In neither branch did it command a rollcall. The Senate rejected a bill for abolition by a voice vote and the House by a rising vote of 108 to 31.

One of the "events" of the week was the action of the House of the bill fixing the tax limit of the city of Boston at $12.75. Mr. Shattuck of Boston sought to have the bill amended to give the Mayor and City Council of Boston the right to fix the amount for this year only. His amendment was rejected by a rollcall vote of 150 to 64. Messrs. Baker and Luitwieler voted for the Shattuck amendment and Representative Thompson against it.

The so-called "Port Authority" bill of Mayor Nichols has been reported by the Committee on Municipal Affairs. It is similar to that of Mr. Luitwieler the provisions of which were summarized in this column last week.

If a bill reported by the Committee on Election Laws is enacted by this year's General Court there will not be another referendum like that of last November when voters in Senatorial districts had the opportunity to instruct the Senator from that district to vote to memorialize Congress to repeal the 18th amendment to the Federal constitution. The Committee on Election Laws has reported a bill providing that the operation of the "public opinion law," so called, be restricted to questions of policy within the exclusive legislative jurisdiction of the Commonwealth. It has long been regarded by many as useless for a State Legislature to attempt to influence the Federal Congress in any of its actions.

The attempt on the part of some members of the Senate to "get back" at the head of the Commission on Civil Service has proved a failure. There was an item in the general appropriation bill for $5000 for expenses of the Civil Service Department in investigating applications. There was an attempt in the House to reduce the amount from $5000 to $1000. It failed. In the Senate, however, it was successful. When the amended bill went back to the House for concurrence the House refused to concur. Then it was returned to the Senate and that body voted to recede. The amount will therefore be $5000. If the recommendations of the Committee on Insurance are carried out there will be no change in the compulsory automobile liability insurance law this year. The committee has prepared a resolve providing for the appointment of a commission of seven to investigate all bills and suggested changes now before the Legislature. The commission would consist of one Senator, three Representatives and three members appointed by the Governor. It would study the entire situation including the petitions for repeal, liability for personal injury and death and all other matters. The study would be completed in time to report to the next year's General Court.

Miss Barbara M. Reynolds, head of the Social Service Department of the Junior League of Boston, told how the girls of the League do their volunteer work, which is mostly in the hospitals. Dismayed at first just by the smell of ether, the volunteer often becomes so changed in her attitude that she goes to the hospital two or three times a week instead of the one half day she promised. Some amuse children in the Children's Hospital, others take care of the hospital libraries or read to patients in the wards.

At the request of Mrs. Upham, Mrs. F. A. Day, Jr., again spoke, this time about the work of the Newton Junior Circle of the Florence Crittenton League, of which she is president. The Junior Circle is limited to 75 members with additional associate members. The girls sew on baby clothes, and on clothes for the mothers, who often come to the Home quite destitute. The Circle plans Christmas celebrations in the foster homes where the children are placed. Not only the Welfare Committee visit the homes or do direct welfare work. Money is raised each year by one big event which this year is to be a dance held at the Fessenden School on April 1. Other volunteers told how simple it was to begin under direction and have the interest around make them want to go further.

Needs of the Newton Hospital were spoken of by Miss Wheeler, the social worker, and those of the recreational and character-building agencies, like the West Newton Community Centre and the Y. W. C. A. were stressed by Miss MacCallum and Miss Leathers. Mrs. Seaver of the Americanization Department of the Newton Schools, said she was still in need of many forms of help.

Several questions were discussed, among them, whether the clubs could arrange for volunteers to give motor service in the summer, when boys and girls are being taken to vacation camps, and mothers and young children to the Mothers' Rest in Newton Centre. Before the meeting was over the clubs had lined up sufficiently to make it evident that the summer work would be covered. But motor service at the season when many are out-of-town is not always easy to obtain even with the assistance of the clubs, and the summer stay-at-home who wants a thrill, should get in touch with the Newton Central Council at 12 Austin street, Newtonville, telephone Newton North 733. Whatever her hobby or interest the woman (or man) who has an impulse to do volunteer work should follow that impulse, get in touch with the Council, and be connected with whatever organization she is most fitted to help.

POLICE NEWS

Henry Mosman of Broadway, Newtonville, inspector for the State Board of Health, was the complainant in the Waltham Court Wednesday against three Armenian bakers, proprietors of the Oriental Bakery at Bigelow avenue, Watertown. They were accused of having violated the pure food laws by having had cats in their bakery and by allowing the place to be in a filthy condition. The bakery was not licensed by the Watertown Board of Health, was without proper plumbing and was populated by a large number of huge cockroaches. Judge Sarsfield Cunniff fined each of the three proprietors $20.

Inspector John Shaughnessy of the Newton police was painfully injured last Thursday night when the car he was driving along Chestnut street was struck as it was crossing Commonwealth avenue by a car operated by Carroll Miles of Main street, Lancaster. Shaughnessy received cuts on the head and face and leg injuries. He was taken to the Newton Hospital for treatment.

John McDonald of 39 Hillside avenue, West Newton, was in the Newton court on March 8 charged with the larceny of $40 by means of a worthless check. W. E. Craigie was the complainant. Upon McDonald's promise to make restitution the case was continued until March 14.

Antonio Orlandella of 173 Langley road, Newton Centre, and Frank Canale of Stillman place, Boston were in the Newton court Monday charged with doing unnecessary work on the Sabbath day. The two were discovered painting a store at Newton Centre last Sunday. Their cases were placed on file. On the same day Norbert Lynch, now of Malden, was in court charged with non-support of his wife and two children. His case was continued until March 14.

Charles Golding of 399 Lansley road, Newton Centre, and William DeCourcy of 1216 Boylston street, Brookline, were in the Newton court Monday charged with assault and battery on Eric Kolman and with larceny of $20 from this same individual. A few weeks ago Kolman visited Newton Centre one Sunday to meet a party in connection with some business transaction. He happened onto several young men in an automobile and accepted an invitation from them to take a ride. His hosts assaulted him and robbed him of $20. Kolman's cries for assistance caused a telephone message to be sent to police headquarters and an automobile was dispatched with policemen to Needham street between Newton Highlands and the Upper Falls. After a chase some of Kolman's attackers were captured. Both Golding and DeCourcy were found guilty of larceny from Kolman and each were sentenced to two months in jail. Golding was also found guilty of assaulting Kolman and fined $30. Both took appeals.

Howard Kelly of North Crescent street, Brighton, was arrested at 1 a. m. Wednesday by Patrolman Lyons. In court Wednesday he was ordered to the Psychopathic Hospital.

Frank DeGregorio of Nonantum found guilty of assault and battery on Louis DeSantis of West Newton, DeSantis, who is a fruit peddler testified that recently he entered a house on Bridge street and was asked by DeGregorio to sell him some fruit on credit. When he refused, because he claimed that DeGregorio owed him some money, the latter followed him out his truck and hit him a blow which knocked one of DeSantis' teeth out. ## Knew Her Bible

Uncle Tom was jollying his little niece, trying to make her believe that the moon was made of green cheese. But Dorothy was not to be taken in. "It can't be made of green cheese, Uncle Tom," she said convincingly, "because God made the moon two days before he made cows."—Vancouver Province.

ABOUT TOWN

By Edw. H. Powers

We have received a post card from our old friend Edward J. Healey of Lexington street, Abundant, who has been spending the past couple of months in Cuba. Mr. Healey, who was for many years Captain of Hose 8, is now in Florida. He wishes to be remembered to all his Newton friends.

The Chiefs of Police from cities in Massachusetts are opposed to the proposed statute which would place them under the control of the Commissioner of Public Safety of this Commonwealth. We are with the Chiefs of Police in this matter. There is too much of a tendency to surrender authority to the State. Within the past year the right to determine where traffic signals shall be placed has been diverted from municipal officials to the State Department of Public Works. The result, so far as Newton is concerned is—that traffic signals badly needed and recommended by the Chief of Police and the Street Commissioner of Newton have not been installed because a representative of the Department of Public Works, who knows little or nothing about local conditions, has seen fit not to approve these proposed signals. Too much authority should not be centralized either in the State or Federal Governments.

There may be a good reason for the squandering of large sums of money to build freak automobiles which can travel four miles a minute on a wide beach course. There may be a good reason for sacrificing human lives in such spectacular exhibitions of speed. Some people think that the money spent for this purpose could be better spent by being donated to some hospital or other charitable institution.

A member of the State Parole Board of Massachusetts is quite peeved because so many drunken and reckless automobile drivers are being sent to jails instead of being placed on probation. If this gentleman were maintained by one of these reckless drivers or if one of his family were killed possibly he would be less ardent for the probation system.

Persons who have been vaccinated, and the great majority of persons in Massachusetts belong to this group, will be interested to learn that smallpox cases have been appearing in communities not so far away. It may be considered necessary so long to have another general vaccination campaign if this dread disease spreads.

There is a growing vogue among many stores and corporations not to hire any person over 35 or 40 years of age. Perhaps these stores and corporations might relax somewhat from this practice if persons over 35 or 40 years of age refused to do business with them. Many persons over 40 have much more energy and efficiency than a large percentage of the juniors.

Mr. McCurdy, of the New England Tel. & Tel. Co., a certified instructor in the Red Cross and holding an appointment in the Newton Chapter, is giving the Course and he is one of the foremost men in that work in this part of the country. The course starts on Monday evening, March 18th at the Newton Center Public Library and runs to May 6th. The Fire Department and the Police Department have been invited to send representatives to the Course in order that they may have trained men who can pass on the work to members of each department.

Mr. Warren also announces a Seminar Course in Scout technique for Scout Leaders of the Council to be held at the Newton Center Public Library on Wednesday evenings, from March 27 to April 17th. This will be conducted in the form of lectures and discussion on Scout requirements. Members of the Faculty are John M. Brier, Scout Commissioner; Mr. James R. Warren, Chairman of the Leadership and Training Committee of the Council; Messrs. F. W. Gillespie, George J. Crosbie, Douglas Sloane, A. L. Shaw, G. D. Marcy, Dana Sylvester, F. E. Lichtenthaler, J. M. Woodbridge, Jr.

In addition to the courses for leaders, Mr. Warren reported that the Newton Chapter of the Red Cross is conducting a Course in First Aid for Scouts, at the Newton High School, on Monday afternoons. One course in the Leathercraft Merit Badge has been completed by Eagle Scout Robert Spilman and another is planned. The Y. M. C. A., Mr. Clyde G. Hess, is co-operating by planning courses in the Swimming and Life Saving Merit Badges.

The Nobscot Reservations was the scene of great activity during the last weekend. Five Troops were represented there by 45 Scouts and 5 officers. Tests were given in 2nd and 1st Class requirements and three examinations in the cooking Merit Badge. Troop 5, Newton Center, under Assistant Scoutmaster George H. Crosbie, continued work on the preparation of their site for the cabin which they plan to erect during the spring. Troop 19, under Scoutmaster Hill, worked on its site for their cabin which is planned to begin this spring.

BOY SCOUT NEWS—TROOP 4

Troop 4 held their regular meeting on Thursday evening. The meeting was opened by Junior Assistant Scoutmaster Albert Collins, who conducted the setting up exercises. A class of six new candidates admitted and were formed into a Tenderfoot class. The rest of the Troop separated into working groups, headed by their respective Patrol Leaders. The boys then had an hour of instruction work, which was followed by a series of games. Two games of Spud "Goody" and Francis Ellis went through the hot oven, then two games of Indian Wrestling, Francis Ellis being the champion. Two games of Long Dutch, and the Saturday, March 9, the boys of Troop 4 enjoyed a hike in the Charlestown Navy Yard escorted by their Scoutmaster, Everett Galloway, and Major Murry. The boys went on board the coast guard cutter Champlain, and inspected several destroyers and finished with the rope walk, from there they went to the East Boston Air Port where the boys enjoyed an hour of seeing the planes constantly going up and down.

The Woman's Association of the Newtonville Methodist Episcopal Church met Thursday, March 7, at 10 a. m. Luncheon, in charge of Mrs. George B. Cameron, was served at 12:30.

Mrs. Herbert Blair, President of the Association, had charge of the business meeting. The devotionals were led by Mrs. E. Davidson, who read Matt. 6 and offered prayer. Mrs. J. V. Higgins, chairman of the budget committee, presented plans for a budget system to include the finances of the different departments of the Association. Following a discussion on the subject, Mrs. G. V. Shedd of Newton Upper Falls gave a talk on "Pioneering." Mrs. Shedd related the experiences of other associations who have adopted the budget system. No definite action was taken.

Sewing for the Hull Street Medical Mission Dispensary was provided for the morning work and also for the thimble which was held in the afternoon with the following hostesses: Miss Caroline R. Gilman, Mrs. E. E. Clark, Mrs. Don M. Leonard and Mrs. J. V. Higgins.

NORUMBEGA DISTRICT SUNDAY SCHOOL ASSN.

At the recent meeting of the Newton Young People's Council, chairman of committees for coming activities were selected. The editor of the Young People's "Councillor" is to be Albert Temperley. He will have associated with him representative young people of the churches co-operating in the Council. This paper will come out in April and be used for distribution to young people in the churches, also to all who attend the District Annual Convention on April 30th.

Ethel Sweet was elected chairman of the basketball supper committee. As the basketball season nears its close, plans are to be made for the presentation of cups to the winning teams in both the Boys' and Girls' Interchurch Basketball leagues. The date of this supper will be announced in the near future.

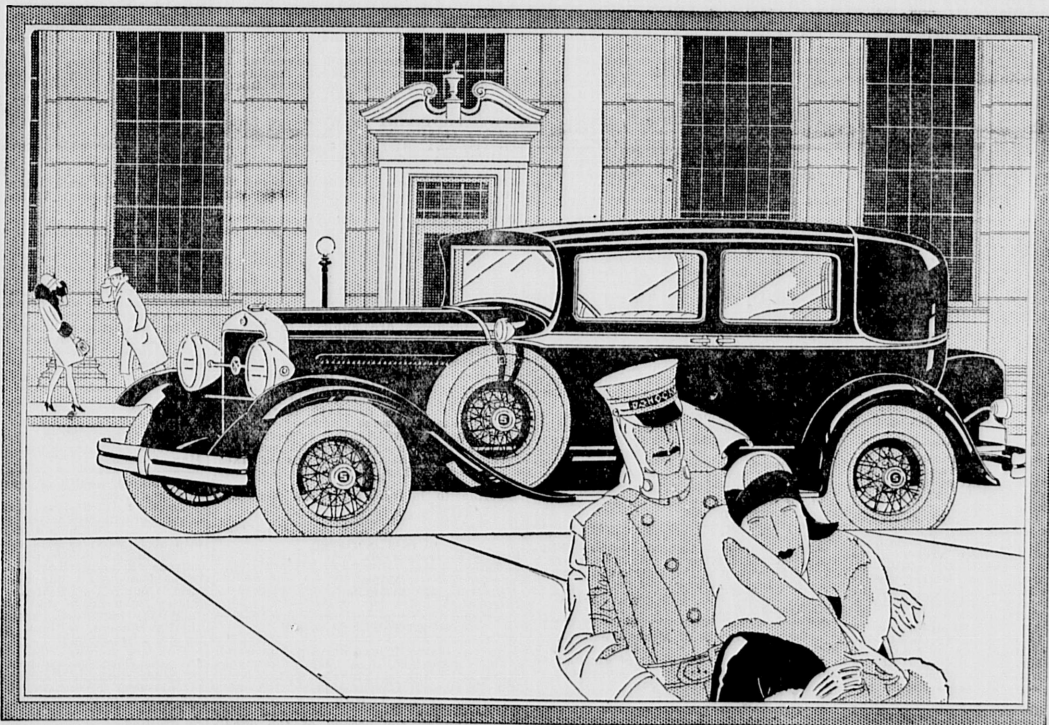

Those in charge of the Easter Sunrise Service program are John Scammon and William Hawkins. All council members are expected to be promoting the attendance for this event, which will be at 6:30 on Easter morning, at Waban Hill Reservoir. Prof. Warmingham is to be the speaker.

The District School of Religious Education will hold the last of its ten Monday evening sessions on next Monday, March 18th. All who have taken books from the loan library are urged to return them at this time. The worship service last Monday, the 11th, was based upon an Easter story, "What the Little Grub found out," a parable from nature.

The members of the Blue Triangle will meet for supper as usual next Monday at 6:30, and will then go to the home of Miss May Conrad and Miss Leathers, 664 Washington street, Brighton, for a social evening. It is the plan to reach the house by 7:30. All members of the Club are cordially invited.

The women's gymnasium class will conclude their season's work with the meetings on March 19th and March 26th. The enthusiasm for this class has been such that plans are already under way for other groups in the fall.

The children's dancing class will meet Thursday from three to four, and the children's gymnasium class from four to five. This is for children from the ages of three to thirteen years.

The Senior High School Club is meeting Friday nights at 7:30, and the Junior clubs are meeting on Tuesdays and Fridays as usual. The last class hour for swimming will be March 20th from seven to eight-thirty. Several of the girls have really learned to swim in this course, and others are becoming proficient in life saving. There will be room for those who wish to come for the final hour.

Because of the many Lenten services being held in the different churches the bowling group have decided not to meet until after Easter. Further announcements will be made about this.

KEITH MEMORIAL THEATRE

The internationally famous Duncan Sisters come to the B. F. Keith Memorial Theatre, Boston, next week as the superheadliners of what is probably the finest vaudeville show to be seen in New England this year. They have just returned from Europe after a triumphal tour and are coming to Boston in a brand new act. The title of their act is "Songs." The last time they appeared in this territory was in the musical show "Topsy and Eva" which they later transferred to the screen. They have now returned to the vaudeville stage for a limited engagement.

Another real headliner on the same bill is Jack Norworth and Dorothy Adaphia (Mr. and Mrs. Jack Norworth), famous vaudeville stars who appear in a comic act, "The Nagger," once a part of the Zeigfeld Follies. Ethel Davis, late star of the Greenwich Village Follies, in a novel cycle of songs with Earle Brown at the piano is an act which has been enthusiastically received in vaudeville. Theodora Bekefi, famous dancer, appears at the head of a large company in "Life of the Dancer," beautifully presented and elaborately staged. There are other acts and the photo-play is Milton Sills in "The Crash" with Thelma Todd—a powerful and dramatic picture of railroad life. Pathe News, an organ specialty and short subjects complete the enjoyable program.

The registered team for the Life Saving and Swimming Course is full, and the attendance has been very large. Tuesday, March 12th, Troop 14, of Waban, held its 4th birthday party. The troop gave a banquet entirely planned and executed by themselves, with some help in preparing the supper from members of the troop. The committee, Mrs. Stephen and Mrs. Upham, Miss Freeman, Mrs. Stephen, and Mrs. Upham were guests at the banquet. Two Golden Eaglets, former members of the troop, were present, and Libby Burnham, also a former member, was the toastmistress. Warren, Captain, spoke about the beginnings of the troop, and most interesting speeches were made by Phyllis Reinhardt, Marguerite Brandt, and Willette Mosser. A soap carving contest was held which was won by Willette Mosser, and then the Troop Patrol gave a mystery play. We wish long life and health to Troop 14 and its members.

GIRL SCOUTS

Saturday, March 16th, at 10:00 A. M. will find Newton Girl Scouts at the Newton Community Theatre enjoying the Annual Girl Scout movie, which is to be Buster Keaton in "The Cameraman," and the numerous other attractions of the day. If you have not been fortunate enough to secure your ticket yet, there will be some obtainable at the door Saturday morning.

The Candle-Light Concert, which was to be held March 15th, in Newton Upper Falls has been postponed to a later date due to the many events scheduled on Upper Falls for the same night. Further announcements will be made later.

On Saturday, March 23, Newton Centre is holding a Rummage Sale in the Woman's Club, from 9:00 A. M. to 5:30 P. M. The proceeds are to go to the Newton Centre Girl Scout Fund. Rummage is solicited; call C. N. 0821 or N. N. 0849-M.

The Leaders' Course met at Headquarters Wednesday, March 13, at 7:30. Mrs. Warren gave instruction in First Class Map Making, and the last of the meeting was devoted to Craft work.

The monthly meeting of the Officers' Association will be Wednesday, March 20th, at the Unitarian Church, West Newton, at 6:30 P. M. Miss Evelyn Cunningham, the first Captain of Troop 2, Newton, will speak on "The Value of Dramatics." Miss Cunningham is now connected with the Community Service of Boston, which does a great deal of dramatic work.

Preparation for a "bigger and better" Christmas Shop are already under way. A committee has been formed, representing each village, which met at Headquarters March 13th to discuss plans for another year. It has been proposed to grow or collect the various plants needed for decoration during the summer.

The troops are busy working on the Rally which is to take place at the High School, April 6th. There will be competition in various types of Scout work for both the Junior and Senior troops, and Merit Badge Demonstration by the Senior girls. Merit Badges will be given out and a number of Special Awards made; the cups for the best bugler and drummer in Newton will also be presented at this time.

The Scouts of Troop 10 and 28 were asked to give an entertainment at the Fathers' and Daughters' Banquet at St. John's Episcopal Church on Friday, March 8th. Troop 10 demonstrated First Aid on a hike, rescuing someone from a burning building, and artificial respiration, while Troop 28 acted out several of the laws.

Troop 25 is having a contest in First Aid kits; each girl may spend just 15c in the preparation of her kit, and they should contain all things needed for First Aid. The kits will be judged the last Tuesday in March. The Patrol Leaders will hold a Court of Honor meeting at Miss Freeman's home Sunday, March 17th; the corporals have been asked to attend this meeting.

The registered team for the Life Saving and Swimming Course is full, and the attendance has been very large.

COSTUME PARTY AT AUBURDALE

A colorful costume party and recital concluded the very successful private dancing classes for Mrs. Ruth Allen Weston and her pupils. The delightful party was held at the Auburndale Club, Saturday, March 9th. About four hundred persons were present.

The program included solo, group and class dances and were executed beautifully by the children. They wore various types of costumes including minuet, clown, farm, animal, ballet, Grecian, and old-fashioned. The "Folk" and "Folk" dances, ballet and ball-room dances were included by Mrs. Weston, to give variety and charm to the program.

The solos were danced by Janet Quillum, Barbara Southgate, Marjorie Clark, Virginia Wilson and Betty Ferguson, while the group dances included Beatrice Lanet, Jean White, Jane Elizabeth Willson, Peggy Wilson, Dorothy Smith and Burton O'Neill and Coraway Farrier.

As a conclusion to the evening's entertainment Mrs. Weston danced "Russian Rhyme" by Louis H. Chaff. She was accompanied at the piano by Mrs. Raymond Perkins.

Prizes for costumes and a "Lucky Dance" were awarded to Shirley Ferguson, John Carter, Coraway Farrier, Robert Morse, Martha O'Neill, Howard Thomas, Claudia Goodrich, Weston Prior, Virginia Wilson and Basil Babcock.

"The Ramblers" from Newtonville furnished music for general dancing until twelve o'clock.

NEWTON CENTRE SCHOOL ASSOCIATION

There will be a meeting of the Newton Centre School Association on Wednesday, March 20, at 3 p. m. in the Mason School Hall.

Anna M. Skinner, M.D., Psychiatrist, will speak on "Adolescence." Children will be cared for at the Rice School between 2:45 and 5 p. m.

ABOUT TOWN

By Edw. H. Powers

It is about time that Newton awoke to the fact that traffic control is one of the most important matters to be dealt with. Boston, Waltham, Watertown, Cambridge and many other nearby places have established "boulevard stops" thus compelling autoists approaching main thoroughfares from side streets to come to a stop. The Newton Board of Aldermen has been considering for the past year the plan to make "boulevard stops" on the main streets of this city. The Traffic Committee of the Aldermen last year recommended that Washington, Centre, Beacon, Walnut, Watertown streets and Commonwealth avenue be so regulated. Provision has been made in the budget by Mayor Childs for the appropriation of about $4500 to purchase signs so that Washington and Beacon streets and Commonwealth avenue can be equipped with them. There should be no quibbling over the appropriateness of this amount. When other communities much less wealthy than Newton adopt necessary precautions to safeguard traffic this city should not continue to lag.

As a result of advertisements placed in newspapers the Nonantum section of Newton was invaded Tuesday by thousands of persons seeking employment at the Raytheon Manufacturing Company which has taken over the plant formerly occupied by the Saxony Worsted Mills on Chapel street. Men started to gather in front of the office of the Raytheon building before 6 a. m. Tuesday morning. The crowd rapidly grew in numbers and before the day was over 4000 men, women, boys and girls had applied for work. Letters from 700 applicants were received and over 200 telephone calls came from persons seeking jobs. One bus load of men came all the way from Connecticut. The army of unemployed in this country was plainly evidenced by the numbers seeking work in Newton's new industry and this city is fortunate in having a thriving and rapidly growing industrial corporation locate here.

Much publicity has been given to the prosperity prevailing in the United States. The thousands seeking work is painful proof that for a large percentage of our people, prosperity is non-existent. Most of those who went to Nonantum on Tuesday were doomed to disappointment. The Raytheon Company could use at the present time but a fraction of those who applied. Because of the nature of the work 80% of the employees of this company are girls, so that comparatively few positions are open for men. The company is going to continue its present factory at Cambridge for quite some time and employees at the new plant in Nonantum will be hired to learn the industry as rapidly as it will be feasible to instruct them. The employees of the Raytheon Manufacturing Company have light, clean work and thus a high class of help is obtained.

A LENTEN PLAY

"Movies and a Mite Box" was the alluring title which caught the interest of old and young in Grace Church, Newton, and filled the auditorium of the Parish House last Friday, when ten small boys of the Church School acted a lesson in missionary effort. This Lenten play was written, staged, and coached by Miss Rosamond Newton, the Director of Religious Education of the school.

The rising curtain disclosed a chorus of newsboys proclaiming lustily in song the features of the morning "Extra." The round of applause which ensued there was an earnest of what was to follow of appreciation and delight on the part of the audience. The dialogue immediately revealed the perennial problem of how to save and earn money for the mite boxes. Little Jack Foster, the leading spirit among the newsboys who were members of his class, secretly resolved to forego the movie for the six weeks of Lent. Jack's eagerness was presently rewarded by a contribution of a dollar from a gentleman who fell into conversation with the alert little paper boy.

After an incidental feature of a whistling chorus and a snappy drill, done by eight girls in scarlet sport outfits, the second act showed the boys at work during an afternoon of the week-day activity at the Parish House. Jack's new benefactor, Mr. Johnson (played by Mr. William V. M. Payson) appeared unexpectedly in the group and shared with them in their task of constructing a map of the mission fields of the Episcopal Church all over the world. To the delight of all, the Rector, Dr. MacLure, joined them.

The third act represented the boys in despair over the lightness of their mite boxes and the proximity of Easter. They laboriously added and reckoned until the sum total showed a shortage of nearly five dollars, if they were to meet the quota for which they had aimed, $1.50 per pupil. The hero, Jack, was still holding his mite box. Its contents displayed seven glorious dollar bills, enough to carry the class over the top. His good friend had been helping him in ways of earning the coveted pennies. The last curtain fell upon another joyous chorus about the mite box campaign.

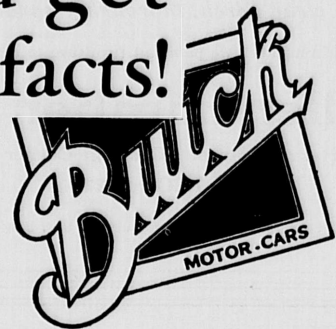

The cast included: Samuel Wyatt, Clayton Mosher, Richard Francis, Henry K. Hollis, George Brown, Daniel A. White, Jr., Edward Damon, Jr., Stanley Smith, Mr. William V. M. Payson, Rev. Laurens MacLure, Janet Tutill, Virginia Partridge, Henrietta Wittens, Virginia Elliott, Frances Crowley, Madeleine Law, Margaret Durkee, Alice Scofield.

The boys, aged ten or eleven, in their everyday caps and sweaters forgot that they were playing-acting and they went through with their songs and speeches with zest and naturalness which carried straight across the footlights.

The play was repeated to the delight of the youthful actors on Sunday afternoon at Trinity Church, Newton Centre.

AUBURDALE CHURCH SCHOOL WORKERS

The teachers and officers of all church schools in Auburndale are joining for a supper and conference on Tuesday evening, March 19. This will take place in the Church of the Messiah. Mrs. M. E. Beardsley is in charge of arrangements for the supper.

The program consists of an address on "The Feather of Truth," by Mrs. Margaret Eggleston, Owen of Hyde Park, followed by group conferences of interests to teachers of the different departments in the church school. Mrs. Owen is eagerly sought as a speaker to teachers and parents. She is the author of such books as "Womanhood in the Making," "Use of the Story in Religious Education," and has done successful young people's work for many years.

The group conferences are as follows: "Administration Problems," led by Mr. E. A. Greene of Newton Centre; "Do my pupils grow in Christian character?" led by Mrs. Owen; "Illustrative materials for the Sunday School," led by Miss Lullona Barker; and "Use of the Story in Religious Education," led by Miss Bessie Doherty of Needham. The latter is a teacher in the Northfield Summer School of Religious Education and in many other teacher-training groups. Miss Barker is the Secretary of the Norumbega District Council of Religious Education, under whose auspices the Auburndale meeting is being held.

STEVENS BLOCK AFIRE AGAIN

The old Stevens Block at Newton Highlands, scene of bad blazes a number of times in the past was afire again Sunday afternoon. The fire was discovered at 4:42 in the Schinacello fruit store at 9 Lincoln street and Box 64 was pulled. The blaze spread rapidly, badly damaging the fruit store's contents and worked in to adjoining stores. It was extinguished after an hour's work by the firemen. The cause is unknown. The building is owned by John F. Kershaw.

Box 912 was pulled at 7 p. m. Sunday for a grass fire on the Hurley estate off Parker street, Newton Highlands.

At 8:20 Saturday night a still alarm called Hose 5 to 329 Lexington street, Auburndale, where the chimney on the house occupied by John Mitchell was afire. At 8:40 Saturday night Engine 2 was called on a still alarm to Milton avenue, West Newton, to extinguish a blaze in an automobile owned by W. J. Kerrin of Auburn street, Waltham.

MAKES NEW YORK DEBUT

Miss Betty Davis of Beaumont avenue, Newtonville, made her debut last week before a New York audience at the Provincetown Playhouse in Greenwich Village, where she led in "The Earth Between." The New York critics spoke very well of her acting and of the play.

Miss Davis is a graduate of Newton high school with the class of 1927 and during her attendance there was prominent in school dramatics. Last summer she played at the East Dennis playhouse and the past fall and winter was with a stock company in Rochester, New York, leaving there to take her new position.

INJURED IN AUTO CRASH

Richard Marshall, 18, of 394 Hammond street, Chestnut Hill, received injuries to his head early Tuesday morning when the car he was driving crashed through a stone wall on Beacon street opposite Reservoir avenue. After smashing through the wall the car sideswiped a tree and overturned. Marshall was taken to his home and treated by a physician.

ONE THING AND ANOTHER

By L. D. G. BENTLEY

"What about the Ides of March?"

asked an office associate.
"Well, what about them?" I retorted.
"O, nothing, but they're almost here or will be the day the Graphic comes out. The 15th of the month is the Ides.""I know that," was my answer.
"Do you know anything else concerning them?""Just a little Shakespeare which includes, 'Beware the Ides of March!'", I replied."Why should anyone beware of the Ides of March?" my persistent friend went on. "Must be something pretty terrible about them when they warned Caesar, or was it Marc Anthony—no, I guess it was Caesar, to watch his step. The old boy didn't and he got his."I was obliged to interrupt him.
"Will you tell me what that has to do with the year 1929?" I demanded."Couldn't tell you," he answered, "but I'll bet it is unlucky. Coming on Friday this year it doesn't look so good. You know that word Ides has a sinister twist, in my opinion. Sounds uncanny. What do you think?""If they told Caesar to beware the Ides of March they were either framing him or giving him a friendly tip,"
I agreed."I've got to investigate," my friend replied. It was plain that he was worried."Let me know what you find out,"
I called after him as he headed for the library.I met him about 45 minutes afterwards. He looked grumpy, even sullen.

"Find out anything?" I inquired.

He passed me a slip of paper.

"I copied this for your benefit from the encyclopedia," said he. "It shows how dumb I am. Read it!"I read: "Ides of March.—The Romans first divided the year into 10 months but they early adopted the Greek method of lunar and intercalary months, making the lunar year consist of 354 and afterwards 355 days, leaving 10 or 11 days and a fraction to be supplied by the intercalary division. This arrangement, which was placed under the charge of the pontiffs, continued until the time of Caesar. The first day of the month was called the calends. In March, May, July and October the 15th, in other months the 13th, was called the Ides. The ninth day before the Ides, reckoning inclusive, was called the nones."I passed the paper back to him.
"Swell lot of mystery in that," was his comment.

ALDERMAN, SPARE NOTHING

One and twenty Aldermen.
Striving all their might,
Have their city budget
With them, day and night.They must slash the figures.
Each department made.
Show that of the Mayor
They are not afraid!Swing the axe, O, brothers, Plenty as you will,
Each taxpayer'll thank you
When he gets his bill.Not infrequently I am asked to express an opinion as to what is going to happen in the next municipal election in Newton. I assume that the in-quirers really want to learn what is going to happen before the election.
In other words, who will be the candidate or candidates for Mayor. Naturally, I am flattered to have my opinion sought, but inasmuch as I am totally ignorant of what is in the minds of certain individuals my standing as a prophet is not high. I can only guess.Somehow or other there is a greater interest in local politics than there used to be. The cause of that I can not explain unless it be that the population has grown more people are clamoring for recognition. Or it may be that the appetite for office-holding is keener. However, we know that in recent years there have been more contests for Aldermanic seats than in the old days and the fighting has been sharper. It shows
"pet," which is desirable, providing it is not used in too large quantities and is accompanied by other equally excellent qualifications.Next year comes a notable civic anniversary—the tercentenary of Massachusetts Bay Colony, of which Newton or Newtown or whatever it may have been called was an important part. I haven't heard that there are any elaborate plans for Newton's celebration but I am sure we will do something. Many cities and towns are contemplating big things and have obtained permission of the Legislature to spend money for monuments, pageants, etc.I was just wondering if, with the prospect of an impressive observance, it would be reasonable to expect a change of Mayors before that time.
It is certain there will be no new city hall erected in the war memorial, though both have been the subject of much talk. Is it possible there may be a new Mayor? What do you think about it?Reference to the chief historical events in Newton tends to make one have the good fortune to own a copy of "The Mirror Newton, Past and Present" which was published in May, 1907 by the Newton Federation of Women's Clubs. It was given me by a good friend who felt that I would prize such a possession. I do, for I have found it rich in information and containing much about my home city that I am glad to know.It is amazing the thrill that one can get out of such small things as scraps of history. And yet I find a picture of the Western bridge at Andover with two canoes, each with three occupants, floating on the surface of the Charles river, while on the bridge is a bicyclist resting himself and his wheel against the railing as he gazes at the canoeists. That is a picture of bygone days, but far more exciting is the title, which reads, "Western bridge, Charles river. On November 8, 1777, Burgoyne's soldiers marchedover the first bridge on this date, on their way to Cambridge, Mass., to cross the bridge which was then called the "Well, what about them?" I reflected. The attention of the throngs who travel over the present bridge. I must say that possibly a good many who use the thoroughfare frequently might become indifferent, but I am sure that visitors, especially Summer tourists, would stop and absorb the importance of this historical event.If next year Newton does nothing spectacular in marking the settlement by the Massachusetts Bay Company of this part of the colony 300 years ago, it might do something to call attention to historical spots. I know there will be an excuse forthcoming that the expense of bronze markers would be too great. Very well, let us have something temporary which at the same time would be in good taste.
Certainly that would not demand a great outlay, and, with legislative authority to spend the money, which Newton now has, why should not something be done?Let us not lose sight entirely on next year's important anniversary.
And let us do something besides talk.
Exercises with speeches are all right while they last but there are many things more lasting and this is what we should consider. We want something to remember.These are days when back home we receive letters and postcards from friends in tropical or semi-tropical climates. They tell us how under-ful the weather is, how they are enjoying themselves and then add a wish that we might share their pleasure. All of which is sincere and thoughtful even if it doesn't bring us any great amount of comfort during this March weather.Those who can get away for a sufficient time to escape the horrors of Winter are entitled to congratulations.
I try hard not to harbor the spirit of envy when they write me. In fact, I am glad to hear from them because they are my friends and because I want them to enjoy their blessings to the utmost.
Ordinarily the receipt of one of these letters, with a word-picture of the natural beauties and other delights of the place, is of interest only to the individual who receives it. If you should get a letter that didn't boost the glorious climate, the blue skies, the perfect surroundings and all that sort of thing—I say, if a letter should come with a different story altogether that would be worth repeating.Well, I got one myself this week from a friend who could not resist the lure of the Italian Riviera. The letter is dated as follows: "22d of Feb. 1929, tho' that means nothing in this little village." Then it goes on, "Came down here Feb. 3 with mother and of course we had 'unusual' weather—snow and some below freezing (not zero).
Shrubs and flowers and the camellias just ready to burst were frozen and brown—a sad sight. The lovely mimosas seemed to stand it and are masses of feathery yellow."All of which shows that they can have weather that is disagreeable on the Italian Riviera which up to this time I had supposed was only a place of ideal climate and romantic oportunities. At least that is what I had gathered from novels, plays and movies. I have learned differently; though I am still keen to go there myself.NEWTON POST 48, AMERICAN

NEEDLESS ALARM PULLED

On last Friday night Box 337 was pulled at 7:25 when someone saw smoke issuing from the chimney on the house of P. F. Crosby at 44 Winthrop street, West Newton. The firemen sure that the smoke coming from the chimney was not the result of any fire other than that in the heater.

The Mather Class

The Mather Class, which meets every Sunday morning at the Newton Centre Woman's Club House, is observing the Easter season by a special series of three lectures, the first of which occurred last Sunday, entitled "Gethsemane, the greatest crisis in human history." The two, which are coming, will be "Calvary, the greatest faith in human history" and "Bethany, the greatest triumph in human history."Last Sunday the Bible text included the Last Supper and some of the subsequent events in the Garden of Gethsemane.Some people have hitherto thought that Jesus was enacting a role or drama which had been planned in advance and had to be done. Jesus was God taking human form and playing a part. This idea is unsatisfactory today. We think of Jesus as a human being, involved in a vital way in a very real crisis or struggle. The destiny of humankind was hanging in the balance.Jesus, as a devout Jew, was in accord with the customs of His time in observing the Passover feast, which commemorated a great moment in history. The natural thing to do was to celebrate this occasion with one's closest friends and, preferably, in Jerusalem. Previous arrangements had been made for a secret meeting at a friend's house. Secrecy was necessary because the rulers were antagonistic. Jesus had not conformed to their ideas. He broke tradition.
People flocked to Him. He had made a great stir and a big impression.
Accordingly it was dangerous to go to Jerusalem other than secretly.There is a definite sense of uplift and comfort from being with one's close friends. This was quite normally followed by the natural reaction. Jesus realized that their pleasant relationship was nearing the end.
He knew that He had a momentous decision to make. There was a great chasm between His concept of the Kingdom of God and the Messiah on the one hand and the ideas of the Jews on the other. The Jews expected material prosperity and a physical kingdom, wherein the Messiah was to be a great ruler, who should be exalted.Jesus had a clear, positive idea of a spiritual mission, but the impending sacrifice involved the abandonment of all ambitions for a glorified Messiah. It was perfectly plain to Jesus that He would be killed if He remained. He could, while there, do yet time slip quietly away into seclusion and save His life.The decision, which He had to make, was momentous. The mental and spiritual agony far exceeded the physical pain in prospect. He had abundant faith in God. Was there any justification for His faith in men?
If He went ahead, He would have to leave everything in the control of His Disciples. The whole thing, thereafter, would have to be done by them alone. Everything would depend on them. He knew how weak they were.
He knew those twelve men. One had already gone. Peter was about to deny Him. Some of them had just been quarreling about their relative greatness. Even in the Garden of Gethsemane, when Jesus was struggling with His great problem, He went back to see how His chosen three were getting along and found them sound asleep. Not much help there. The future looked black indeed.Jesus was perfectly free. He did not have to go through with this.
He could have gone out the other side of the garden. His spirit was sufficiently Godlike to make the right decision when it was possible for Him to do otherwise. He did what was right. When the destiny of civilization trembled on the scales, he did not fail. He saw the whole point at issue. This thing had to be done.He knew that He would be numbered among the transgressors and that some people would think that He had failed. Would people generally have faith enough to see what He was doing and why He was doing it? There was a tremendous conflict in His mind and a very real one of the utmost importance. There was no question at all about the quantity and quality of His faith in God, but there was a lot of doubt about the amount of confidence that He could place in men. He prayed for guidance and the vision came, together with strength to take the hard and difficult way. There was no other way out. He knew he had decided right and that God approved.He accepted the bitterness of apparent defeat, and then a great quietness and calm came over Jesus, in striking contrast to the stress during the time of indecision.Thereafter He was like a Rock, un-troubled in the midst of a sea of humanity.Before He left His Disciples, He impressed them with the fact that His departure made an important change in their situation. Hitherto He had been responsible for their welfare, for their food, and for their other needs. When He had gone those responsibilities would rest upon them. Not only would they have to supply their own needs, but they would have to depend on themselves and on their own strength to defend themselves. Furthermore, they would be responsible for their own spiritual welfare. Would they have enough spiritual power for the purpose? That was the great question.The Mather Class is planning an important contribution to the Easter activities of the community. On Wednesday evening, March 27, the Class will give a presentation of "Saint Claudia," a religious drama by Marshall N. Gould. This will be a service of worship and take place at the Newton Centre Baptist Church. The Drama League of America awarded "Saint Claudia" the first prize in 1924 Religious Drama Contest. It turns about the episode in the midst of the trial of Jesus which is recorded in the Gospel of Matthew as follows:
—"And while he (Pilate) was sitting on the judgment-seat, his wife sent unto him, saying, Have thou nothing to do with that righteous man; for I have suffered many things this day in a dream because of him." ThisScores of people.

COLLENS—PERKINS

Miss Eleanor Standish Perkins, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles B. Perkins of 323 Beacon street, Boston, was married to Charles Terry Collins, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Collins of Dudley road, Oak Hill on Saturday afternoon, March ninth, at the First Parish Church, Brookline. Rev. Albert Peterson performed the ceremony. The bride was given in marriage by her father.

Mrs. Leopold Gruener of Cambridge, a sister of the bridegroom, was the matron of honor and Miss Effie C. Manson of Brookline was the maid of honor. The other attendants were: Mrs. Lawrence Lampher of Providence, R. I., Mrs. Robert Ross Newell, Miss Dorothea Heath, Miss Elizabeth Brewer Keyes and Miss Virginia Floyd, a cousin of the bride, all of Brookline, Miss Frances Paulding Meade and Miss Clare Ethel Dupee, of Boston, Mrs. Benjamin Apparth Gould Thorndike of Cambridge, Miss Linda Collins of Newton Centre, a sister of the bridegroom and Miss Elizabeth Loder.

Alfred Townsend Hartwell of Boston and Honolulu was the best man and the group of ushers included Charles Floyd Perkins of Boston, brother of the bride, Theodore Clarence Hollander, 2nd, and William Charles Harris, both of Boston, Robert Murray Whittemore, James Dexter Harris, and Leopold Gruener, all of Cambridge, Samuel W. Langdon of San Francisco, Cal., Clarence Lyman Collins of Cleveland, Ohio, and Robert M. P. Kennard of Newton Centre. The bride wore a gown of imported Chinese brocade white satin with a court train four yards in length edged with old princess lace. Her tulle veil was held in place by three strands of small seed pearls. She carried lilies of the valley, gardenias and white orchids. The maid and matron of honor wore green satin with hats of tulle and velvet with green tulle veils and carried small bouquets of tulle and satin. The other attendants wore pink satin with hats of tulle and velvet and carried bouquets of spring flowers.

The church was decorated with Madonna lilies and greenery and

Madame Miloradovitch has some very interesting photographs to show to illustrate her lecture. She is a Russian of excellent birth and her accurate knowledge of life and conditions, social and political, should be most fascinating.

The usual social hour will close the afternoon. Guests and visitors are welcome at this meeting, upon payment of the usual guest fee of 25 cents.

Women's Auxiliary to Y. M. C. A.

The Women's Auxiliary to the Y. M. C. A. are giving a play on the evening of Saturday, March 23rd, in the Technical High School Auditorium that should be most pleasurable for an audience. The various Dramatic Clubs in the vicinity of Boston, including the Auburndale Dramatic Club, West Newton, Brookline and Boston, with many talented actors from the Newtons, known as the Players Little Theatre Company, generously offered their services to add to the funds of this organization for their Y. M. C. A. work. At 8 o'clock there will be a concert by the Newton Constabulary Band, with the play Candida beginning at 8:15. The actors will include such well-known Newton folk as Mary Sands, Eunice Browning Prellwitz, E. Irving Locke, Renel Beach, David Clark, and Donald Charlton. Tickets may be obtained at 75 cents and $1, and purchasers have the satisfaction of aiding the Women's Auxiliary in their splendid work. The list of patronesses include many prominent Clubwomen and officers of the Newtons.

Newton Federation

Rivalling in interest the Conservation Conference of the State for Tuesday, the 26th, for Newton Clubwomen, admirers of the former director of Secondary Schools in Newton, Mr. Francis L. Bacon, comes the announcement that he will be the speaker at the Executive Board meeting of the Newton Federation on that afternoon. Details of this meeting will be given next week.

General Federation

COUNCIL MEETING. In preparation for the General Federation Council Meeting, as guests of the State Federation, to be held at Swampscott, May 27th to June 1st, and which every Massachusetts Clubwoman is urged to attend, extensive repairs and alterations at a cost of $100,000 are being made to the New Ocean House. These include the redecoration of the ball room, the construction of a large auditorium to seat 500, directly below this, and the addition of a spacious sun parlor just outside the ball room. All changes will be completed in time also for the Annual Meeting of the State Federation, May 15-17, and they really are a tribute to that organization on the part of the management.

Play Day at the General Federation gathering is always anticipated by the visitors, and Massachusetts women under the efficient leadership of Mrs. David A. Westcott, of the Dorchester Women's Club, chairman of the day, have attractive plans well under way. In the morning all guests will be taken by automobile on a North Shore drive, stopping at places of historical interest in Salem, Marblehead, and Gloucester. At these points, local Clubwomen will add their welcome to that of the State Federation. On their return to the New Ocean House, a shore dinner will be served. Mrs. J. Norman Jeffrey, of Salem, president of the Ninth District Presidents' Club, who had this same duty for the New England Conference last fall, is again chairman of automobile transportation, and she and her committee already have a large number of cars at their command for this delightful shore trip.

Early in the afternoon, the visiting Clubwomen will be taken to Boston to see the public buildings and historic features. There will be an opportunity to visit the new wing of the Boston Art Museum and the Gardner Museum, and a trip to Concord and Lexington has been arranged. The program of the day will close with a reception and tea given from 4:30-6:30 o'clock by the Boston Clubs of the Sixth District, in honor of the General Federation officers. This will be in the Georgian room of Hotel Statler, and will be in charge of Mrs. William J. McDonald, director of the Sixth District. The musical program for this will be given by the Music Clubs of the Sixth District, under the direction of Mrs. Mina G. del Castillo, of Cambridge, chairman of the General Federation Department of Music. It is hoped that Massachusetts Clubwomen who may not be able to attend all the sessions of the Council will take this opportunity to meet and greet their guests from all parts of the United States.

RECENT EVENTS

Newton Upper Falls Woman's Club

Once in a while "something different" is the hue and cry for Club programs, when lectures and readings, while fine, seem to be of a sameness. Mrs. Warren H. Hoey as chairman of the evening of Monday, the 4th, for the Newton Upper Falls Woman's Club, sponsored one such unusual program by introducing the Hayden Trio. Miss Eleanor Soule Hayden as conductor put on a varied program, using the Organ Chimes, Vibraphone, and Octave-Mandola as her instruments with which to contribute to the evening's pleasure; while Miss Eleanor Soule Hayden, contributed a group of two "Cello Solos, as well as playing in the ensembles. Miss Evelyn Ford, Pianist and Vocalist, added not a little to the pleasure of the evening by her charming accompaniments and her voice when she sang in some of the pieces. "A truly enjoyable evening" and "our favorites in a new setting" were two of the verdicts heard on all sides as the audience dispersed.

Monday Club

The program for the Monday Club

on March 11th was contributed entirely by Mrs. C. G. Wetherbee who gave a review of the book, "Rome Haul," by Walter Edmondson. Mrs. Wetherbee read with fine understanding and expression, giving a very clear idea of the book, which in turn gives its readers a splendid portrayal of the life along the Erie Canal in its early days. The meeting was held at the home of Mrs. J. G. Birch, 72 Fisher avenue, her sister, Mrs. Emma A. Proctor being hostess for this meeting. Delicious refreshments were served.

West Newton Women's Educational Club

The Turkey Supper which the West Newton Women's Educational Club served on Friday night, March 8th, in the dining hall of the Unitarian Parish House, was largely attended and proved to be a great success. This new and unusual "Club Meeting" was greatly enjoyed. Mrs. Joseph Otis, the president, was chairman of the Supper Committee, and her assistants co-operated in a most efficient manner.

The tables, with lighted candles, presented a very charming sight when the guests, almost two hundred in number, were seated.

Mr. Eastman, of the Boston Chamber of Commerce, was the after-dinner speaker, his topic being "New England Today." Mr. Eastman in speaking of the beauties of New England rightly called it "the land of opportunity." He gave some very interesting statistics on New England's industrial business which made the audience feel very proud of their home land.

Following Mr. Eastman's address, those who wished to adjourn to the hall below and played progressive bridge, and many handsome prizes were awarded the winners.

Mrs. Joseph McDonald was chairman of the Bridge.

Waban Woman's Club

There was wide-spread community interest in Philip Barry's three-act comedy "You and I," which was presented at the Waban Neighborhood Club on Monday and Tuesday evenings of this week by the Dramatic Committee of the Woman's Club for the benefit of the proposed Branch Library.

The capacity of the house was reached both evenings and a substantial fund will be added to the library fund as a result of these two performances.

An "all-star cast" consisting of Dorothy Welby Stephenson, Morris L. Brown, Helen D. Holmes, George R. Walker, Dorothy Williams, Carl H. Gove and Donald Arnold gave almost uniform satisfaction. All are Waban people except Morris Brown, who was imported from Cambridge to play the juvenile lead. Opposite him was Mrs. Stephenson, a fairly recent comer to our village, who as Dorothy Welby has won many laurels for her acting with the Newton Amateur.

That the play was coached by Mr. George N. Roberts gives assurance of the quality of the production.

Mrs. Warren K. Russell as stage manager had the untiring assistance of Mrs. George S. Goodspeed and Mrs. Henry C. Short. Homer Tilton gave his services as electrician. Mrs. Gifford LeClear headed the candy committee.

Lois Haffermehl's orchestra and Mr. Haffermehl's own conducting of the community singing added a great deal to the festive but not given. Two much credit can not be given Mrs. Reuben M. Ellis, the chairman of the Dramatic Committee for her capable supervision of all the details connected with the play and especially for her work in getting out an elaborate program. Mrs. Ellis had the willing assistance of many Waban people, about 40 of them—principally members of the cast and of the dramatic committee with their respective husbands or wives—were entertained delightfully by Mrs. Ellis, at the conclusion of the Tuesday evening performance, at her home on Chestnut street.

NEWTON LODGE OF ELKS

Thursday, March 28 will be observed as "Soulis Night" by Newton Lodge of Elks as a testimonial to Edward N. Soulis who has officiated as Chaplain of Newton Lodge since its institution. The initiation of candidates at this meeting will be performed by officers of Winthrop Lodge. The committee arranging this affair includes J. Edward Callahan, Chairman; Daniel Barnicle, Joseph Boughan, Charles Barrows, George Brophy, William Deutschle, John Donovan, William Fogwill, William Higgins, Harry Hawkins, C. Edwin Josselyn, Thomas Ryan, William Taffe, Arthur Wright, Frank Wilcox.

Wednesday evening, March 27 the officers of Newton Lodge will do the initiatory work at Winthrop Lodge. Charles Barrows continues to lead in the bowling tournament as high scorer. Fred Burns is second, Davis third and Johnson fourth.

"JUST SUPPOSE"

At the Newton Community next Wednesday matinee and night the Rice Players will present "Just Suppose," a whimsical comedy in three acts by A. E. Thomas. It was rumored that the Prince of Wales appeared for a brief spell under an assumed name somewhere in Virginia. It is on this story that A. E. Thomas based "Just Suppose." The theme is handled in an original manner. Linda Lee Stafford meets one George Shopley (in reality the Prince of Wales). It is a case of love at first sight, but alas, princes cannot select their mates and there by hangs a tale which Mr. Thomas has woven with infinite charm. It has the beauty of "Smiling Through" and the quaintness of "Friend Hannah."

Dinner Of The Months Is Largely attended

Unusual Decorations at Newtonville Church Affair

About 240 guests attended a dinner of the months, given by the Woman's Association of the Newtonville Methodist Episcopal Church, Thursday evening, March 14. Each of twelve tables was decorated to represent a month of the year.

The rigors of New England weather were vividly portrayed by snow scenes at the three winter tables. In January, snow babies played about and a pond of ice added to the wintry landscape. Mrs. J. Arthur Jones and Mrs. Stanley MacMullen, the hostesses, wished their guests good luck for the year with silver horseshoe favors. February's snow was utilized (Continued on Page 16)

Highland Glee Club Concert Huge Success

Large Attendance Hears Local Singers and Royal Dadmun

The Highland Glee Club of Newton, Inc., gave its concert at the Newton High School Auditorium Tuesday evening, the 19th. The Club was assisted by Royal Dadmun, Baritone.

Under the capable direction of D. Ralph Maclean the organization added to its long series of successful concerts another of outstanding merit. The audience was one of the largest which has been seen in the auditorium for some time and judging from its enthusiasm enjoyed to the utmost not only the splendid singing of the Club but also the highly artistic work of Mr. Dadmun.

It is rather too bad that acoustically the High School Auditorium is not all that could be desired. In fact it was apparently a handicap to the director in that he was not able to get some of the splendid effects of which a Glee Club is capable. The soloist's lot was a happier one in this respect as the voice as well as accompaniment was adequate and in excellent pitch throughout the evening. (Continued on Page 9)

Planning For Another Season At Camp Day

Many Reservations Already Made For Y. Camp

The Camp Committee of Camp Frank A. Day have announced the dates for another season at their camp in Brookfield. The dates for the 1929 season are June 26th to August 28th. This nine week season may be divided into three week periods if desired by the parents. The first period from June 26th to July 17th, the second from July 17th to August 7th, and the final period from August 7th to August 28th.

The Committee on personnel have reported some strong and experienced counselors returning to camp and some splendid new ones being lined up for the season. Dr. Harold Giddings of Newton Centre and Frank J. Perry of Newton with Camp Director Clyde G. Hess, have secured the following men for the summer: Head Counselor of the Senior Camp, Ed. Lamson, from Colgate. Mr. Lamson has had a lot of experience in camping and has been at Camp Day for two summers.

Alan T. Shaw of Bowdoin, a star baseball player from Newton High a few years ago, has been appointed head Counselor of the Junior Camp. He will have charge of the boys from 11 to 14 years of age.

City Hall Employees Have Annual Banquet

Make Merry at Marlboro Last Tuesday Evening

Pine Grove Inn in Marlboro was the scene of another get-together for the Newton City Hall Associates on March 19th.

Numbering about seventy-five, they left from City Hall at 5 o'clock and arrived at Pine Grove Inn in plenty of time for their lobster and chicken dinners which were served at 6:30. All during dinner, a variety of colored hats and noise-makers, which were distributed to the crowd, were very much in evidence.

After grace was said by His Honor, Mayor Childs, the toastmaster for the evening, Street Commissioner Stuart, was introduced by the president of the association, Leon Mayer. Then the entire gathering lustily sang, "Hail, Hail, the Gang's All Here," as requested by their toastmaster, after which they proceeded to enjoy lobster and chicken, uninterrupted. The Pine Grove orchestra played during dinner—some old-time selections which prompted everyone to exercise his vocal talents, as well as some of our very up-to-date jazz hits.

Immediately after dinner, Mayor Childs was called upon to make a few remarks. He spoke on some of the conditions of the city at the present time, and praised the ability of the various departments in handling their particular duties.

Then President Mayer of the Association arose to make an address of welcome to those present. He had (Continued on Page 8)

Using Water From Needham Wells Again

Bacteria Growth Eliminated After Several Months' Work

On Tuesday evening of this week the supply of water from this city's own reservation at Needham was pumped into the water mains. Since early last November all the water used in this city had been received from the Metropolitan District supply. At that time the local supply had been condemned by the State health authorities because of an obnoxious growth which had appeared in it. This growth, a genus of bacteria known as leptotheix, apparently seeped into the older of the two large artesian wells at the end of the reservation towards Dedham and is supposed to have come through the ground from an area on which soil stripped from another section of the reservation was dumped. The area stripped of surface soil and growth is a natural amphitheatre which was flooded with water pumped from the Charles River, for the purpose of adding to the water supply by having this water percolate through a gravel strata into the artesian wells.

According to one theory leptotheix bacteria in the ground on which the stripped soil was dumped was forced by the great weight down through underlying quicksand and this seeped into the artesian well at the easterly end of the reservation. This bacteria grows rapidly upon coming in contact with rust, so when it reached the large iron pipe conduit running (Continued on Page 4)

Locke Second In Intercollegiate

Bill Locke of Newtonville, an outstanding swimmer on the Bowdoin college swimming team, scored the only points for his alma mater in the intercollegiate swimming meet at the University Club pool last Saturday. Locke finished second in the 200 yd. breast-stroke, the first time this season that he has been defeated. Captain Walter Schott of Williams had to break his own record made a year ago to defeat the Bowdoin swimmer, the time being 2 minutes 40 seconds. From the very start the pair had a merry battle and were on practically even terms until the last two laps when Schott opened up a three yard margin which he held to the finish. Locke qualified for the finals by winning the third trial heat on Friday.

Harvard Squad Cut.

Coach Fred Mitchell of the Harvard varsity baseball team made the first cut in the squad on Monday of this week. Howie Whitmore, former Newton ace, looks to be the foremost hurler the Crimson has this year while Tommy Gilligan is one of the three leading candidates for the regular catching berth. The prospective infield is made up of all Greater Boston former schoolboys and should Whitmore-Gilligan be the first string battery it would be rather fitting.

Brookton Gets Dickinson Trophy

The Brookton high school track team, which won the State-wide championship on March 2nd in the East Army was presented with the Alfred W. Dickinson trophy at a special assembly in the school Wednesday morning. The trophy is annually awarded by the Massachusetts High School Association which conducts the meet.

Miss Rice Advances.

Recent reports from Nice, France, state that Miss Virginia Rice of Newton Centre has reached two semi-finals in the south of France lawn tennis championships. Miss Rice and her partner, Furnival, beat the Reznicek-Lowenthal team in women's doubles and Miss Rice and Aeschliman beat Reznicek and Ruhlman in mixed doubles.

Spain in Exeter Infield

Frank Spain, former Newton high star athlete, is expected to play shortstop on the Exeter Academy nine this spring. Spain has been showing the form that gained him a major league tryout at Braves Field last fall in the practice sessions. Bob Bennett, former Newton outfielder is trying out for a position behind the bat on the New Hampshire academy team.

Gatchell Second In Shotput

Six interclass marks were smashed at the meet at Bowdoin college last week Saturday between the sophomore and the freshmen. The sophomore won the meet by the margin of but one point. Twelve more points were given the second year men for breaking four records while the yearlings obtained six for two records which gave the sophomores a still wider lead. Creighton Gatchell, former Newton high athlete, took second place for the freshman in the 16-lb shot put with a heave of 35-ft. 6-in. Gatchell also ran on the freshman relay which was defeated by the sophomores when the latter clipped over two seconds from the old record.

Bryant Winds Up With Win

Captain John Bryant of the Dartmouth swimming team closed his career last Saturday by leading his mates to a surprisingly decisive victory over the Navy mermen by a 41 to 21 score. The Navy took a temporary lead after the second event but the points were piled up enough to win without the relay, an event which they took, however, smashing the pool record with Captain Bryant's aid. Bryant also won both the 50 and 100-yard dashes to entrench himself in first place for individual scoring honors in the Intercollegiate Association.

Makes All-Smith Swimming Team.

Miss Jeanie Kearns of Newton is one of three Greater Boston girls honored with membership on the All-Smith college swimming team.

Newton League Ends Season

The Newton bowling league closed its team season Wednesday night, playing two matches. The Newton club took two points at bottle pins from Middlesex to knock the latter out of the championship which was won by the team from Brockton with 47 wins and 13 losses. Middlesex would have tied for the title had they taken two of the three points and would have won the honors by sweeping the match. Middlesex won the Boston pin tourney by a wide margin, taking three of the four points from the Newton club with 66 wins and 14 losses. Newton finished second. In the other matches Maugus won both from Hunnewell, taking two at bottle pins and three at Bostons. Hunnewell's bowlers came through with a point in the third string at Bostons to prevent Maugus from tying them for third place. With a six pin lead in the eighth box Ford and Greene of Hunnewell hung up spares to offset a strike by Anderson of Maugus in his tenth box to give the Newton team the point by eleven pins.

Newton Athletes Elected

Dartmouth has honored two of its outstanding athletes from Newton with senior class offices. John W. Bryant of West Newton, captain of the swimming team, was elected to the vice-presidency, and Dick Rogers, also of West Newton, a star wing on the hockey team, was chosen treasurer.

Brookton Y Defeats Newton

Brookton Y junior swimming team defeated the Newton Y juniors last Friday at the Newton Y tank, 30 to 23. Edgar Davidson of Newton was again the star of the meet, winning three firsts—the 20-yard freestyle, 20 yard backstroke and the 100-yard freestyle. Other Newton points were scored by Tombs, second in the 100 yard backstroke, Adams second in the 100 and by Anderson and McNamara with thirds in the backstroke and dive respectively.

Greene And DeLong Win Places

Ned Greene and Charles DeLong of the Hunnewell club Boston pin bowling team will represent that club in the roll-offs for the individual championships. Prior to Wednesday night's match with Maugus DeLong had a twelve pin lead over Ed Loring in total pinfall for the season. The two highest bowlers being chosen to roll in the individual tourney. DeLong rolled 193, 137, and 120 against Loring's 191, 194, and 195 to increase his lead to 62 pins.

NEWTON HIGH HAS OUTDOOR SESSION

Coach John L. Sullivan had the candidates for the Newton High school baseball team outdoors for the first time this season yesterday afternoon. Clavin Field will be used for the practice sessions as last year although the squad is considerably handicapped by the presence of the bleachers erected to accommodate the football fans last fall. The new diamond has dried out very well and if the next few weeks are not accompanied by heavy rains it is more than possible that some games will be staged there and not on other fields as rumored. Until then however it will remain a question as to just where the games will be played.

Prospects for another championship team this year received a decided setback recently when Phil Andres, outstanding catcher, leading 1928 batsman and one of the few veterans of last year's aggregation still in school, was injured. Andres was wrestling in one of the gymnasium classes last week when by some quirk of fate the sixth vertebra of his spinal column became dislocated. The injury fortunately was far from as serious as it might have been but what effect it will have upon his ability to play baseball is another question that only the future will answer. Meanwhile Arthur Wilson, veteran outfielder and a substitute catcher two years ago, has taken up the backstopping duties. He is the only lad of proved ability who is capable of holding down the position until the return of Andres.

If Coach Sullivan was as well-off for catchers as he is for pitchers a big problem would be solved. Not for many years has the high school had a lot of stuff but needs a lot of experience to bring him along. A year or two from now he should be making his bid for scholastic honors. A number of candidates are trying out for the first base position left vacant by the graduation of Captain Spencer DeLong. Among the candidates are the basketball team and Daniel Harrington, captain of the hockey team, both seniors, are among the leading candidates. Another likely looking prospect is John McCarthy, a junior and captain-elect of the basketball team.

Carl Fletcher will hold down second base again and should have his best year. He played a fine game last spring teaming up with shortstop Frank Spain and learned a lot from the latter which will serve him in good stead this season. A number of other likely looking players are trying out for the other positions which will probably be filled by those who show ability to hit as well as to field. For the present batting practice will occupy the largest part of the outdoor sessions and will receive Coach Sullivan's greatest attention. When the ground has dried out an infield will be selected and given a chance to show its ability.

B. U. Gets Outdoors

Coach Dave Morey of the Boston University baseball team took his squad outdoors to Nickerson Field at Riverside this week. Three local youths are trying for places on the nine. Carleton 'Buster' McCulloch is one of eight veterans and should claim his old position in the outfield. Holmes Whitmore, sub-first baseman last year, is again competing with Paul Bercholtz for that berth. Victor Stout a former Newton high third baseman on last year's Worcester academy nine is now a freshman at the College of Business Administration. He is candidate for second base on the B. U. varsity. Glenn O'Brien, a veteran of several years, is expected to report to Coach Morey next week and will probably hold down his position at the keystone sack.

Watertown Girls Win.

The Watertown high school girls' basketball team, who have since won the state championship, defeated the Newton high girls' team last week by the overwhelming score of 48 to 7. Six of the orange and blacks seven points were scored by Elizabeth Locke, right forward.

Andres Doing Catching

The Dartmouth baseball team took on definite shape this Monday when an infield was picked with three Greater Boston boys taking part in a fast practice. When Harold Andres, former Newton high three-sport star, was chosen to do the catching he made the fourth.

Gilligan With Football Squad

Among those reporting at the initial spring football practice at Harvard this week was Francis Gilligan, former Newton high and Exeter Academy athlete. Gilligan was an outstanding back on the undefeated freshman team at Harvard last fall. He and his younger brother, Tom, who at present is with the baseball squad, will be friendly rivals for starting berths on the Crimson varsity eleven next fall.

Noble Eliminated

Arthur Noble of the Newton Centre Tennis Club's class C squash racquets team was eliminated from the individual championship tourney last Saturday in his second round match by Eddie Stimpson of the University Club in straight games.

THREE NEWTON LADS ON ALL-TRACK TEAM

For the third consecutive year the Boston Globe chooses its allstate high school indoor track team from performances during the dual meet and interscholastic season. Newton high places its three outstanding stars on the team with one of the three being picked for two places. Bob Ewing, former Illinois sprinter who transferred to Newton high last fall, is the outstanding dash man in the state. He won every race in the interscholastic meets with the exception of that at Andover when he was nosed out by Johnny Hayes, brilliant Somerville high runner. Ewing was also clocked by several of the watches at the State meet in the East Army the first of the month in 5 3/5 seconds—a fifth of a second under the record. He was credited with a 5.710 performance but inasmuch as his time goes down on the books as 5 4.5 seconds, equalling the record. Ewing was beaten twice in the dual meet season by his teammate, Carl Pescosolido. The latter also placed second to Ewing in the other dual meets and Northeastern interscholastic and third at the State meet. At the Andover meet there was little doubt in the minds of the majority of spectators but what Pescosolido was missed by the judges in the final and that he should have been placed third. In addition to Ewing and Pescosolido the other schoolboys chosen for the dash man on the state team were Hayes, Satchell of Brighton and Morin of Spencer. Ewing was ranked first followed by Hayes, Satchell, Pescosolido and Morin.

Captain Dick Reynolds was ranked as fifth best 600-yard runner in the state. McLennan of Mechanics Arts who won the state title was placed first. Smith of Brookline second, Adams of Worcester South third. Andrews of Medford fourth and the Newton leader next.

Pescosolido was placed second in the shotput as Fink of Brookline was head and shoulders ahead of everyone else in the field. Pescosolido consistently beat Knightly of Lawrence, Romano of Plymouth, and Stevens of Brockton with the exception of the Northeastern meet when he failed to place.

The first two men named for the other events were hurdles. Hayes of Somerville and Lavallee of Lowell; 300-yard run—Doherty of Brockton and McManus of Mechanics Arts; 700 yard run—Cuneo of Medford and Keaville of Leominster; high jump—Anderson of Salem and Sandler of Lowell; standing broad jump—LoCasio of Brookline and Satchell of Brighton.

Country Day Elects Gleason

Francis Gleason was recently elected captain of the 1930 hockey team at Country Day School. He is an all round athlete having made his letter in four sports, football, track, hockey and baseball. James Cobb was honored for his fine work as a 1000-yard runner on the track team this winter by being selected to the captaincy of the team for next year. Officers of the Athletic Association at Country Day School recently elected were: Francis Gleason, president; Elliot Ritchie, secretary and John Madden, treasurer.

McIntyre Makes Honduras Trip

Each year Tabor Academy students are chosen on a basis of scholarship, athletics and citizenship for cruises to southern countries. Four groups are selected with 32 in each group. They continue their studies, members of the faculty accompanying the students, they are given a thorough grounding in seamanship, being assigned to regular duty, they hold athletic drills while on board ship and on arriving at their destinations compete with schools of that particular country in that land's favorite sport.

The group which is going to Honduras and of which Donald McIntyre of Newton Centre will be a member, will play baseball. The division going to Guatemala will play soccer. The 3rd group heading for Porto Rico engage in basketball and the fourth group making Mexico their destination is still uncertain as to what will be staged as the success of the tour depends upon the political situation. The Porto Rico and Mexico groups left yesterday while the other two leave tomorrow.

Dewolf Reaches Semi-finals

Newton had several entries in the N. E. A. U. boxing championships at the Arena on Monday but one of whom reached the semifinals which were staged on Tuesday evening. Wallace Dewolf of the Newton A. C. battled his way to victory in two trials bouts on Monday in the 160-lb class but was defeated in his semifinal round bout by Louis Merloni of Framingham who came through in the finals to win the title. In his first bout Dewolf knocked out Flette of the Providence A. C. in the 3rd round. He later met Raymond Lopez, one of a pair of Watertown twin 160-pounders, and won the decision in three rounds. In his match with Merloni the Newton boxer hit the floor twice in the first round from his opponents body punches which gave Merloni a lead he courageously preserved despite valiant efforts of Dewolf to land a knockout punch. Other Newton entries who failed to survive Monday night's trials were Paddy McStay, 118 lbs, who lost a decision to Tardugno of Lawrence; Billy White of the Lakeside Club who lost the decision to Russell Kelcourse of Quincy in the 135-lb class; and Charles Kelley who scored a one-round knockout over Joe O'Brien of Boston in the first round of the 147-lb class but lost a decision in his next bout to Mike Troy of Worcester.

SWANSON GETS SCHOOL JOB

Arthur Swanson of 179 Crafts street, Newtonville, has been appointed supervisor of engineers in the Newton schools. This is the position created last year and to which William Gilderson of Malden was appointed temporarily with the belief that he would get the position permanently. Accordingly, Mr. Gilderson moved from Malden to Auburndale. The Civil Service Commission refused to certify him as he was fourth on the eligible list and one of the first three had to be appointed. The school authorities, therefore have given the permanent appointment to Mr. Swanson who has been a resident of this city for several years. He holds a first-class engineer's license and has been in the employ of the Boston Elevated Company.

NEWTON BUSINESS ASSOCIATES MEETING

The monthly meeting of the Newton Business Associates was held at the Hunnewell Club on March 14th. President Thomas M. Burns presided and among the matters discussed was the need of a convenience station at Newton Corner. Watson F. Baker, manager of the Taylor buildings at Newton Corner told of undesirable conditions which have long existed around the Hunnewell square because of the lack of any public sanitary station. A committee was appointed by President Burns to confer with Mayor Childs on this matter.

The speaker of the evening was Charles E. Coyne of Newton, a member of the advertising staff of William Flene Sons Company of Boston. Mr. Coyne explained the various advertising mediums used by large stores. He stated that newspaper advertising is depended upon principally and other methods used include direct mail publicity, a "Shopping News" published co-operatively by a number of the larger Boston stores, attractive displays of merchandise in the stores and clean, well kept store buildings. Courteous, well informed salespeople are also good advertisements for stores. Mr. Coyne dealt with the psychology of advertising, the different types of advertising appeals, such as quality, style, price, seasonal requirements. He told of the necessity of having advertisements distinctive, interesting, convincing. He advised his listeners to resort extensively to advertising and to keep their stocks of merchandise abreast of the times and the wants of their customers.

FIRE RECORD

Box 921 was pulled twice on Tuesday evening for grass fires; at 7:19 for a grass fire on land owned by John Junco off Parker street, and at 9:25 for a grass fire at land near 329 Parker street.

UNDER THE GILDED DOME

Representative Baker made his maiden speech at the House session last Friday morning when, as a member of the Ways and Means Committee, he opposed the bill under the provisions of which the State would acquire as a park Moswetunsett Hummock in Quincy where the name of Massachusetts is claimed by some to have originated. Mr. Baker was applauded by his colleagues. The bill was rejected.

Senator Hollis is a member of the subcommittee of four members of the Committee on Metropolitan Affairs in charge of drafting the bills based on the recommendations of the majority committee regarding the legislation affecting the future of the Boston Elevated.

Somewhat unexpectedly the bill to provide for the vaccination of pupils attending private schools was killed in the Senate this week. The measure had been passed to be engrossed by both branches when opponents sought to have it amended on the enactment stage by providing certain exemptions. An appeal was even made to the Governor, but he could not act as the bill had not then reached him. Nothing developed for several days but Tuesday, on motion of Senator Kidder of Cambridge, the bill was referred to the next annual session. There was not a word of debate.

It is hard to say what is going to happen in the matter of the proposed parkway for the Charles River Basin. The Committee on the Metropolitan Affairs is giving it a lot of attention and has held many lengthy hearing sessions. So strong is the opposition and so divided the views that it would not be surprising if the project were put off another year. The usual method up here is to refer knotty matters to a special commission. But a commission has already made its report and the question of action is up to the General Court. Often, under such circumstances and especially when the opponents present a strong case, the matter is put off for a year. It would not be surprising if that happened to the Charles River Basin proposition.

Representative Luitwieler tried unsuccessfully last Tuesday to have substituted for the "Port Authority" bill, advanced by the House, his own bill for a similar commission which he felt would be better legislation and more desirable in meeting the needs of the situation.

The action of the House in substituting for an adverse report of the Committee on Public Service a bill to increase the salaries of the members of the General Court from $1500 to $2000 was not surprising. It has been some years since an increase was voted and members, or a number of them at least, have felt they should be paid more. It can hardly be called content, however, as the Legislature has had no compunction in turning down salary increases for heads of State departments. It has even refused to pass a bill increasing from $10,000 to $25,000 the salary of the Governor and from $4000 to $10,000 the salary of the Lieutenant Governor. But the salary increase for themselves went through with a whoop. The thing is not settled by any means for it will now go to the Ways and Means Committee. And yet if that committee reports against, as it probably will, there will probably be enough votes to carry the bill through in both branches. No doubt, if the legislation is enacted and signed by the Governor, critics will have their fling. But that will make little difference for legislators are usually willing to stand a few knocks, particularly when it means a raise of $500 a year.

This year is expected to see passage of legislation to prevent the recurrence of such a disastrous happening as that of some months ago when a privately maintained home for aged people was wrecked through the mis-

RECENT ENGAGEMENTS

Mr. and Mrs. A. A. Pollan of 61 Homestead road, Waban, recently announced the engagement of their daughter, Miss Elizabeth Pollan to Mr. A. L. Wetherhall of Brockton, at a dinner party given at their home. Mr. Wetherhall is connected with the United Fruit Company.

The engagement has been announced of Miss Madge Holbrook Flinn, daughter of Mrs. Thomas W. Flinn of Fairview street, Newton, to Robert C. Munroe of Longmeadow, Mass.

conduct of those who operated it. The worst feature was the fact that a number of old people lost their savings and were left destitute. A bill is on its way through the Legislature to require such places to be supervised by the State. It seems a pity that it is necessary that some unfortunate happening such as this should have to take place in order to demonstrate the need of remedial legislation.

One of the sharpest debates of the year in the House was that on the bill to provide for the appointment of an additional judge of probate and insolvency for Hampden county. The present judge appears to be a storm centre and those who criticise want another judge before whom they may appear. The Newton Representatives went on record against the bill.

Central Council Boy
And Girl Conference

Much Interest in Recent Meeting and Youth Discussion

On Wednesday, March 13, 1929 the West Newton Community Center was hostess for a joint meeting of the Big Brother and Big Sister Committee and the Welfare Conference Group at the West Newton Library. After luncheon was served to about forty-five persons, Mrs. Marshall, chairman of the Welfare Conference, opened the meeting by speaking of the fact that two years ago the beginnings of the Big Brother and Sister work were made in the same room with representatives present from all societies in Newton working with boys and girls.

Mrs. Katherine P. Cowin, President of the West Newton Community Center was called upon by Mrs. Marshall to tell something about their work. She said that they were a young but precocious organization about four years of age. Two hundred and five different children came to the Centre often several times a week. The work includes two mothers' clubs, four boys' clubs, a class of colored women, a pre-school kindergarten each day, and many other activities. This is the only organization in Newton, Mrs. Cowin said, which does active work with the colored people.

Mrs. Marshall then handed over the meeting to Mayor Childs, the Chairman of the Executive Committee on the Boy and Girl Problem in Newton. A year ago, he said, it was voted to continue this committee until January, 1929. The reports of the Secretary, Mr. Charles C. Dasey; of the Treasurer, Mr. William T. Halliday; and of the field worker, Mrs. Malcolm P. Ball, were read. In these reports the results of the experiment carried on by the Committee were reviewed and several recommendations made for the future.

The Executive Committee felt that the experiment had been completed, and that they could now come to a definite conclusion: namely that a new organization is not needed in Newton to care for the boy and girl problems which arise. A Visiting Teacher for the Junior High Schools particularly, and later for the whole school system (in addition to the High School which already has one) would cover many cases, and an employment office, to provide work for boys and young men would also help in general. It was felt that existing organizations by increasing their scope could better provide for the needs of the boys and girls of Newton than an organization formed separately for them.

A discussion then took place in regard to the recommendations in the reports just read. Mr. Irving C. Palmer, Principal of the Newton High School, spoke of the need of a Visiting Teacher for children in their earliest school years. He said that the proper way would be to have visitors interpret the school to the home and the home to the school from the very beginning.

At the Mayor's request, Mr. Lyscom A. Bruce, the Boy Scout Executive, told of the investigation being carried on under the Russell Sage Foundation in regard to the behaviour and needs of younger boys. Mrs. Cella E. Wellman, Probation Officer, spoke of the need for employment, which is still an urgent one for her boys and girls. Miss Lucy E. Cobb, President of the Stearns School Center, said that since the Big Sister Committee was formed their organization has been thinking in terms of Big Sister work as they had never done before. She thought that the older girls in groups could be influenced to become Big Sisters to the much younger girls. Miss Annie E. Sturge, School Psychologist, said that her boys and girls still needed friends more than anything else. Mr. James P. Gallagher, a member of the Executive Committee on the Boy and Girl Problem said he had been merely a student in regard to the work of the committee. He felt that everybody's job was that of a Big Brother or Sister in his own neighborhood; that we often are willing to be friendly with those whom we can keep at a sufficient distance, but are afraid to be friendly with those who are near. This neighborliness, if carried on throughout the community would make the job of social service organizations a comparatively small one. Miss Anne L. Leathers, Secretary of the Y. W. C. A., said the work of all Welfare organizations need service even more than money. "Will you serve" is often said and more urgently than "Will you give?" Mr. George M. Heathcote, another member of the Executive Committee said he had been a Big Brother for twenty years. He felt the work of the Big Brother and Sister Committee was not over, but would develop in some new direction.

After extending a vote of thanks to the West Newton Community Center, the Committee and the Field Worker, it was voted that the Committee be discharged.

The Mayor said he felt sure the work would continue in some form, and as his last word he emphasized the fact that Big Brother work is simply friendliness, and that in that direction we all can "carry on."

LEVI F. WARREN JUNIOR HIGH

On March 29 the students of the Warren Junior High had a pleasant surprise. The week before Mr. Cronin from the Library had told us part of the story of Dickens' "Great Expectations." This week Mr. Cronin was there again. He told us part of the story from Morrow's "On to Oregon." It was very interesting and I think that every child in the school will want to read it. Mr. Cronin also sang several songs to us. We all hope to see Mr. Cronin again, soon.

At the basketball game on Tuesday, F. A. Day beat Warren 39 to 15. It takes good players to lose as well as to win.

The regular winter meeting of the League of Junior High School Publications of Eastern Massachusetts was held at the Belmont Junior High School, Belmont, on March 15, 1929.

At four o'clock, one hundred and forty-seven League members assembled in the assembly hall. All but two schools were represented. The Washington Irving Junior High in Roslindale was a new member of the League.

The meeting was called to order by Mr. Thistle, chairman of the Advisory Board. Many interesting topics on school magazines were discussed by all the members. Rosalind Bigelow of the Warren Jr. High gave an interesting talk on "How do you get 100 percent subscriptions?"

The meeting was adjourned for a most enjoyable St. Patrick's Banquet. Songs and cheers were contributed by the different schools. The evening program consisted of a talk "Welcome to Belmont," by Supt. Frank A. Scott. Marjorie McDonough danced two numbers. An address "Getting the News," was given by Mr. George Ryan. A film was given entitled "The Making of a Great Newspaper."

"The Old Sleuth," a play by Warren Beck, was given by the members of the Belmont Junior High. Thus ended a most enjoyable day at the Belmont Junior High School.

F. A. DAY JUNIOR HIGH

During assembly this week we took an imaginary trip under the leadership of Dr. H. H. Powers, president of the Bureau of University Travel. We went directly to Greece, and there, slipping off the civilization of the last two thousand years, we found ourselves in the city of Olympia, at the scene of the great athletic games. In the early morning we follow the crowd to the stadium. With breathless eagerness we watch the athletes as they compete in each of the contests. Before entering the field, each man is expected to appear in the temple, and to swear by oath that he has fulfilled all the rules of training, that he will do his utmost to bring victory and glory to his city and that he will do it squarely. Each athlete has to compete in each event and the low man is eliminated without having the opportunity to take part in any of the following events. The Greeks left us high ideals of sportsmanship and we were sorry to leave this interesting land to return to classes, second period.

Our six hundred and fifty boys and girls attended the movie in the F. A. Day Auditorium last week—a record attendance. Next week the moving picture committee is planning to show the well known aviation picture—"Wings." It is expected that this attraction will mean another capacity attendance.

In the last basketball game of the season, the F. A. Day Boys' Varsity won from the Levi Warren team 31 to 12.

LASELL SEMINARY

Last week was "Good Posture Week" at Lasell. The girl whose posture was rated the highest was Mary Elizabeth Thomas, a senior, from Paris, Illinois. A prize went to her and also to Alice Pratt '29, from Toledo, Ohio, for the best poem, and Mildred Gaffney '30, from Lexington, Mass., for the best poster.

The Art Classes will entertain the Dance Club and girls who have served as their models at an Apache Party on Saturday evening, March 23, in the Studio. The Studio will represent a Parisian Cafe and the guests will be dressed in Apache costumes. During the evening a group of Bohemian dances will be given by members of the Dance Club.

Rev. Peter A. Dunn, pastor of the Central Congregational Church in Boston, will be the speaker at the vesper service on Sunday, March 24, at 6:15.

On March 29 Miss Lillie R. Potter, Dean, will leave with a party of Lasell girls to spend a week in Washington, D. C.

Lasell Seminary closes on March 29 for the Easter vacation, re-opening April 9.

through the reservation, trouble commenced.

When the contamination in the water became pronounced the local supply was entirely cut off and all water used in the city was taken from the Metropolitan system. From some cause, or another, when Metropolitan water is pumped into Newton's mains it is quite aerated when drawn from faucets and this condition has been a source of annoyance during the more than four months that this water has been used.

The first attempt to purify the Newton water supply after it was cut off by chlorination and when this did not produce the desired results the conduits and pipes on the reservation and leading to the pumping station were thoroughly cleaned. The artesian well from which the faulty water supply is supposed to have come has been abandoned for the present and will not be connected up again until repeated tests by the State authorities show that water coming from this well is absolutely pure. During the past several months a large number of tests have been made of the Newton water and the first of this week, after it had been found to be quite free from any impurities, it was again turned into the mains. Much of the delay in the cleansing of the conduit pipes on the reservation and the availability of the use of the local supply again was caused by the delay of the Edison Company in making connections so that pumps on the reservation could be used.

The local supply at present is ample to meet Newton's needs, about 4,000,000 gallons being obtained daily. It is probable when the summer months come and the supply from the Needham terrain will have appreciably lessened, that some water will have to be obtained from the Metropolitan system.

SIX CYLINDER SENTENCES

By DR. JOHN W. HOLLAND

O+O

Young man, use some of your acumen to accumulate something.

On life's mental ocean we must either sink or swim.

The world's political garments cannot be whitened by political soft-soap.

No one is whole who cannot practice self-control.

Heaven never gives to us the power to bear tomorrow's troubles today.

Be sure that you make the best of this world before you pine for the better.

Edmund Andros

When Duke of York became King of England in 1685, he appointed Edmund Andros governor of all New England. As he walked through the streets of Boston the mutinous colonists threatened Andros' downfall. This tyrant was driven out early in 1689.

Constant application and years of careful study are responsible for the fine character of service that we offer.

The Lynn Bowling Team will bowl against the Newton Team on Saturday evening, March 23rd, at the Newton Alleys.

Rev. John Slade Franklin, of the Lincoln Park Baptist Church of West Newton, will be the speaker before the Fellowship Club on Monday evening, March 25th. His subject will be, 'A Man Looks at Calvary.' This will be a talk in keeping with the last week of the Lenten Season.

The talk given last week by Dr. A. E. King of Waverly brought out a large attendance. They kept the Doctor busy asking questions long after he had finished his talk.

A squash racquets tournament is under way at the Newton Y. M. C. A. It will begin on March 23rd. Mr. J. Wm. Blaisdell has donated a beautiful cup which will become the property of the first man to win the tournament three times. Prizes for this year will be, a squash racquet to the winner; given by Hugo B. Seikel, and sweater to the man winning second place; given by George W. Wright. So much interest has developed in squash racquets that the two courts are kept busier than ever. The Committee in charge of the tournament consists of: C. V. Moore, Chairman, George Wright, Ray Millard, H. A. Swan, H. W. Bascom, and R. B. Simmons.

Y. W. C. A.

Last Monday evening Miss Alta V. Blakely was the recipient of a very lovely miscellaneous shower, given by the members of the Blue Triangle Club, at the home of Mrs. and Miss Conrad in Brighton, which was appropriately decorated for the occasion. Miss Blakely is to become the bride of Albert Fogelgren of Boston, and has selected June as her wedding month. We wish to extend our thanks to Mrs. and Miss Conrad for a lovely party, and to the future Mr. and Mrs. Fogelgren our very best wishes for their happiness.

Next Monday evening, March twenty-fifth, the members of the club are to be the guests of Miss Miriam Drury at her home, 334 Franklin street, where our adviser and Executive Secretary, Miss Anne L. Leathers, will speak to us. This will be a most enjoyable evening and we urge you to attend, for the girls always look forward with pleasure to a time when Miss Leathers will talk to them, especially at this season of the year.

CAMP FRANK A. DAY ANNOUNCES ANOTHER SEASON

son of Sterling College, Kansas, John Lewis of University of Pennsylvania, Bennett Cathedral of the Collegiate Marble Church of New York. Other men are under consideration and will be accepted as soon as they have properly passed the requirements.

The sub-leaders, or the workers group, who are in training for leadership in future years are: Malcolm Robb of Newtonville, Richard Hapgood of Newton Highlands, George Marsh, Jr., of Alston, Howard Pierce of Newton, Kenneth Lane of West Newton, and Bobby Johnson of Watertown.

In all probability the Chef will be the same as in former years. He is James Timmins who has cooked for boys at Exeter Academy for over twenty-three years. His helper will be George Van Buskirk of Church street, Newton, Mass.

The registration for 1929 will be the same as in former years and 105 boys will be accepted. The Newton boys and boys in the vicinity of Newton will have the preference. Old time campers have come back in large numbers. The board is also the same and is payable in advance at the rate of $11.00 weekly.

Improvements in the camp this year will be along the line of greater program facilities and the Committee is endeavoring to secure more land for the boys to roam on. At present plans are underway for new cabins but it is doubtful if they will be built for the coming season. Mr. Lewis E. Moore is working with sanitary engineers in getting a new incinerator and is looking after the sanitary arrangements for camp. Chairman of the Committee, C. D. Kepner, has appointed the members of the Committee to different projects for the summer.

The Committee is made up of the following men: Mr. C. D. Kepner, Chairman; G. Clement Colburn, F. D. Fuller, H. W. Bascom, Frank A. Day, Harold E. Giddings, Frank J. Perry, L. C. Moore, and Clyde G. Hess, Camp Director.

The reservations have been received in large numbers and the list of boys who have signed up for the season or part of it are: Ralph Blake, George Collins, William Connor, Roger Doggett, Edmund Dussoit, Bradford Green, Leighton H. Covey, Norman Harris, Donald Kirkpatrick, George Lamb, Melvin Lane, Robert LeBosquet, Robert Lewis, Robert Morton, Lewis Schultz, Frank Sellers, Warren Tuttle, Bruce Ware, 3rd, Herbert Wiley, Charles Armstrong, Herbert Bick, James Clifford, Marshall Cloke, Russell, Leighton, Richard Covey, George Donaldson, William Dunn, Paul DuSossoit, Burleigh Fernald, William Fish, John Hibbard, James Hunter, Richard Johnson, Roland Jones, Warren Knapp, Everhard Krosschell, Herman Krosschell, John Lennarts, Sidney Levine, Norman MacCutcheon, Charles Macdonald, Raymond MacPhail, Everett Muller, James Packard, Robert Rich, Charles Schaaf, Henry Shaw, John Smille, Alan Smith, Robert Stevenson, Richard Townsley, Francis Van Buskirk, Lloyd Walker, Richard Warren, William Young, Harold Brown, and Robert Brown.

just expressed his appreciation for the wonderful co-operation received when he was apparently rudely interrupted by two very black minstrel boys, who later proved to be no other than the famous and popular duo, the Moose Minstrel Show fame. They insisted on immediately putting on their act. This agreed upon, vocal selections were rendered by each member of the group. Mrs. Mary Peppard being their accompanist, and the jokes told by them on various subjects of the gathering were thoroughly appreciated by the entire crowd. After their program, the tables were removed, chairs pushed back, and the room was cleared for dancing.

After a few dances, Mr. Kayler, a well-known Boston comedian, entertained with parodies, impersonations, witty stories, etc. Then the crowd were agreeably surprised at the unearthing of talent right in their own party. Mr. Richard Leahy, former alderman, gave a very impressive and enjoyable recitation; Katherine Kimball played a piano selection—all of which added greatly to the entertainment and enjoyment of the evening.

It was indeed a pleasure to know that so much talent existed among the associates themselves.

The Inn orchestra was then called upon to furnish the music for dancing for the remainder of the evening.

Among those present were Alderman Temperley and Powers, Alderman Bowen and Mrs. Bowen, and ex-Alderman Leahy.

The City Hall Association Committee, consisting of Leon Mayer, president, Ebba Carlson, vice-president, and Theresa Goldard, secretary and treasurer, who were in charge of the affair, were ably assisted by Mr. Stuart, Mr. Grant, Mr. Pooney, and Miss Mary Ryan.

Mayor Bauer of Lynn on March 18 sent to Representative Clarence S. Luitwieler of Newton Highlands a letter expressing his appreciation of the latter's action in preparing a bill which before the Legislature came the matter of amending the laws relative to fire prevention and the use of explosives in the Metropolitan District.

Mr. Luitwieler's bill if enacted into law would safeguard against repetition of such a terrible disaster as occurred last year at Lynn when there was a terrific explosion and fire at the Preble Box Toe factory.

POLICE NEWS

Mrs. Ethel Gale of Murray road, Auburndale was fined $20 in the Newton court on Monday by Judge Bacon for keeping a biting dog. This is the second time Mrs. Gale has been in court because of this canine. Last July a complaint was made to the police that the dog had bitten a child.

Mrs. Gale was summoned to court, fined $10 and the fine was suspended for one year. On March 9 a complaint was received at police headquarters that the dog, which looks like a cross between a German shepherd and a collie, had bitten Barbara Kearney, a little girl residing at 269 Webster street. Patrolman Bibbo was sent to the Gale residence and according to his testimony when Mrs. Gale's daughter opened the door of the house in response to his ring, the rambunctious canine leaped out, bit the policeman and added insult to injury by knocking Bibbo off the steps of the porch.

Mrs. Gale, who is colored, told Judge Bacon that she and her daughter have been subjected to annoyance and persecution and that she was forced to keep a dog to keep intruders from trespassing upon her property and bothering her young daughter. She denied that the dog had bitten either the Kearney child or Policeman Bibbo. She asserted the child had come into her yard and entered a shed on the premises when she was scratched by the dog. She claimed that Bibbo had remained there for such a length of time because it was supposed to be the property of some member of the Y. M. C. A. When this was found not to be the case Patrolman Maguire was notified and he reported the matter to police headquarters.

Howard Hayford of 147 Hancock street, Auburndale was in the Newton court on Monday charged by Fred Howland of 1381 Washington street with having failed to return a battery owned by the complainant who runs a battery station. Hayford's case was continued on his promise to obtain the battery and return it to Howland.

CITY EMPLOYEES BANQUET

just expressed his appreciation for the wonderful co-operation received when he was apparently rudely interrupted by two very black minstrel boys, who later proved to be no other than the famous and popular duo, the Moose Minstrel Show fame. They insisted on immediately putting on their act. This agreed upon, vocal selections were rendered by each member of the group. Mrs. Mary Peppard being their accompanist, and the jokes told by them on various subjects of the gathering were thoroughly appreciated by the entire crowd. After their program, the tables were removed, chairs pushed back, and the room was cleared for dancing.

After a few dances, Mr. Kayler, a well-known Boston comedian, entertained with parodies, impersonations, witty stories, etc. Then the crowd were agreeably surprised at the unearthing of talent right in their own party. Mr. Richard Leahy, former alderman, gave a very impressive and enjoyable recitation; Katherine Kimball played a piano selection—all of which added greatly to the entertainment and enjoyment of the evening.

It was indeed a pleasure to know that so much talent existed among the associates themselves.

The Inn orchestra was then called upon to furnish the music for dancing for the remainder of the evening.

Among those present were Alderman Temperley and Powers, Alderman Bowen and Mrs. Bowen, and ex-Alderman Leahy.

The City Hall Association Committee, consisting of Leon Mayer, president, Ebba Carlson, vice-president, and Theresa Goldard, secretary and treasurer, who were in charge of the affair, were ably assisted by Mr. Stuart, Mr. Grant, Mr. Pooney, and Miss Mary Ryan.

Mayor Bauer of Lynn on March 18 sent to Representative Clarence S. Luitwieler of Newton Highlands a letter expressing his appreciation of the latter's action in preparing a bill which before the Legislature came the matter of amending the laws relative to fire prevention and the use of explosives in the Metropolitan District.

ABOUT TOWN

By Edw. H. Powers

A determined effort was made recently to have a statute passed which would forbid the sale of firearms in Massachusetts. This proposed law was too drastic and was properly turned down. But something certainly should be done to restrict the sale of dangerous weapons by Federal officials and employees. When a 15-year-old boy can purchase an army rifle of high power, capable of hurling a bullet about a mile, a condition exists that should be abolished.

Not only should the sale of rifles of high power be restricted but the use of such weapons should be made very limited. In New Hampshire hunting with rifles is restricted to two northern counties which are sparsely populated. In such a thickly settled state as Massachusetts hunting with high-power rifles should be entirely prohibited. Neither should target practice with these weapons be allowed except in carefully located rifle ranges. These fire-arms have a range of a mile or more and the use of them by incompetent or careless persons jeopardizes the lives of others. Some years ago a Newton woman was walking along a Cape Cod beach with her young son when a bullet from a weapon fired at a distance struck the boy and killed him.

Recently another automobile collision occurred at the intersection of Commonwealth avenue and Chestnut street, West Newton. There is a clear view of this intersection from all directions and there is no good reason why automobile collisions should occur there. Nevertheless, many collisions have taken place there and last year a traffic signal was placed at this place. In the collision referred to an automobile crossing Commonwealth avenue on Chestnut street was hit by a car travelling along the avenue. The driver of the car struck was severely injured. The driver of the car responsible for the smash admitted he was travelling at the rate of 35 miles an hour. He was not brought into court on the charge of driving so as to endanger the lives and safety of the public. If driving an automobile across a street intersection (considered sufficiently dangerous to have a traffic signal in position as a warning) at a speed of 35 miles an hour is not reckless driving, just what is reckless driving?

In a nearby court recently a man was charged with assault and battery because he threw a shoe at his wife. No wonder divorce is on the rapid increase when a man cannot add emphasis to a domestic argument by casting a shoe at his spouse without being accused of assault and battery. Of course, if the footwear happened to be one of the heavy trench shoes with hob-nail soles, such as the soldiers wore in the World War, it would be wrong for a man to hurl this at his wife with any force. Is a husband to have floral bouquets or confetti on hand to throw at his beloved as the climax of a family wrangle? Must a wife emulate the Hawaiians and drape a floral rope about her husband's neck instead of slaying a plate at him when he riles her? Husbands and wives must have reasonable opportunities to give vent to their emotions. Otherwise suppressed indignation will cause brooding and more divorces will result.

Residents of Bellevue and other streets who use the sidewalk next to the parking space on Washington street at Newton Corner believe that a barrier should be placed along the edge of the sidewalk to prevent bumpers of parked cars from projecting across the sidewalk. Formerly the cars were backed against the sidewalk and spare tires extended so far across the walk that persons could not pass by. The Aldermen then passed an ordinance specifying that cars must be parked front end next to the walk. While the bumpers do not offer so much obstruction as did the spare tires they interfere considerably with the use of the sidewalk by pedestrians.

Horace Walton of Linwood avenue, Newtonville, retired supervisor of music in the Newton schools, frequently has birds visit his yard. Last week Mr. Walton discovered a winged visitor in his house. Mr. Walton thought a member of his household was mistaken when he was informed that a bat had been flying through the dwelling one night, but he discovered the little winged animal hanging to a door the following day.

PROSPEROUS YEAR

The twenty-ninth annual report of the Boston Mutual Life Insurance Co. shows that this company continued its splendid progress in 1928 in every department. The Boston Mutual is one of the youngest Massachusetts companies and its progress has been steady and healthy.

The assets of the company on December 31, 1928, amounted to $9,768,000, an increase of $3,828,000 during the past five years. The business in force during the same period of time increased over $19,000,000—the total business in force December 31, 1928, amounted to over $58,000,000.

The interest earnings have more than doubled in the last period of five years and the net surplus shows an increase of 33 per cent. since 1923.

During the year 1928 the company paid to its policy-holders in death claims and disability benefits $493,170; in matured endowments $182,887; in dividends and other payments $532,148, a total of $1,208,206. The Boston Mutual operates in the States of Massachusetts, New Hampshire, Maine and Rhode Island, and writes a large variety of policy contracts applicable to all ages.

The company first occupied the premises at 17 Milk street, the birthplace of Benjamin Franklin. In 1906, greater space was required and the company moved its offices to the Oliver Building, 141 Milk street. In 1909, the company purchased the premises at 75 Kilby street, which it occupied until it recently moved into its new home offices at 160 Congress street, located in the heart of the new financial section, with large and old institutions as immediate neighbors.

HIGHLAND GLEE CLUB CONCERT

The program was carefully selected and contained the prize song which will be heard in the contest of the Federated Men's Glee Clubs in June, also a musical setting of Sam Walter Foss's "The House by the Side of the Road," arranged by Mrs. Gulesian which was most effectively sung by the Club and graciously acknowledged by Mrs. Gulesian after insistent applause. The Club also presented for the first time in New England "Oh, Caesar, Great Wert Thou," a stirring arrangement from the "King's Henchmen." The opera had its premiere at the Metropolitan Opera House last year and was the first successful American opera. The libretto by Edna St. Vincent Millay is a great epic depicting scenes from early British history, while the strong characteristic music by Deems Taylor ranks him undoubtedly as one of the leading, if not the leading American composer living today.

The audience as well as the members of the Club was largely a Newton aggregation, giving local support and endorsement so highly essential to an organization of this character. The consensus of opinion and approval of our musical public is that the Club has by hard work lifted itself to a high standard.

Mr. Dadmun, who was heard in recital this fall at Jordan Hall, received a splendid reception, this being his fourth appearance as soloist with the Club. His art has unquestionably grown so that he ranks today among the foremost recitalists of the country. The masterful way in which his interpretations grip his audiences, the care with which his songs are selected and the infinite detail with which they are sung, coupled with a near faultless tone production, make for a type of art much needed and desired in this particular day and age.

Mr. Dean Hanscom, Tenor, who appeared twice in duet with Mr. Dadmun and the Club is well known to Newton audiences for his many solo appearances and church work and added to the effectiveness of the program.

Mr. Schleicher also was heard most pleasingly in an incidental solo in "Under Blossoming Branches."

Mr. Dadmun's accompanist was Dorothy Birchard Mulrooney who contributed very favorably to a pleasurable evening by her splendid accompaniment and grace at the piano.

This is the final concert of the season by the Glee Club and completes its most successful year. It is not too much to expect that another season will add to its list of patrons many who have not prior to the present season been familiar with the excellent work that this organization has done and can continue to do in an appreciative city like our own.

GEORGE F. WILSON

One of the oldest grocery stores in the Newtons is that of Wilson Bros. at 304 Centre street, Newton Corner. This store was established 37 years ago when the late Gawn Wilson purchased a small grocery store conducted by Daniel James in the Hodgdon Building located at the corner of Centre and Jefferson streets. Shortly afterwards Mr. Wilson moved the store into the old Nonantum block and when the present Nonantum Building was erected the store moved to its present location. In addition to groceries, a large stock of kitchen ware and household utensils was added to the business.

In 1910 Mr. Wilson retired from business and was succeeded by his two sons, George F. and J. Arthur Wilson. These two men have conducted the store with the same degree of success achieved by their father and combine the desirable features of an old time grocery with modern methods which makes the store well patronized. There are few grocery stores in Greater Boston which carry a more diversified stock than Wilson Bros. establishment and the dependable service which it affords its customers has gained for it a large clientele, many of whom have traded there almost since the business was founded.

Y. M. C. A. BOYS' DAY A SUCCESS

The Boys Division members of the Y. M. C. A. in their financial campaign of one day have raised to date $471.75. This is the largest amount raised in quite a few years by the boys themselves.

With the slogan "Build Better Boys for Our Community," last Saturday they started to raise $500.00 in the one day of strenuous campaigning.

Melvin Lane of West Newton, was high man in both the number of calls and the money raised. Melvin delivered 159 letters and collected over $130.00. The following boys were workers and have been successful in every way:

Edward Guillette, Daniel Davis, James Morrissey, David Jennings,

THE NEWTON PRESS A PRINTING ADVERTISEMENT

After 52 years as printers in Newton Upper Falls, the Fanning Brothers retired from the printing business last December. Feeling that it would be a real loss to have the shop closed, I bought their printing outfit.

After a diligent search I have found in Mr. Leonard Curra, a young man who will manage the plant with great success. (I hope). He is a graduate of Wentworth Institute, and has continued advanced studies there during several years, while working at his trade. He comes to us from a good position in one of the best shops in Boston, and brings with him recommendations that any young man might envy.

For years I have admired the careful work of Mr. Frank Hurd, our pressman, and he will continue with us, to turn out the only kind of work he knows—the best.

As a matter of fact we have not yet caught up with the work since we began, but we are now getting organized pretty well, and should like to add another general hand, so please send us some work. Remember—good printing takes time, so give us a chance to do it well, at.

NOTICE TO PROPERTY OWNERS

White Cottony Scale

The City is now spraying street trees for the White Cottony Scale which is affecting the maples particularly. This scale is a white cottony substance appearing on the underside of the leaves, and if it is allowed to exist after a few seasons the life of the tree will be seriously impaired.

We would suggest that property owners inspect their trees, and if this condition is noticed, that they have the trees sprayed with miscible oil.

The Forestry Division cannot attend to spraying for scale on private property, and it would, therefore, be necessary for owners to engage a contractor to do this spraying for them.

For further information regarding the above, call the Forestry Division at City Hall, West Newton 090.

WOMEN'S CLUB ACTIVITIES

COMING EVENTS

Christian Era Study Club

The hostess for the next meeting of the Christian Era Study Club will be Mrs. N. L. Grant, who will open her home, at 296 Melrose street, on the afternoon of March 25th. At 3 o'clock there will be the usual reports from committee chairmen, with any business that may arise. The hostess, Mrs. Grant, has the first paper for the afternoon, her topic being "President Madison and the War—1812." This will be followed by another by Mrs. W. H. Holden who will tell about "Our Merchant Marine."

C. L. S. C. of Newton Highlands

"Peoples and Problems of India" is the timely topic for the program of the C. L. S. C. of Newton Highlands for Monday afternoon, the 25th, in charge of Mrs. Lynette P. Briggs. Mrs. Hiram A. Miller opens her home, 85 Erie avenue, for this meeting, at 2:30 o'clock. The Club is giving five meetings of this second half of the year to the study of conditions and customs of India, and their choice, although made long ago, could not have been more appropriate for current events of vital importance in present day history.

Monday Club

Curiosity is piqued by the simple—but unilluminating—announcement of A PLAY as the program for the Monday Club of Newton Highlands for Monday afternoon, the 25th. Mrs. C. A. Thompson is in charge, and Mrs. J. T. Waterhouse, of 27 Hillside road, is the hostess, with the meeting opening at 2:30 o'clock. In whatever form this entertainment of "a play" appears it is sure to be enjoyable.

West Newton Women's Educational Club

Mrs. Justin D. Starkie, of 125 Woodward street, Newton Highlands, will open her home to entertain the Travel Class of the West Newton Women's Educational Club, on Monday afternoon, March 25th, with Mrs. Charles E. Quinn as joint hostess. Two papers will be read at this meeting, on their year's topic "Rivers of the World,"—"The Murray-Darling of Australia," by Mrs. John W. McLean, and "The Colorado," by Mrs. Fred M. Blanchard.

Newton Federation

"Education—How Much? What Cost?" will be the subject of an address by Francis L. Bacon, former director of secondary education in Newton, and now principal of the Evanston, Illinois High School, at the Executive Board meeting of the Newton Federation on Tuesday, March 26th, at 2:30 p. m., in the library of the Technical High School.

This meeting is in charge of Mrs.

Webber, Commissioner of the Girl Scouts of Bedford, upon the subject "Conservation of Christmas Greens Now" (this is to be enhanced by a large exhibition); Mr. Frank E. Winsor, chief engineer of the Metropolitan Water Supply Commission, on the subject "The Metropolitan Water Supply"; Hon. Charles O. Bailey, secretary of the Department of Conservation, on the subject "Forest Fires"; and Mr. Alton E. Briggs, secretary of the Boston Fruit and Produce Exchange, on the subject "Conservation of Our Food Supply."

Adjournment at this time, approximately 12:30, will be followed by a most enjoyable social hour at Luncheon at 1 o'clock, for those wise persons who have secured their luncheon tickets, at $1.25 each, before March 23rd, from Miss Lilly S. Tobey, Horticultural Hall, Boston, in a gathering at the hotel.

The afternoon session, opening at 2 o'clock, will include as speakers Dr. Arthur W. Gilbert, Commissioner of Agriculture of the Commonwealth, on the subject "New England Resources"; Mrs. S. V. R. Crosby, chairman of the New England Wild Flower Preservation Society, on the subject "Our Natural Beauty Resources"; Prof. Clark L. Thayer, of Amherst College, on the subject "Talk on Gardens," which will be illustrated and consequently should be most beautiful to view; and Dr. John B. May, director of the Division of Ornithology of the Department of Agriculture, on the subject "Why Conserve Our Birds."

It will be seen that the scope of the topics should appeal to many tastes, while bringing real information upon them, other than their aesthetic beauty. There will be five-minute question periods between speakers, which always makes for increased interest, and in addition to this list there is a probability that Mr. Benton MacKaye, vice-chairman of the Regional Planning Association of America, and an expert on preservation of community open spaces, will be present to speak on "The Metropolitan Invasion." Ever Club should be represented at this Conference.

RADIO. Mrs. C. H. Danforth, chairman of Americanization, will broadcast next Wednesday morning, March 27th, from WNAC, at 11:30 o'clock, "What is an American?" Alice K. Coughlan, Soprano, and Walter Blankenship, Baritone, alternating their accompaniment, are the soloists scheduled for 11:40. Mrs. Lewis R. Hovey, District director, has chosen for her subject "Civic Achievements of the Tenth District," and may be heard at 11:50.

PRIZE STORIES. Miss Carolyn Pack, 325 Washington street, Wellesley Hills, chairman of the Publicity and Press Department, sends out a message of dismay to Newton in that she has not yet received any writeups of Club activities from the many talented news writers in this city. If a Newton Clubwoman is to win the $20 prize offered for the best story of a Club activity of the past year (for a Club affiliated with the State Federation) she must hasten. It would, indeed, be disappointing if some of the clever writers of news for this Column did not compete for this prize, and one of them take it. Stories must be less than 800 words, and must be in Miss Pack's hand before April 1st. No Clubwoman connected financially with a newspaper can compete.

GENERAL FEDERATION COUNCIL. Massachusetts Clubwomen are making every possible provision for the comfort of their guests at the General Federation Council to be held at Sampscott in May. Mrs. Walter A. Hall, of Swampscott, Ninth District director, is chairman of the committee on hotel reservations, and the District directors will serve as hotel hostesses. General Federation officers, directors, and Department chairmen, and the State presidents will be met in Boston by local Clubwomen, and driven to Swampscott. Mrs. Edward H. Rugg, of Brookline, is chairman of the depot transportation committee which has charge of this work. Three members of the local committee, Miss Mary P. O'Neill of Lynn, and Mrs. Frank Simpson and Mrs. Frederick W. Collier of Swampscott, will meet guests arriving by train at Lynn and Swampscott. A special hostess will be assigned to each officer, director and Department chairman of the General Federation, and to each State president. Mrs. Edwin L. Pride of Somerville, clerk of the State Federation, has the honor of being hostess to the president of the General Federation, Mrs. John F. Sippel; Mrs. Sumner H. Remick of Reading will be her page, and Mrs. Arthur J. Blood of Norwood will serve her as automobile hostess. The hostesses for the speakers will be Mrs. Frank P. Bennett, Jr., Mrs. Thomas J. Walker, and Mrs. John H. Kimball, vice-presidents of the State Federation. It is evident that real efficiency is being displayed for genuine hospitality.

Social Science Club

The Social Science Club will meet on Wednesday, March 27th, at 10 o'clock at the Hunnewell Club. Mrs. J. Porter Russell will read a paper on "Characteristic Literature of Today." Mrs. William Mitchell and Mrs. Alden Clark will be the hostesses.

Women's Auxiliary to Y. M. C. A.

March 27th is the date of the meeting of the Women's Auxiliary to Y. M. C. A., in the Y. M. C. A. Hall, at Newton, at 3 o'clock, when Clyde Hess, will speak on "Camping." There will also be a musical program by the H-Y Boys. Tea and a social hour will follow. Mrs. Robert Chapin is chairman of the Program Committee, and the president, Mrs. Edwin S. Drowne will preside at the business session.

Auburndale Woman's Club

Dr. J. Edgar Park, president of Wheaton College, will be the speaker at the regular meeting of the Auburndale Woman's Club, on Thursday, March 28th, at 2:30 p. m. in the Auburndale Clubhouse.

Mr. The Hulten, a Swedish Baritone, and brother of the soloist to the court of Sweden, will sing a group of Swedish and English songs. Tea will be served by the Hospitality Committee, Mrs. E. Arthur Hancock, chairman.

SIXTY-SIXTH ANNUAL STATEMENT BY THE

Summary as of December 31, 1928

45 Millions Increase in Assets

This is growth in policyholders' property, which now has a total value of $496,171,706.51.

Liabilities to be deducted (policy reserve required by state law to mature policies; reserve to pay all accrued dividends held for policyholders and additional dividends payable in 1929, with all other liabilities) total $457,503,922.71.

This leaves Surplus Funds of $38,667,783.80.

38 1-2 Millions Surplus

Adds to the security of the reserves, is an additional assurance of safety, and makes the policies so much more secure, —as good as any bonds. Unquestionable strength of resources is the rock upon which all real insurance is built.

3 Billion Dollars Outstanding Insurance

6,500,000 contracts covering over 4,200,000 policyholders. The new Three Billion record for 1928 shows this amount practically doubled in past seven years.

8 1-2% Gain in Additional Insurance

New paid-for insurance written in 1928, together with revived and increased insurance, attained a new high figure of $650,731,723.

540 Millions Paid Out on Policies

This is the enormous sum paid out in 66 years by this Company to beneficiaries and living policyholders: in 1928 alone the sum so paid was $56,262,949.93; average payment per working day $187,543.

Total of such payments in 66 years —over $540,000,000.

Reduction in Cost

There has been a reduction in general annual cost to policyholders during the past seven years, while in the same period the Company has doubled in size and financial resources.

JOHN HANCOCK COMPANY SHOWS BIG GAINS IN 1928

At the annual meeting of policyholders of the John Hancock Mutual Life Insurance Company held in Boston Monday, February 11, President Walter L. Crocker informed them that near the close of 1928 the company had passed the three billion dollar mark in outstanding insurance, and that its assets had increased to nearly 500 million dollars.

The actual figures reported as of December 31, 1928, were total assets of $496,171,706.51, against which were charged total liabilities of $457,503,922.71. The principal liability is policyholders' reserve of $420,352,437; another large item is reserve for dividends to policyholders of $27,481,738.13; all other liabilities $9,669,747.58.

After taking care of these liabilities, there remain surplus funds of over 38½ million dollars, making substantial additional security to the policyholders of the company.

The company also passed another milestone in its growth. The weekly premium collections were increased to one million dollars a week, indicating an income from this source during 1929 of at least 52 million dollars. The total income during 1928 from weekly premium and ordinary insurance was $103,523,178.80. Income from interest and other sources, $27,587,222.60, making total income of $131,110,401.40.

New paid-for insurance was written by the company during 1928 amounting to $561,935,059, which, together with revived and increased insurance totals $650,731,723, a gain of 8.5 per cent. over 1927.

New paid-for group insurance during 1928 was almost double that of the previous year, the amount written to-

GIRL SCOUTS

On Saturday, March 16, at 10 o'clock the Newton Community Theatre was filled with Girl Scouts and their friends excitedly waiting for the lights to go out and the Annual Movie to begin. Between the "Our Gang" Comedy and the picture itself, which was Buster Keaton in "The Camera Man," the audience keenly enjoyed listening to the two Bugle and Drum Corps which the Newton Girl Scouts now have. The Midget Corps played first with Ruth Wood of Waban, the Drum Major, leading. This was the first time the Midget Corps has played and it was greeted with great enthusiasm. The Corps is made up of 34 girls, most of them having joined the Corps this year. The Major Corps under the direction of Miss Armada Lamont, the Drum Major, gave a very fine demonstration. This part of the program is quite as much a feature as the "feature picture" and is always greatly appreciated.

taking $85,054.813; and in addition, $10,555,000 on wholesale and salary deduction policies.

In the last seven years the outstanding insurance, as well as total assets of the company, have doubled. During the same period the general operating expenses have been reduced more than 3 per cent. Dividends amounting to $17,629,000 were declared payable in 1929, an increase in this item of $2,690,000 over last year.

One Saturday evening, April 6th, Troop 1, Newtonville, Norumbega Council, is to meet Troop 1, Hingham, at the State Armory in West Newton, in a competitive Rally. This follows up the other Rally which these two Troops held last month in Hingham and which was won by Troop 1, Hingham. Events will comprise knot-tying, Morse and Semaphore signalling, friction and flint and steel fire, and other Scout events.

The award is a most unique and artistic one, being prepared by two Scouts of Troop 1, Norumbega Council. They are Robert Kennigott and Robert Spooner; of course it is the aim and aspiration of the Troop and this Council that the award shall stay here! All those interested in Scouting and in seeing a hard-fought, friendly contest and a fine exhibition staff-drill by Troop 1, Hingham, is invited to the State Armory, West Newton, on April 6th, at 7:30 o'clock.

Troops 9 and 10, Waban, under Scoutmasters George Graham Ross and Wilson Harris, are conducting a Course in Marksmanship at the State Armory, West Newton, Tuesday and Thursday evenings. This work is done under the direction of the State Range Officer and the Scouts are being taught proper methods of handling fire arms and how to shoot them. It is the feeling of these men that a boy or man who knows firearms will respect them and be over-cautious in their handling and use.

Last Friday these two Troops held a joint meeting at Angier School, Waban, with a special program, as is their custom for every fifth meeting, as arranged by Mr. John Bierer, Chairman of the Troop Committee. The meeting opened with Colors and the usual ceremonies. The program was then handled by Mr. William Beal, the Troop C Committee member in charge of special features. He had secured a representative of the Eastman Kodak Company, who showed films of natural life in their native haunts in the Southwest, making of paper from wood pulp and the U. S. Coast Guard in action, saving people from a wrecked steamer. The meeting closed with joint ceremony.

Further, these two Troops are planning an overnight, with one Patrol from each Troop, under their respective Scoutmasters for the coming week-end.

Troop 2, Auburndale, has had the chestnut logs for its cabin at Nobscot all cut and hauled to their cabin site and will start construction as soon as their plans are approved by the Camp Architect, Mr. Chester L. Churchill.

Troop 3, Nonantum, Scoutmaster John McLeod has resigned on account of pressure of business and the Troop is being carried on by the Troop Committee, Mr. Walter Sears, Chairman and Assistant Scoutmaster Henry Farrell.

Troop 4, Highlands, Division C, under Assistant Scoutmaster Dana Sylvester has secured Past Commander Julius Ramm, to act as drill master at coming meetings. The A and B Divisions are conducting Merit Badge Courses, under the plan of voluntary instruction, in Cooking, Camping, First Aid and other Merit Badges.

About 15 Norumbega Council Scouts have enrolled for the International Jamboree, to be held in Liverpool, England, next July. These Scouts will prepare for the Jamboree, by camping, cooking out of doors, hiking, etc. Scout Commissioner John M. Bierer, who is in charge of the project, has suggested that the Norumbega Council group take to the Jamboree a complete exhibit of all sorts of kites, gliders and airplane models. The Jamboree is a gathering of Scouts from all over the world and the program will consist of exhibits, demonstrations and so on. It will doubtless accomplish much in the way of International Good Will.

The first meeting of the Red Cross First Aid Course, being carried on for adult leaders of this Boy Scout Council and for representatives of the Fire and Police Department, the Scout Leadership and Training Committee, Mr. James R. Warren, Chairman, was held at the Newton Centre Public Library last Monday evening. The Course will be held there every Monday evening at 7:30, through May 6th. Mr. Jack McCurdy, in charge of the First Aid work for the New England Tel. and Tel. Co., is the instructor and an extremely capable teacher.

The first meeting of the Scout Leaders' Seminar Group in Scout Technique will be held at the Newton Center Public Library on Wednesday evening, March 27th and will continue through April 17th, every Wednesday evening. The Course will be completed, so Mr. Warren reports, with an outdoor hike to Nobscot on April 19th.

Fifteen Scouts are enrolled in the Red Cross First Aid Course being given by Miss Norcross of the Newton Red Cross, held at the Newton High School every Monday afternoon.

The Ranger at the Nobscot Reservation reports that signs of Spring are increasing. Robins have been there for some weeks and last week he reported blue birds, hawks, red winged blackbirds, wood peckers and several other varieties. The Chickadees have been abundant all winter, so have the blue jays, and partridges.

Troop 7, West Newton, had a Patrol over-night in their new cabin this last week-end, under the Leadership of Mr. A. C. Blunt, Jr., Chairman of the Troop Committee.

Troop 5, Newton Center, under Assistant Scoutmaster George H. Crosbie, had a large group of Scouts at the Reservation last Saturday, continuing the work on clearing their cabin site and getting the foundation piles ready for use by soaking them in creosote. Troop 5 expects to have its cabin ready for erection by the last of April; it is to be the vertical log type, similar to that of Troop 4 and of Troop 7.

A Gate Lodge has been given to the Council for erection at the main entrance to the Reservation. This gift was made by a Newton man and his wife interested in the Boy Scouts here. Full details will appear later.

Preparations are being made by Troops of the Council for the June Rally, to be held at Clifton Field on June 1.

Scout Commissioner John M. Bierer has set as one objective for the activities department, of which he is in charge, a Merit Badge Exposition for February, 1930. Notices have already been sent to the Troops and Troop 3, Nonantum, is already talking over what it plans to do and likewise Troop 11, Newton, with Troop Committee-man C. Clark Macomber in charge of the project there.

BOY SCOUT NEWS TROOP 4

On Thursday evening Troop 4 held their regular meeting in St. Mary's Hall. Owing to the absence of the Scout Master and the assistant Scout Master the boys conducted the meeting from 7:30 to 8 o'clock themselves. The boys unanimously selected Stanley Parker to have charge of the meeting, the dues were collected, and the candidates were put through a careful Tenderfoot instruction.

P. M. Albert Collins with a group of boys returned from the Y. M. C. A., and the meeting was then taken over by Assistant Scout Master Collins and the boys were put through a snappy drill. Clifton Jennings was then successfully passed in his Tenderfoot test. The boys then had a recreation period and a few games were played and the meeting closed at 9 o'clock with Scout benediction.

"THE WHITE SISTER"

Next Wednesday afternoon and evening at the Newton Community Theatre The Phidela Rice Players will present "The White Sister," a beautiful drama in four acts by F. Marion Crawford. This is the most charming of all plays presented during the Easter season and is especially appropriate for Holy Week. Fortunately the roster of the Rice Players is admirably suited to the demands of "The White Sister" and each of the popular favorites of the local company will be seen in strong role. There will be attractive settings from the hands of Robert J. Wade and special incidental music to enhance the beauty of the production.

The week after Easter, The Rice Players will present "Pollyanna," that lovable and always popular comedy from the pen of Eleanor H. Porter.

KIWANIS CLUB

The regular weekly meeting of the Newton Kiwanis Club was called to order at the Auburndale Club on Tuesday, March 19th, by President Walter A. Whalin and was one of the best attended meetings of the year. A special program of vocal music was presented under the direction of Bill Skelton.

This meeting having been dedicated to the past-presidents of the Club, immediate Past President James P. Gallagher was called to the chair by President Whalin and presented as acting President for the day. The acting president reviewed the history of the Newton Kiwanis Club and paid tribute to the other past presidents whose efforts for the club have borne splendid fruit. He also paid tribute to his successor the present president, describing him as the most efficient president the club has had. The members demonstrated their agreement with the speaker by tumultuous applause.

Jack Janse and Don Anzivino gave a demonstration of Judo-Jitsu. Brief remarks appropriate to the occasion were made by Edward H. Powers, Thomas J. Lyons, Archibald M. Belinger, W. U. Fogwill, Horace Walton and Ralph M. Patterson.

At the close of the meeting President Whalin presented a hand tooled brief case to Past President Gallagher who was taken entirely by surprise and responded fittingly. The next meeting of the Club will be held on Tuesday, March 26th, at the Auburndale Club.

NEWTON GIRL DIRECTS PRESENTATION

Miss Mary Louise Rogers, daughter of Mr. Francis Felix Rogers of Newton, directed the dramatic presentation given at Regis College, Weston, on Saint Patrick's Day. Assisting Miss Rogers were Miss Yolande Arcand, Brighton, Miss Mary Thornton, Haverhill, Miss Eileen Sullivan, Newton Center, Miss Margaret Harnedy, Jamaica Plain, Miss Catherine Taylor, Watertown, Miss Helena Maxwell, Waltham, Miss Mary Smiddy, Framingham, Miss Catherine Burke, Medford, Miss Ruth Hodges, Somerville, Miss Margaret Denning, Chelsea, Miss Olive Crowe, Bradford, Miss Marion Fuir, Lynn, and Miss Margaret Dillon, Whitinsville. Sweet Irish melodies were sung by the Regis College Glee Club.

HUNNEWELL CLUB

A handsome championship trophy in the form of a useful hammered silver water pitcher will be awarded the lady or gentleman having the highest total score for the three final bridge parties of the season on March 27th, April 10th, and April 24th. Mrs. Thomas F. Murray, Mrs. H. L. Higgins, Mrs. H. P. Curtis and Mrs. L. M. Spear are the hostesses in charge of the first of the series.

Beginning tomorrow evening, and every Saturday evening the Ladies Parlour will be open for the lady members and their friends who care to make up one or more tables of bridge. The bowling alleys will be open to the ladies on Saturday afternoons.

World's Easiest Driving Control

NO OTHER CAR in all the world controls quite so easily—with such complete lack of effort—as the new Nash '400'.

Nash engineers have developed a new steering mechanism to achieve this result. An ingenious arrangement of roller bearings and a roller-tooth traveling in a worm gear, reduces friction to a minimum hitherto thought impossible.

Women drivers find new help and gain new confidence in parking. Little effort is needed to bring the "400" up to, or away from, the curb.

Gear shifting is just as easy. The "400" clutch pedal depresses at a touch, scarcely resisting the weight of your foot. The conveniently placed shifting lever moves smoothly, easily, from one speed to another.

If you ever find that driving a car tires you, try driving a Nash "400". It will give you an entirely new conception of how effortless, how pleasurable, motoring can be!

The Mather Class

The Mather Class, at its regular weekly meeting last Sunday morning in the Newton Centre Woman's Club House, discussed the forces which govern social relationships.

Three points of major importance were brought out in the discussion:

1. The Government, through the operation of law.
2. Public opinion, through the force of custom.
3. Religion, through its power of internal compulsion.

Under the first main division of this subject we find the co-operative efforts of the Government, in conjunction with all public institutions such as the schools, courts, and churches, endeavoring to regulate a multitude of the relationship between individuals. This is a form of external social control. The Government regulates many human activities. It settles domestic relations. It determines the forms which have to be observed in order to be married. The rights of the children are taken care of. Property is disposed of in the Probate Court, and the question is decided whether or not there has been an effective will. In trading relations the subject of binding contracts comes up. When accidents occur, it is settled who bears the loss. The legislature makes the law, the courts determine its application, and the executive carries it out. Judge Holmes once said that the courts legislate interstitially, that is, in the interstices. In Europe, when a court decides a case, it applies a definite, specific rule. Here it is different. A decision becomes part of the law and it will be followed in the future. Thus is built up a great body of law, which regulates the relations of people in society. What is law anyway? Law is what the courts will enforce, and that, in itself, is a form of social control. People obey the law because they are convinced that it is right, or because of conscience, or because they fear that it will be enforced if it is not obeyed. In any case it is largely, if not wholly, a matter of external control.

The second main division of the subject under discussion dealt with the force of custom. No law compels a man to take off his hat when he meets a lady, but public opinion has created that custom, and it is observed. There is an external compulsion and it is efficacious. Public opinion forced a man, once upon a time, to defend his honor by fighting a duel. Just as surely, the same public opinion compels him to refrain from doing that very thing today. There is such a thing as a code of honor and a debt of honor. Men pay so-called gambling debts, although no law forces them to do so.

The third division of the subject concerns religion, which is a matter of internal compulsion, and such other internal things as conscience, love, morality, etc. Men find that honesty is the best policy. This idea comes not only from within, but from actual experience. Self interest alone is enough to enforce this principle. Religion deals with the relation of man to God and also regulates our relations with one another. It is a form of internal compulsion. The law acts from without and religion acts from within.

Through it all education is an important factor. The woman who throws a child into the Ganges may have a perfectly good religious motive, from her uneducated point of view, but her act is nevertheless antisocial, and the need of education is too apparent to require argument.

Religion leads us to take standards which are ideal and as high as possible. In law there is no use in having a standard which is so high that there is no reasonable chance of reaching up to it. We should adopt the standard of the average man, the standard which most of us live up to anyway, and then endeavor to bring the recalcitrant people up to that level. Through religion and education we should advance the standards of mankind to new heights. As fast as we get a big enough majority up to a specific point, we can then bring up the small minority by law. In this way we can say that religion raises the standards, and the law pulls up the minority.

The Old Testament is a covenant of law. The New Testament is a covenant of grace. The Ten Commandments have an external application. Jesus' precepts have an internal significance. When Jesus told us to go the second mile, He meant doing more than we had to. That is religion. But we should remember that we cannot go the second mile until we have previously gone the first. A person cannot be generous until he has been just. Justice can be enforced, but generosity cannot. When we say that a man's word is as good as his bond, we really are not complimenting him very highly, for the law will enforce his bond but not his bare word, and that is because it has been definitely determined that the majority of mankind want the bond enforced. That is the standard of the average man. Accordingly, if the man's word is no better than his bond, it is no better than the standard of conduct of the average man, which standard is enforceable by law. To compliment a man, you should say that his word is a great deal better than his bond. That means a higher moral standard than the average man possesses, higher, in fact, than is compulsory.

There are laws, the result of public convenience, custom, etc., which, in and of themselves, have no moral significance. However, they acquire a moral quality merely because they have become laws. An example is the length of time you can park in a specific place. You turn to the right in America and to the left in England. When the law runs counter to what you think is moral, the problem of the conscientious objector has arisen. You should be careful to make sure that it really is your conscience and not your preference.

It is quite right for the majority to rule on a question like turning to the right, but on a moral question it is unwise for the Government, with 51% of the people behind it, to attempt to force 49% of the people to adopt a moral standard which is contrary to their wishes and which, perhaps, they are determined not to adopt. It is too big a job to be accomplished by compulsion. There are too many people involved. Religion and education are needed a little longer, in order to increase the majority.

The law is the sum of the best thinking of the people who have gone before. No man should assume that he knows more than all men of ages past. New ideas will do well to fit in and make correction here and there, but it would be terrible to cut loose from the past and start new. Coke and Blackstone and Mansfield and Lord Eldon did some thinking which cannot be disregarded. Some laws seem to be disregarded. Some may very likely prove to be mere lack of time to enforce more than the important laws. Those that are not so important may not receive the attention which they would have if the docket were not so crowded.

Next Wednesday, March 27, the Mather Class will present the religious drama, St. Claudia, in the First Baptist Church, Newton Centre, in the evening. Everybody is cordially invited.

George Dexter Frost.

POSSE-NISSEN SCHOOL TO BUILD

Final papers have gone on record in the sale of a tract of land containing 185,960 square feet adjoining Hammonds Pond and fronting on Boylston street, in the Chestnut Hill section of Newton, wherein Augustus Thorndike, Jr., of Boston, conveys to the Posse-Nissen School of Physical Education, also of Boston. The Posse-Nissen School has plans for the erection of a modern and completely equipped three-story brick school building of Colonial design and it is expected that construction will shortly go forward upon this site. The large area provides ample space for dormitories, athletic field, outdoor tennis courts, etc., all of which are planned for the near future. Being a part of a larger parcel, the property is not yet assessed, but is valued at $35,000.

J. H. Rich of Stoneham acted for the school and the seller was represented by Henry W. Savage, Inc.

Greater than ever with Straight Eight Power! Studebaker's famous COMMANDER AS AN EIGHT AS A SIX $1495 - $1350 at the factory

COMMANDER EIGHT CONVERTIBLE CABRIOLET, $1645. With six-cylinder motor, $1495. Six wire wheels and trunk rack standard equipment. COMMANDER EIGHT COUPE, $1495. COMMANDER SIX COUPE, $1350. Prices at the factory. Bumpers and spare tires extra.

THE fine and final touch of modern motoring—straight eight power—now lends its liquid fluency to Studebaker's famous Commander!

The new Commander, now available as either an eight or a six, worthily succeeds to the renown of its illustrious predecessor, which sped 25,000 miles in 22,968 minutes.

The Commander's potent appeal of tireless speed is admirably matched by youthful, vivid style. Lines are lower and longer because of Studebaker's costly double-drop frame. Even in repose, you sense The Commander's fleetness, and its power, and its brilliant deportment.

A cozy coupe or a racy roadster—quickly and at will.

Restful riding, such as motoring never knew until Studebaker introduced ball bearing spring shackles, is still further enhanced by hydraulic shock absorbers.

The sum of the new Commander's qualities, make it now, more than ever, "the greatest motor car ever built and sold at its low One-Price price."

By L. D. G. BENTLEY

There are people who delight in reading aloud from newspapers. I cannot say that their hearers are as keenly appreciative as they might be. Some people don't like to get their news in that way; they seem to prefer to digest the contents of their favorite daily themselves. But, still, this doesn't seem to discourage the person who feels an obligation to read aloud from the morning journal.

One person I know, but with whom I seldom come in contact, prefer to be the loudspeaker for his entire family. I am told he commands attention with "Listen to this" and then fires away with a dispatch about a drunken driver who injures everybody but himself, or an actress who has decided to divorce her second husband or the account of a gunman's activity in a chain grocery store. Maybe he will occasionally vary this program with, "Here's a good joke—you'll laugh at this."

Now has come the Mexican uprising. Did anybody ever say that killing, plundering and such was desirable? I don't believe they ever did. War is horrible. It is also something that the word beginning with a capital "H" but better guessed at than read in a paper that goes into the homes of Newton.

We are willing to admit, and I think you'll agree, that all that has been said against war is true. You will no doubt go further and say, "There is nothing good to be said about war; nothing in its favor." Just a minute, please. This statement, if made about the Mexican rebellion now in progress, should be modified to some extent. It has had one desirable effect. The man or woman who reads aloud from the daily newspaper is stumped when it comes to Mexican wars news. And no wonder! Look at the names of the places. How can one be glib under such circumstances? It is all right—that is, easy enough to pronounce the names of United States cities. Take Chicago, that's nothing. But what about Chihuahua, Mexico? Or Chelsea on this side of the line and Coahuila on the other?

You can readily pronounce the birthplace of two Presidents—Quincy, but can you rattle off Queretaro? Ohio may be pronounced without a struggle, but not Oaxaca. As far as that is concerned you don't often hesitate as long as you remain geographically within the borders of your native land, but when you cross into Mexico you're going to run into Zacatecas, Michoacan, Guanajuato and Jalisco. No, the prudent person will not try to read about the Mexican wars news unless he has a lot of nerve or sound knowledge of Spanish.

I have often envied movie fans their uncontrolled enthusiasm. I wish I could become enraptured at the exhibition of a film. There are pictures over which I have raved, sometimes one way and sometimes another. Still, I do appreciate a good movie, though perhaps not to the extent of those who are regular patrons and who are moved to uproarious laughter or to copious weeping, or both. A recent experience convinces me that if I should select any particular star of filmdom it would be Tom Mix. This I may safely say, is not in any way a bit of free advertising. I happened to have been in a small group of whom Tom Mix was the guest. It was not a publicity stunt and Tom was talking just like other folks and about things not connected with motion pictures. Let me say that you wouldn't find a more engaging conversationalist if you went out on a hunt for him.

Tom Mix is genial, intelligent, of pleasing personality and free from the artificiality that somehow seems part of an actor's equipment. To be sure he wears a coat and sweater of vivid colors and a 10-gallon hat, but that is part of his business. Furthermore, he belongs in such a rig and carries himself as though he would be uncomfortable in any other dress.

One of our number got him started on Mexico and what he had to say was first hand and interesting. He told us there were fourteen million people in Mexico and of that number twelve million were illiterate.

"A man is glad to be a soldier down there," said Tom. "It is his opinion he never had. As far as revolutions go you can be a captain if you've got a dozen men and a colonel if you have twenty-five."

"I knew Villa and remember how he operated. With a company of officers and men Villa took the treasury of this revolutionists up in the mountains to hide it. The officers shot the men and then Villa shot the officers, leaving him in full possession of the prize."

Urged to discuss the great southwest, Tom told us his opinion on the trend of population is certainly that way. Tom, by the way, has a delightful Southern drawl, eyes that sparkle with wit and a way of chuckling that is genuinely infectious.

"Of course down there you've got to be careful or the climate will get the best of you," he went on. "There is a good chance of your getting in the habit of putting things off." He then quoted the Spanish word for "tomorrow" which sounds much better than it looks in print.

Tom gave it as his opinion that people are moving into the mountain from North Dakota and South Dakota, Minnesota, Iowa and Michigan. He "looked to see" those States losing a lot of their best people because of the call of the great southwest.

The entire gathering was impressed by Tom's genuineness of manner. Our best athletes watch grow with envy at his physical set-up while men of 50 years or so, for Tom must be around there, would sit and marvel at his youthfulness.

I cannot say that I have found a movie hero at last, but I believe that there is no question in my mind of that most enviable of qualities—"IT." Once you meet Tom you will understand why his pictures have an appeal above all "western" movies, or what is called by the motion picture actors, "horse opera."

I like the way Tom talked of his horse "Tony" which he has had for seventeen years and which is eighteen years old and doesn't look more than five. It did me good to get a real close-up of the picturesque Tom Mix and now I shall watch his films with a far deeper interest.

A letter has come containing a request that this column take up other problems of personal conduct in public. Here it is: "You told us about the difficulties you had in eating salads and ices at a place where refreshments are served from the table, or rather where you help yourself and have no chair. We were interested to know how you managed it and could not but feel sympathetic, for the same thing has happened to about every member of this family. Please, go on. There must be other things such as reading a newspaper in the crowded electric cars. We should be glad to learn of your experiences."

Some time ago I made a voluntary statement as to the art of reading a newspaper while being shoved about on a trolley during the rush hours. The problem has not been solved. Neither have certain others which I am sure many of the readers encounter from time to time. Later on, I shall take up some of these with the hope of throwing out a helping hand to those in need.

Although it may seem that the newspapers had a great deal to say about the retirement of Ex-President Coolidge it cannot be denied that all that was written was not only respectful, as it should have been, but showed a friendliness toward him that was commendable. The cartoonists had their fling and pictured him leaving Washington with his baggage. These, too, were all good natured and intended in the kindest spirit. It all reflected the mind of the American people who have a firm affection for their Ex-Presidents as well as their Presidents. A picture in the New York World showed Mr. Coolidge in a rustic scene engaged in conversation with a native. The native inquires where Mr. Coolidge has been for the past eight years and the reply comes "out of town." This is really a New England joke and can only be thoroughly appreciated by those familiar with the backwoods Yankee, so-called.

I think a story that was told me in Washington beats this by far. Furthermore it deals with the New England character and is true. One of our ambassadors had a country home in New England. He was a busy man and found little time to share with his family the joys of a most attractive summer place among the hills of the Granite State.

It happened that one week-end the distinguished statesman hastened to the small town to catch a few days' visit. His telegram had not been received and so there was nobody to meet him. He engaged the services of a farmer with a buckboard. They drove off, and the Yankee, with the usual inquisitiveness, sought to learn all he could of the stranger.

"What might be your business, mister?" the farmer asked. "I am Ambassador Extraordinary and Minister Plenipotentiary to the Court of St. James," replied the other, not in a boastful way but just to see what effect that would have on the Yankee. And what he said was an accurate statement.

Did the farmer fall out of his seat in astonishment? He did not. He merely spat in the road and said, "O, be yer?"

ROTARY CLUB

Mr. George H. MacIlwain was the guest speaker at the regular Monday luncheon meeting of the Newton Rotary Club at the Woodland Golf Club. Mr. MacIlwain is a nationally known business economist and was the secretary of the Employers Commission appointed by President Wilson and which visited England when an intensive study of labor and economic conditions was made. His subject before the Rotary Club was "The Business Outlook for 1929." In a comparison of different sections of the country, he stated that everywhere but in New England business is booming. New England, and more especially in the three most important textile industries of this section, business conditions were better than they were but still were nothing to enthrall over.

Next week Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday members of the Newton Rotary Club will be hosts to a group of Australian boys of high school age who are making a six months tour of the United States and Canada, visiting forty of the larger cities under the auspices of the Young Australia League. About 150 boys are in the party which is being entertained by the Boston Rotary Club with the assistance of some of the suburban clubs. Boston is the last city in the United States which they will visit as they go directly to Montreal. They have traveled the country from Los Angeles, south, north and east. They attended the inauguration at Washington and have recently spent twelve days in New York. Governor Allen will present them with a State of Massachusetts flag when they come to Newton and many other never-to-be-forgotten occasions have been arranged.

BRIDGE PARTY

A very successful Bridge Party was held at the home of Mrs. Francis J. Horgan, 97 Lake Avenue, Newton Centre, Friday, March 15th, in aid of Regis College, Weston, Mass. Assisting Mrs. Horgan, the hostess, were Mesdames, T. Edward Sheehan of Dorchester, Daniel Mountain of Cambridge, Sullivan of Newton, Edward J. Downey of Wollaston, J. Edward O'Neill of Newton and C. J. Spillane of Newton.

This is the second of a series of Bridge Parties to be conducted under the direction of Mrs. Cornelius J. Spillane, Chairman. Preparations are under way for Bridge Party and Food Sale to be held at Westminster Hotel in April, date to be announced later.

IMPRESSED BY NEWTON'S PLAY-GROUNDS

In the March issue of "The Playground," a monthly magazine maintained by and in the interests of the Playground and Recreation Association of America, is an article by a recent European visitor regarding the playgrounds seen on the latter's visit. The writer says, "I had a long talk with Mr. Herrmann (playground director of the City of Newton) and was much impressed by the splendid work he is doing in Newton. I saw a great many of the Newton playgrounds, also the new gymnasium at Newton High School—I wonder if you have seen it—it is quite marvelous." Continuing and apparently referring to Newton since no other reference is made to gymnastics in the remainder of the article, the writer says, "Except in the High Schools in one city I do not think that the standards of gymnastics is very high (you asked me to speak my mind!) anyway in the schools I visited, but it is a sweeping statement to make since I have only touched the fringe of a very big subject. Everywhere I have been impressed by the splendid organization, but such a matter as the posture of play leaders I thought disappointing—also the carriage of children in the schools—they appeared to me to loiter about on their desks and as they walked in the building."

Newton Centre Woman's Club

The next meeting of the Newton Centre Woman's Club, on March 28th, will open with a business meeting, after which the speaker of the afternoon, Dr. Daniel Lash Marsh, president of Boston University, will speak on "Parental Responsibility." As Dr. Marsh is a speaker of great ability and charm the "American Home" Committee feels that all Club members will be interested. The committee, under the chairmanship of Mrs. Frank A. Campbell, is composed of the following members: Mrs. Edward H. Bill, Mrs. John W. Duthie, Mrs. Richard W. Freeman, Miss Edith Gammans, Mrs. John H. Gibson, Mrs. L. F. Hamilton, Mrs. Rollin T. Tea will be served after the meeting by the Social Committee, under the chairmanship of Mrs. C. Arthur Bouteille.

Newton Community Club

"The Psychology of Remaining Young" is the captivating title of the lecture which is sure to attract Club members of the Newton Community Club to their meeting of Thursday, the 28th. Dr. Harry A. Overstreet, known as a writer and professor of social philosophy, is the lecturer. "Influencing Human Behavior," and "About Ourselves" are the arresting titles of two of his books. Dr. Overstreet is head of the Department of Philosophy at the College of the City of New York, and lecturer in the New School for Social Research of New York City. The Club meets in Underwood School Hall at 2:30 o'clock.

Announcement of a most attractive event comes from the Conservation Committee, of which Mrs. Philip S. Jamieson is chairman. A Flower Show at this time of the year is sure to appeal to all—gardeners, florists and home lovers. Not only are Club members invited to come early to the meeting of April 11th to view the lovely display, they are invited, nay, urged, to join in it, and compete for prizes. The method of showing gives opportunity for ideas to be gained on table arrangement, table cloths, tables themselves, etc., adding greatly to the variety of information.

Prizes will be awarded for the four following classes: Class A. Bean Pot Class. Arrangements of Flowers in Bean Pots. Cost limited to $2.

Class B. Breakfast Table Arranged for Two. Least Expensive Arrangement. Limited cost must be shown. No. 2. Most Unique arrangement.

Class C. Unit, consisting of table, container and bouquet of exhibitor's own choice.

Waban Woman's Club

John Clair Minot comes to the members of the Waban Woman's Club who have been following the Book Review Course offered them by the Literature Committee, Mrs. Dana M. Dutch, chairman, for the sixth in the Course on Friday, March 29th, at 3 p. m. in Union Church Vestry. His subject will be "Looking Over the Spring Books." Mr. Minot, Literary Editor of the Boston Herald, has achieved an enviable reputation among Newton Clubwomen for his entertaining and valuable presentation of "what is what" in the book world, and he always speaks to a well-filled hall. This talk concludes the series of Book Reviews that have been going forward under the leadership of Mrs. Ruth W. Fuller, when certain special books have been minutely discussed.

Shakespeare Club

A most enjoyable afternoon of Bridge is planned for the Shakespeare Club of Newton Highlands for Friday, April 12th, to which any who would like to attend are invited. This Party is for additional funds for activities of the Club, and tickets may be obtained at 75 cents each from the Committee in charge of Arrangements, Mrs. James P. Cooper, chairman, and Mrs. Charles H. Keeler, Mrs. W. E. Moore, and Mrs. Herbert L. Drew. Players are advised to obtain tickets as soon as possible as the Bridge is to be held in a private home, and tables are sure to be in demand. Mrs. William E. Pillsbury, 22 Berkeley road, Newton Centre, is generously opening her home for the Club president, Mrs. Mary C. Blakemore. The Bridge will begin at 2 o'clock. There will be attractive prizes, and in a social hour there will be refreshments.

The Club meeting which would have come on Saturday, March 30th, has been postponed to Saturday, April 6th.

Auburndale Woman's Club

"Indian Summer" was the title of a one-act play presented at the joint meeting of the Auburndale Woman's Club and its Business and Professional Woman's Group, on Thursday evening, March 14th.

Miss Annette Sirotn represented the Business and Professional Group in the cast, Miss Dorothy DeWitt, the Junior Club, while Mrs. Arthur L. Shaw and Mrs. Charles Lee Briggs were chosen from the Senior Club to complete the cast. The play was produced under the direction of Mrs. Edwin M. Prellwitz, chairman of the Drama Committee, and was staged most attractively by the Art Committee, of which Mrs. Elliott H. Barnard is chairman.

Several violin solos were played by Miss Doris Elliott, a member of the Junior Club. She was accompanied by Miss Ruth Uford, chairman of the Junior group, who also played a piano solo. Mrs. Marcelle Magie sang a group of songs in a charming contralto voice, and the Auburndale Woman's Club Chorus, with Mrs. C. Edwin Doney as soloist, sang several selections from the recently presented operetta, "The Castaways."

Newton Community Club

The last meeting of the Club was held in the Underwood School Hall on March 14th, at 2:30 o'clock, with Mrs. Harry W. Fitts, the president, presiding.

Notices were given that the Committee on Conservation of Natural Resources is to hold a Flower Show on April 11th. All members are asked to enter this flower show. Exhibits are to be in four different classes. For further information, members should consult the Committee, and see the announcement under Coming Events in this column.

The group leaders are requested to have all the money for philanthropies handed in by April 1st.

The speaker of the afternoon was Roscoe W. Thatcher, who spoke on "Education for Citizenship."

Dr. Thatcher is most democratic and believes heartily in a public school education, and of course, in college education, not only for the training of the mind but for the appreciation and understanding of everyday life and laws.

Tea was served after the meeting, with Mrs. J. Porter Russell and Mrs. Henry P. Curtiss at the tea table.

Shakespeare Club

Mrs. W. E. Sanderson entertained the Shakespeare Club of Newton Highlands at her home, 369 Dedham street, on Saturday, March 16th. The program for the afternoon was the Quiz on Act III of Part II of Henry IV, in charge of Mrs. F. S. Keith. The discussion and enjoyment of this part of the play was made most vital in bringing out the marvelous contrast between King Henry and Falstaff, the King falling in health, with his regrets concerning his past in disposing of Richard II, and greatly troubled by the plots against him and his throne made by his former friend, the Duke of Northumberland and others. Yet, rising to the occasion, he says: "Are these things then necessities? Then let us bear them like necessities!"

Falstaff, on the other hand, engaged in recruiting for the war; abounding in his old spirit of jesting and lightness of purpose, brings all his grist to the mill, and serves his sense of humor and his purse.

In this act also are met the Justices Shallow and Silence, doddling figures of senile executives, who unwittingly pander to the lure of Falstaff and the future joy of nations.

Newton Upper Falls Woman's Club

Mrs. Beulah Cady Rathbun provided a very pleasing entertainment for the Newton Upper Falls Woman's Club on Monday evening, March 18th, at the Kindergarten Rooms in the Emerson School.

Mrs. Rathbun gave a program in three parts, an amusing one-act comedy; a group of interesting poetry, in which the child personality was given full sway when placed in comical situations; and a group of three humorous monologues, each different in style of characters. Her audience were very responsive and enjoyed her happy personality, her insight into human nature, and her power of expression, and her ability to make each scene live before her audience.

Auburndale Review Club

As this year's study for the Auburndale Review Club of the "Presidential Administrations" is nearing a close, the characters are becoming those with whom the older members at least, are more familiar. The meeting of the 19th of March, for which Mrs. George W. George was hostess, was given over to papers on "Harrison, McKinley, and Roosevelt." Miss Elizabeth Wells presented three aspects of the life of Harrison—the lawyer, the soldier, the statesman—quoting frequently from Lew Wallace's biography of "Hoosier President." Mrs. F. E. Davidson followed with a paper on our second martyred President, William McKinley, than whom probably no president was better loved. The topic of Mrs. Nelson Freeman was "Theodore Roosevelt, A Most Interesting American," and she had no difficulty in proving it to be true, as she followed his career through his childhood days, his years in Albany, where his motto was not "Is it expedient?" but "Is it right?" She pictures him as the soldier, the hunter, the father and husband, and finally as the executive of his country. Mrs. Freeman also added to the morning's pleasure by playing three piano solos—"Dvorak's 'Humoresque,'" MacDowell's "Water Lily," and "To a Wild Rose."

Newtonville Woman's Club

Henry Warren Poor showed some very remarkable pictures of California and the Southwest before the Newtonville Woman's Club, at their regular meeting on Tuesday, Mr. Poor is a world traveler and yet many pictures he showed were of places which he said could not be surpassed for natural beauty, the world over.

Mrs. Kenneth B. Hastings, a member of the Club, rendered several violin selections. Mrs. A. Cheston Carter accompanied her.

Tea was served by the Hospitality Committee. Mrs. Harold A. Chamberlain and Mrs. Harold G. Sherman were hostesses and Mrs. G. A. Clapp, Mrs. Walter P. Marsh, Mrs. T. H. Libby, and Mrs. Lawrence B. Smith poured.

West Newton Junior Women's Educational Club

The last meeting of the West Newton Juniors of the Educational Club was held at the home of Constance Dorr, 342 Otis street, West Newton, on Tuesday evening, March 12th. It was an unusually large gathering which made it possible to discuss plans for the Annual Meeting to be held next month—April 9th.

Contrary to previous years, the Club has decided to hold the meeting at the Oriole Tea Room, in Wellesley, where the members will have dinner before the business meeting. Arrangements have been made for a separate room where the election of officers and the other business may be carried forward. The plan was enthusiastically received by the members. It was voted that any new member could be present at this meeting.

After the business meeting, Mrs. Bernard Early, of the Senior Club, gave an interesting talk on Shakespeare and His Country. She had visited his home about a year ago, so that her information was first-hand. Souvenir postcards and booklets which she had brought home with her helped to illustrate the talk.

Appropriate refreshments for St. Patrick's Day were served and a surprise birthday cake for Alice Batson proved an added delight.

The evening ended with enjoyment of dancing and singing.

NEWTON CENTRE SCHOOL ASSOCIATION

The third open meeting of the school year was held Wednesday afternoon, March 20, in the assembly hall of the Mason School. The meeting opened with three selections delightfully rendered on the piano by Miss Martha Wright.

After the secretary's and treasurer's reports were read, Mr. Paul told the parents about the various courses in the high school curriculum. He explained these with great clearness and urged each parent to make a great effort to select the course best suited to the individual child and to allow the child to follow the line of his talent.

The main speaker of the afternoon was Dr. Anna Skinner, a psychiatrist, connected with the Judge Baker Foundation, who gave a very instructive and helpful address on adolescence. She said among other things that the period of adolescence, which is a very definite period in every young person's life, rests on a basis of three foundations. The first of these is anatomical. The period is one of great physical growth which is usually not steady but rhythmic. And this growth is a great tax upon the child. The second foundation is physiological and this is very important. The changes in the endocrine or ductless glands place the child under a heavy burden. The third foundation is psychological. During the adolescent period there is great emotional instability, a desire for independence, and a change in the sex life.

Dr. Skinner said the adolescent child had a big job to do and infinite patience is necessary on the part of the adult.

The meeting was followed by a social hour.

PRESENT ANNUAL PLAY

The Dramatic club of the Country Day school presented its annual play last week at Whitney Hall, Brookline, offering "Arms and the Man" by George Bernard Shaw. Albert Pratt, president of the Club, played the lead while Robert Phillips held up the comedy. William Rowley, "Julian Eltinge" of the school, took the leading female part. Other members of the cast from Newton were William H. Schmidt of Chestnut Hill and John Bishop, Newton Centre. Local lads on the stage staff were Allen Kerns, Valerio Montanari, Francis Gleason, Elliot Ritchie, John Madden and Hamilton Young.

Attempted Murder Of Chestnut Hill Man

Francis Fonseca Shot At From Passing Automobile

Newton's clean record, as a city in which no murder has been committed for some time, nearly was spoiled Monday night when some person attempted to take the life of Francis Fonseca who resides at 97 Waban Hill road in the Chestnut Hill district. Fonseca conducts a storage warehouse at South Boston. He had alighted from a coupe in front of his home when another car containing two men was slowly driven by and from it a sawed-off shotgun was discharged at Fonseca. Luckily for the intended victim he saw the gun being aimed at him, dropped to the ground, and escaped the heavy charge of shot. Rushing into his home he telephoned police headquarters at West Newton. In-gramme and King rushed to the place but could obtain little information from Fonseca which would aid in getting a clue to the would-be murderer's identity. Mario Ingramme of 54 Crosby road, Chestnut Hill, was brought to headquarters and questioned. He asserted that the intended victim and he are the best of friends. Ingramme was not detained. ## EASTER SUNDAY CHURCH MUSIC

EASTER SUNRISE SERVICE

Waban Hill Reservoir, with its opportunity for the long look over city and country, will be the scene of the Easter Sunrise Service next Sunday, under the auspices of the Newton Interchurch Young People's Council. At 6:30 the young people will assemble, to seek the adventure and inspiration of the out-of-doors, and to listen to an address suitable for the occasion by Professor O. W. Warmingham. The Easter message to young people will form the theme of the address. Professor Warmingham is much beloved by all who have the opportunity to hear him and feel the warm touch of his faith and personality.

There will be a processional by trumpeters to announce the opening of the service, followed by hymn, prayer and scripture. An anthem by members of the Girls' Chorus of Eliot Church will be one of the enjoyable features of the program.

John Scammon and William Hawkins are in charge of the program. John Graham, Marion Graham, Albert Temperley, Newton Jones, Mildred Hayden and others have assisted in the promotion and publicity. If rain should be encountered, all are directed to go to Colby Hall, Newton Centre, on Institution avenue for this Easter program.

To Investigate Fire Hazard In Mann School

School Committee Acts On Request Of Ward 2 Alderman

At the meeting of the School Committee on Monday night a communication was received from Alderman Woodcock of Ward 2 stating that a fire escape should be placed on the Horace Mann School as proper means for allowing rapid egress from the upper floor of that building do not now exist. It was voted to have the sub-committee on buildings investigate this matter.

It was voted to allow the "Players" to use the auditorium of the high school on the evenings of May 9, 10 and 11 for the presentation of the drama "Disraeli," the net proceeds from the performances to be donated for a scholarship for Newton High School students. It is planned to eventually raise $10,000, the income from which will be used for the scholarship. It was decided to have a sub-committee look into the proposed plans of this scholarship. ## Police Raid Liquor Plant At West Newton

Seize Still And Liquor at House on Albemarle Road

Clever sleuthing on the part of Dennis T. Lordan, chief prohibition enforcement officer of the Internal Revenue Department in Boston, resulted in the arrest on Wednesday night of three men at West Newton and seizure of a large still and a big quantity of liquor. Watching the home of Domenico A. Storti at 347 Albemarle road, Lordan and an assistant prohibition officer observed an automobile being loaded with suspicious parcels. As the car was departing from the bungalow occupied by Storti, it was stopped by the prohibition officers and found to contain a quantity of alleged alcoholic beverage. The occupants of the car, Charles Inello of 871 Harrison avenue, Roxbury, and Domenico Corigliano of 69 Northampton street, Boston, were placed under arrest.

Lordan then notified police headquarters at West Newton of his arrest and gave the information that he suspected the still was at the house. (Continued on Page 4)

THE WEEK IN NEWTON SPORTS

FORM CATHOLIC SCHOOL LEAGUE

Eight of the smaller Catholic high schools of Greater Boston have formed a parochial high school baseball league which will begin play next month. Much enthusiasm was manifested at recent meetings held at which representatives of all the Catholic high schools in Greater Boston were invited to attend. The schedule of games has been tentatively drawn up but is subject to changes before it will be given out for publication.

The eight schools joining the new organization are as follows: Our Lady's High of Newton, Cathedral High of South Boston, Immaculate High of Revere, St. Thomas' High of Jamaica Plain, St. John's High of North Cambridge, St. Clement's High of Somerville, St. Mary's High of Brookline, and Mission High of Roxbury.

Fourteen games will be played by each team which will bring each member of the league against every other member in a home and home games. Boston College High is not a member of the league, it being out of the class of the others altogether.

The season will not open officially until April 30th in all probability when four games will be played. One reason for the late start is due to the fact that some of the teams have no available grounds upon which to play. Our Lady High of Newton will probably play its home games on one of the city playgrounds if satisfactory arrangements can be made with the city.

Bryant Second in Dash

Captain John Bryant of the Dartmouth swimming team placed second in the 50-yard dash at the intercollegiate swimming races last week Saturday. The event was won by Howard of Yale who also captured two other titles while Kojac of Rutgers won the remaining two races. Bryant won his heat in the preliminary trial held on Friday as did Howard.

Middlesex Pair Win

The roll-off of the two highest men on each Boston Pin team of the Newton Bowling league was held last Saturday night at the Hunnewell Club. Baker and Pyatt of Middlesex won with total pinfall of 175, followed by Anderson and Kavanagh of Mauds with 113, Greene and De Long of Hunnewell third with 122, Commercial fourth with 109, Quinby and Carter of Newton with 107 1/2 and Bloomfield and Jones of Waban, sixth with 102. Baker also had the high individual total with 61 for his five strings but as he took a team prize was ineligible for another. The individual prize thus was won by Anderson of Mauds with 579 for his five strings. Some of the high strings rolled were Baker 155, Quinby 148, Greene and Bloomfield 140 each, Anderson 134, Kavanagh 133, and Leonard 130.

Bryant's Records Approved

The Dartmouth Athletic Council has approved three new swimming records which Captain John Bryant figured. On March 2 the West Newton youth was clocked in 23 4/5 seconds for the 50-yard dash and a week later was timed in 54 seconds for the 100-yard dash. On March 16th the relay team of which Capt. Bryant was the anchor man hung up a new mark of 1 min. 16 1/5 seconds for the 200 yard distance. Bryant left for St. Louis on Tuesday where he will compete in the 50 and 100 yard dashes at the national championships.

Third in Quest For Skating Honors

J. Lester Madden and Miss Grace Madden of Newton placed third in the recent skating championships at the Boston Arena. Miss Madden was third in the ladies' singles class for the A. Winsor West team while her brother was third in the men's singles figure skating event for the championship of the Skating Club of Boston.

Bryant On All-Star Swimming Team

Coaches of the nine college swimming teams in the Eastern Intercollegiate Swimming League annual pick an all-star team for the Associated Press at the conclusion of the league season. Captain John Bryant of the Dartmouth team, a West Newton youth, was chosen for the 50-yard dash and for a place on the relay team. Bryant led the league in individual scoring.

Three Players Survive

Coach Dave Morey of the Boston University baseball team cut his squad the first of the week retaining among others three former Newton high players. Carleton McCullough, veteran outfielder, is practically certain of retaining his position in the outer garden. Victor Stout, former Newton infielder and last year second baseman on the Worcester Academy team is pressing the veteran and ex-captain Glenn O'Brien for the key-stone sack while Leslie Church, right twirler at Newton last year, is one of the pitching recruits who has impressed the pioneer mentor. Stout and Church are freshmen at B. U. and are eligible for varsity competition. Next year first year men will be ruled out.

Newton Y Nosed Out

The Boys' Club of Boston intermediate swimmer team nosed out the Newton Y junior mermen last Saturday at the Newton tank. 27 to 23. Davidson of Newton was the individual star of the meet winning three of the four first places in the racing events. The 100-yard freestyle decided the meet in favor of the visitors when they captured second and third places. Davidson's fifteen points were won with first places in the backstroke, 200-yard freestyle and 100-yard freestyle. Newton's remaining points were scored by Anderson with a second in the backstroke, Toombs second in the breaststroke, and thirds by Harmon in the 200-yard freestyle and McKinney in the dive.

BURTON TO LEAD 1930 TRACK TEAM

Frederick Burton, 1000-yard runner, has been elected to lead the 1930 indoor track team at Newton high school. He succeeds Captain Richard Reynolds. Coach Donald Enoch will lose his three best men of the past season in Captain Reynolds, Bob Ewing and Carl Pescosolido as well as some of the other men who enabled Newton to capture all of its dual meets.

The trio of Reynolds, Ewing and Pescosolido piled up enough points to bring the orange and black home with the Northeastern Interscholastic meet banner, second place in the Andover interscholastics and third in the state meet early this month.

This same trio is looked upon to keep Newton in the limelight this spring in its outdoor track meetings at which the Newton mentor will be able to get a line on prospects for next winter's indoor outfit.

SPORT NOTES

Both Whitmores on Injured List

Harvard and Boston University baseball supporters received disquieting news the latter part of last week when it was learned that Howard Whitmore, outstanding Harvard pitcher ace, and Holmes Whitmore, prospective B. U. infielder and ace of the hockey team the past winter, were on the injured lists at their respective colleges. Howard Whitmore, a former star Newton high pitcher, developed a sore arm and will be lost to the squad for at least two weeks if not for the entire season. He was the fourth member of last year's pitching staff and the only one of the quartet in college this year which made him Coach Mitchell's most dependable candidate. He complained of a sore arm two weeks prior to his being placed on the injured list and the Harvard mentor ordered him to take but light workouts each day indoors. The arm failed to respond and the middle of last week an X-ray was taken. The result was that Whitmore has been ordered to take at least a two-week rest from baseball. In his freshman year Whitmore had trouble with his arm and though he pitched some fine games last year had to be nursed along a great deal after laying off all his sophomore year. Holmes Whitmore, younger brother of Howard, was a star in both baseball and hockey at Newton high. He played first base on the nine and won on the sextet. He is now a sophomore at Boston University where he made the hockey team and was a substitute first baseman on the nine his freshman year. In the final hockey game of the season a few weeks ago with the B. A. A. sextet he received an injury to his back and had to be carried from the ice. Dr. D. B. Stearns, pioneer athletic physician, announced the latter part of last week that Whitmore was definitely out of all athletics until next winter. He was pronounced cured of paralysis but will have to wear a brace on his injured back.

Dartmouth Has Spring Grid Practice

Coach Jackson Cannell of the Dartmouth football team held the first practice session of the spring last week Friday. Among the prominent backfield candidates reporting were Henry L. Johnson, Jr., and Leonard Clark while Harold Andres was among the centre candidates. All three athletes are Newton high graduates.

Honor Ted Learnard

Ted Learnard, University Club hockey team goaltender, was voted the most valuable player by members of the squad at the annual banquet at the University Club last week Friday night. Gilbert Gleason, chairman of the hockey committee donated a trophy and Learnard received a small replica of it while the larger cup remains at the club. It was announced that the club would back the team as the squad in the spring league proposition. Indications are that Boston will have three amateur teams next season as both the University Club and the B. A. A. will be represented and in addition, plans are being made by the Boston Garden to organize an amateur sextet. Of the fifteen players attending the banquet four are well-known present or former local youths. They were besides Learnard, Clark Hodder, Bill Blaney and Horace Cole.

Adams Wins Letter

Among those awarded major insignia for varsity hockey at Princeton University this week was Warren S. Adams, 2nd, of Newton. Adams is a Newton high graduate where he played football and hockey.

KIWANIS CLUB

The regular meeting of the Newton Kiwanis Club was held in the Ashburton Club on Tuesday, March 26th and was attended by about 100, including guests of the Club. Jack Sharkey was the guest of the day. Other guests were Mayor Edwin O. Childs, Street Commissioner George E. Stuart, Mayor Childs congratulated Mr. Sharkey, not only on his pugilistic prowess but also on his clean sportsmanship and the fine example given to the youth of the land by his clean and simple life. Mr. Sharkey expressed his pleasure at meeting so many of his fellow townsmen and delivered a brief but very interesting address. The next meeting of the Club will be held on April 2nd when many proposals for membership will be considered.

GIRL COLLAPSES IN CHURCH

Marie Solomon, 15, of 2 Walnut terrace, Newtonville, collapsed in the Church of Our Lady at Newton about 8:30 Sunday morning and was taken to the Newton Hospital in the police ambulance. She had recently undergone an operation for appendicitis.

POLICE NEWS

About midnight last Friday a telephone message was received at police headquarters complaining that two drunken men were driving an automobile on West Newton streets. Serg. Moan and Patrolman Whalen started to look for the car and soon intercepted it. The driver, Frank Myers of 258 Cherry street, West Newton, was arrested charged with driving while under the influence of liquor. His companion was arrested on the charge of drunkenness. The pair were in court Friday morning and their cases were continued to March 27. The car was owned by the Drive Yourself Rental Company of Boston.

Leo Millero of Cottage place, West Newton, was fined $5 in the Waltham court on Friday for assaulting Reginald Cavallo of Waltham street, West Newton. When the assault was committed it was seen by Serg. Duffy of Waltham, who arrested Millero.

In the Newton court on Saturday Mrs. Helen Moreau of 460 Watertown street, Newtonville, was fined $50 and given a suspended sentence of three months in jail for violating the liquor laws. The young woman made an illegal sale of booze to a "spotter" and when the police raided her home they found a considerable quantity of home brew.

A few weeks ago a man obtained several dollars fraudulently one Sunday at the Church of Our Lady, Newton, by imposing on the young men who volunteer their services at the church each Sunday making change for the thousands of persons who attend that church and who desire to have money changed so that they will have the proper amount for the seat offerings. The fellow went to the various booths at the entrances to the church and demanded change for $1 and $2 bills which he falsely claimed to have tendered. Last Sunday when a fellow started to work the same game, Rev. Lawrence Slattery, pastor of the church, was notified and he called Patrolman Judson Sartwell who placed the man under arrest. He gave his name as Thomas Daley and claimed to reside on Moody street, Waltham, but the addresses he gave in that city were found to be fictitious and then he gave an address at 85 St. Roch street, Boston. East Boston police believe he roomed at 88 Maverick street in that section. In the Newton court on Monday Daley was sentenced to 30 days in jail. He appealed, but later withdrew the appeal and was sent to jail.

Early this winter and old automobile was placed at the rear of Nonantum Block, Newton Corner, by its owners, Alfred Cassidy and William McCarthy to hibernate. The joint owners of the "car" removed the tires as a matter of precaution. Some weeks ago when they went to inspect their property they discovered that the body and chassis remained but most of the movable parts of any value had been appropriated by parties unknown. Persistent sleuthing on the part of Serg. Moran and Patrolman Frank Feeley resulted in the missing parts, which included the radiator, generator and other innards of the Ford. In the possession of John and Joseph Magazza, brothers residing at 184 California street, Nonantum. The Magazzas were in the Newton court on Monday charged with "stripping" the Cassidy-McCarthy car. To steal parts from a car is now a felony, made so by a law recently passed so the Magazzas were charged with a serious crime.

They had John O'Neil as their attorney and Mr. O'Neil obtained a settlement of the cases unique and fortunate for the defendants. He informed Judge Bacon that his clients had "stripped" the car in the belief that the body and chassis had been abandoned because of the fact it was minus its tires. As evidence of this idea on the part of his clients, he informed the judge that they had agreed with the owners of the car, Messrs. Cassidy and McCarthy, to pay those gentlemen $25, which was the sum the car had been sold for. Judge Bacon agreed to this settlement but he was not convinced that the Magazzas had believed the car to be abandoned when they stripped it and continued the case to Sept. 21.

S. S. PIERCE CO. OPENS STORE AT NEWTON CENTRE

The announcement of the opening next Monday, April 1st, of the S. S. Pierce store at the corner of Beacon and Centre streets, Newton Centre, in the new Stuart building is of interest to many Newton residents. Ninety-eight years ago with Eldad Worcester, Samuel S. Pierce opened his first corner grocery, under the name of Worcester and Pierce and when asked how much money he expected to make the first year replied, "I may not make any money for the next five years but I shall make a reputation." Through three generations the conviction has been handed down from father to son that, "if you can't put your grocery on a corner, don't have one at all"—a saying quoted from Mr. Pierce. All the S. S. Pierce groceries have been on corners. They represent the primitive corner grocery idea broadened into a modern business principle.

The little corner grocery of 1831 at the corner of Court and Tremont streets—then one of the best residential parts of Boston—quickly prospered and on the pages of the first ledger which is still in existence, appear the names of Boston's best families. Many of these are as familiar today as they were three-quarters of a century ago. The fourth generation of these families still continue to patronize the Pierce groceries. The history of these stores contain many interesting incidents.

The devotion of old employees has been one of the sources of strength of the S. S. Pierce business. The late Mr. J. E. A. Blais, former manager of the cigar department, and the late Mr. Thomas Halligan, former manager of the olive department, were with the company since 1874. At present sixty-one employees have been with the company for 25 years or more while in the roster of ten-year employees are the names of 247.

First deliveries of the little grocery were notified as a wheelbarrow borrowed from the paragonage of the Brattle street church, then situated next door on Court street. Before long the business afforded a cart of its own and later several handcarts. A few years later the first horse and wagon delivery service ever used in the grocery business in Boston was set up by the company as trade pushed beyond the West End.

Ten years after the original business was formed Mr. Worcester retired and Mr. Pierce continued alone until 1874. In that year Mr. Charles L. Eaton, who for many years had been a clerk in the establishment, was admitted to partnership and the name of the firm changed to S. S. Pierce & Co. A year later Mr. Wallace L. Pierce, the founder's son, was taken into the firm and about the same time Mr. Charles H. C. Brown and Mr. Charles W. Eaton were given an interest in the business. In 1900 Mr. Walworth Pierce, grandson of the founder, entered the corporation and is now its president. Dr. M. Vassar Pierce, brother of the late Wallace L. Pierce is vice-president and the treasurer is Mr. Elwyn G. Preston.

The corner grocery of 1831 remained in its original location for 65 years with the exception of a short period when it moved to 319 Washington street while the Hemenway building was being erected at the corner of Court and Tremont streets. It then went back to the old location in a store with twice the former dimensions. During this time the beautiful Pierce building was erected in Copley square and a branch store established therein. Later the Coolidge Corner branch was opened. Another retail store, the wholesale salesrooms and the warehouse in the new S. S. Pierce Central Building at 133 Brookline avenue testify to the progress of the concern. In 1896 the parent store moved to its present location in the Tremont Building—the final manifestation of the corner grocery.

has grown to one that administers to the wants of a State and to a certain extent of a nation. Retail customers are served nearly all over the world—in Italy, France, China, Turkey, England, and on the west coast of Africa. These accounts, naturally unsolicited, come chiefly from old customers or the latter's friends. These ninety-eight years have seen an accompanying growth in the development of the American standard of living. The price-lists of 1849 contained 255 items—those of today have contained over 5000. Among the unusual articles listed in 1849 were buffalo tongues, reindeer tongues (imported from Russia), shrimp juice, peach water, white brandy for bathing, whale oil, Russian "isinglass" (gelatine) and others. Canned fruits, meats and vegetables were practically unknown though Nicholas Appert (who deserves a monument that has never been given him) had already experimented with the preservation of green peas at Massy, France. As late as 1871 in the old store were lines of drawers containing indigo (modern bluing was then just beginning to come in), spices, bird seed, etc. One drawer contained 50 pounds of finely ground Scotch oatmeal, used for making gruel for the sick. It was unknown as a breakfast food at that time. Today the house imports 20,000 pound lots from Ireland, 25 barrel lots from Scotland and carload lots at frequent intervals of the domestic product. With but few exceptions goods were not known by their maker's names or by brands.

Most business houses that began as long ago as this one retain, perhaps the original name, but have passed into other hands. In this concern the ideals of its founder inspire today a third generation of the family. The idea of giving good value was Samuel S. Pierce's most outstanding principle and throughout the history of the concern it has made one thing grow out of another. Before the day of modern gelatine Russian "isinglass" was used exclusively in the manufacture of jellies and it cost at one time as high as $18 a pound. On one occasion when importations failed the company sent its own agents into the interior of Russia for its supply, which had to be drawn on dog-sleds through miles of frozen forests to the seaboard for shipment to Boston. This is but one instance of the efforts of the company to obtain products from the first source of supply in nearly every country of the earth. Many years ago the first Mocha coffee was brought to Boston by Captain John Bertram of Salem. Since that time relations have existed between the company and manufacturers of cataputs and drinkables all over the world. As far as possible all importations are put through the port of Boston.

The question has often been asked, "Who makes the S. S. Pierce candy?" The answer must be a composite photograph. Twelve different manufacturers, each selected for some special skill in the production of one or more pieces, contribute to the whole result. Many of the makers devote an exclusive department in their factories to the S. S. Pierce candy. The same methods are pursued in the selection of teas, coffees, spices, condiments, preserves, cheese, toilet preparations, biscuits, canned goods, and that almost endless list of rare and better things which exist over the world for the grocery store that can find them. One of the heads of the business has said, "The success of the house is due, more than anything else, to the character of its founder. It has been comparatively easy for us to build up the business on the reputation he left us."

The Newton Boy Scout school traffic squad was given its first informal inspection last Saturday afternoon by Chief Bernard F. Burke of the Police department and Patrolman William Kiley, instructor and organizer of the squad. It is the first scout school traffic squad in the state and was first attempted in this city last fall with about twenty scouts on active duty every school day at some of the schools in the city. The idea has been so successful that next fall it is planned to enlarge the squad so that at every school in the city traffic will be handled safely.

Chief Burke in a short talk, praised the work of the present squad in preventing accidents and controlling traffic for the school children at the street crossings near the schools four times each day.

Patrolman Kiley announced the plans for the enlargement of the squad next fall with the present members as assistant instructors for the new members. Each scout is equipped with white traffic belts, "stop" signs and badges of office. Prior to the inspection the squad assembled in the guard room at police headquarters, donned their belts and made ready.

Filing out in military order the boys stood at attention in the slight drizzle while Chief Burke looked over their uniforms, belts, stop signs and equipment.

Scout Executive L. A. Bruce, Jr., then reviewed the boys, complimented them on their efforts the past few months and congratulated them for not permitting their success to turn their heads.

GIRL SCOUTS

The rain on Saturday prevented the Junior Patrol Leaders having their hike to Cedar Hill. The bad day was a great disappointment as many plans had been made and the patrol leaders and corporals were loath to give the hike up. The next hike planned by this group will be as Camp Mary Day in May.

The folders for Camp Mary Day, the Newton Girl Scout Camp, have been out a week and judging by the requests coming into headquarters for registration blanks the capacity of the camp will be taxed to the limit as it has been ever since the camp was opened in 1923. The camp is on Nonsuch pond about six miles from Newton but it might well be in New Hampshire as far as its setting and the surrounding country are concerned.
The main camp house consisting of a large assembly room with a great open fireplace, office, kitchen and screened dining porch is the heart and centre of the camp. The girls sleep in wooden tents, which this year will be screened, and these with the officers tents and "Fairyland," the infirmary form a semicircle around the camp green just behind the main house.
Twenty-five girls may be accommodated at one time, just a nice family, and the days are so full of goodtimes from seven in the morning until "taps" sounds at nine o'clock at night that the days go by all too fast. Miss Freeman will direct the camp as usual this year and she with Mrs. Walton Redfield, Chairman of the Newton Camp Committee will be at camp on Sunday afternoon, April 7th, and will be glad to welcome anyone who cares to see the camp.

On Tuesday, March 26, Betty Jane Dockett, Judith Pickhardt, Deborah York and Frances Timble of Troop 25, West Newton, were invested as second class Scouts.

The Rally is almost here and the troops are busily working in preparation for it. It is to be Saturday, April 6, in the Gymnasium of the Newton High School and a large attendance is expected.

EDITORIAL

Attorney General Warner is absolutely correct in his attitude that law enforcement officers must combine and act, if lawyers are organizing to defeat the enforcement of the Volstead Act and the Jones Bill. It seems to us that those New York lawyers who openly announce their intent to protect and defend persons who are charged with violating the prohibitions are coming very close to the line of treason against the government, besides which Benedict Arnold would shine as an angel.

The attention of Newton tax payers is called to the fact that about $60,000 of the $220,000 increase in the budget recommended by Mayor Childs is contained in the items of interest and serial bonds. Over $200,000 of the total budget of $4,448,000 is for these items alone. The free handed manner in which our city fathers have spent the tax payers' money for new and costly buildings is beginning to bear fruit.

UNDER THE GILDED DOME

One of the principal topics of interest in the State House is the publicly announced attitude of Attorney General Warner. He is determined to enforce prohibition in this State and that he will seek the co-operation of the District Attorneys throughout the Commonwealth in a more rigid administration of the law. As is the case in every move made by an official on Beacon Hill much discussion has been aroused of the political attitude of Mr. Warner's sensational announcement. Various opinions are expressed and there is a sharp difference among Republicans as to the effect on the voters of that party of the proposal that Mr. Warner suggests—the signing of the pledge cards in which the signers agree not to drink any liquor or violate the laws in any way for a period of thirty days. At present the matter has produced only much talk. Just what will happen after Mr. Warner has conferred with the District Attorneys remains to be seen. He has called the conference for Saturday of next week.

Senator Hollis and Representatives Luitwieler and Thompson recorded in favor of the Senate bill providing that questions of public policy to be voted upon under the provisions of the so-called Public Opinion referendum be restricted to matters entirely within the legislative jurisdiction of Massachusetts. Representative Baker was not recorded. The Senate passed the measure to be engrossed by roll call, 22 to 15. The House rejected it, 172 to 35. This bill was the result of the referendum at the State election last November when in thirty-six of the forty Senatorial districts the voters had the opportunity of instructing their Senators to support a memorial to Congress in favor of the repeal of the 18th amendment to the Federal constitution. That 34 of the Senatorial districts showed a majority in so instructing Senators is a matter of history. And also an event now passed is the vote a month or more ago by the State Senate memorializing Congress in favor of the repeal or modification of the 18th amendment. A large amount of criticism was hurled at the Senate for so voting.

Much favorable comment has been heard of Governor Allen's action in directing Chairman Charles H. Adams of the Commission on the Necessaries of Life to attend the Legislative hearing at Harrisburg, Pa., this week and urge the repeal of the anthracite sales tax. The Governor has felt that the tax, levied under authority of the Pennsylvania Legislature, was imposing a burden on coal users in Massachusetts and also on coal dealers who now have the competition of dealers in various other fuels. The fact that the Pennsylvania Legislative Committee heard Mr. Adams state the position of Massachusetts and afterwards reported a bill providing for the repeal of the sales tax is a source of satisfaction to the Governor and all users of anthracite coal in Massachusetts. The Senate has passed to be engrossed a resolve providing for an investigation relative to the advisability and cost of constructing a boulevard or highway in Newton and Weston. It is based on a part of the recommendations of the Division of Metropolitan Planning relating to the laying out of certain boulevards and traffic ways. When it was received by the House it was referred to the Committee on Ways and Means.

Representative Luitwieler is House chairman of the Committee on State Administration which has reported legislation for the celebration of the three hundredth anniversary of the founding of the Massachusetts Bay Colony. As a member of this committee and of the Committee on Labor and Industries Mr. Luitwieler is called upon to perform many exacting duties which require a considerable amount of time.

By roll call, 79 yeas to 143 nays, the House refused to substitute for an adverse committee report a bill petitioned for by the Massachusetts State Federation of Labor and which would have provided for the establishment of a State fund for the protection of persons engaged in extra-hazardous employments and that employers be authorized to insure their own risks. Representatives Baker, Luitwieler and Thompson voted against the bill.

WOMAN NEARLY ASPHYXIATED

Monday morning Mrs. Thomas Perry of 66 Fisher avenue, Newton Highlands, was found unconscious in the attic of her home which was filled with illuminating gas from an open jet. The discovery was made by Lillian Appleby of Somerville a friend of the Perry woman. Dr. West was called and ordered the woman taken to the Newton Hospital. Mrs. Perry, who is 37 years of age and the mother of two children, has been suffering from a nervous ailment.

ABOUT TOWN

By Edw. H. Powers

Members of Engine 1 company were busy Wednesday morning shining the huge fire alarm bell which has replaced for many months in the yard alongside the old building which quarters Engine 1. The bell will soon be placed in the cupola which will surmount the new fire station on Washington street, near Centre avenue. In its new location it will be only 75 feet distant from where it was first located, and where it did duty for many years in the belfry of the old armory building. The bell, cast in 1887 for the City of Newton, weighs over one ton. While the bell was stored in the yard at the old engine house junk dealers were to purchase it. It is estimated that the present value of the bell is more than $2500.

Complaints are being made about the delay in turning on the street lights in this city. The contracts between the Edison Company and the municipalities it serves call for the street lights to be turned on 30 minutes after sundown. Apparently no provision is made for the fact that on rainy and cloudy evenings it gets dark earlier than on evenings when the weather is fair. It is a regular occurrence for the lights not to be turned on in this city until 20 or 30 minutes after the streets have become so dark that pedestrians are menaced whenever they attempt to cross streets. Public Utility Commission should have the Edison Company turn the street lights on earlier than it has been doing. The period when the streets are dark is that when traffic of home travelling automobiles and pedestrians is at the peak.

There was a pursuit to the death at Oak Hill Tuesday morning. Robert Gould Shaw, 2nd, is a millionaire farmer who farms for pleasure. He keeps dogs. Fred S. Esty is a dirt farmer who farms for a living. He keeps pigs. Tuesday morning Shaw's dogs started to chase one of Esty's pigs. The pig ran a good race but it was not in proper condition for a Marathon over the rough course on the Esty farm. Fear of its pursuers kept it from slowing down to get its second wind. The pig's owner kept hooting until it dropped dead. It might have been pig, but it was game. Naturally, Mr. Esty resented the loss of his pig and complained to the police. Mr. Shaw was ordered to restrain his dogs.

As a result of insistent demands from the School Committee and certain organizations in this city, the Board of Aldermen going on two years ago appropriated about $50,000 to construct a tunnel under Elm road at Newtonville for the purpose of allowing easier means of communication from the Classical High School building to the new high school building. It was also argued that the tunnel was badly needed to protect the girls and boys attending the high schools from the inclemency of the weather. The tunnel would prevent them from catching cold; would render it unnecessary for the pupils to put on coats and hats.

The tunnel was ready for use last year. But even during stormy days this winter when snow and sleet were falling, when the ground was covered with slush, large numbers of high school pupils might be observed crossing Elm road—without hats or coats on. Was the money appropriated for the tunnel wasted, or should the pupils be compelled to use the tunnel?

Now that the building at the corner of Elmwood and Centre streets, Newton Corner, is completed, and the building at the corner of Beacon and Centre streets, Newton Centre, is completed, citizens of Newton have an opportunity to see the contrast between a properly rounded corner and a blind corner. Without tooting our own horn too much, we have no apologies to offer for having been the lone member of the Aldermen who endeavored to have the corner at Centre and Elmwood streets made wider. Sometimes when one is very much in the minority, one is supposed to be stupid—or stubborn, or both.

Starting April 1 all the postoffices in this city, except that at Newton, instead of despatching mails direct, as they always have, will send them to Newton Centre. Of course, postal officials, that is—some postal officials, will assert that this will improve the postal service in Newton. Even so, these officials stated that centralizing the receiving and distributing of incoming mail at Newton Centre has been and is an advantage. But, persons who have some knowledge of postal matters know that the change will work disadvantageously in many respects, even as residents of Newton know that the centralizing of incoming mail at Newton Centre has not been a howling success in every way. At the February meeting of the Newton Business Associates, Herbert Hanson, assistant postmaster at Boston, spoke to the members on the new methods now in use in the handling of mail for the Newtons. He was asked at that time if postal officials were planning to have mails from the other postoffices in this city despatched from Newton Centre? Mr. Hanson replied, "I have heard of no such talk." When rumors have been current for months that the new method of handling outgoing mails, which is to be put into effect on April 1, was being seriously considered, it is strange that Mr. Hanson had not heard of this plan. Holding the position he does, he certainly should have been consulted on this matter.

CHANGE IN HOURS

F. A. DAY JUNIOR HIGH

Our assembly program this week was opened with two contralto solos by Mrs. Helen Woodward of Waltham. Mrs. Woodward is known by radio around this locality. "Preparing for the Journey of Life" was the theme taken by Mrs. Irving Palmer who gave us a most inspiring talk. Mrs. Palmer suggested the physical, mental and spiritual qualities necessary for our great journey, and advised us in the manner of achieving them. The program closed with two delightful numbers by Mrs. Woodward. Miss Hinckley, Miss Fales and Miss Maxim were in charge of this assembly.

On Thursday, March 1st at 1:30 P. M. another Studio to School Room program was broadcasted from Station WEEL. Ninth Grade students had the pleasure of hearing Mr. Royal Farnum speak on "Art in Everyday Life." After a very amusing introduction Mr. Farnum spoke in a very general manner, outlining the talks which are to follow.

LEVI F. WARREN JUNIOR HIGH

The Warren Junior High has only obtained 100% in banking once. Last week our school per cent was 98, the highest our school has been able to obtain for quite a while. Mr. Cronin of the Newton Library, told the student body a most enjoyable story from the book "Kim" by Kipling. Kim's mother and father had died. He soon made acquaintance with an old man. Together they went in search of the "Arrow" lake. They encountered many interesting events. Kim is put in possession of a priceless paper which he is to bear to a Colonel in the Secret Service. If you would like to know how the story ended, read the book. Mr. Cronin also told the pupils a short story and sang a song.

BOOZE PLANT RAIDED AT WEST NEWTON

pected more liquor would be found in the house. The Newton police got in touch with Clerk of Court Francis Sprague, obtained a search warrant and Serg. Moan and Patrolmen Reagan, L. O'Donnell and Stevens went to Albemarle road, joined by Lordan and Storti's residence, breaking in the front door after being refused admittance. In the cellar of the bungalow was found a 100 gallon still, a 75 gallon tank and other apparatus used in the manufacture of hooch. Also six 50 gallon drums supposed to contain either denatured alcohol or alcohol mash, 177 gallons of alleged redistilled alcohol in gallon tins, 150 empty gallon cans, one pint of apricot cordial, a pint of imitation Pocardi rum flavoring, a large quantity of glucose, supposedly used to give body to the synthetic Pocardi. The raid was staged at 9:45 p. m. Storti was arrested charged with keeping and exposing liquor for sale. In the Newton court yesterday morning Storti was arraigned on this charge and his case was continued until April 8.

He was released on $1000 bonds and then was taken to Boston by the Prohibition officers to be arraigned in the Federal Court on the charge of violating the recently passed Jones Law by illegally manufacturing liquor. Inello and Corigliano will also be tried in the Federal Court under the Jones Law charged with illegal transportation of liquor.

Among the articles seized at Storti's place was a bottle of Potassium Hydroxide. This chemical is used sometimes to ascertain whether or not the ingredients placed in alcohol to denature it have been removed by redistillation.

REAL ESTATE

John T. Burns & Sons, Inc., report that they have sold for the Estate of J. Homer Wright the property located 1016 Centre street, corner Alden street in the Newton Centre district. Snow purchases for a home and will occupy the premises.

Burns and Sons have also sold to Roderick McLean two lots of land on Burnside road in the Newton Highlands district. The lots contain 13,500 sq. ft. and are valued at $5,500. John T. Burns, Jr., was the grantor.

Burns & Sons have also sold for F. V. Tyrell to W. S. Fitch a parcel of land on the corner of Chamberlain and Huntington roads in the Farlow Hill district of Newton, valued at $2,500.

SCHOOL COMMITTEE MEETS

presented at the previous meeting which asked for the use of the hall at the new Levi Warren School for the presentation of a play. The school committee at the previous meeting had laid this petition on the table because the proceeds from this play were not to be given to some charitable or philanthropic purpose.

A communication was received from Representative Saltonstall informing the committee of the defeat in the Legislature of two bills—one seeking to postpone opening of schools in the State until October 1 each year, and the other seeking to have the subject of ethics taught in schools. The Newton School Committee was opposed to both bills.

Chairman Church told his fellow members that a meeting will be held this week with the sub-committee of aldermen to discuss the matter of a new junior high school at the South Side.

Residents of the Charlemont section near Upper Falls petitioned for free transportation for their children during the entire school year instead of during the four winter months. Grosvenor Calkins, member from Ward 7 brought up the question of the payment of tuition for the daughter of an army officer who resides in Watertown. The army officer contends that it is the prerogative of any one in that service to send their children to any school they choose, whether or not the school is in the town or city where they may be stationed. Supt. Wheeler gave the opinion that the girl should go to the Watertown High School and City Solicitor Bartlett was asked several months ago to make a ruling on this matter. He had not done so and Mr. Calkins asked that he be again requested to give a decision.

ATTEMPTED MURDER AT CHESTNUT HILL

District Attorney Bushnell is taking an active interest in this attempted murder and State Detectives O'Neil and Sherlock are co-operating with the Newton inspectors in an endeavor to apprehend the would-be assassins.

SUSPICIOUS BLAZE AT NEWTON

At 1:50 yesterday morning Patrolman Timothy Riley discovered a fire in the large house at 281 Park street, Newton, owned by the C. H. Seovell estate. He pulled Box 132 and the firemen upon arriving found that the blaze, which apparently had started in the rear vestibule had spread to the kitchen and other rooms of the house. Considerable damage was done to the building before the fire was extinguished. It is believed that the fire was of incendiary origin and an investigation is being made.

ATTENTION!

Clubs, Churches, Welfare Organizations:

An urgent appeal is made by the Newton Central Council—not for money—not for time—not for service—just for a little thought on your own behalf. Think to telephone Newton North 7394 before you decide on the date for your next benefit bridge, or annual meeting, or special service. After the die is cast and arrangements are all made, perhaps you find that there is a concert or lecture or play on the same day, and you are disappointed because your affair is not as well attended as you had hoped. And all the time if you had called the Council Office you would have discovered the conflict in time to have selected another date.

Through the Community Calendar the Council can prevent the duplication of events only if they hear of them in advance. Affairs of general interest in Newton, as far as they are known to the Council, are published each week in the Newton papers. If you would like to have your event listed in the Calendar, send to the Council at 12 Austin street, Newtonville, the date, the hour, the event, the place—and send it as long ahead as possible—so that there will be time to place it on the Calendar, which must go to the Newton papers a week in advance.

of the world, with exhibits and demonstrations of Scouting; but will, after the Jamboree, tour Belgium, Germany, Switzerland and France. They will arrive in New York on August 31st.

Motion pictures and photographs will be taken of the party during the entire trip, so there will be a most interesting film of the Jamboree and European trip to show in Newton next fall. This trip is not costing the Council one penny, for expenses are being paid by parents of Scouts going and by people of Newton interested in the affair, which is really an "International Good Will Tour by the Boy Scouts of the World."

The Scouts and leaders who are going are even now getting in trim for the trip. They have been vaccinated and are taking typhoid inoculation under the direction of the Council Health and Safety Committee; they are working for the Hiking Merit Badge to get in physical trim; and immediately after school, the party will camp at Nobscot, setting up camp, doing their own cooking, for they will have to do those things at the Jamboree.

There has been a tremendous response from Scouts and people interested in Scouting in this affair, which was thrown open for every First Class Scout of Norumbega Council by Scout Commissioner John M. Blier, through the Scoutmasters. It will undoubtedly accomplish a tremendous lot in making for Good Will in the world through America and will prove of untold benefit to Scouting in this country and in this Council.

POLICE NEWS

Joseph Boudreau of Taylor street, Waltham, was fined $75 in the Newton Court on Wednesday for driving while under the influence of liquor. He was arrested on March 16 at Newton Corner by Traffic Officer Taft.

Frank Meyers of 258 Cherry street, West Newton, was also fined $75 for driving while under the influence of liquor. He was arrested at West Newton on the night of March 22 by Serg. Moan and Patrolman Whelan.

Tuesday the Newton police were asked by the Boston police to learn the name of the operator of an automobile registered in the name of Lawrence Peruzzi, 35 Middle street, Newton. The Boston police wanted to summon said operator to court because he had failed to stop when signalled to do so by a policeman. Shortly after the Boston police communicated with the Newton police Peruzzi made a complaint to the local police that the car had been stolen from the rear of 430 Watertown street, where it was parked.

AUTO HITS BOY

Warren Strange, 7, of 29 Jefferson street, Newton, was hit and knocked unconscious Wednesday noon by an auto driven by Arthur Ayr of Hyannis. Ayr told the police that the boy suddenly ran from behind one of the closed spans on the railroad bridge at the Washington street, Newton Corner. The boy was returning home from the Underwood School. He was treated by Dr. Marston in Engine 1 house and then removed to the Newton Hospital.

The bridge is a very dangerous spot. Many school children cross it going to and coming from the Bigelow and Underwood Schools. It is located alongside Engine 1 house, and were it not for the fact that this house will soon be abandoned, it would be a good place for one of the firemen to do traffic duty during the periods when the school children are passing over the bridge.

NEW RIVER BOULEVARD FOR NEWTON

The Committee on Metropolitan Affairs of the Legislature agreed on Wednesday to report a bill which will ask for the appropriation of $2,770,000 to make improvements at the Charles River Basin between Boston and Cambridge and along the river at Newton, Brighton and Watertown. Among the improvements which will most directly benefit residents of this city will be a continuation of the boulevard on the Brighton side of the river from the Arsenal bridge to the Faneuil bridge, and a roadway and parkway from the end of the present boulevard at the corner of Maple street along to California street.

The single family house at 110 Woodward street, Newton Highlands, at the corner of Randolph street, is going to be moved along the aqueduct land to the lot at 160 Dickerman road. The house is a frame structure, two and one-half stories high and of comparatively recent construction. A two-car garage now located at the rear of this house will also be moved. C. Gordon McMullin has petitioned the Board of Aldermen for a permit to move the house along Randolph street and Dickerman road but subsequently obtained permission to move the building over the aqueduct. He will build a new house on the site at 110 Woodward street.

"POLLYANNA"

The Philadelphia Rice Players will present "Pollyanna," the "glad" play in four acts by Catherine C. Cushing, based on the novel by Eleanor H. Porter, next Wednesday afternoon and evening, at the Newton Community Theatre. The story has to do with the experiences of an orphan girl who is thrust into the home of a miserly, old maid aunt. In spite of the tribulations that beset her life, she manages to find something to be glad about, and brings light into sunless lives. Finally, Pollyanna straightens out the love affairs of her elders and last but not least, finds happiness for herself in the heart of Jimmy. "Pollyanna" is a glad play and one which is bound to give one a better appreciation of people and the world. It reflects the humor, tenderness and humanity that gave the story such wonderful popularity among young and old.

Elizabeth Hunt who plays the part of Pollyanna does it with the charm and spontaneity which made her portrayal of Peg O' My Heart so lovable and entertaining. The other members of the cast are admirably suited to the parts they portray.

TIRE PRICES TO ADVANCE

The C. M. Evans Tire Company of 52 Mount Auburn street, Watertown, believing there will be a sharp advance in tire prices have been heavy buyers of Goodyear Superwrist Constructed Balloon Tires and Flak bicycle tires during the past month. The Evans Company now has one of the largest tire stocks in New England and advises automobile owners to secure their season's requirements at once. Prices on tires were never lower than at present and are soon expected to advance rapidly in cost.

The growth of their business has caused them to recently purchase a large manufacturing plant and warehouse at the same address, and they are now equipped to give even better service to their customers.

In addition to their awning trade the George T. Hoyt Co. are manufacturers of tents and other canvas products and distributors of camp equipment and folding furniture, including the famous Gold Medal Line.

Bok Singing Tower Called "The American Shrine" By Beauty Lovers

Description of Sanctuary and Tower Recently Dedicated By Ex-President Coolidge

Some one has named the singing tower erected by Mr. Edward W. Bok at Mountain Lake, Florida, and comparable with the Mecca of the Moslems or the Taj Mahal of the lovers of beauty in India as "The American Shrine." It is a most appropriate name for a structure which will certainly be sought by constantly increasing numbers of lovers of beauty. It is located on a plateau called Iron Mountain, said to be the highest land in Florida, 324 feet above sea level, and it dominates the landscape for miles around. The first impression is one of simplicity as well as of beauty, but a more careful study of its construction indicates that a master hand and a master mind have here had full sway to make a complete picture of what has been the motive of the donor, Mr. Edward W. Bok.

Whether the visitor wanders up the foot path, pausing to hear the nightingales sing, or lingering on the "Plateau," in the Easter Glade or in the Garden of Resurrection leading to the oak grove, or yet tarries beside the pool mirroring the deep pink shadow of the tower, while the carillon sounds its glorious melody, he is invited to seek the spirit of those ancient sanctuaries where man alone found refuge, but also the "little brothers of the air" were secure and all animal life was sacred.

Harmony with the spirit of the carillon as well as its practical requirements and the beauty of the surrounding sanctuary, have been the inspiration of the singing tower. From the profile of bells cut into its square base, 51 feet wide, the tower rises through gradually changing outline to a height of 205 feet 2 inches, where its octagonal summit is but 37 feet wide. This is crowded by panels of roses and palms. The eight buttresses are pointed by symbolic herons, each of the four males carrying a fish in its beak and the alternating females feeding their young. The tower weighs 5500 tons and is anchored to a reinforced concrete mat supported by 160 reinforced concrete piles.

Besides the beautiful carillon, the tower contains two copper steel reinforced tanks with a capacity of 30,000 gallons, used for watering the sanctuary. The entire ground floor has been reserved as a single, high-vaulted hall lined with Etowah marble and appointed as a study for Mr. Bok, with many features like the curved walls of distinguished beauty. It is fitted as a chapel with rare old pieces of furniture. The bells of the carillon comprise the finest and largest yet made. It consists of 71 bells, hung in rows, graduating in weight from the largest weighing 24,000 pounds to the smallest of 12 pounds. The best effects of the carillon are obtained at a distance of some 200 yards. At the proper position the music seems to sing out as if the tower itself had burst into song, hence the traditional name, singing tower.

Many details of the tower are masterpieces needing individual appreciation. A description of the beautiful hammered bronze door, depicting in yellow brass, repousse, as in a golden blaze, the six days of creation as recorded in Genesis, would require a full column and the sun dial carved on the south wall would require another. The whole is a wonderful work of art and a priceless gift to Florida and its fame is slowly spreading throughout the world. It is an American shrine that will draw pilgrims from the four corners of the earth throughout the ages as has the Kaaba in the sacred shrine at Mecca and those who have not seen it should look forward with pleasant anticipation to the day when they will have that rare pleasure.

Our party were especially honored by Mr. Bok, who gave us permission to see the inside of the tower. It was a hard climb as the elevator only went up about half the height of the tower and the last hundred feet were up iron stairs nearly as upright as a ladder. But the view from the top was one of rare beauty. Upwards of thirty lakes it was said can be seen from the top and the roads of red clay in the neighborhood looked like orange colored ribbons winding in and out of the landscape. While I was in the tower, Mr. Brees returned and played several selections for our benefit. I had an opportunity to watch him play and it was most interesting. The keys were about the size and length of small cigars and he used a half closed fist to strike or pull them, most of the time in a very rapid fashion.

While the tower is the dominating feature of the place it is only a part of what Mr. Bok has created as a retreat of natural beauty for the human, a refuge for birds and a place for the study of southern planting and bird life. It has an area of 48 acres and contains over 1000 live oaks, 8000 azaleas, 100 Sabal palms, 300 magnolias and some 10,000 Sword and Boston ferns.

Special attention has been paid to the growth of plants and shrubs bearing berries and other foods for the birds all of whom are here in their native state save the nightingales, who are confined in a large cage.

The tower is surrounded by a moat filled with water, entrance being obtained through iron gates at two of the corners. A lagoon lies opposite the north door, and at a point just beyond the lagoon, one can see both the tower and its reflection in the water—a most charming spectacle. There is a small island in this lagoon which provides a secluded spot where Mr. Bok and his friends can see and hear.

Neighbors of Mr. Bok at the nearby Mountain Lake Park have erected a semicircular stone seat bearing an appropriate inscription. Just at the edge of this structure, we noted a small plaque bearing these words:

The kiss of the sun for pardon
The song of the birds for mirth
You are nearer God's heart in a garden
Than any where else on earth.

Since the tower was dedicated by President Coolidge on February 1st this year there has been a constantly increasing number of visitors to the Sanctuary. On two recent Sundays, the gates were closed for more than 6000 automobiles had passed through them. The bells are played at noon on Sundays and on national holidays as well as on family birthdays. On other days the program is given at 4 o'clock.

Mr. Bok states that the inspiration for The Sanctuary and the Tower came from a dream to carry on the work of his grandfather who, a hundred years ago transformed a grim desert island in the North sea into a bower of green verdure and trees to which came the birds which made the island famed. And incidentally he says, "It gave me the wonderful opportunity to follow and carry out the injunction of my grandmother who said 'Wherever your lives may be cast, make you the world a bit more beautiful and better because you have lived in it.' That is the basis upon which the Sanctuary and the Tower rests.

At the Bowdoin Square Theatre beginning Monday and continuing for the entire week the management will offer Richard Barthelmess in his great film success "Weary River." The story is one of rare and fascinating value with Barthelmess playing the role of a framed convict. He is an artist of exceptional ability and he is given the superb support by Betty Compson, William Holden, Raymond Turner, George Stone and others of screen prominence. It unfolds the story of a boy who found his soul behind the bars of a prison and put it to music. Other features on the same bill include, Tim McCoy and Dorothy Sebastian in "Morgan's Last Raid" and the all star comedy will be "When Money Comes." The Pathé News and five selected vaudeville acts will appear on the stage. Bargain night Friday with extra acts. Concert every Sunday at 3, comprising pictures and vaudeville.

Summer Camp

Registrations are coming in for the Council Summer Camp which will be held on Lake Wakeby, a five-mile long lake on the Cape, ten miles from Sandwich. Mr. John M. Woodbridge, Jr., will be the Associate Director and there will be a Junior Staff from this Council which will be published soon. The camp is on very high, well-drained ground, open to the sun and cooled by the prevailing winds which blow across the campsite from the lake. The food is excellent; the program one that will keep every Scout there on his toes and yet will send him home rested and in fine condition. The "Buddy" system is used at swimming period, which means that two Scouts are always together in the water and there is always a complete check-up every minute in the water for every Scout in camp. Under this system, no Scout camp has ever lost a boy by drowning.

Troop 5, Newton Center, Troop Committee held a regular meeting evening at which were present Chairman Charles H. Cobb, Messrs. Al. Noble, M. G. Bally, Marshall Stone, William M. Breed and Harry Hallas, as well as Scoutmaster Gilcreas and Assistant Scoutmaster George H. Crosbie. Mr. Cobb reported that Mr. Ralph Alvord had written that he would give to Troop 5 a log cabin in memory of his son who died in the war, Clark Alvord. The construction of the cabin will start next month and it will be known as the "Clark Alvord Memorial Cabin."

Mr. Cobb resigned as Chairman, because of his work as Council Treasurer and Chairman of the Council Finance Committee. Mr. Al. Noble was unanimously elected to the position. Immediately after the Troop Committee meeting, there was an investiture ceremony for six new Tenderfoot Scouts, conducted by the Scoutmaster and Mr. Noble. Following that, Mr. G. D. Marcy, 1st Vice-President of the Council and Chairman of the Troop Organization Committee, charged the Troop Committee with their duties, responsibilities and privileges in Scouting and administered the Scout Oath to them. Then the Scout Executive charged the Scoutmaster, F. W. Gilcreas and his assistants, Messrs. West, Crosbie and Ramsay and administered the Oath to them also.

WOMEN'S CLUB ACTIVITIES

Waban Woman's Club

Mr. Herbert W. Gleason will give an illustrated lecture on the "North Shore Gardens of Massachusetts" at the Neighborhood Club on Monday afternoon, April 1st, at 2:30 o'clock. This lecture is under the auspices of the Conservation Committee, Mrs. David A. Ambrose chairman. The pictures are sure to be beautiful, and the ideas presented worthwhile with Spring so near.

On Friday morning, April 5th, at 10 o'clock, Mrs. Ruth W. Fuller will give her final "Book Review." She will read A. A. Milne's play, "The Ivory Door." This is to take the place of the meeting of March 15th, which had to be postponed on account of the illness of Mrs. Fuller. This meeting will be held in the Vestry of the Union Church. Both of these meetings are given by the Literature Committee, of which Mrs. Dana M. Dutch is chairman.

Newton Mothers' Club

The next meeting of the Newton Mothers' Club has for the topic of the program a most appealing title in a lecture, "The Rising Generation," to be given by Rev. Boynton Merrill. The Club meets at 3 o'clock at the home of Mrs. Percy R. Ziegler, of 291 Otis street, West Newton, on the afternoon of Monday, April 1st. The hostesses are Mrs. Herbert M. Andrews, Mrs. Norman W. Bingham, Jr., and Mrs. Ziegler.

West Newton Women's Educational Club

Dr. Jan T. Byhouwer will speak to members of the American Home Department of the West Newton Women's Educational Club on "The Small Garden," on Monday, April 1st, at 2:30 p. m.

The meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. Arthur M. Teulor, 9 Elmwood park, Newtonville. Luncheon will be served promptly at 1 o'clock.

Newtonville Woman's Club

Grace Morrison Poole will give the last in her series of Current Events Lectures on Monday afternoon, April 1st, at the Central Congregational Church. Tickets for the single lecture may be obtained at the door.

The Annual Arts and Crafts Exhibition under the auspices of the Newtonville Woman's Club will be held this year at the Central Congregational Church, on the afternoon and evening of Tuesday, April 2nd. This exhibition affords an opportunity for any one who has done anything in the way of the arts and crafts to display her handiwork and it also affords the public an opportunity to see how much ability and talent there is right here in the Newtons.

Mrs. Augustus L. Wakefield, as chairman of her committee, is arranging to have a speaker and some music, both in the afternoon and evening. Refreshments also will be served, with Mrs. Harry B. Greene, Miss Elizabeth F. Hartshorne, Miss Eliza H. Kimball as hostesses. This delightful exhibition is open free to the public.

Newton Upper Falls Woman's Club

Dramatic Evening of the Newton Upper Falls Woman's Club, in charge of the Executive Board, with Mrs. Maurice Lacroix chairman, will be the attraction for the Club meeting on Monday, April 1st, at the Club rooms in Emerson School. This meeting is for Club members only, when they will find out the answer to the question "Who's Who?" as asked in the Year-book under this date. Refreshments will be served by the Hospitality Committee, under the direction of Mrs. William Warren, chairman. At this meeting the Nominating Committee submit their report of the new officers for the ensuing year. Both the form of entertainment and this announcement are sure to be of great interest.

Auburndale Review Club

The next meeting of the Review Club will be on the morning of April 2nd, with Mrs. George F. Howland, 15 Vista avenue, hostess. There will be a business session at 10 o'clock, which it is hoped all will attend. Further suggestions for a meeting place for the Annual Meeting will be welcomed at that time. At 10:30 the program will start with a paper on "William H. Taft," by Mrs. Ellen Williams, to be followed by one on "Woodrow Wilson," by Mrs. Charles Pickard.

The date for the Bridge and Food Sale which was first set for the 9th of April has been postponed to the 18th of April. This activity of the Review Club is for its philanthropies, and it is hoped that many not Club members will purchase tickets, and those not caring to play will patronize the Food Sale. For this event, Mrs. Wickliffe J. Spaulding is opening her home at 429 Wolcott street, at 2 p. m. The tickets, at one dollar each, may be obtained from the president, Mrs. Charles Valentine, the vice-president, Mrs. Ernest Drew, and the treasurer, Mrs. George F. Howland.

Woman's Club of Newton Highlands

On Tuesday afternoon, April 2nd, at 2:30 p. m., in the Congregational Parish House, Miss Eunice Avery will lecture on Current Events. High School students may avail themselves of this opportunity to hear the speaker on a small payment of 25 cents at the door.

The Philanthropic Committee is giving a Bridge Party on Wednesday and Thursday afternoons, the 3rd and 4th of April, at the Workshop. Tickets may be had from any member of the committee, at four dollars a table, or one dollar a single ticket.

A Children's Party will be given free of charge to the children of Club members of Kindergarten through Grammar School ages, at St. Paul's Parish House, on Saturday afternoon, April 6th, at 2:30 o'clock. The American Home Committee, with Mrs. Albion Brown as chairman, is sponsoring this affair.

The Newton Centre Woman's Club will hold its "Annual Children's Carnival" at the Club House, on Tuesday, April 2nd, at 2:30 o'clock. The event promises to be a successful one as evidenced by the large advance sale of tickets. There will be a great number of attractions and surprises for the children and some novel ways have been devised to amuse and interest them. The services of Mr. Frank Lane, of whom the advertisements speak as the "World's Most Versatile Entertainer," have been secured to give the young folks an hour of fun and frolic.

The dance music will be furnished by the "Seven Syncopating Sailorettes," an orchestra composed of the following young ladies from Newton Centre: Ruth Coughlan, Carol Leatherbee, Lorette Metz, Marjorie Morse, Patricia Speare, Pearl Merriam, and Mary Coleman. The Committee in charge of the event is under the chairmanship of Mrs. John Metz.

CLUB INSTITUTE. One of the most discussed topics of the day for Clubs is to be the subject of discussion at the Conference of Club Institute next Thursday morning, at 10 o'clock, at the Hotel Vendome, Boston. There is no thought for the next season that is more disturbing and constant at this moment than what shall be the programs for the entertainment and information of members, and Mrs. Thomas J. Walker, chairman of this monthly Conference on Club questions has wisely chosen Club Programs for Thursday talks by prominent Clubwomen. There is sure to be a most interested attendance.

NEW OFFICERS. The Nominating Committee, Mrs. Clarence W. Clark, of Malden, chairman, gives the always interesting announcement of the ticket for the coming year, with the re-nomination of the president, Mrs. Azel A. Packard, of Springfield, and of the four vice-presidents, Mrs. Carl L. Schrader, of Belmont; Mrs. Frank P. Bennett, Jr., of Cliftonville; Mrs. Thomas J. Walker, of Whitinsville; and Mrs. John H. Kimball, of Danvers. The first change is clerk, with Mrs. Henry W. Hildreth, of the Fortnightly Club of Winchester, succeeding Mrs. Edwin L. Pride. For assistant clerk, Mrs. Charles L. Fuller, of the Brockton Woman's Club, known at present as local chairman of tellers for the Council; for corresponding secretary, Mrs. Charles G. Wetherbee, of the Newton Highlands Woman's Club, (an announcement that will be most welcome to Mrs. Weatherbee's host of Club friends of Newton, and an honor we rejoice over); Mrs. Ralph H. Snow, of the Harwich Woman's Club, director of First District; Mrs. Arthur J. Crockett, of the West Roxbury Woman's Club, director of the Fifth District; Mrs. Nathaniel E. Smith, of Somerville Daughters of Maine, director of Seventh District; Mrs. J. Norman Jeffery, of Thought and Work Club of Salem, director of Ninth District; and Mrs. Hartley Smith, of Westborough Woman's Club, director of Thirtieth District; are the other new nominations.

The new Nominating Committee for 1929-1930 will be composed of the following: Mrs. Frederick Glazier Smith, of the Fortnightly Club of Somerville, chairman; Mrs. Frederic E. Dowling, of Brightwellstone Club; Mrs. Edmund W. Elwell, of Amherst Woman's Club; Mrs. John C. Hall, of Fortnightly Club of Leominster; and Mrs. Phillip H. Tirrell, of the Reading Woman's Club. Many of the names are familiar to Clubwomen who have known these women in other capacities, as chairmen of committees, notable among them being Mrs. Crockett, formerly of Community Service; Mrs. Nathaniel Smith, formerly popular and fair chairman of Meetings; Mrs. Dowling, formerly clerk, and Mrs. Tirrell, formerly a Literature chairman.

JUNIOR CONFERENCE. Every Junior on the State is invited to attend an all-day Conference, which is the second annual one to be held in the Dorchester Women's Club House, on Saturday, April 6th. During the morning session, which opens at 10:15 o'clock, each Junior Club will present a representative who will tell of local activities, and the Junior presidents will take turns at presiding. The luncheon hour will be a special feature of the day, as each girl is to bring a box of lunch, and hot cocoa will be served. Renewal of friendships made (Continued on Page 11)

ONE THING AND ANOTHER

"HO-HUM!"

They used to call it laziness.
Condemn the victim's sloth.
Call him a loafer or a shirk.
Or write him down as both.

They also charged he hated work.
Preferred to sleep and read.
Declared he lacked "get up and get".
Was useless as a weed.

Without ambition, prophets said.
His future must be dim.
In short, no words of bitterness
Were harsh enough for him.

But that was when folks didn't know
As much as they know now.
Since then a lot of things have changed.

Well one may add. "And how!"
The youth or man who sidesteps work
Need these days feel no shame.
He's suffering, the doctors say.
Because the "Spring has come".

Slow treatment of the gentler sort.
With fresh air, sunshine, rest.
Is what he needs, the clinic shows.
For such routine is best.

The diagnosis, quickly made.
Need not his friends distress;
What is it? Well, you'll be surprised...
"Spring fever", nothing less.

It seems a pity, for more reasons than one, that the experiment of holding a prize fight for sweet charity's sake is temporarily off, at least. When I read that Boston's social leaders were to sponsor the meeting of two maulers I was somewhat surprised, as no doubt were many others. I wondered how it has been arranged since I was reasonably certain that the gladiators of today are not wasting their time even in doing good deeds. I do not say they are not big-hearted, generous and all that sort of thing, but I doubt if their managers would permit them to "do their stuff" before a great throng without hornin'- in on the receipts. And they would use the horn of plenty since that is the largest available.

Then came the news, also front page, that one of the fighters had encountered a physical condition which precluded his battling for the crown and a hog-share of the gate receipts.
We were informed that the whole thing was to be postponed until the indisposed scrapper had fully recovered. Of course I am not questioning the veracity of the report from the hospital, or whenever it may have originated, but I think that it was not received without a soothing effect by some persons. It has, however, upset what I felt certain would prove of extraordinary value in the matter of psychological experimentation.

More and more, as I have observed, philanthropic enterprises are finding that in order to arouse a generous spirit on the part of the public the spinal must be made less to the intelligence and more to moronistic side of human beings. If I should ask you, dear reader, to contribute $1.00 to a distinctly needy cause I have no doubt you would hand over the money without delay. I wonder how you would act if I told you that for $5 I could let you see a couple of men pound each other for 30 or 40 minutes. But I wouldn't put it that way. I would say, "You are a charitable man, and are always willing to help the poor and destitute. By bringing $5 to a place I will name and handing it to a man I will designate you will be helping the worst of the charities providing you are willing to watch two prize-fighters pound each other, under supervision, for a specified period".

Now whether the greatest test of your charitable inclinations would come in paying over the $5 or in witnessing the spectacle, I leave to you.
In the case of those who sought to promote the charity boxing bout I cannot say what was in their minds.
I have a suspicion, however, that they felt that the contributions would be five times greater if the contributor was assured of beholding a bloody conflict. Giving up $1 peaceably seems so unromantic. Letting go five times that amount in the presence of two mighty giants of pugilism is, well, I will not characterize it but will merely say that it is far different.

The other day I overheard two young women discussing personal affairs and I must say that it didn't interest me at first. No doubt had I known either one of them I would have followed with closest attention their uninterrupted conversation. Both were fluent, animated and inspired. At least that was what I gathered as I glanced up occasionally from the very interesting volume on dramatic literature which was helping me to bear with patience the tiresome trolley journey to Boston.

When, however, one of the young women asked, "What are you going to have for Easter?", I found my curiosity challenged and could barely wait for the reply.

"My dear", was the answer, "you'll never guess". Forthwith came a description of a new dress, but as I am a total loss in matters of feminine attire it is quite impossible for me to repeat what she said. I tried my best to understand but it was impossible.
Moreover, I believe that the young woman suspected I was listening, for she indulged in what I am forced to call technical terms. If the art of dress designing includes such. At any rate, I was "there" as an eavesdrop-per but not as a recorder of statements.

The incident brought to mind, however, the fact the Easter season demands attention to one's wardrobe.
Either one falls in line and buys new wearing apparel or one ignores the dictates of fashion and sits pretty... or as pretty as one can sit with the same old things one has worn for weeks and months.

Unless I am much mistaken it's a case of women and children first. Men are not expected to make as much of the coming-in of Spring styles. In order to prove my theory I inquired of a number of friends—males of course—as to their plans.

"The best I shall do" said one, "is to get a new necktie. My wife insists that it's her day and that I must make my choice between a pair of gloves or a necktie, as far as my own Easter togs are concerned. She declares that the family budget will only permit of her blossoming-out in something new."

That seemed to be the story among married men. Bachelors with whom I talked were more selfish. Some were planning on a new suit, while others were going to have a new suit, new shoes, new gloves and top off (pardon the witticism) with a new hat. And yet I encountered men who weren't going to buy anything new. Some of them were grouchy while others said they were going to hold-off for "After Easter" bargains.

Frankly, I can't quite make-up my mind which is the right point of view.
All I know is that there is likely to be a lot of fresh personal scenery on view next Sunday and I expect to enjoy it to the utmost.

Whatever the years may do to some men they have not lessened the vigor of Governor John E. Weeks of Vermont whom I had the honor of meeting the other day. From his easy manner and strong but exceedingly pleasant speaking voice I never would have suspected his age. And yet when I turned to "Who's Who," after the interview, I found he was born June 14, 1854. It cannot be said that he has taken life easy. In fact such cannot be truthfully charged against any Vermonters, except of course in rare instances.

If there are living examples of the saying that hard work agrees with some people then Governor Weeks is surely one. When he was presented to a group before whom he made an address the presiding officer, who happened to be our own Speaker Saltonstall of the Massachusetts House of Representatives, reminded the gathering that Governor Weeks had earned the distinction of having been re-elected in a State where the custom has been for years to select a Governor from one side of the mountain for a single term and then one from the other side. The double term given the present Vermont Governor is as much a tribute to the intelligence of the Vermont voters as to the Chief executive of the Green Mountain State.

It was easy to understand that he must have distinguished himself by solving the great problem that confronted his State after the terrible floods of the Fall of 1927. Those who insist that all the "live wires" must be considerably under three score years and ten will find it difficult to explain the success of Governor Weeks, whose administration has been noteworthy in many ways.

It was interesting to hear him praise the women membership of the Vermont Legislature and to listen to his tribute to the womanhood of the country. I can readily understand why citizens of the Green Mountain State and those who were born there and now live in other parts of the United States are proud of Governor Weeks.

It looks like an early observance of "Clean Up Week" over in Brookline.
Furthermore, it isn't just for one week but all time that residents of four streets want an absolute no-parking rule for these thoroughfares. Irritated by the fact that strangers park cars in front of their doors at all hours day and night these determined folks have requested the Town Selectmen to forbid everybody, including

NEWTON BOY IN RADIO DEBUT

Lewis B. Huntington, 13 year old pianist of 116 Waverly avenue, Newton, made his Radio Debut Saturday evening from Station WEEI at 8:15 in a piano recital.

He has been heard in various concerts at the local Women's Clubs, the Churches and Schools of the City but his performance Saturday evening over WEEI marks his first broadcast.
Among the numbers that he played were Beethoven's, Sonata, Pathétique and By the Brookside, by John Orth.

LEWIS B. HUNTINGTON

Master Huntington is a pupil of Boston's well known composer pianist
Mr. John Orth, a pupil of Liszt.

He is a member of the freshmen class at Newton High School this year having graduated from the Bigelow Junior High last June. While attending the Bigelow School he played piano in the School Orchestra and on several occasions helped to give other musical entertainment.

Upon returning to his home in Newton Saturday evening from the Broadcasting Station he was very happily surprised to find that a goodly number of his friends were gathered there to greet him and the rest of the evening was spent in dancing and music.

themselves, from leaving cars in the street.

The most astonishing thing about is that they were willing to sacrifice their own convenience for the sake of having the streets completely free from automobiles of any character.
The fact that protest might be made against the parking of strange cars in front of one's house is not surprising but when a resident offers to include himself it surely is unusual. Still, I can understand the feelings of these people for the streets on which they live happen to be a favorite place for car owners to leave their vehicles and unless a sweeping rule was put in operation the problem would not be satisfactorily solved.

I at first wondered what they were going to do about their own cars and more so what would happen if they should hold a party at the house and invite friends who possessed cars. It seems an agreement has been reached that one's neighbor will permit the use of his driveway for one's friends.
In short, if you give a party the folks across the way invite you to tell your visitors to drive across the way and park in their driveways. And when any neighbor gives a party he expects you to reciprocate.

What would happen if the residents of any particular section of Newton made such a request of our Aldermen?
I haven't any doubt but what the Aldermen would be as pleased as were the Brookline Selectmen when they received the petition and would as unhesitatingly grant it. However, it requires considerable community spirit to bring about such a situation.
Much depends on the attitude of the people themselves, and there aren't many neighborhoods where they get-together on such things as parking cars.

It will be interesting to see how the scheme works out in Brookline and whether any group of Newton residents will adopt the idea.
